ATTORNEY MEMORANDUM - REGULAR RULEMAKING

MEETING DATE: March 5, 2024

TO: Members of the Governor's Regulatory Review Council (Council)

FROM: Council Staff

DATE: February 14, 2024

SUBJECT: BOARD OF TECHNICAL REGISTRATION
Title 4, Chapter 30

Amend: R4-30-102, R4-30-201, R4-30-202, R4-30-204, R4-30-247, R4-30-301, R4-30-301.01

Summary:

This regular rulemaking from the Board of Technical Registration (Board) seeks to amend seven (7) rules in Title 4, Chapter 30, Articles 1-3 related to General Provisions, Registration Provisions, and Regulatory Provisions, respectively. Specifically the Board is proposing the following amendments to its rules which are outlined in more detail in Section 6 of the Board's Notice of Final Rulemaking Preamble:

- R4-30-102: The Board proposes to amend R4-30-102(2) to replace the requirement that a parallel inspector provide a signed affidavit, requiring a notary, with a less burdensome requirement to provide a signed affirmation, which does not require a notary.
- R4-30-247(C)(4): Clarify that a home inspector applicant need only provide a detailed explanatory statement regarding disciplinary action, license denial, or a conviction if it occurred within the last five years immediately preceding the application. Currently, applicants who have criminal/disciplinary history, no matter how old, must go before the Board for consideration of their application.

- R4-30-301.01: Propose to move language regarding the Home Inspector Pool and Spa Standards from A.A.C. R4-30-247(B) to A.A.C. R4-30-301.01 as the standards are directly related to the professional conduct of home inspectors.
- R4-30-301.01(A): Propose to update the Standards of Professional Practice adoption date and reference the most current standards. The standards currently referenced are over 20 years old. By adopting the new standards, the Board's Practice Act will align with contemporary industry standards. In light of this, the Board wishes to adopt through incorporation the most current home inspector standards adopted on October 27, 2023.
- R4-30-301.01(B): Add Section (5) stipulating that a home inspector cannot perform or offer to perform a home inspection for a client while also acting as the client's real estate agent or broker. Board member and home inspector committee members have opined that a home inspector acting as both a home inspector and real estate professional for the same home buying client is a conflict of interest and of concern for public health, welfare, and safety.
- R4-30-201 & R4-30-202: Add additional language clarifying that an applicant for professional registration and in-training designation need only provide a detailed explanatory statement regarding disciplinary action, license denial, or a conviction if it occurred within the last five years immediately preceding the application.
- R4-30-201, R4-30-202 & R4-30-301: Board plans to move onto an e-licensing system at the beginning of 2024. This will necessitate all applicants and registrants submit and maintain a current email with the Board for both access to the Board's e-licensing platform and efficient communication with the Board. Therefore, the Board requires an amendment to its rules so that all applicants and registrants must submit and keep current an email with the Board.
- R4-30-202 & R4-30-204: To be consistent with national standards, the Board would like to reduce the need for Board approval for exam authorization to take the engineer and land surveyor fundamental examinations and allow 'auto-approval' for fundamental examination authorization applicants who meet the Board's current auto-approval criteria.
- R4-30-204: The examination national councils in which the Board holds membership removed terminology regarding 'rolling-clocks' for exam application closure. The term 'rolling-clock' indicates a period of time in which an applicant's exam results remain acceptable. To be consistent with national standards and eliminate unnecessary limitations on acceptable test results, the Board asks to amend its rules regarding 'rolling clocks.'

1. Are the rules legal, consistent with legislative intent, and within the agency's statutory authority?

The Board cites both general and specific statutory authority for these rules.

2. Do the rules establish a new fee or contain a fee increase?

This rulemaking does not establish a new fee or contain a fee increase.

3. Does the preamble disclose a reference to any study relevant to the rules that the agency reviewed and either did or did not rely upon?

The Board indicates it did not review any study relevant to this rulemaking.

4. Summary of the agency's economic impact analysis:

According to the Board, the amendments will benefit newly licensed home inspectors, parallel inspectors, and consumers.

Newly licensed home inspectors and parallel inspectors will benefit from reduced regulatory burdens that cost time and money. Consumers will benefit from updated 20-year-old Home Inspector Professional Standards with new standards that are current with contemporary industry standards. Businesses that perform home inspections and home inspections schools may have an initial upfront cost to update home inspection software and training procedures to conform to the new standards.

5. Has the agency analyzed the costs and benefits of the rulemaking and determined that the rules impose the least burden and costs to those who are regulated?

According to the Board, no other methods of achieving the updated minimum standards are available beyond what the Board has provided in this rule package.

6. What are the economic impacts on stakeholders?

According to the Board, the amendment to R4-30-102 may have a positive economic impact for newly licensed home inspectors by reducing their wait time for signed parallel inspector affirmations and increasing the number of available parallel inspectors, and thereby allowing them to begin their home inspection careers earlier. Additionally, parallel inspectors would no longer need to seek out and pay for notary services and would no longer have to wait three years to perform parallel inspections, an economic benefit to the parallel inspector, after receiving disciplinary action.

The amendment to R4-30-247 may have a positive economic impact for newly licensed home inspectors with older past offenses because they may no longer have to wait for Board review of their applications and therefore begin their home inspection careers earlier.

The amendment and additions to R4-30-301.01 will benefit consumers. Referencing newly adopted standards that are contemporary with current industrial standards and adding additional language stipulating a home inspector cannot offer a home inspection to a client while also acting as the client's real estate professional will help the Board in its mission to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the public.

7. Are the final rules a substantial change, considered as a whole, from the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

The Board indicates, in response to comments regarding the new home inspector standards, changes were made to the rule language that led to the Board filing a Notice of Supplemental Proposed Rulemaking. The Board does not indicate any changes between the Notice of Supplemental Proposed Rulemaking published in the Administrative Register and the Notice of Final Rulemaking now before the Council.

8. Does the agency adequately address the comments on the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

As outlined above, the Board indicates it received numerous public comments related to this rulemaking regarding the proposed changes to the new home inspector standards. In response to these comments, the Home Inspector Rules and Standards Committee reviewed the comments for any necessary changes to the rules as a result of the comments. Ultimately, after reviewing the comments, the Board did make changes to the rule language and filed a Notice of Supplemental Proposed Rulemaking. Copies of the comments are included with the final materials for the Council's consideration. Council staff believes the Board has adequately responded to comments on the proposed rules.

9. Do the rules require a permit or license and, if so, does the agency comply with A.R.S. § 41-1037?

Not applicable. The Board indicates the proposed amended rules do not require issuance of a permit.

10. Are the rules more stringent than corresponding federal law and, if so, is there statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law?

Not applicable. The Board indicates there is no federal law applicable to these rules.

11. Conclusion

This regular rulemaking from the Board seeks to amend seven (7) rules in Title 4, Chapter 30, Articles 1-3 related to General Provisions, Registration Provisions, and Regulatory Provisions, respectively. Specifically, this rulemaking proposes to clarify and update licensing requirements and procedures, reorganize rule language for clarity, and update standards for practice.

The ASRS is seeking the standard 60-day delayed effective date pursuant to A.R.S. § 41-1032(A). Council staff recommends approval of this rulemaking.

6. An agency's justification and reason why a rule should be made, amended, repealed or renumbered, to include an explanation about the rulemaking:

The Agency proposes to amend its rules to replace the requirement that a parallel inspector provide a signed affidavit, requiring a notary, with a less burdensome requirement to provide a signed affirmation, which does not require a notary, in A.A.C. R4-30-102(2). This amendment will expedite the time in which a home inspector applicant may apply to the Board and save parallel inspectors the time and money required to have an affidavit notarized. Additionally, the agency proposes to amend its rule to reduce the number of years a home inspector cannot perform a parallel inspection after receiving disciplinary action from the Board from three years to one year, as the industry has opined that three years is excessive and does not help protect the public.

The Agency proposes to add additional language to A.A.C. R4-30-247(C)(4) clarifying that a home inspector applicant need only provide a detailed explanatory statement regarding disciplinary action, license denial, or a conviction if it occurred within the last five years immediately preceding the application. This would reduce, and possibly eliminate, wait time for applicants with denial, conviction, or license denial history over five years old. Currently, applicants who have criminal/disciplinary history, no matter how old, must go before the Board for consideration of their application.

The Agency proposes to move language regarding the Home Inspector Pool and Spa Standards from A.A.C. R4-30-247(B) to A.A.C. R4-30-301.01 as the standards are directly related to the professional conduct of home inspectors.

The Agency proposes to update the Standards of Professional Practice adoption date under R4-30-301.01(A) and reference the most current standards. The standards currently referenced are over 20 years old. By adopting the new standards, the Board's Practice Act will align with contemporary industry standards. In light of this, the Board wishes to adopt through incorporation the most current home inspector standards adopted on October 27, 2023 (amend R4-30-301.01).

The Agency proposes to add section (5) to R4-30-301.01(B) stipulating that a home inspector cannot perform or offer to perform a home inspection for a client while also acting as the client's real estate agent or broker. Board member and home inspector committee members have opined that a home inspector acting as both a home inspector and real estate professional for the same home buying client is a conflict of interest and of concern for public health, welfare, and safety.

The Agency proposes to add additional language clarifying that an applicant for professional registration and in-training designation need only provide a detailed explanatory statement regarding disciplinary action, license denial, or a conviction if it occurred within the last five years immediately preceding the application. This would match the language the Board proposed for home inspector applicants in its Proposed Rulemaking (amend R4-30-201 and 202).

The Board plans to move onto an e-licensing system at the beginning of 2024. This will necessitate all applicants and registrants submit and maintain a current email with the Board for both access to the Board's e-licensing platform and efficient communication with the Board. Therefore, the Board requires an amendment to its rules so that all applicants and registrants must submit and keep current an email with the Board (amend R4-30-201, 202 and 301).

To be consistent with national standards, the Board would like to reduce the need for Board approval for exam authorization to take the engineer and land surveyor fundamental examinations and allow 'auto-approval' for fundamental examination authorization applicants who meet the Board's current auto-approval criteria (amend R4-30-202 and 204).

The examination national councils in which the Board holds membership removed terminology regarding ‘rolling-clocks’ for exam application closure. The term ‘rolling-clock’ indicates a period of time in which an applicant’s exam results remain acceptable. To be consistent with national standards and eliminate unnecessary limitations on acceptable test results, the Board asks to amend its rules regarding ‘rolling clocks’ (amend R4-30-204).

7. A reference to any study relevant to the rule that the agency reviewed and proposes either to rely on or not to rely on in its evaluation of or justification for the rule, where the public may obtain or review each study, all data underlying each study, and any analysis of each study and other supporting material:

The Board did not conduct a study relevant to the rule(s). Comments from the home inspector industry discussed during the Board’s home inspector rules and standards committee and commenter received from the engineer and architect associations of Arizona lead to the Board’s justification and request to amend its rules.

8. A showing of good cause why the rulemaking is necessary to promote a statewide interest if the rulemaking will diminish a previous grant of authority of a political subdivision of this state:

Not applicable.

9. The preliminary summary of the economic, small business, and consumer impact:

The amendment to R4-30-102 may have a positive economic impact for newly licensed home inspectors by reducing their wait time for signed parallel inspector affirmations and increasing the number of available parallel inspectors, and thereby allowing them to begin their home inspection careers earlier. Additionally, parallel inspectors would no longer need to seek out and pay for notary services and would no longer have to wait three years to perform parallel inspections, an economic benefit to the parallel inspector, after receiving disciplinary action.

The amendment to R4-30-247 may have a positive economic impact for newly licensed home inspectors with older past offenses because they may no longer have to wait for Board review of their applications and therefore begin their home inspection careers earlier.

The amendment and additions to R4-30-301.01 will benefit consumers. Referencing newly adopted standards that are contemporary with current industrial standards and adding additional language stipulating a home inspector cannot offer a home inspection to a client while also acting as the client's real estate professional will help the Board in its mission to protect the health, safety, and welfare of the public.

10. Changes made to the rules between proposed and final rules including all supplemental notices:

E-mail: kurt.winter@azbtr.gov

11. Summarize the principal comments received from the public and your agency's response to them:

The principle comments were regarding the new home inspector standards. The agency's response was to have all comments reviewed by the Home Inspector Rules and Standards Committee for any changes based upon the comments. Changes were made and this led to the supplemental rule package.

12. All agencies shall list other matters prescribed by statute applicable to the specific agency or to any specific rule or class of rules. Additionally, an agency subject to Council review under A.R.S. §§ 41-1052 and 41-1055 shall respond to the following questions:

- a. Whether the rule requires a permit, whether a general permit is used and if not, the reasons why a general permit is not used:

Not applicable.

b. Whether a federal law is applicable to the subject of the rule, whether the rule is more stringent than federal law and if so, citation to the statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law:

Not applicable.

c. Whether a person submitted an analysis to the agency that compares the rule's impact of the competitiveness of business in this state to the impact on business in other states:

No one submitted an analysis to the Board regarding these rules.

13. A list of any incorporated by reference material as specified in A.R.S. § 41-1028 and its location in the rules:

Added as part of the rulemaking are the following incorporations by reference:

1. Arizona Chapter of American Home Inspectors "Standards of Professional Practice" adopted on October 27, 2023, located under R4-30-301.01(A).
2. Arizona Home Inspector Pools and Spas Standards of Professional Practice adopted on April 25, 2023, located under R4-30-301.01(B).

14. Specify whether the rule was previously made as an emergency rule:

The rule was not previously made as an emergency rule.

ECONOMIC, SMALL BUSINESS AND CONSUMER IMPACT STATEMENT

TITLE 4. PROFESSIONS AND OCCUPATIONS

CHAPTER 30. BOARD OF TECHNICAL REGISTRATION

ARTICLE 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

ARTICLE 2. REGISTRATION PROVISIONS

R4-30-102, R4-30-247 & R4-30-301.01

1. Identification of rulemaking.

This final rulemaking submitted by the Board of Technical Registration makes amendments as follows:

1. Replace the requirement that a parallel inspector provide a signed affidavit, requiring a notary, with a requirement to provide a signed affirmation, which does not require a notary, in A.A.C. R4-30-102(2).
2. Add additional language to A.A.C. R4-30-247(C)(4) clarifying that a home inspector applicant need only provide a detailed explanatory statement regarding disciplinary action, license denial or a conviction if it occurred only within the last five years immediately preceding the application.
3. Update the Standards of Professional Practice adoption date so the Board references the most current standards in R4-30-301.01(A) and add section (5) to R4-30-301.01(B) stipulating that a home inspector cannot perform or offer to perform a home inspection while also acting as a real estate agent or broker.
4. Add additional language to A.A.C. R4-30-204(C)(1) to include auto-approval of examination authorization for fundamental examinations and strike R4-30-204(C)(6) regarding closing exam authorization applications for multi-divisional examinations.

a. The conduct and its frequency of occurrence that the rule is designed to change:

1. Amendment to R4-30-102(2): Parallel inspectors must seek out and pay for notary services to sign affidavits that are given to home inspector applicants.

Every home inspector applicant must produce a signed parallel inspector affidavit, from each parallel inspector, at time of application.

2. Amendment to R4-30-247(C): All applications in which an applicant has indicated they have past disciplinary actions, convictions and/or license denials must go before the Board for a final determination regardless of the age of the said actions, convictions and denials.
3. Amendment to R4-30-301.01(A): All home inspections performed in Arizona must meet the minimum standards referred to under R4-30-301.01. The current referenced standards are over twenty years old.
4. Addition of R4-30-301.01(B)(5): Nothing prevents a home inspector from performing or offering to perform a home inspection while also acting in the capacity of a licensed real estate agent or broker in the same transaction.
5. Amendment of R4-30-204(C): Currently all fundamental examination applicants must apply through the Board for approval prior to sitting for a fundamental examination.

b. The harm resulting from the conduct the rule is designed to change and the likelihood it will continue to occur if the rule is not changed:

1. Amendment to R4-30-102(2): The requirement that a parallel inspector provide notarized affidavits to home inspector candidates adds both a time and monetary burden for parallel inspectors to do their duty. It may also hold up a candidate wishing to apply for certification with the Board. This will continue if the rule is not amended.
2. Amendment to R4-30-247(C): Applicants with past disciplinary actions, convictions and license denials must wait for their applications to go before the Board for a final determination, regardless of when the action, conviction or denial occurred. This wait, while within the Board's statutory timeframes, may seem unnecessary to protect the health, safety and welfare of the public and prevent, in the immediate, the applicant becoming certified and earning a living. This will continue if the rule is not amended.

3. Amendment to R4-30-301.01(A): All home inspections performed in Arizona must meet the minimum standards pursuant to R4-30-301.01, which are over twenty years old. This will continue if the rule is not amended.
4. Addition of R4-30-301.01(B)(5): A home inspector currently may perform or offer to perform a home inspection while also acting as a real estate agent or broker as long as the home inspector makes a full disclosure to the client. This will continue if the rule is not amended.
5. Amendment of R4-30-204(C): Arizona is in the minority of states that require board pre-authorization to sit for a national fundamentals examination, requiring applicants to submit an application and application fee to the Board. This will continue if the rule is not amended.

c. The estimated change in frequency of the targeted conduct expected from the rule change:

1. Amendment to R4-30-102(2) would reduce the burden, both in time and money, on parallel inspectors having to provide notarized affidavits to home inspector candidates by instead requiring only a signed affidavit. This will also likely expedite the process in which a parallel inspector provides a home inspector candidate with the signed document required for application to the Board.
2. Amendment to R4-30-247(C) would reduce, or possibly eliminate, the number of applications going before the Board for a final determination in regards to an applicant's past disciplinary actions, convictions and license denials, if said occurrences are over five years old.
3. Amendment to R4-30-301.01(A) will effectively update the 20-year old Home Inspector Professional Standards with new standards that are current with contemporary industry standards. All home inspections performed in Arizona must meet the minimum standards pursuant to R4-30-301.01.
4. Addition of R4-30-301.01(B)(5) will allow the Board to discipline a home inspector who performs or offers to perform a home inspection while also acting as a real estate agent or broker.

5. Amendment of R4-30-204(C) will allow a majority of applicants wishing to sit for a fundamentals examination to do so without preauthorization through the Board.

2. Identification of the persons who will be directly affected by, bear the costs of, or directly benefit from the rule making.

1. Amendment to R4-30-102(2) will directly affect and benefit parallel inspectors and home inspector candidates.
2. Amendment to R4-30-247(C) will directly affect and benefit home inspector applicants with a history of disciplinary action(s), conviction(s) and/or license denials over five years old.
3. Amendment to R4-30-301.01(A) will directly affect and benefit the public and directly affect certified home inspectors.
4. Addition of R4-30-301.01(B)(5) will directly affect and benefit the public and directly affect and not benefit certified home inspectors who offer both home inspection services and real estate services in the same transaction.
5. Amendment of R4-30-204(C) will directly affect and benefit fundamental exam authorization applicants.

3. Cost benefit analysis.

- a. Probable costs and benefits to the implementing agency and other agencies directly affected by the implementation and enforcement of the proposed rulemaking including the number of new full-time employees necessary to implement and enforce the proposed rule:

i. Cost:

The number of fundamental examination applications the Board will receive after the changes are made will drop, reducing the Board's revenue. The Board brought in approximately $28,000 from FE exam applications in fiscal year 2023.

ii. Benefit:

These updates will reduce/eliminate steps/approvals for applicants to sit for a fundamentals exam, reducing/eliminating administrative processes for the Board.

iii. Need for additional Full-time Employees:

No additional Full-time employees needed.

b. Probable costs and benefits to political subdivision of this state directly affected by the implementation and enforcement of the proposed rulemaking.

None

4. General description of the probable impact on private and public employment in businesses, agencies, and political subdivisions of this state directly affected by the rulemaking.

These changes will reduce burdens for future engineer, geologist, home inspector and land surveyor candidates and will help them enter the workforce sooner.

5. Statement of probable impact of the proposed rule on small businesses. The statement shall include:

a. Identification of the small businesses subject to the proposed rulemaking.

Small businesses that employ employees that perform home inspections. Small businesses that provide home inspector training.

b. Administrative and other costs required for compliance with the proposed rulemaking.

Small businesses that perform home inspections may need to make changes in their business practices to ensure home inspectors conduct home inspections to meet the newly updated minimum standards; this may require up-front costs.

c. Description of methods prescribed in section A.R.S. § 41-1035 that the agency may use to reduce the impact on small businesses, with reasons for the agency's decision to use or not use each method:

i. Establishing less stringent compliance or reporting requirements in the rule for small businesses;

Cannot use. There cannot be a less stringent version of the minimum standards; to ensure protection of the public, the standards must be universal.

ii. Establishing less stringent schedules deadlines in the rule for compliance or reporting requirements for small businesses;

Cannot use. There are no schedule deadlines in the rules.

iii. Consolidate or simplify the rule's compliance or reporting requirements for small businesses;

Cannot use. There cannot be a simplified version of the minimum standards; to ensure protection of the public, the standards must be universal.

- iv. Establish performance standards for small businesses to replace design or operational standards in the rule; and Cannot use. Minimum standards establish performance standards.

- v. Exempting small businesses from any or all requirements of the rule.

Cannot use. See answers to i-iv above.

- d. The probable cost and benefit to private persons and consumers who are directly affected by the proposed rulemaking.

Private persons and consumers will benefit from the Board adopting current industrial standards for certified home inspectors as it would help ensure protection of the public. The cost to businesses that perform home inspections and home inspections schools may have an initial upfront cost to updating home inspection software and training procedures to conform to the new standards.

- 6. Statement of the probable effect on state revenues.

If R4-30-204(C) is amended; the Board will see a decrease in revenue received for exam authorization applications.

- 7. Description of any less intrusive or less costly alternative methods of achieving the purpose of the proposed rulemaking, including the monetizing of the costs and benefits for each option and providing the rationale for not using nonselected alternatives.

No other methods of achieving updated minimum standards are available beyond what the Board has provided in this rule package.

- 8. A description of any data on which a rule is based with a detailed explanation of how the data was obtained and why the data is acceptable data.

The Board did not obtain data on which a rule is based in this rule package.

To Whom it may concern,

After reviewing Notice of Rulemaking Docket Opening: 29 A.A.R. 422, January 27, 2023

Specifically "The Agency proposes to add subsection (5) to R4-30-301.01(B), stipulating that a home inspector cannot perform or offer to per[1]form a home inspection while also acting as a real estate agent or broker. Board member and home inspector committee members have opined that a home inspector acting as both a home inspector and real estate professional for the same home buying client is a conflict of interest and of concern for public health, welfare, and safety."

Proposal: "The Agency proposes to add subsection (5) to R4-30-301.01(B), stipulating that a home inspector or the company they work for cannot perform or offer to per[1]form a home inspection while also acting as a real estate agent or broker on a real estate transaction. Board member and home inspector committee members have opined that a home inspector acting as both a home inspector and real estate professional for the same home buying client is a conflict of interest and of concern for public health, welfare, and safety."

Reasoning: The first sentence sounds like an individual can not be a real estate agent or broker while they are a home inspector. The second sentence clarifies that. The first sentence should be clearer. Also, it should also mention the company they work for so the "conflict of interest" is better clarified.

7. determine the presence or absence of any suspected environmental hazards including but not limited to toxins, fungus, molds, mold spores, mildew, radon, electromagnetic radiation,

Commented [DS1]: This comment change (removing the words "four or less") seems to imply that the BTR has entered into the realm of regulating the inspection of multi-family complexes, which is a concern and not advised. Suggest adding the "four or less" back in unless there is a desire to regulate the inspection of apartment complexes or other commercially owned residential properties.

AZ BTR Rule Changes for Home Inspectors

Alan Shelton &lt;alan@sheltoncg.com&gt;

Fri, Aug 4, 2023 at 8:40 AM

Hi Kurt,

I recently received a letter from the AZ BTR regarding proposed rule changes for Arizona Home Inspectors. I am concerned with the deletion of the definition for Immediate Major Repairs. It is my opinion that the definitions for Immediate Major Repairs and Major Defect are similar, they are also quite different. It is my opinion that the omission of a warning for conditions that may 1. worsen appreciably, 2. cause further damage, and/or 3. be a serious hazard to the health and/or personal safety fails to adequately warn the public (Client) of these potential hazards. While the definition for Unsafe covers # 3., numbers 1. and 2. are now not covered.

I am also concerned about the deletion of the definition for Evaluation by Appropriate Persons. Section 2.2, C., 3. and 4. discuss reporting requirements as follows:

C. submit a written report to the client which shall:

3. state the condition of systems and components so inspected with specifically descriptive or defined terminology, such as Satisfactory or Repair Needed.

4. state any systems and components so inspected which were found to contain a major defect and any recommendations to have corrections made, monitored or evaluated by appropriate persons.

As you can see, the recommendation for evaluation by appropriate persons still exists in the Purpose and Scope for a written Home Inspection Report however, there is now no definition for who that is and it does not exclude the Home Inspector from being that appropriate person.

As some background for myself, my business and my personal perspective, I am sometimes retained as an expert witness in litigation involving Home Inspectors. As you know, many complaints involve misunderstandings specific to client expectations as compared to the written report (or verbal communications) from the Home Inspector. Having a well defined Standard of Practice document (SOP) not only protects the public, it also offers a layer of protection for Home Inspectors when they follow the SOP.

Kurt,

I read through and compared both standards (current btr vs new ashi)

I have some very serious concerns.

1. IMO: You are going to get a majority of people agreeing to the changes instead of reviewing them. They will assume newer is better. Most people will not compare these standards side by side. Please make it as simple as possible by creating a list of just the changes? Attached is a document where I tried to copy and paste all the changes into 1 document.
2. There are some very poorly written requirement changes. Many changes will put inspectors in harm's way. The attached document has my concerns in red.
3. The changes are bad enough I would highly recommend the old AZ BTR standards not be changed vs the new ASHI standards.

2. PURPOSE AND SCOPE

2.2 Inspectors shall:

C.

3. state the condition of systems and components so inspected with specifically descriptive or defined terminology, such as Satisfactory or Repair Needed.

3. GENERAL LIMITATIONS AND EXCLUSIONS

3.2 General exclusions:

11. property boundary lines or encroachments.

12. product recalls or conformance with manufacturers' installation instructions.

13. the insurability of the property.

B.

12. determine the age of the structure, or component of a building, or differentiate between original construction, and subsequent additions, improvements, replacements or renovations.

13. observe any system, component or any non-primary function that is not included in these Standards

4. SYSTEM: STRUCTURAL COMPONENTS

4.2 The Inspector shall:

A. Columns (was removed)

B. probe structural components where deterioration is suspected. However, probing is NOT required when probing would damage any finished surface. (was removed)

BAD CHANGE: it is important to require probing. This will protect inspectors that probe structural damage like trusses that are completely hollow from termite damage.

5. SYSTEM: EXTERIOR

5.3 The Inspector is NOT required to observe:

I. coatings on and the hermetic seals between panes of glass.

6. SYSTEM: ROOFING

6.3 The inspector is NOT required to:

C. observe underground roof drainage systems.

7. SYSTEM: PLUMBING

7.1 The Inspector shall observe:

F. waste ejector pumps.

7.2 The Inspector shall:

A. describe:

4. location of the main water and main fuel shutoff valves

C. operate jetted bathtubs.

7.3 The Inspector is NOT required to:

E. operate drainage sump pumps.

F. observe:

6. spas, except as to functional flow and functional drainage. (replaced with 6. solar water heating systems)

8. SYSTEM: ELECTRICAL

8.1 The inspector shall observe:

F. the polarity and grounding of all receptacles within six feet of interior plumbing fixtures and all receptacles in the garage or carport, and on the exterior of inspected structures. ( old F is now combined with E and the new F is: the presence or absence of GFCI and AFCI protection.)

BAD CHANGE: GFCI requirements do not change based on the city and are clearly written in the NEC 2017. AFCI is not easy. Some new build homes are ALL AFCI and others only have a few. If the BTR wants to include AFCI requirements then they need to be specific and state where AFCI must be present. Note: AFCI & GFCI requirements have changed every 3 years in the NEC.

G: operation of readily accessible GFCI devices (readily accessible was added).

H: the presence or absence of smoke alarms.

I: the presence or absence of carbon monoxide alarms where applicable.

BAD CHANGE: Need to be more clear. Current recommendations are for COs to be present in almost all homes. Exceptions: Homes with No gas, no fireplace, no attached garage

8.2 The inspector shall:

B. report any observed aluminum branch circuit wiring (removed)

C. dismantle any electrical device or control other than to remove covers of the main and sub panels. (no change but this is poorly written)

PLEASE CHANGE: inspector requirements should not be written in the not required section. C indicates that inspectors are required to remove covers. Please state this in the required section and not the not required section.

D. test smoke or carbon monoxide alarms. (reworded and added as D from D.2)

PLEASE REVIEW: Some smoke detectors are not accessible to test.

E. Observe

1. low voltage electrical components and systems. (more words added)

3. geothermal, solar, wind, and other renewable energy systems.

9. SYSTEM: HEATING

9.1 The Inspector shall observe:

5. distribution systems. (reworded of 5 & 6)
6. air filters (everything else in 6 was removed and reworded in 5.

B. fuel-burning fireplaces and appliances including, but not limited to:

1. manufactured fireplaces, freestanding stoves, and fireplace inserts.
2. accessories installed in fireplaces.

BAD CHANGE: Need to be more clear. Accessories can be anything.

3. chimneys, flues, dampers, and vents.
4. mantles, hearth, floor protection and wall protection.

9.2 The Inspector shall:

A. describe:

1. primary energy source.
2. heating equipment type.
3. distribution type

9.3 The Inspector is NOT required to:

D:

6. the function and efficiency of multi-zone HVAC system dampers and thermostats.
7. seals and gaskets.
8. adequacy of combustion air components.
9. draft characteristics.
10. window or portable heating systems.
11. fireplace insert flue connections.
12. automatic fuel feed devices.
13. heat distribution assists (gravity fed and fan assisted).
14. fuel-burning fireplaces and appliances located outside the inspected structures.
15. glass enclosures and screens.

10. SYSTEM: COOLING

10.1 The Inspector shall observe:

A: (B was combined with A)

3. distribution system.
4. air filters.
5. the presence or absence of an installed cooling source in each habitable space.

10.2 The Inspector shall:

A: describe

3. distribution type.

11. SYSTEM: INTERIORS

11.1 The inspector shall observe:

F. sumps (replaced with: F. installed ovens, ranges, surface cooking appliances, microwave ovens, dishwashing machines and food waste grinders by using normal operating controls to activate the primary functions)

BAD CHANGE: Need to be more clear. Kitchen appliances have several different modes and options. Will also need to remind home inspectors to document when that appliance is not present for protection.

11.2 The inspector shall:

C. report absence of secondary fire egress from bedrooms.

BAD CHANGE: Need to be more clear. Bedrooms have very specific code requirements and measurements. Operable door or window would be a much better choice of words.

11.3 The inspector is NOT required to observe:

D. household appliances (removed and replaced with: recreational facilities or another dwelling unit)

F: installed and freestanding kitchen and laundry appliances not listed in section 11.1.F

12. SYSTEM: INSULATION & VENTILATION

12.2 The inspector shall describe:

B. absence of same in unfinished space at conditioned surfaces (removed)

RE: Your email dated 16AUG23

Mr. Kurt Warner,

Thank you for the opportunity to provide comments on the Proposed Rulemaking with respect to home inspectors.

Regarding the AZASHI home inspector standards of practice: I suggest adding a comment to the standards of practice that establishes a de minimis exemption for trivial items. When I was doing environmental compliance work, the EPA regulations acknowledged that some level of emission reporting was so insignificant, that it was not worth reporting. When I file my taxes, the IRS acknowledges that certain amounts of money that may otherwise be due, are not worth the time and effort to report, nor pay.

The reporting requirements for home inspectors in the State of Arizona currently do not accommodate the concept that some issues are so trivial that they should not affect a reasonable person's decision to buy a home, and therefore, should be outside the scope of the home inspection. For example; the standards of practice requires that the home inspector report on defects for exterior doors (Standards of Professional Practice 5.1 B). The current reporting requirements therefore require that any defect be reported (other than cosmetic items), no matter how insignificant they may be, in the grand scheme of purchasing a home. For an exterior door, this would include trivial items such as loose hardware, a missing screw in a door hinge, small gaps at the threshold or weatherstripping, a latch that needs adjustment, etc.

I suggest adding a comment to the Standards to rectify what has been an oversight in the Standards of Practice, ever since it was first adopted. Suggested verbiage to be added to GENERAL LIMITATIONS AND EXCLUSIONS: Any individual item that costs less than ½ of 1 percent of the value of the property to correct, repair or replace, is considered a trivial item that is outside the scope of the home inspection and the home inspector is not required to comment nor report on that item.

The proposed language in Section 8 (8.1 G) requires the "operation of readily accessible GFCI devices". I suggest revising this language/requirement to exclude GFCI devices and GFCI circuits that have an electrical device getting electrical power from the GFCI device/GFCI protected circuit, at the time of the inspection. For example: Operating a GFCI device/circuit that has an appliance plugged into the GFCI device, may result in problems such as the device losing whatever information is in its memory, or losing the setting of the clock in the appliance.

Sincerely,

Hi Kurt,

Some thoughts on the boards upcoming meeting to discuss changes for home inspections – having been an inspector since 2001 hopefully I have enough experience to offer an opinion ❖❖

As I understand it - the purpose of the notary is an attempt to keep the parallel inspector and the parallel inspection process honest – that always has and always will come down to the integrity of the inspector – if a parallel inspector wants to be dishonest it will be easy enough to get a friend of a friend to notarize the forms - so using a notary or not in my opinion won't be of any significance either way –

Requiring a home inspector applicant to only provide a detailed explanation of disciplinary action, license denial or a conviction seems responsible enough – in this present day of information being available in so many formats it wouldn't be difficult for the board to verify an applicant's information –

Updating the standards of practice seems likely to be something that would constantly need to be update through the years –

It's not clear to me what we are saying with The stipulation that a home inspector cannot perform or offer to perform a home inspection while also acting as a real estate agent or broker – are we saying a person cannot carry both a home inspectors certification and real estate agent/broker license at the same time – or – a person can carry all three at the same time but an inspector cannot act as the realtor and the inspector on the same property –

I have been told of a broker who is also a part owner of an inspection company and uses that inspection company for his offices home inspections – that has always seemed a very obvious conflict of interest – it seems to be well know in the industry and no one has said anything so I'm curious if I'm misunderstanding this stipulation – this also seems to be a violation of an inspector not being able to pay directly or indirectly ....to obtain referrals – the broker is referring his own home inspection company he is part owner of – he makes money on that real estate transaction – can't figure out how that is ok ?

I have never understood the value in the report Checklist Supplement – we have a standards of practice – that is what we must adhere to – what is the purpose of the Checklist Supplement? – it carries no legal enforcement or standard – we make sure the inspector adheres to the Standards of Practice – not the Checklist Supplement –

Some thoughts and suggestions I have from speaking with other home inspectors through the years

Why does the board constantly refer to our standards as the AZASHI standards – the state says we have our own standard – that they used ASHI's standards as a guide – fine – send ASHI a plaque showing gratitude they can hang on a wall – but ASHI home inspectors have constantly used the states verbiage to imply an inspector must belong to ASHI to be a certified home inspector in Arizona – I know this for a fact because my wife who is a realtor said something to me about having to belong to ASHI to be a state certified home inspector – when I told her that wasn't the case she said an inspector conducting a recent class she attended had said that we did – countless realtors have told me ASHI inspectors constantly use the state referencing AZASHI standards as proof that the realtor should only use ASHI certified home inspectors - I have never understood how it's ok with the Attorney's General office for the state government to advertise for a private business/association – this puts home inspectors that are not members of ASHI in the position of constantly having to explain that membership in ASHI is not required – and we are great inspectors even though we are not members of ASHI - there shouldn't be any mention of any private company/association on the state's website – speaking of – why do we leave the state website and go to AZASHI's website when we look at the standards of practice – again, all of this seems to appear the state is propagating for a private company/association - the state should have it's own website or page with the standards of practice – I don't see any reason ASHI needs mentioned at all –

In 2004 the BTR sent home inspectors a memo stating “ You are not allowed to participate in real estate preferred vendor programs, even if it is called another name” – very black and white – since then we have been sent memos stating we can't pay directly or indirectly to be on a preferred vendor's list – a little different than “You Can't” – some clarification would be much appreciated –

On the subject of inspectors paying to be a preferred vendor – when I tell realtors/brokers I can't pay they laugh – stating “all the other home inspectors are” – from what I have been told by realtors it is common place for inspectors to pay – I recently asked a large brokerage here in town what it would take to be a preferred vendor they told me and I quote “$2500 a month” the rep didn't even hesitate – when I told her inspectors are not allowed to pay she said and again I quote “not my problem” – she said we have inspectors on our preferred vendor list right now that are paying – you will have to decide for yourself if it is worth the risk – when I brought this up to the BTR in the past they say “give us a name” – multiple inspectors have told me they get frustrated with other inspectors paying to be a preferred vendor and nothing happens to them – they have also said when they called the BTR to complain the BTR said “give us a name” – no one wants to risk doing that and here's why – the home inspection committee is made of practicing home inspectors – we have been told of inspectors on the committee that are paying to be on preferred vendor lists – so the people you're calling to file a complaint with concerning home inspectors paying to be preferred vendors are paying to be preferred vendors – I was told by a realtor that one of the principals in getting certification in place for inspectors was paying to be on a preferred vendor list – who's going to risk speaking with an inspector on the board who is doing or has a friend who is doing the very thing you're calling to file a complaint about – the inspector on the board may be the one you're wanting to file a complaint against - you are afraid of retribution – being black balled – singled out – however you want to look at it you're not going to take the risk –

It has always seemed like a huge conflict having active home inspectors being on the board – sitting in judgement of their competition –

So here is my suggestion – how about an anonymous #800 or email – such as the State Department of Labor has – where home inspectors can file a complaint without fear of retribution –

I think the BTR has been kicking around the idea of CE classes for home inspectors – this will come down to what it always comes down to – how conscientious is the inspector – requiring an inspector to take a class won't change that - there is so much availability to the code changes that an inspector has access to all the information he needs – this will only put additional financial strain on the inspector in an already difficult real estate market – I have been told by inspectors who are members of associations that require CE credits that those classes are worthless and are simply a regurgitation of the same old information every year - one inspector told me he hadn't been to a class in two years but still gets certified by the association anyway – as you know, codes typically only change every three years – and home inspectors don't do code checks because we would have to take into consideration what code was in affect when the home was built, which code book did the municipality choose to work with, did that municipality step up those codes in any way – again, I'm not sure what we would gain in the quality of work from the inspector simply making the inspector attend a class –

But if that is the direction the BTR chooses to go – the classes would need to be administered by the state – not run through AZASHI or any other trade association – the associations could use that process to market for membership offering reduced fees for CE classes if the inspector joined their association – the trade associations already tell realtors they should use them because they require their inspector to attend CE classes – if the association could now say the state requires those classes and those classes go through our association it will give the association all the more ground to propagate that the realtor should only use an inspector that belongs to their trade association – if the state wants to require CE classes then the state should offer and administer those classes – this would make the home inspector process very clean – the state gives the certification, has their own standards of practice and CE classes – there would no need at all for any trade association in the state which would clear up a lot of confusion for the realtors and buyers

Thanks for your time Kurt – if you have any questions feel free to give me a call –

The board/state should be more open minded and forward thinking as far as the HI standards go. Do not just follow ASHI just because that's what we have done in the past. Yes ASHI was here in AZ many years ago, but times have changed. They were a great start 40 years ago. BTR is going to want to look at NACHI and any other groups that are operating that support home inspectors. That way BTR can compare the standards and get new ideas. Nachi is still growing - 30K inspectors now and keeps up on all the latest in the industry. Their standards should be looked at when updating the BTR standards.

I am on the enforcement board. The same issues keep coming up case after case. Its due to two major flaws in the current standards.

1. the report checklist does not match the standards and,
2. the standards wording is lousy and leaves room for inspectors to make mistakes , because of that wording

" the inspector shall observe " - does that mean put it in the report? does it mean just look at it??

Then under - inspector not required to - a,b,c,d, then it says "observe" so we don't look at those or do we look at those?

Does observe mean document?

I've been inspecting for 19 years, its confusing to me let alone new inspectors. No wonder there are so many EAC meetings. It not fair to the Inspectors the way the standards are written. They were a great start 40 years ago and of course were needed but now should be updated.

Thank you, Mark and Gina Timpani

Survey Minimum Standards To preserve the 'spirit' of land surveying, I propose the following statement: Do the NCEES exams mirror Minimum Standards? If not, the min stds should not be considered after licensing by the Board. If the proposed New Minimum Standards promotes technology of today, and is not part of the exam, it should not be accepted by the Board. The above will prevent surprises to the registrant. My opinion, thanks.

PREFACE

Under Arizona law, the Department of State, Office of the Secretary of State (Office), Administrative Rules Division, accepts state agency rule notice and other legal filings and is the publisher of Arizona rules. The Office of the Secretary of State does not interpret or enforce rules in the Administrative Code. Questions about rules should be directed to the state agency responsible for the promulgation of the rule.

Scott Cancelosi, Director
ADMINISTRATIVE RULES DIVISION

RULES

The definition for a rule is provided for under A.R.S. § 41-1001. “Rule’ means an agency statement of general applicability that implements, interprets, or prescribes law or policy, or describes the procedures or practice requirements of an agency.”

THE ADMINISTRATIVE CODE

The Arizona Administrative Code is where the official rules of the state of Arizona are published. The Code is the official codification of rules that govern state agencies, boards, and commissions.

The Code is separated by subject into Titles. Titles are divided into Chapters. A Chapter includes state agency rules. Rules in Chapters are divided into Articles, then Sections. The “R” stands for “rule” with a sequential numbering and lettering outline separated into subsections.

Rules are codified quarterly in the Code. Supplement release dates are printed on the footers of each Chapter.

First Quarter: January 1 - March 31

Second Quarter: April 1 - June 30

Third Quarter: July 1 - September 30

Fourth Quarter: October 1 - December 31

For example, the first supplement for the first quarter of 2021 is cited as Supp. 21-1. Supplements are traditionally released three to four weeks after the end of the quarter because filings are accepted until the last day of the quarter.

Please note: The Office publishes by Chapter, not by individual rule Section. Therefore there might be only a few Sections codified in each Chapter released in a supplement. This is why the Office lists only updated codified Sections on the previous page.

AUTHENTICATION OF PDF CODE CHAPTERS

The Office began to authenticate Chapters of the Code in Supp. 18-1 to comply with A.R.S. § 41-1012(B) and A.R.S. § 5302(1), (2)(d) through (e), and (3)(d) through (e).

A certification verifies the authenticity of each Code Chapter posted as it is released by the Office of the Secretary of State. The authenticated pdf of the Code includes an integrity mark with a certificate ID. Users should check the validity of the signature, especially if the pdf has been downloaded. If the digital signature is invalid it means the document’s content has been compromised.

HOW TO USE THE CODE

Rules may be in effect before a supplement is released by the Office. Therefore, the user should refer to issues of the Arizona Administrative Register for recent updates to rule Sections.

ARIZONA REVISED STATUTE REFERENCES

The Arizona Revised Statutes (A.R.S.) are available online at the Legislature’s website, www.azleg.gov. An agency’s authority note to make rules is often included at the beginning of a Chapter. Other Arizona statutes may be referenced in rule under the A.R.S. acronym.

SESSION LAW REFERENCES

Arizona Session Law references in a Chapter can be found at the Secretary of State’s website, www.azsos.gov under Services-> Legislative Filings.

EXEMPTIONS FROM THE APA

It is not uncommon for an agency to be exempt from the steps outlined in the rulemaking process as specified in the Arizona Administrative Procedures Act, also known as the APA (Arizona Revised Statutes, Title 41, Chapter 6, Articles 1 through 10). Other agencies may be given an exemption to certain provisions of the Act.

An agency’s exemption is written in law by the Arizona State Legislature or under a referendum or initiative passed into law by Arizona voters.

When an agency files an exempt rulemaking package with our Office it specifies the law exemption in what is called the preamble of rulemaking. The preamble is published in the Register online at www.azsos.gov/rules, click on the Administrative Register link.

Editor’s notes at the beginning of a Chapter provide information about rulemaking Sections made by exempt rulemaking. Exempt rulemaking notes are also included in the historical note at the end of a rulemaking Section.

The Office makes a distinction to certain exemptions because some rules are made without receiving input from stakeholders or the public. Other exemptions may require an agency to propose exempt rules at a public hearing.

EXEMPTIONS AND PAPER COLOR

At one time the office published exempt rules on either blue or green paper. Blue meant the authority of the exemption was given by the Legislature; green meant the authority was determined by a court order. In 2001 the Office discontinued publishing Chapters using these paper colors.

PERSONAL USE/COMMERCIAL USE

This Chapter is posted as a public courtesy online, and is for private use only. Those who wish to use the contents for resale or profit should contact the Office about Commercial Use fees. For information on commercial use fees review A.R.S. § 39-121.03 and 1 A.A.C. 1, R1-1-113.

Rhonda Paschal, rules managing editor, assisted with the editing of this Chapter.

Administrative Rules Division
 The Arizona Secretary of State electronically publishes each A.A.C. Chapter with a digital certificate. The certificate-based signature displays the date and time the document was signed and can be validated in Adobe Acrobat Reader.

R4-30-125. Reserved*R4-30-126. Service of Board Decisions; Rehearing of Board Decisions

- A. Except as provided in subsection (G), any party to an appealable agency action or contested case before the Board who is aggrieved by a decision rendered in the matter may file with the Board, not later than 30 calendar days after service of the decision, a written motion for rehearing or review of the decision specifying the particular grounds for the motion. A decision shall be deemed to have been served on the date when personally delivered or mailed by certified mail to the party's last known address of record with the agency. The filing of a motion for rehearing is a condition precedent to the right of appeal provided in A.R.S. § 32-128(J).
- B. A motion for rehearing under this rule may be amended at any time before it is ruled upon by the Board. A response may be filed within 15 calendar days after service of the motion or amended motion by any other party. The Board may require the filing of written briefs upon the issues raised in the motion and may provide for oral argument. The filing of a motion for rehearing or review suspends the operation of the Board's order and allows the registrant to practice in his or her profession pending denial or granting of the motion, and pending the decision of the Board on the rehearing or review if the motion is granted.
- C. A rehearing or review of the decision may be granted for any of the following causes materially affecting the moving party's rights:
1. Irregularity in the administrative proceedings of the agency, members of the Board or the prevailing party, or any order or abuse of discretion, whereby the moving party was deprived of a fair hearing;

2. Misconduct of the Board or the prevailing party;
  3. Accident or surprise which could not have been prevented by ordinary prudence;
  4. Newly discovered material evidence which could not with reasonable diligence have been discovered and produced at the original hearing;
  5. Excessive or insufficient penalties;
  6. Error in the admission or rejection of evidence or other errors of law occurring at the administrative hearing;
  7. The decision is unjustified based upon the evidence or is contrary to law.
- D. The Board may affirm or modify the decision or grant a rehearing to all or any of the parties and on all or part of the issues for any of the reasons set forth in subsection (C). An order granting a rehearing shall specify with particularity the ground or grounds on which the rehearing is granted, and the rehearing shall cover only those matters so specified.
- E. Not later than 30 days after a decision is rendered, the Board may on its own motion order a rehearing or review of its decision for any reason listed in subsection (C). After giving the parties or their counsel notice and an opportunity to be heard on the matter, the Board may grant a motion for rehearing for a reason not stated in the motion. In either case the order granting a rehearing shall specify the grounds for the rehearing.
- F. When a motion for rehearing is based upon affidavits, they shall be served with the motion. An opposing party may, within ten days after service, serve opposing affidavits, which period may be extended for an additional period not exceeding 20 days by the Board for good cause shown or by written stipulation of the parties. Reply affidavits may be permitted.
- G. If the Board makes specific findings that the immediate effectiveness of a decision is necessary for preservation of the public welfare, health or safety and that a rehearing or review of the decision is impracticable, unnecessary or contrary to the public interest, the decision may be issued as a final decision without an opportunity for a rehearing or review. If a decision is issued as a final decision without an opportunity for rehearing, any application for judicial review of the decision shall be made within the time limits permitted for applications for judicial review of the Board's final decisions.

GOVERNOR'S REGULATORY REVIEW COUNCIL

FROM: Council Staff

DATE: February 14, 2024

SUBJECT: DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS
Title 20, Chapter 6

Appendix D, Appendix E, Appendix F, Appendix G

Summary:

This regular rulemaking from the Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions seeks to amend three (3) rules and seven (7) appendices in Title 20, Chapter 6, Article 14 related to Insurance Holding Company. This rulemaking is required by recent statutory changes to the Arizona Holding Company Act (A.R.S. §§ 20-481 through 20-481.33) (Laws 2023, Ch. 25) and is required to retain the Department's accreditation with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC).

This rulemaking does not establish or increase a fee and does not relate to a prior five-year review report.

1. Are the rules legal, consistent with legislative intent, and within the agency's statutory authority?

The Department cites both general and specific statutory authority for these rules.

2. Do the rules establish a new fee or contain a fee increase?

The Department states the rules do not contain a new fee or fee increase.

3. Does the preamble disclose a reference to any study relevant to the rules that the agency reviewed and either did or did not rely upon?

The Department states no study was reviewed or relied upon during the course of this rulemaking.

4. Summary of the agency's economic impact analysis:

The Department states that the rulemaking is not designed to address any misconduct. Instead, the Department indicates it is necessary to implement statutory changes recently made to the Arizona Holding Company Act (A.R.S. §§ 20-481.33) (Laws 2023, Ch. 25). The Department does not anticipate any additional costs to be incurred by licensees. Stakeholders include the Department and Insurance Holding Company systems as defined in A.R.S. § 20-418(7).

5. Has the agency analyzed the costs and benefits of the rulemaking and determined that the rules impose the least burden and costs to those who are regulated?

The Department believes that the current rulemaking offers the least intrusive and least costly alternative method to achieve the purpose of the proposed rulemaking.

6. What are the economic impacts on stakeholders?

The Department does not anticipate any costs or benefits in implementing and enforcing the proposed rulemaking. In addition, no political subdivision of this state is directly affected by the implementation and enforcement of the proposed rulemaking. The Department anticipates minimal financial impact, including no anticipated effect on the revenues or payroll expenditures, to insurers subject to the rules. The Department states that private persons and consumers are not directly affected by the proposed rulemaking.

7. Are the final rules a substantial change, considered as a whole, from the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

ARS §41-1057(D)(7) states the Council shall not approve the rule unless “[th]e rule is not a substantial change, considered as a whole, from the proposed rule and any supplemental notices.”

ARS § 41-1025(B) continues with “In determining whether a rule is substantially different from the published proposed rule on which it is required to be based, all of the following must be considered:

1. The extent to which all persons affected by the rule should have understood that the published proposed rule would affect their interests.

2. The extent to which the subject matter of the rule or the issues determined by that rule are different from the subject matter or issues involved in the published proposed rule.
3. The extent to which the effects of the rule differ from the effects of the published proposed rule if it had been made instead.”

The Department has made one change in response to a comment filed by the American Property Casualty Insurance Association (“APCIA”). The APCIA made the following request to change the first sentence in subsection R20-6-1408(B):

“B. The lead state Commissioner has the discretion to exempt the ultimate controlling person from filing the annual group capital calculation if the lead state Commissioner makes a determination based upon ~~that~~ the filing that the insurance holding company system meets all of the following criteria:”

The Department and Counsel staff do not consider this a substantial change.

8. Does the agency adequately address the comments on the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

The Department adequately addressed the one (1) comment received as indicated in subsection seven (7) above.

9. Do the rules require a permit or license and, if so, does the agency comply with A.R.S. § 41-1037?

The Department states that this questions does not apply as a general permit is not applicable to insurance holding companies

10. Are the rules more stringent than corresponding federal law and, if so, is there statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law?

The Department states there is no corresponding federal law to these rules.

11. Conclusion

This regular rulemaking from the Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions seeks to amend three rules and seven appendices in Title 20, Chapter 6, Article 14 related to Insurance Holding Company. As stated above, this rulemaking does not establish or increase a fee and does not relate to a prior five-year review report. The Department is seeking the standard 60-day delayed effective date. Council staff recommends approval of this rulemaking.

6. An agency's justification and reason why a rule should be made, amended, repealed or renumbered, to include an explanation about the rulemaking:

The Arizona Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions – Insurance Division (“Department”) has proposed changes to A.A.C. Title 20, Chapter 6, Article 14 – Insurance Holding Company. This rulemaking is required by recent statutory changes to the Arizona Holding Company Act (A.R.S. §§ 20-481 through 20-481.33) (Laws 2023, Ch. 25) and is required to retain the Department’s accreditation with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC).

The changes to Sections R20-6-1407 and R20-6-1408 address the continuation of essential services through affiliated intercompany agreements in the event of a conservatorship, supervision, or receivership of an insurer that is a member of an insurance holding company.

Section R20-6-1407 (Transactions Subject to Prior Notice – Notice Filing) will be amended to add additional requirements to proposed transactions which must be filed with the Director including defining “data,” specifying that it remains the property of the insurer, and is identifiable, segregated, and subject to the control of the insurer. An insurer is indemnified for certain actions of an affiliate. In the event of a supervision, conservatorship, or receivership of the insurer that is a member of an insurance holding company, all rights of the insurer extend to the receiver or Director; all records and data are identifiable, segregated, and made immediately available; essential services and infrastructure will be maintained; and the affiliates’ commitments extend to any guarantee association (if applicable).

Section R20-6-1408 (Enterprise Risk Report) will be amended to add subsections which authorize the lead state Commissioner to exempt from the Group Capital Calculation Report (which is part of the annual enterprise risk report) insurance holding company systems that meet certain criteria; accept a limited group capital filing if certain criteria are met; require previously exempted holding companies to file an annual group calculation; define the conditions where a non-U.S. jurisdiction is considered to “recognize and accept” a group capital calculation; and identify the list of these non-U.S. jurisdictions which are developed by the NAIC.

Section R20-6-1409 (Extraordinary Dividends and Other Distributions) will also be changed to correct a calculation and to conform to rulewriting standards.

The changes to the appendices the Department has proposed will reflect the structural change to the former Department of Insurance which merged with the Department of Financial Institutions to form the Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions (the “new agency”), on July 1, 2020. The former Department of Insurance became a division of the new agency. The appendices will also be changed to conform to rulewriting standards.

7. A reference to any study relevant to the rule that the agency reviewed and proposes either to rely on or not to rely on in its evaluation of or justification for the rule, where the public may obtain or review each study, all data underlying each study, and any analysis of each study and other supporting material:

The Department did not review and does not propose to rely on any study relevant to this rulemaking.

8. A showing of good cause why the rulemaking is necessary to promote a statewide interest if the rulemaking will diminish a previous grant of authority of a political subdivision of this state:

The rulemaking does not diminish a previous grant of authority granted to the Department.

9. The summary of the economic, small business, and consumer impact:

Pursuant to A.R.S. § 41-1055(A)(1):

- The rulemaking is not designed to address any misconduct. Instead, it is necessary to implement statutory changes recently made to the Arizona Holding Company Act (A.R.S. §§ 20-481 through 20-481.33) (Laws 2023, Ch. 25).

- Because this rulemaking is not made in response to a perceived problem caused by the conduct of licensees, it is not intended to reduce the frequency of any potentially violative conduct.

Pursuant to A.R.S. § 41-1055(A)(2):

- The Department does not anticipate any additional costs to be incurred by licensees.
- The person listed in Item 5 may be contacted to submit or request additional data on the information included in the economic, small business and consumer impact statement.

10. A description of any changes between the proposed rulemaking, to include supplemental notices, and the final rulemaking:

The Department has made one change in response to a comment filed by the American Property Casualty Insurance Association (“APCIA”). The APCIA made the following request to change the first sentence in subsection R20-6-1408(B):

“B. The lead state Commissioner has the discretion to exempt the ultimate controlling person from filing the annual group capital calculation if the lead state Commissioner makes a determination based upon ~~that~~ the filing that the insurance holding company system meets all of the following criteria:”

The Department has made that change to the subsection. The Department does not consider the change to be substantially different from the proposed rule within the meaning of A.R.S. § 41-1025.

11. An agency’s summary of the public or stakeholder comments made about the rulemaking and the agency response to the comments:

The Department published the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking on October 13, 2023. (29 A.A.R. 2374, October 13, 2023) At that time it also opened a 30-day Comment Period.

During the Comment Period, the Department received the comment submitted by APCIA discussed in Item 10 above. The Department did not receive any other comments.

12. All agencies shall list other matters prescribed by statute applicable to the specific agency or to any specific rule or class of rules. Additionally, an agency subject to Council review under A.R.S. §§ 41-1052 and 41-1055 shall respond to the following questions:

No other matters prescribed by statute are applicable to the Department or to any specific rule or class of rules.

a. Whether the rule requires a permit, whether a general permit is used and if not, the reasons why a general permit is not used:

Not applicable. A general permit is not applicable to insurance holding companies.

b. Whether a federal law is applicable to the subject of the rule, whether the rule is more stringent than federal law and if so, citation to the statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law:

No federal law is applicable to the subject of the rule.

c. Whether a person submitted an analysis to the agency that compares the rule's impact of the competitiveness of business in this state to the impact on business in other states:

No formal analysis has been submitted to the Department that compares the rule's impact of the competitiveness of business in this state to the impact of business in other states.

13. A list of any incorporated by reference material as specified in A.R.S. § 41-1028 and its location in the rules:

Not applicable. Neither the rules or appendices incorporate any reference materials.

14. Whether the rule was previously made, amended or repealed as an emergency rule. If so, cite the notice published in the Register as specified in R1-1-409(A). Also, the agency shall state where the text was changed between the emergency and the final rulemaking packages:

Not applicable. None of the Sections or Appendices included in this rulemaking were previously made, amended, or repealed as an emergency rule.

15. The full text of the rules follows:

- A. The ultimate controlling person of an insurer required to file an enterprise risk report pursuant to A.R.S. § 481.10(D) shall furnish the required information on Form F, attached hereto as Appendix F.
- B. The lead state Commissioner has the discretion to exempt the ultimate controlling person from filing the annual group capital calculation if the lead state Commissioner makes a determination based upon the filing that the insurance holding company system meets all of the following criteria:
1. Has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium, including international direct and assumed premium, but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and Federal Flood Program of less than $1,000,000,000;
  2. Has no insurers within its holding company structure that are domiciled outside of the United States or one of its territories;

3. Has no banking, depository, or other financial entity that is subject to an identified regulatory capital framework within its holding company structure;
  4. The holding company system attests that there are no material changes in the transactions between insurers and non-insurers in the group that have occurred since the last filing of the annual group capital calculation; and
  5. The non-insurers within the holding company system do not pose a material financial risk to the insurer's ability to honor policyholder obligations.
- C. Where an insurance holding company system has previously filed the annual group capital calculation at least once, the lead state Commissioner has the discretion to accept, in lieu of the group capital calculation, a limited group capital filing if the insurance holding company system has annual direct written and unaffiliated assumed premium, including international direct and assumed premium but excluding premiums reinsured with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and Federal Flood Program, of less than $1,000,000,000 and all of the following additional criteria are met:
1. Has no insurer within its holding company structure that are domiciled outside of the United States or one of its territories;
  2. Does not include a banking, depository, or other financial entity that is subject to an identified regulatory capital framework; and
  3. The holding company system attests that there are no material changes in transactions between insurers and non-insurers in the group that have occurred since the last filing of the report to the lead state Commissioner and the non-insurers within the holding company system do not pose a material financial risk to the insurers' ability to honor policyholder obligations.
- D. For an insurance holding company that has previously met an exemption with respect to the group capital calculation pursuant to subsections (B) or (C), the lead state Commissioner may require, at any time, the ultimate controlling person to file an annual group capital calculation, completed in accordance with the NAIC Group Capital Calculation Instructions, if any of the following criteria are met:

1. Any insurer within the insurance holding company system is in a Risk-Based Capital action level event as set forth in A.R.S. § 20-488.02 or a similar standard for a non-U.S. insurer;
  2. Any insurer within the insurance holding company system meets one or more of the standards of an insurer deemed to be in hazardous financial condition as defined in A.R.S. § 20-220.01; or
  3. Any insurer within the insurance holding company system otherwise exhibits qualities of a troubled insurer as determined by the lead state Commissioner based on unique circumstances including, but not limited to, the type and volume of business written, ownership and organizational structure, federal agency requests, and international supervisor requests.
- E. A non-U.S. jurisdiction is considered to “recognize and accept” the group capital calculation if it satisfies the following criteria:
1. With respect to A.R.S. § 20-481.10(D)(2)(a)(iv):
    - a. The non-U.S. jurisdiction recognizes the U.S. state regulatory approach to group supervision and group capital by providing confirmation by a competent regulatory authority in such jurisdiction, that insurers and insurance groups whose lead state is accredited by the NAIC, under the NAIC Accreditation Program, shall be subject only to worldwide prudential insurance group supervision including worldwide group governance, solvency and capital, and reporting, as applicable, by the lead state and will not be subject to group supervision, including worldwide group governance, solvency and capital, and reporting, at the level of the worldwide parent undertaking of the insurance or reinsurance group by the non-U.S. jurisdiction; or
    - b. Where no U.S. insurance groups operate in the non-U.S. jurisdiction, the non-U.S. jurisdiction indicates formally in writing to the lead state, with a copy to the International Association of Insurance Supervisors, that the group capital calculation is an acceptable international capital standard. This will serve as documentation otherwise required in subsection (E)(1)(a).

2. The non-U.S. jurisdiction provides confirmation by a competent regulatory authority in such jurisdiction, that information regarding insurers and their parent, subsidiary, or affiliated entities, if applicable, shall be provided to the lead state Commissioner in accordance with a memorandum of understanding or similar document between the Commissioner and such jurisdiction, including but not limited to the International Association of Insurance Supervisors Multilateral Memorandum of Understanding or other multilateral memoranda of understanding coordinated by the NAIC. The Commissioner shall determine, in consultation with the NAIC Committee Process, if the requirements of the information sharing agreements are in force.

F. A list of non-U.S. jurisdictions that “recognize and accept” the group capital calculation will be published through the NAIC Committee Process:

1. A list of jurisdictions that “recognize and accept” the group capital calculation pursuant to A.R.S. § 20-481.10(D)(2)(a)(iv), is published through the NAIC Committee Process to assist the lead state Commissioner in determining which insurers shall file an annual group capital calculation. The list will clarify those situations in which a jurisdiction is exempted from filing under A.R.S. § 20-481.10(D)(2)(a)(iv). To assist with a determination under A.R.S. § 20-481.10(D)(2)(b), the list will also identify whether a jurisdiction that is exempted under either A.R.S. § 20-481.10(D)(2)(c) or (d) requires a group capital filing for any U.S. based insurance group’s operations in that non-U.S. jurisdiction.
2. For a non-U.S. jurisdiction where no U.S. insurance groups operate, the confirmation provided to meet the requirement of subsection (E)(1)(b) will serve as support for recommendation to be published as a jurisdiction that “recognizes and accepts” the group capital calculation through the NAIC Committee Process.
3. If the lead state Commissioner makes a determination pursuant to A.R.S. § 20-481.10(D)(2)(a)(iv) that differs from the NAIC List, the lead state Commissioner shall provide thoroughly documented justification to the NAIC and other states.
4. Upon determination by the lead state Commissioner that a non-U.S. jurisdiction no longer meets one or more of the requirements to “recognize and accept” the group capital calculation, the lead state Commissioner may provide a recommendation to the NAIC that the non –U.S. jurisdiction be removed from the list of jurisdictions that “recognize and accept” the group capital calculation.

    - a. The amounts, dates and form of payment of all dividends or distributions, including regular dividends but excluding distributions of the insurer’s own securities, paid within the period of 12 consecutive months ending on the date fixed for payment of the proposed dividend for which approval is sought and commencing on the day after the same day of the same month in the last preceding year;
    - b. Surplus as regards policyholders, total capital and surplus, as of the 31st day of December next preceding;

5. A balance sheet and statement of income for the period intervening from the last annual statement filed with the Director and the end of the month preceding the month in which the request for dividend approval is submitted; and
  6. A brief statement as to the effect of the proposed dividend upon the insurer's surplus and the reasonableness of surplus in relation to the insurer's outstanding liabilities and the adequacy of surplus relative to the insurer's financial needs.
- B. Subject to A.R.S. § 20-481.19, each registered insurer shall report to the Director all dividends and other distributions to shareholders within ~~5~~ five business days following the declaration thereof and at least 10 business days before payment of the dividend or distribution, including the same information required by subsection (A)(4)(a) through (e) of this rule.

The Arizona Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions – Insurance Division (“Department”) has proposed changes to A.A.C. Title 20, Chapter 6, Article 14 – Insurance Holding Company. This rulemaking is required by recent statutory changes to the Arizona Holding Company Act (A.R.S. §§ 20-481 through 20-481.33) (Laws 2023, Ch. 25) and are required to retain the Department’s accreditation with the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC).

The changes to Sections R20-6-1407 and R20-6-1408 address the continuation of essential services through affiliated intercompany agreements in the event of a conservatorship, supervision, or receivership of an insurer that is a member of an insurance holding company.

Section R20-6-1407 (Transactions Subject to Prior Notice – Notice Filing) will be amended to add additional requirements to proposed transactions which must be filed with the Director including defining “data,” specifying that it remains the property of the insurer, and is identifiable, segregated, and subject to the control of the insurer. An insurer is indemnified for certain actions of an affiliate. In the event of a supervision, conservatorship, or receivership of the insurer that is a member of on insurance holding company, all rights of the insurer extend to the receiver or Director; all records and data are identifiable, segregated, and made immediately available; essential services and infrastructure will be maintained; and the affiliates’ commitments extend to any guarantee association (if applicable).

Section R20-6-1408 (Enterprise Risk Report) will be amended to add subsections which authorize the lead state Commissioner to exempt from the Group Capital Calculation Report (which is part of the annual enterprise risk report) insurance holding company systems that meet certain criteria; accept a limited group capital filing if certain criteria are met; require previously exempted holding companies to file an annual group calculation; define the conditions where a non-U.S. jurisdiction is considered to “recognize and accept” a group capital calculation; and identify the list of these non-U.S. jurisdictions which are developed by the NAIC.

Section R20-6-1409 (Extraordinary Dividends and Other Distributions) will also be changed to correct a calculation and to conform to rulewriting standards.

The changes to the appendices the Department has proposed will reflect the structural change to the former Department of Insurance which merged with the Department of Financial Institutions to form the Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions (the “new agency”), on July 1, 2020. The former Department of Insurance became a division of the new agency. The appendices will also be changed to conform to rulewriting standards.

GOVERNOR'S REGULATORY REVIEW COUNCIL

FROM: Council Staff

DATE: February 8, 2024

SUBJECT: DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS
Title 20, Chapter 6, Article 11

Amend: R20-6-1101

Summary:

This regular rulemaking from the Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions (Department) seeks to amend one (1) rule in Title 20, Chapter 6 related to Medicare Supplemental Insurance; Incorporation by Reference and Modifications. Under A.R.S. § 20-1133, the Director is required to adopt rules as necessary to comply with the requirements of the social security disability amendments of 1980 (P.L. 96-265, 42 U.S.C. § 1395ss) and federal laws or regulations pertaining to that section so that Arizona may retain its full authority to regulate minimum standards for Medicare Supplement insurance. With this rulemaking, the Department incorporates, by reference, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) Model Regulation to Implement the NAIC Medicare Supplement Insurance Minimum Standards Model Act ("Model Regulation").

This rulemaking does not establish or increase a fee and does not relate to a prior 5YRR.

1. Are the rules legal, consistent with legislative intent, and within the agency's statutory authority?

The Department cites both general and specific statutory authority for these rules.

2. Do the rules establish a new fee or contain a fee increase?

The Department states the rules do not establish a new fee or contain a fee increase.

3. Does the preamble disclose a reference to any study relevant to the rules that the agency reviewed and either did or did not rely upon?

The Department states no study was reviewed or relied upon during the course of this rulemaking.

4. Summary of the agency's economic impact analysis:

According to the Department, the director is required to adopt rules as necessary to comply with the requirements of the social security disability amendments of 1980 (P.L. 96-265, 42 U.S.C. 1395ss) and federal laws or regulations pertaining to that section so that Arizona may retain its full authority to regulate minimum standards for Medicare Supplement insurance. The Department seeks to amend its rules to reflect the most recent changes made by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) to the Model Regulation adopted in Fall 2022. In addition, the Department needs to update its address, inform the public that the incorporated by reference materials are available on its website, and correct a statutory reference.

The Department does not anticipate any additional costs to be incurred by licensees.

5. Has the agency analyzed the costs and benefits of the rulemaking and determined that the rules impose the least burden and costs to those who are regulated?

The Department believes that the current rulemaking offers the least intrusive and least costly alternative method to achieve the purpose of the proposed rulemaking.

6. What are the economic impacts on stakeholders?

The Department anticipates minimal financial impact, including no anticipated effect on the revenues or payroll expenditures, to insurers subject to the rules. The Department anticipates no impact on: the Department itself, political subdivisions of this state, or private employment of insurers.

7. Are the final rules a substantial change, considered as a whole, from the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

ARS §41-1057(D)(7) states the Council shall not approve the rule unless “[th]e rule is not a substantial change, considered as a whole, from the proposed rule and any supplemental notices.”

ARS § 41-1025(B) continues with “In determining whether a rule is substantially different from the published proposed rule on which it is required to be based, all of the following must be considered:

1. The extent to which all persons affected by the rule should have understood that the published proposed rule would affect their interests.
2. The extent to which the subject matter of the rule or the issues determined by that rule are different from the subject matter or issues involved in the published proposed rule.
3. The extent to which the effects of the rule differ from the effects of the published proposed rule if it had been made instead.”

The Department has indicated that the amendments made between the proposed and final rulemakings are not considered a substantial change as the interests of the persons affected by the rule have not changed, the subject matter of the rule has not changed, and the differences between the proposed and final rules are minimal.

8. Does the agency adequately address the comments on the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

The Department received no comments regarding this rulemaking.

9. Do the rules require a permit or license and, if so, does the agency comply with A.R.S. § 41-1037?

The Department states these rules do not require a permit or license as A.R.S. § 20-216 authorizes the Department to issue a certificate of authority to insurers doing business in Arizona if they meet statutorily specified criteria.

10. Are the rules more stringent than corresponding federal law and, if so, is there statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law?

The Department states the rules are not more stringent than corresponding federal law as A.R.S. § 20-1133 requires the Director to adopt rules to comply with the requirements of the social security disability amendments of 1980 and federal laws or regulations pertaining to that section.

11. Conclusion

This regular rulemaking from the Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions seeks to amend one rule in Title 20, Chapter 6 related to Medicare Supplemental Insurance; Incorporation by Reference and Modifications. As indicated above, this rulemaking does not establish or increase a fee and does not relate to a prior 5YRR. The Department is seeking the standard 60-day delayed effective date. Council staff recommends approval of this rulemaking.

6. An agency's justification and reason why a rule should be made, amended, repealed or renumbered, to include an explanation about the rulemaking:

The Arizona Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions – Insurance Division (“Department”) has proposed changes to A.A.C. Title 20, Chapter 6, Article 11: Medicare Supplement Insurance, Section R20-6-1101. Incorporation by Reference and Modifications. This Section incorporates, by reference, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) Model Regulation to Implement the NAIC Medicare Supplement Insurance Minimum Standards Model Act (“Model Regulation”). Under A.R.S. § 20-1133, the Director is required to adopt rules as necessary to comply with the requirements of the social security disability amendments of 1980 (P.L. 96-265, 42

U.S.C. § 1395ss) and federal laws or regulations pertaining to that section so that Arizona may retain its full authority to regulate minimum standards for Medicare Supplement insurance.

Because A.R.S. § 41-1028 requires a statement that incorporated matter does not include any later amendments or editions of the incorporated matter, the Department seeks to amend Section R20-6-1101 to accomplish the mandate of A.R.S. § 20-1133 to reflect the most recent changes made by the NAIC to the Model Regulation adopted in Fall, 2023. In addition, the Department's office was moved again since its last rulemaking in 2019 (25 A.A.R. 1923, August 2, 2019). The Department needs to update its address to remain compliant with A.R.S. § 41-1028(D) which requires the rules to state where copies of incorporated matter are available from the agency issuing the rule and from the organization originally issuing the matter. Lastly, the Department would like to inform the public that the incorporated by reference materials are available on its website, and to correct a statutory reference.

The Department did not receive any comments from the public on the proposed rulemaking during the 30-day comment period.

7. A reference to any study relevant to the rule that the agency reviewed and proposes either to rely on or not to rely on in its evaluation of or justification for the rule, where the public may obtain or review each study, all data underlying each study, and any analysis of each study and other supporting material:

The Department did not review and does not propose to rely on any study relevant to this rulemaking.

8. A showing of good cause why the rulemaking is necessary to promote a statewide interest if the rulemaking will diminish a previous grant of authority of a political subdivision of this state:

The rulemaking does not diminish a previous grant of authority granted to the Department.

9. The summary of the economic, small business, and consumer impact:

Pursuant to A.R.S. § 41-1055(A)(1):

- The rulemaking is not designed to address any misconduct. Instead, it is necessary to update the incorporated by reference materials to the most recent version available.
- Because this rulemaking is not made in response to a perceived problem caused by the conduct of licensees, it is not intended to reduce the frequency of any potentially violative conduct.

Pursuant to A.R.S. § 41-1055(A)(2):

- The Department does not anticipate any additional costs to be incurred by licensees.
- The person listed in Item 5 may be contacted to submit or request additional data on the information included in the economic, small business and consumer impact statement.

The Department has updated the incorporated by reference material version to the most recent version which was adopted by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners shortly after the Department originally submitted this Notice of Final Rulemaking to the Governor’s Regulatory Review Council. This Notice is a revised version to reflect the change.

Because the regulated community currently complies with the more recent version, this change is not considered a substantial change within the meaning of A.R.S. §

11. An agency's summary of the public or stakeholder comments made about the rulemaking and the agency response to the comments:

The Department published the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking for Section R20-6-1101 on October 13, 2023. (29 A.A.R. 2371, October 13, 2023) At that time it also opened a 30-day comment period. During the comment period, no one submitted a comment to the Department or requested an oral proceeding.

12. All agencies shall list other matters prescribed by statute applicable to the specific agency or to any specific rule or class of rules. Additionally, an agency subject to Council review under A.R.S. §§ 41-1052 and 41-1055 shall respond to the following questions:

No other matters prescribed by statute are applicable to the Department or to any specific rule or class of rules.

a. Whether the rule requires a permit, whether a general permit is used and if not, the reasons why a general permit is not used:

Not applicable. Article 11 contains only one Section (R20-6-1101) pertaining to Medicare Supplement Insurance. A.R.S. § 20-216 authorizes the Department to issue a certificate of authority to insurers doing business in Arizona if they meet statutorily specified criteria. No general permit is used.

b. Whether a federal law is applicable to the subject of the rule, whether the rule is more stringent than federal law and if so, citation to the statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law:

A.R.S. § 20-1133 requires the Director to adopt rules as necessary to comply with the requirements of the social security disability amendments of 1980 (P.L. 96-265, 42 U.S.C. § 1395ss) and federal laws or regulations pertaining to that section so that Arizona may retain its full authority to regulate minimum standards for Medicare Supplement insurance. The rule is not more stringent than the federal law.

c. Whether a person submitted an analysis to the agency that compares the rule's impact of the competitiveness of business in this state to the impact on business in other states:

No formal analysis has been submitted to the Department that compares the rule's impact of the competitiveness of business in this state to the impact of business in other states.

13. A list of any incorporated by reference material as specified in A.R.S. § 41-1028 and its location in the rules:

Section R20-6-1101 incorporates the current NAIC Model Regulation to Implement the NAIC Medicare Supplement Insurance Minimum Standards Model Act (and no future editions).

14. Whether the rule was previously made, amended or repealed as an emergency rule. If so, cite the notice published in the Register as specified in R1-1-409(A). Also, the agency shall state where the text was changed between the emergency and the final rulemaking packages:

The Department previously adopted Article 11 as an emergency rule, effective December 18, 1991 (Arizona Administrative Code 1974- Supplement 91-4, Title 4. Arizona Memory Project, accessed 15/11/2023, <https://azmemory.azlibrary.gov/nodes/view/203169>).

If suspension occurs and if the policyholder or certificate holder loses coverage under the group health plan, the policy shall be automatically reinstated (effective as of the date of loss of coverage) if the

Title 20. Commerce, Financial Institutions and Insurance

Chapter 6. Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions

– Insurance Division

Article 11. Medicare Supplement Insurance

A.R.S. § 41-1055(B)(1): An identification of the proposed rulemaking.

The Arizona Department of Insurance and Financial Institutions – Insurance Division (“Department”) has proposed changes to A.A.C. Title 20, Chapter 6, Article 11: Medicare Supplement Insurance, Section R20-6-1101. Incorporation by Reference and Modifications.

This Section incorporates, by reference, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) Model Regulation to Implement the NAIC Medicare Supplement Insurance Minimum Standards Model Act (“Model Regulation”). Under A.R.S. § 20-1133, the Director is required to adopt rules as necessary to comply with the requirements of the social security disability amendments of 1980 (P.L. 96-265, 42 U.S.C. § 1395ss) and federal laws or regulations pertaining to that section so that Arizona may retain its full authority to regulate minimum standards for Medicare Supplement insurance.

Because A.R.S. § 41-1028 requires a statement that incorporated matter does not include any later amendments or editions of the incorporated matter, the Department seeks to amend R20-6-1101 to accomplish the mandate of A.R.S. § 20-1133 to reflect the most recent changes made by the NAIC to the Model Regulation adopted in Fall, 2022.

In addition, the Department’s office was moved again since its last rulemaking in 2019 (25 A.A.R. 1923, August 2, 2019). The Department needs to update its address to remain compliant with A.R.S. § 41-1028(D) which requires the rules to state where copies of incorporated matter are available from the agency issuing the rule and from the organization originally issuing the matter.

Lastly, the Department would like to inform the public that the incorporated by reference materials are available on its website, and to correct a statutory reference.

Questions about this Economic Impact Statement can be directed to: Mary E. Kosinski (mary.kosinski@difi.az.gov).

A.R.S. § 41-1055(B)(2): An identification of the persons who will be directly affected by, bear the costs of or directly benefit from the proposed rulemaking.

Section R20-6-1101 applies to insurers who issue Medicare Supplement Insurance policies to individuals covered under Medicare.

A.R.S. § 41-1055(B)(3): A cost benefit analysis of the following:

(a) The probable costs and benefits to the implementing agency and other agencies directly affected by the implementation and enforcement of the proposed rulemaking. The probable costs to the implementing agency shall include the number of new full-time employees necessary to implement and enforce the proposed rule. The preparer of the economic, small business and consumer impact statement shall notify the joint legislative budget committee of the number of new full-time employees necessary to implement and enforce the rule before the rule is approved by the council.

The Department does not anticipate any costs or benefits in implementing and enforcing the proposed rulemaking. No new full-time employees will be necessary to implement and enforce the proposed rulemaking.

(b) The probable costs and benefits to a political subdivision of this state directly affected by the implementation and enforcement of the proposed rulemaking.

No political subdivision of this state is directly affected by the implementation and enforcement of the proposed rulemaking.

(c) The probable costs and benefits to businesses directly affected by the proposed rulemaking, including any anticipated effect on the revenues or payroll expenditures of employers who are subject to the proposed rulemaking.

The Department anticipates minimal financial impact, including no anticipated effect on the revenues or payroll expenditures, to insurers subject to the rules.

A.R.S. § 41-1055(B)(4): A general description of the probable impact on private and public employment in businesses, agencies and political subdivisions of this state directly affected by the proposed rulemaking.

The Department does not anticipate any impact on the private employment of insurers subject to the rules. Likewise, the Department does not anticipate any impact on public employment in the Department.

A.R.S. § 41-1055(B)(5): A statement of the probable impact of the proposed rulemaking on small businesses. The statement shall include:

(a) An identification of the small businesses subject to the proposed rulemaking.

The rules apply to types of insurance companies that would not qualify as small businesses.

(b) The administrative and other costs required for compliance with the proposed rulemaking.

The current changes to the rules do not impose any additional administrative or other costs required for compliance with the proposed rulemaking.

(c) A description of the methods prescribed in section 41-1035 that the agency may use to reduce the impact on small businesses, with reasons for the agency's decision to use or not to use each method.

Not applicable.

- 1. Establish less stringent compliance or reporting requirements in the rule for small businesses.
- 2. Establish less stringent schedules or deadlines in the rule for compliance or reporting requirements for small businesses.
- 3. Consolidate or simplify the rule's compliance or reporting requirements for small businesses.
- 4. Establish performance standards for small businesses to replace design or operational standards in the rule.
- 5. Exempt small businesses from any or all requirements of the rule.

(d) The probable cost and benefit to private persons and consumers who are directly affected by the proposed rulemaking.

Private persons and consumers are not directly affected by the proposed rulemaking.

A.R.S. § 41-1055(B)(6): A statement of the probable effect on state revenues.

No impact on state revenues is anticipated.

A.R.S. § 41-1055(B)(7): A description of any less intrusive or less costly alternative methods of achieving the purpose of the proposed rulemaking, including the monetizing of the costs and benefits for each option and providing the rationale for not using nonselected alternatives.

The Department believes that the current rulemaking offers the least intrusive and least costly alternative method to achieve the purpose of the proposed rulemaking.

A.R.S. § 41-1055(B)(8): A description of any data on which a rule is based with a detailed explanation of how the data was obtained and why the data is acceptable data. An agency advocating that any data is acceptable data has the burden of proving that the data is acceptable. For the purposes of this paragraph, "acceptable data" means empirical, replicable and testable data as evidenced in supporting documentation, statistics, reports, studies or research.

The rules are not based on any data.

Authorizing Statute: A.R.S. § 20-143

20-143. Rule-making power

A. The director may make reasonable rules necessary for effectuating any provision of this title.

B. The director shall make rules concerning proxies, consents or authorizations in respect of securities issued by domestic stock insurance companies having a class of equity securities held of record by one hundred or more persons to conform with the requirements of section 12(g)(2)(G)(ii) of the securities exchange act of 1934, as amended, and as may be amended. Such rule shall not apply to any such company having a class of equity securities which are registered or are required to be registered pursuant to section 12 of the securities exchange act of 1934, as amended, or as may be amended. Whenever such equity securities of any such company are registered or are required to be registered pursuant to section 12 of the securities exchange act of 1934, as amended, or as may be amended, then, no person shall solicit or permit the use of his name to solicit, in any manner whatsoever, any proxy, consent or authorization in respect of any equity security of such company without having first complied with the rules prescribed by the securities and exchange commission pursuant to section 14 of the securities exchange act of 1934, as amended, or as may be amended.

C. All rules made pursuant to this section shall be subject to title 41, chapter 6.

D. In addition to any other penalty provided, wilful violation of any rule made by the director is a violation of this title.

Implementing Statute: A.R.S. § 20-1133

20-1133. Medicare supplement insurance; early enrollment discounts; applicability

A. The director shall adopt rules necessary to comply with the requirements of the social security disability amendments of 1980 (P.L. 96-265; 42 United States Code section 1395ss) and any federal laws or regulations pertaining to that section, so that this state may retain its full authority to regulate minimum standards for medicare supplement insurance.

B. For the purposes of this section, an insurer may file for medicare supplement rates that include an early enrollment discount that will not be considered an attained age rating structure. An early enrollment discount shall diminish over a period of time and is only available to enrollees who purchase the plan within the early enrollment period designated by the insurer. Insurers shall disclose to all applicants how the early enrollment discount will diminish over time.

C. Subject to the other limitations provided in this subsection, a benefit mandated in this title for health insurance policies does not apply to medicare supplement insurance policies unless the mandated policy benefit is set forth in rules adopted pursuant to this section or unless the statute mandating the policy benefit expressly states that it is made specifically applicable to medicare supplement insurance policies. A medicare supplement insurance policy may not contain any exclusion for services provided by any type of properly licensed health care provider if the provider's services are eligible for medicare reimbursement and if the specific services in question would be covered by medicare. The scope of benefits of a medicare supplement policy may not be less than the minimum level of benefits established by federal law.

D. Notwithstanding any other provision of this title, rules adopted pursuant to this section apply to insurance provided under disability insurance policies, under subscription contracts of hospital, medical, dental or optometric service corporations, under certificates of fraternal benefit societies, under evidences of coverage of health care services organizations and under coverages issued by any other insurer, which policies, contracts, certificates, membership coverages, evidences of coverage and coverages are delivered or issued for delivery in this state on or after the effective date of rules adopted pursuant to subsection A of this section. In adopting the rules required by subsection A of this section, the director shall prescribe an effective date of the rules that will allow insurers sufficient time to bring their forms and practices into compliance with the requirements of the rule.

Summary:

This regular rulemaking from the Department of Health Services (Department) seeks to add six (6) new sections and one (1) new table related to Occupational Licensing. Specifically, these new sections create a new article, Article 10, related to Out of State Telehealth Providers. Under A.R.S. §§ 36-3606 and 36-3608, the Department is required to allow a health care provider who is not licensed in Arizona to provide telehealth services to a client located in Arizona if the health care provider registers with the Department and pays a registration fee. This rulemaking will allow for the expansion of telemedicine in Arizona and provide greater opportunities for accessible medical services for low-income families and those living in rural areas, protects vulnerable populations, and allows snowbirds visiting our state to receive telemedicine from their home state. Under A.R.S. § 36-3606, a new program fee is established to allow out-of-state providers to apply to register with the Department to become a registered health care provider and pay the $100 registration fee.

This rulemaking is not related to a prior 5YRR.

1. Are the rules legal, consistent with legislative intent, and within the agency's statutory authority?

The Department cites both general and specific statutory authority for these rules.

2. Do the rules establish a new fee or contain a fee increase?

Under A.R.S. § 36-3606, a new program fee is established to allow out-of-state providers to apply to register with the Department to become a registered health care provider and pay the $100 registration fee.

3. Does the preamble disclose a reference to any study relevant to the rules that the agency reviewed and either did or did not rely upon?

The Department states no study was reviewed or relied upon during the course of this rulemaking.

4. Summary of the agency's economic impact analysis:

This rulemaking requires the Arizona Department of Health Services to allow a health care provider who is not licensed in Arizona to provide telehealth services to a client located in Arizona if the provider registers with the Department and pays a registration fee. The rulemaking allows for the expansion of telemedicine in Arizona and provides greater opportunities for accessible medical services while protecting public health. The Department believes that the new rules may increase the regulatory burden and impose a cost on some affected parties and is optimistic that employment and revenue will increase the demand for more registered health care providers.

5. Has the agency analyzed the costs and benefits of the rulemaking and determined that the rules impose the least burden and costs to those who are regulated?

The Department has determined that there are no less intrusive or less costly alternatives for achieving the purpose of the rulemaking.

6. What are the economic impacts on stakeholders?

Stakeholders are identified as the Department; audiologists; hearing aid dispensers; midwives; radiologic technologists; speech-language pathologists; speech-language pathologist assistants who are licensed out-of-state and wish to become a registered health care provider in Arizona; clients (seeking healthcare via telehealth); and the general public.

The rulemaking would require staffing to ensure compliance while also establishing a new program fee for health care providers to register with the Department. Additionally, the rulemaking requires that such providers maintain a professional liability insurance policy which includes coverage for telehealth services.

7. Are the final rules a substantial change, considered as a whole, from the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

The Department states no changes were made between the Notice of Supplemental Proposed Rulemaking and the Notice of Final Rulemaking.

8. Does the agency adequately address the comments on the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

During the public comment period, the Department received one comment that resulted in the opposition of including radiologic technologists in out-of-state telehealth providers. The Department responded that radiologic technologists must adhere to their scope of practice only when engaging in telehealth.

9. Do the rules require a permit or license and, if so, does the agency comply with A.R.S. § 41-1037?

The Department believes that under A.R.S. § 41-1037(A)(2) and (3) that a general permit is not applicable as A.R.S. § 36-3606 provides the Department authority to deny, revoke, or suspend an applicant or registered health care provider's license.

10. Are the rules more stringent than corresponding federal law and, if so, is there statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law?

The Department states that although there is no federal rule applicable to the exact subject of the rule, the rules are not more stringent than similar laws issued by the Department of Health and Human Services

11. Conclusion

This regular rulemaking from the Department of Health Services seeks to add six new sections and one new table related to Occupational Licensing. As indicated above, the Department is establishing a new fee under A.R.S. § 36-3606 and this rulemaking is not related to a 5YRR. The Department is seeking the standard 60-day delayed effective date. Council staff recommends approval of this rulemaking.

6. An agency's justification and reason why a rule should be made, amended, repealed or renumbered, under A.R.S. § 41-1027, to include an explanation about the rulemaking:

Arizona Revised Statutes (A.R.S.) §§ 36-3606 and 36-3608, as added by Laws 2021, Ch. 320, requires the Arizona Department of Health Services (Department) to allow a health care provider who is not licensed in Arizona to provide telehealth services to a client located in Arizona if the health care provider registers with the Department and pays a registration fee. The Department plans to adopt rules to implement Laws 2021, Ch. 320, which was signed into law on May 5, 2021, to preserve the public peace, health or safety. The rulemaking is necessary to allow for the expansion of telemedicine in Arizona and provide greater opportunities for accessible medical services while protecting public health. Telehealth expands access to medical services for low-income families and those living in rural areas, protects vulnerable populations, and allows snowbirds visiting our state to receive telemedicine from their home state. After receiving rulemaking approval pursuant to A.R.S. § 41-1039, the Department is promulgating new rules in 9 A.A.C. 16, Article 10 to align with statutory requirements related to out-of-state telehealth providers according to A.R.S. Title 41, Chapter 6. The new rules will conform to the rulemaking format and style requirements of the Governor's Regulatory Review Council and the Office of the Secretary of State.

7. A reference to any study relevant to the rules that the agency reviewed and proposes either to rely on or not to rely on in its evaluation of or justification for the rule, where the public may obtain or review each study, all data underlying each study, and any analysis of each study and other supporting material:

The Department did not review or rely on any study for this rulemaking.

8. A showing of good cause why the rulemaking is necessary to promote a statewide interest if the rulemaking will diminish a previous grant of authority of a political subdivision of this state.

Not applicable

9. A summary of the economic, small business, and consumer impact:

The Department has promulgated new rules through regular rulemaking for 9 A.A.C. 16, Article 10 Out-of-State Telehealth Providers, and an economic, small business, and consumer impact statement (EIS) that identified affected persons, costs, and benefits associated with the rulemaking. The Department in this 2022 out-of-state telehealth EIS designates costs and benefits as ‘minimal’ when more than $0 and less than $1,000, ‘moderate’ when between $1,000 and $10,000, and ‘substantial’ when $10,000 or greater. A cost or benefit is indicated as significant when meaningful or important but not readily subject to quantification. No new full-time employees are required due to this rulemaking. In this regular rulemaking, the Department will be adding a new Article with eight new Sections and one Table to implement Laws 2021, Ch. 320.

New rules include Definitions, Initial Application, Renewal, Time-frames, Changes Affecting a Registration, Providing Health Care Services Through Telehealth, and Enforcement in Sections R9-16-1001 through R9-16-1007. The Department identifies affected persons to be the Department; audiologists, hearing aid dispensers, midwives, radiologic technologists, speech-language pathologists (SLPs), and speech-language pathologist assistants (SLPAs) who wish to become a registered health care provider; clients (seeking healthcare via telehealth) and the general public.

The use of telemedicine has been shown to allow for better long-term care management and patient satisfaction; it also offers a new means to locate health information, and communicate with practitioners, thereby increasing convenience for the patient and reducing the amount of potential travel required for both the health care provider and the client. With the expansion of telehealth services in Arizona, the new rules are expected to enhance follow-up care and improve client access to services. The Department anticipates to incur minimal costs for promulgating new rules for out-of-state telehealth providers, as well as costs related to the allocation of administrative staff to review and process applications for individuals wanting to become a registered health care provider in Arizona, as specified in the new rules. Furthermore, the Department expects to incur minimal costs for office equipment, administrative support to add a computer database for applicants and registered health care providers to the current system, create a registered health care provider webpage, including updates and maintenance, and other miscellaneous costs for security, utilities, insurances, etc. since the Department already uses these items for other Department operations. The Department anticipates receiving a significant benefit from having rules that expand a client’s accessibility to health care and allows for a more convenient continuity of health care.

The new rules in Article 10 for out-of-state telehealth providers affect individuals who are licensed audiologists, hearing aid dispensers, midwives, radiologic technologists, SLPs, and SLPAs and wish to become a registered health care provider in Arizona and establish requirements a registered health care provider must comply with. As prescribed in R9-16-1006, which outlines the criteria for providing health care services through telehealth and requires a registered health care provider to hold a current and valid health care provider professional license to practice in another state that is substantially similar to a license issued in Arizona for a minimum of one year, and comply with the laws of Arizona. If there are any restrictions or disciplinary actions initiated on the registered health care provider's license, the registered health care provider must notify the Department within five days.

According to R9-16-1002, an out-of-state health care provider may apply to register with the Department to become a registered health care provider and pay the $100 registration fee. A registered health care provider can renew their registration annually under R9-16-1003, by attesting that the information on their registration is accurate or by updating the information on their registration accordingly. The rules prescribed in R9-13-1002 and R9-13-1003, align with the statutory requirements pursuant to A.R.S. 36-3606, which require the registered health care provider to submit information regarding the registered health care provider's appointed statutory agent in Arizona and professional liability insurance. The Department expects a registered health care provider to incur minimal costs for initial registration, obtaining an appointed statutory agent, and professional liability insurance, but receive a significant benefit from having rules that allow for the expansion of telehealth practice.

The Department anticipates that individuals who wish to become a registered health care provider will receive an increase in revenue for expanding services to clients located in Arizona while the registered health care provider is in another state, due to the new rules. The state of Arizona is known for accommodating a great number of snowbirds, the new rules allow clients to continue to see the same provider from their home state via telehealth rather than having to find another provider in Arizona. Continuing health care from the same provider benefits the client since the provider most likely knows their client's medical history and needs. In addition, this eliminates the additional administrative work of having to transfer medical records and reports to different offices. The Department believes the benefits related to telehealth services outweigh any potential costs associated with this rulemaking.

For audiologists affected by the rules, telehealth services allow for increased accessibility, which is estimated to be a significant benefit since more than half of all U.S. counties do not have audiologists. Many hearing aid brands come with accompanying smartphone apps, which allow for an audiologist or hearing aid dispenser to successfully program a client's hearing aids via the app, and monitor and provider services remotely. As for midwives, telehealth makes it possible for clients to continue childbirth preparation courses through phone calls to postnatal mothers on breastfeeding, cord care, and thermal care. Telehealth services have allowed midwives to provide remote services such as prenatal risk assessment, postpartum depression screening, childbirth education, substance use disorder treatment and recovery services for pregnant and parenting women, and wireless blood pressure and weight monitoring. Many providers reported that attendance at prenatal care visits has improved since the expansion of telehealth services at the start of the COVID-19 pandemic. Radiologic technologists will benefit from this telehealth rulemaking to provide follow-up care and notifications following any in-person medical testing.

Telehealth has made it possible for radiologic technologists to consult with a specialist – such as a neuroradiologist or a pediatric radiologist – for real-time consultation that’s streamlined and efficient for both parties and speeds up patient diagnosis, and the start of a treatment plan. SLPs and SLPA’s are expected to receive a benefit from having rules that support continuity of care via telehealth. Many clients seek an SLP or an SLPA to effectively receive treatment for communication issues such as stuttering, articulation, language, voice disorders, accent modification, etc. For most clients seeking regular care from an SLP or an SLPA, is imperative because if the client begins missing regular sessions, regression can happen quickly, endangering the goals of therapy and undermining the client’s motivation. Telehealth services for these clients will be a huge benefit to ensuring their treatment is continued to effectively.

Telehealth increases the flexibility of the registered health care provider and ability to administer services regardless of whether there are stay at home orders, severe weather, or other unforeseen circumstances. Health care practitioners and organizations who use telehealth services may see increases in revenue and cost savings. On average, telehealth services cost less than in-person health care visits. The national median cost of a virtual telehealth visit for a minor health issue is an estimated $50.00, whereas a visit to the doctor’s office for a similar health issue could cost about $85.00. For a visit to urgent care for that same minor issue, the average cost is estimated at $130.00, and further, a visit to the emergency room would cost approximately $740.00. Increasing telehealth service usage by health care providers can be a way of reaching patients who are unable to access care and potentially expanding the type of care a patient may receive. The Department estimates the benefit of the rulemaking to significantly benefit a registered health care provider, and the benefits related to telehealth services outweigh any potential costs associated with this rulemaking.

The economic impact of telehealth services is likely to spread throughout the community, cutting down on travel costs for clients and boosting revenues for other healthcare providers. Clients who may have a disability, financial challenges, and/or transportation difficulties are just a few examples of individuals who can now be serviced via telehealth and would not have been able to before. For individuals who consider Arizona their secondary home state, they can still vacation and/or live in Arizona for an extended part of the year while still seeking care for their primary home state.

The Department expects having the new requirements will increase access to health care for vulnerable populations and individuals who might have difficulty accessing care, such as individuals with limited mobility. Through technology, vital statistics of a client can be monitored remotely by the health care provider and if necessary, have that data transferred to another provider promptly. The Department believes that clients and the general public will receive a significant benefit from having rules that support increasing the number of registered health care providers in Arizona and expanding access to health care.

10. A description of any changes between the proposed expedited rulemaking, including supplemental notices, and the final expedited rulemaking:

No changes were made between the Notice of Supplemental Proposed Rulemaking and the Notice of Final Rulemaking.

11. Agency's summary of the public or stakeholder comments or objections made about the rulemaking and the agency response to the comments:

During the public comment period for the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, the Department received a comment from the Meredith Check, Manager of Government Relations and Public Policy at the American Society of Radiologic Technologists. No members of the public attended the oral proceeding on November 20, 2023, via teleconferencing, and no oral comments were provided.

Comment:

Does the Department envision a radiologic technologist being able to perform a medical imaging or radiation therapy procedure via telehealth (I.e. the Rad Tech is out of state but the patient and equipment is in-state)?

In the preliminary summary, it states that the radiologic technologist can provide notification and follow-up care, however it is the responsibility of the prescribing licensed practitioner and not the Rad Tech to provide that information to the patient. Could you please elaborate on the kind of follow up care the Department is expecting the Rad Tech to perform?

Additionally, the real-time consultation to specialists to expedite diagnosis and treatment plans, as mentioned in the preliminary summary, is typically licensed practitioner to licensed practitioner.

Does the Department envision these specialists to prescribe and supervise the medical imaging and radiation therapy procedures via telehealth (I.e. the Rad Tech is in Arizona with the patient and the specialist is out of state)?

Department response:

Hi Meredith,

Thank you for reaching out. Radiologic technologists are included in Laws 2021, Ch. 320 for out-of-state telehealth providers. The rules and statutes ensure that radiologic technologists adhere to their scope of practice when engaging in telehealth. Below we have included the rules and statutes referencing the scope of practice for your review:

Pursuant to R9-16-1006(C)

A registered health care provider is subject to state laws and rules governing scope of practice and practice guidelines established in Arizona and in the state of licensure.

Therefore, if it is out-of-the scope of practice for a radiologic technologist to provide notification, follow-up care, and consultation with the patient, then the radiologic technologist is not permitted to do so.

Pursuant to R9-16-608(B)

An individual certified as a radiologic technologist shall follow the standards specified in the 2019 American Society of Radiologic Technologists Radiography Practice Standards, incorporated by reference, on file with the Department, and including no future editions or amendments.

Attached are the 2019 American Society of Radiologic Technologists Radiography Practice Standards.

A.R.S § 36-3602\(F\)

F. Services provided through telehealth are subject to this state's laws and rules governing the health care provider's scope of practice and the practice guidelines adopted by the telehealth advisory committee on telehealth best practices established by section 36-3607.

A.R.S. § 36-3603

This article applies to the practice of telehealth within this state. This article does not expand, reduce or otherwise amend the health care provider licensing requirements of title 32.

A.R.S. § 36-3606\(A\)\(5\)

5. Acts in full compliance with all applicable laws and rules of this state, including scope of practice, laws and rules governing prescribing, dispensing and administering prescription drugs and devices, telehealth requirements and the best practice guidelines adopted by the telehealth advisory committee on telehealth best practices established by section 36-3607.

Additional Response from Commenter:

Meredith Check from the American Society of Radiologic Technologists followed up with a letterhead to the Department opposing the inclusion of radiologic technologists in out-of-state telehealth providers.

12. All agencies shall list other matters prescribed by statute applicable to the specific agency or to any specific rule or class of rules. Additionally, an agency subject to Council review under A.R.S. §§ 41-1052 and 41-1055 shall respond to the following questions:

There are no other matters prescribed by statute applicable specifically to the Department or this specific rulemaking.

a. Whether the rule requires a permit, whether a general permit is used and if not, the reasons why a general permit is not used:

A.R.S. § 36-3606 requires the Department to issue an out-of-state health care provider license and registration to individuals who meet the qualifications prescribed in statutes and rules adopted by the Department. Additionally, A.R.S. § 36-3606 provides the Department authority to deny, revoke, or suspend an applicant or registered health care provider's license. For this reason, the Department does not use a general permit. The Department believes that under A.R.S. § 41-1037(A)(2) and (3) that a general permit is not applicable.

b. Whether a federal law is applicable to the subject of the rule, whether the rule is more stringent than federal law and if so, citation to the statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law:

There are no federal rules applicable to the exact subject of the rule. However, similar to the new out-of-state telehealth rules, the Department of Health and Human Services issued an amendment to the Public Readiness and Preparedness (PREP) Act on December 3rd, 2020. Part of the amendment implements a nationwide change regarding licensure: any licensed healthcare provider who is permitted to order and administer a Covered Countermeasure in any one state may now order and administer that Covered Countermeasure in any other state via telehealth, even if the provider is not licensed in the other state (subject to compliance with any rules established by the practitioner's state of licensure). A provider may now provide qualifying COVID-19-related telehealth services to patients in multiple states without needing to confirm each state's laws regarding practice across state lines (some of which may require out-of-state practitioners to register or otherwise seek authorization from the state). The new out-of-state telehealth rules regulate licenses for medical radiologic technologists, midwives, and speech & hearing professionals, and allow for the expansion of telemedicine across state lines if the health care provider is registered with the Department. The Department is authorized to promulgate and implement rules according to A.R.S. §§ 36-3606 and 36-3608. The new rules related to out-of-state telehealth are not more stringent than federal law.

c. Whether a person submitted an analysis to the agency that compares the rule's impact of the competitiveness of business in this state to the impact on business in other states:

No business competitiveness analysis was submitted to the Department.

13. A list of any incorporated by reference material as specified in A.R.S. § 41-1028 and its location in the rules:

Not applicable

14. Whether the rule was previously made, amended, or repealed as an emergency rule. If so, cite the notice published in the Register as specified in R1-1-409(A). Also, the agency shall state where the text was changed between the emergency and the final rulemaking packages:

The rule was not previously made as an emergency rule.

ARTICLE 10. OUT-OF-STATE TELEHEALTH PROVIDERS

1. An identification of the rulemaking:

Arizona Revised Statutes (A.R.S.) §§ 36-3606 and 36-3608, as added by Laws 2021, Ch. 320, requires the Arizona Department of Health Services (Department) to allow a health care provider who is not licensed in Arizona to provide telehealth services to a client located in Arizona if the health care provider registers with the Department and pays a registration fee. The Department plans to adopt rules to implement Laws 2021, Ch. 320 in Arizona Administrative Code, Title 9, Chapter 16, which contains requirements for individuals in occupations regulated by the Department. The rulemaking is necessary to allow for the expansion of telemedicine in Arizona and provide greater opportunities for accessible medical services while protecting public health. Telehealth expands access to medical services for low-income families and those living in rural areas, protect vulnerable populations, and allows snowbirds visiting Arizona to receive telemedicine from their home state. During the beginning phases of the COVID-19 pandemic, multiple executive orders were issued by the governor, such as Executive Orders 2020-19, 2020-29, and 2020-15, which temporarily allowed and extended telehealth provisions. During the first year of the COVID-19 pandemic, telehealth was critical for providing services to clients and patients. The use of telehealth has provided a way for physicians to provide care while keeping patients safe in their homes. These services also protected health care staff and safeguarded resources such as personal protective equipment. Laws 2021, Ch. 320, permanently allows for the use of video or audio technology for health care providers to provide telehealth services, which provide greater opportunities for accessible medical services while protecting public health. The new rules and regulations, which were initiated by legislation, are needed to aid health care providers in their abilities to continue providing adequate health care and for the increased use of telehealth services in health care throughout Arizona.

Pursuant to the rulemaking moratorium established by Executive Order 2021-02, the Department received an exception approval on June 21, 2022, to promulgate rules in 9 A.A.C. 16, Article 10 for Out-of-State Telehealth Providers to be consistent with the statutory authority. The Department anticipates that the new rules may increase the regulatory burden and impose a cost on some affected persons.

2. Identification of the persons who will be directly affected by, bear the costs of, or directly benefit from the rules

- a. The Department
- b. Audiologists, hearing aid dispensers, midwives, radiologic technologists, speech-language pathologists, and speech-language pathologist assistants who are licensed out-of-state and wish to become a registered health care provider in Arizona.
- c. Clients (seeking healthcare via telehealth) and the general public

3. Cost/Benefit Analysis

This analysis covers the cost and benefit associated with Laws 2021, Ch. 320, which allows a health care provider who is not licensed in Arizona to provide telehealth services to a client located in Arizona. No new full-time employees are required due to this rulemaking. This rulemaking establishes licensing fees authorized by A.R.S. § 36-3606 and fees collected are deposited in the health services licensing fund. The annual cost and revenue changes are designated as minimal when $1,000 or less, moderate when between $1,000 and $10,000, and substantial when $10,000 or greater in additional costs or revenues. Costs are listed as significant when meaningful or important, but not readily subject to quantification. A summary of the economic impact of the rules is given in the Table below, while the economic impact is explained more fully in the sections immediately following.

The Department

The Department currently provides licenses for audiologists, hearing aid dispensers, midwives, radiologic technologists, and speech-language pathologists (SLP), and speech-language pathologist assistants (SLPA). With the expansion of telehealth in Arizona, health care providers with out-of-state licenses, under occupations licensed by the Department, may apply to become a registered health care provider with the Department to provide services to clients in Arizona. Pursuant to A.R.S. §§ 36-3606 and 36-3608, as added by Laws 2021, Ch. 320, provides authority to the Department to promulgate new rules in Title 9, Chapter 16, to implement rules and regulations for out-of-state telehealth providers. The Department has drafted new rules for regulating out-of-state telehealth providers in 9 A.A.C. 16, Article 10. Article 10 contains seven new Sections and one new Table; Definitions (R9-16-1001), Initial Application (R9-16-1002), Renewal (R9-16-1003), Time-frames (R9-16-1004), Time-frames in Calendar Days (Table 10.1), Changes Affecting a Registration (R9-16-1005), Providing Health Care Services Through Telehealth (R9-16-1006), and Enforcement (R9-16-1007). As authorized by A.R.S. § 36-3606, the rules establish a new program fee of $100, which is a one-time-only registration fee for out-of-state individuals who register with the Department to provide telehealth services to clients in Arizona. For this one-time fee, the Department is required to evaluate the information submitted by the out-of-state healthcare provider, supervise compliance for as long as the healthcare provider chooses to provide telehealth services to Arizona residents and receive and evaluate annual updates from the healthcare provider. The Department in this rulemaking supports the registration of a registered health care provider in a manner that is the least burdensome for applicants and increases the number of health care providers available for services in Arizona.

Since the Department already licenses, audiologists, hearing aid dispensers, midwives, radiologic technologists, SLPs, and SLPAs, the cost of technological resources to allow an out-of-state provider to register online with the Department is minimal. An out-of-state health care provider can simply apply for registration in an electronic system, already utilized by the Department. Department staff and administration will need to process initial applications (R9-16-1002), as well as renewal applications (R9-16-1003), and respond to notices of a change affecting an individual's registration (R9-16-1005). R9-16-1004 and Table 10.1 specifies the administrative completeness review time-frame for registration issued by the Department. The administrative completeness review time-frame begins the date the Department receives an application required in this Article. Within the substantive review time-frame, the Department shall provide a written notice to the applicant that the Department approved or denied the application. The Department anticipates that these changes may provide a minimal-to-moderate benefit to the Department.

Additional Department resources may be used to apply enforcement action to deny, suspend, or revoke a registered health care provider's registration when appropriate, as described in R9-16-1007. As specified in the rule and pursuant to A.R.S. § 36-3606(C), the Department shall consider the type of violation, severity of the violation, the danger to public health and safety, the number of violations, the number of clients affected by the violations, the degree of harm to the clients, a pattern of noncompliance, and any mitigating or aggravating circumstances. Department resources, staff, and administration will be required to implement R9-16-1007, to enforce the rules and research the circumstances when enforcement action shall be applied to a registered health care provider. The Department anticipates to incur minimal costs related to enforcement, but also receive up to moderate benefits.

No new full-time employees are necessary due to this rulemaking. The registration and licensure process for a registered health care provider is similar to the already established licensure process, therefore, the costs for the Department to implement the new Out-of-State Telehealth rules are expected to be minimal. The Department anticipates to incur minimal costs for a rule analyst and program staff to draft new rules and communicate with stakeholders. Furthermore, the Department expects to incur minimal costs for office equipment, administrative support to update a computer database for applicants and a registered health care provider to the current system, including updates and maintenance, and other miscellaneous costs for security, utilities, insurance, etc. The Department expects that the Article 10 rules are important and necessary to assist in increasing and expanding the use of telehealth services and access to health care for all Arizona communities. The Department also expects that the benefit of having the rules will be significant and responsive to the public's need for having telehealth services available.

With the expansion of telehealth in Arizona, the new rules are expected to enhance follow-up care, improve client access to services, and increase the accuracy and quality of medical records. Regular check-ins with a health care provider are important and help prevent a client's risk of disease or infection, especially life-threatening health conditions. By getting the proper health services, screenings, and treatment, clients are taking important steps towards living a longer, healthier life. The Department expects to receive a significant benefit for registering an out-of-state health care provider to provide services to clients in Arizona communities.

Audiologists, hearing aid dispensers, midwives, radiologic technologists, and speech-language pathologists, and speech-language pathologist assistants who are licensed out-of-state and wish to become a registered health care provider in Arizona.

Telemedicine enables the use of technology to deliver health care, health information, or health education at a distance between a client and their health care provider. The use of telemedicine has been shown to allow for better long-term care management and patient satisfaction; it also offers a new means to locate health information, and communicate with health care providers, thereby increasing convenience for clients, and reducing the amount of potential travel required for both the health care provider and the client.

The Bureau of Special Licensing issues licenses for medical radiologic technologists, midwives, and speech & hearing professionals. R9-16-1001 specifies terms and definitions used throughout the rules, and identifies who can apply to become a registered health care provider, which includes individuals who hold a valid and current license issued by a state authorizing the individual to provide health care services consistent with; A.R.S. Title 32, Chapter 28, for radiologic technology; A.R.S. Title 36, Chapter 6, for licensed midwifery; or A.R.S. Title 36, Chapter 17, for audiologists, hearing aid dispensers, SLPs, and SLPAs.

A registered health care provider must comply with the new requirements implemented in Article 10. Providing health care services through telehealth as prescribed in R9-16-1006, requires an individual licensed out-of-state wishing to deliver telehealth services in Arizona to hold a current and valid health care provider professional license to practice in another state that is substantially similar to a license issued in Arizona for a minimum of one year. R9-16-1006 also requires a registered health care provider to comply with the laws and rules of Arizona, including the requirements for medical records as defined in A.R.S. §§ 12-2291 and 32-3211. In addition to the requirements regulated in R9-16-1006, the registered health care provider must notify the Department within five days if there are any restrictions or disciplinary actions initiated on the registered health care provider's license. The requirements as prescribed in the rules for a registered health care provider are minimum requirements authorized by statute. In addition, the requirements are similar to general requirements that any health care provider must follow. Therefore, the Department expects a registered health care provider to incur up to minimal costs, if any, to comply with the requirements as stated above.

According to R9-16-1002, an out-of-state health care provider may apply for an initial application and register with the Department to become a registered health care provider and provide telehealth services to clients in Arizona. As authorized by A.R.S. § 36-3606, the applicant must pay the one-time-only fee of $100, as prescribed in R9-16-1002 for the initial registration. The required fee for an individual to register as a health care provider in Arizona is minimal and nonrefundable. According to R9-13-1003, on an annual basis, a registered health care provider may renew their registration through the same electronic application system by attesting that the information is the same or by updating their information accordingly. Based on the legislature's cost-benefit determination and the limited authority provided under A.R.S. § 36-3606, the benefits of the rule outweigh the costs.

The rules prescribed in R9-13-1002 and R9-13-1003, align with the statutory requirements, pursuant to A.R.S. 36-3606, which require a registered health care provider to submit a notice in a Department-provided format regarding the registered health care providers appointed statutory agent in Arizona, as well as professional liability insurance. Minimal costs may be incurred by the registered health care provider for obtaining a duly appointed statutory agent and professional liability insurance. Costs may vary depending on the statutory agent that the registered health care provider selects and the type of professional liability insurance coverage selected. On average, the cost of hiring a statutory agent service is typically around $50 to $300 per year. General liability insurance costs for health care professionals are typically $30 per month or $350 per year. The Department estimates that associated costs incurred by the registered health care provider far out way the benefits of this rulemaking.

Many rural areas lack audiologists, in fact, more than half of all U.S. counties do not have any audiologists. Studies on the accessibility of hearing-related health services show that rural residents average about an hour and a half of travel time to an appointment with an audiologist, and in many cases, delaying the time to have hearing aids or cochlear implants. Some cities and towns in Arizona are near other state line borders, for rural individuals who need health care, telehealth expands the options to see other providers outside of Arizona. Another great benefit of the convenience of telehealth services for audiologists and hearing aid dispensers is that many hearing aid brands come with accompanying smartphone applications. An audiologist or hearing aid dispenser, with today's technology, can remotely program a person's hearing aids via the application, permitting programming to occur without having the patient come into an office. This can be very useful if a client needs their hearing aid settings customized, adjusted, or changed. Receiving audiological health care via telehealth could particularly benefit older adults with hearing loss who are homebound or in a nursing home. On average, a new hearing aid user needs to see an audiologist about three times to get the proper hearing aid adjustments and fitting. Most nursing homes do not tend to have on-site audiologists; therefore, it is the caregiver's responsibility to transport patients back and forth to appointments. Allowing telehealth services helps solve the barriers and issues revolving around transportation issues, especially for someone with a disability.

For midwives, as defined in A.R.S. § 36-751, telehealth makes it possible for clients to continue childbirth preparation courses for postnatal mothers on breastfeeding, cord care, and thermal care. This has helped babies survive and continue healthy development even though, mothers may not have been able to access a health care facility in person for postnatal care. Maternal telehealth services have allowed midwives to provide other remote services such as prenatal risk assessment and postpartum depression screening, childbirth education, and substance use disorder treatment and recovery services for pregnant and parenting women. Many midwives have invested in updating digital products that can facilitate access to telehealth, distribute health education messages via text message, send appointment reminders and referrals, and provide wireless blood pressure and weight monitoring to clients. Aside from lab tests and certain types of monitoring, perinatal care lends itself to virtual delivery, since conversations, education, support, and question-and-answer sessions can occur via telehealth. Many providers reported that attendance at prenatal care visits has improved since the COVID-19 pandemic and with the expansion of telehealth services. Due to the increased convenience of telehealth, there is an elimination of barriers, that make it difficult for women to attend regular prenatal appointments, such as lack of transportation and/or affordable child care.

Radiologic technologists, as defined in A.R.S. § 32-2801, benefit from this rulemaking by being able to touch base with their clients via telehealth. While medical scans may be required to happen in-person, follow-up care and notification can happen through telehealth. Clients need results from X-rays, MRIs, CT scans, and other diagnostic imaging services as quickly as possible, which requires the trained eye of the radiologist to accomplish. Telemedicine for radiology improves the patient experience and heightens patient care by making it possible for radiologic technologists to provide services without being in the patient's location. It also makes it possible for radiologic technologists to consult with a specialist, such as a neuroradiologist or a pediatric radiologist, for real-time consultation that's streamlined and efficient for both parties, speeds up patient diagnosis, and the start of a treatment plan. Individuals who are traveling to Arizona after receiving a radiological scan in another state are now able to continue on with their travel plans and can continue seeking care. Clients who need to consult with a radiologic technologist after a scan or X-ray can also do so from their remote locations without the need to travel to the provider's office location.

SLPs and SLPAs, as defined in A.R.S. § 36-1901, benefit by having new rules supporting the use of telehealth, reduce a public health burden, and allow for the continuity of care. Many clients seek a SLP or SLPA for on-going and sometimes long-term treatment, to effectively treat communication issues such as stuttering, articulation, language, voice disorders, accent modification, etc. Many populations who seek care from a SLP or SLPA are at higher risk for more serious infections due to having somewhat compromised immune systems. In situations during a global pandemic such as COVID-19, it is important to take significant precautions while also being able to provide regular health services. SLPs and SLPAs know that if their clients start to miss regular sessions, regression can happen quickly, endangering the goals of therapy and undermining the client's motivation. When offering virtual telehealth services, it is possible for current clients to continue care and expands the availability for SLP and SLPA's to reach new clients. Telehealth gives SLPs and SLPAs the opportunity to provide health care to more clients and in some cases, potentially see an increase in revenue.

In general, health care professionals who use telehealth services may see increases in revenue and cost savings. Increasing the use of telehealth services can be a way of reaching clients who are unable to access care, and potentially expand the type of care a client may receive. With the expansion of telehealth and with the great number of snowbirds that Arizona accommodates annually, clients can continue to seek care from a provider in their home state, via telehealth, rather than having to find another provider in Arizona. Continuing of health care from the same provider may benefit both the client and provider. For example, when a health care provider sees the same client over time, there is typically a well-established provider-client relationship built, and the health care provider may have a better sense of the patient's values and preferences, as well as complexities around the treatment plan. In addition, this eliminates the administrative work of having to transfer medical records and reports to different offices, as well as gathering insurance information.

Overall, there are several positive factors for expanding the use of telemedicine for out-of-state health care providers who registered with the Department. The economic impact of telehealth services is likely to spread throughout the community, cut down on travel costs for clients, and boost revenues for healthcare providers. Health care providers, utilizing telehealth services can decrease the risk of exposure to illness, a concern that is even more dire during a pandemic, such as COVID-19, or even during the flu season. In addition, health care providers have an opportunity to grow and expand their practices by using telehealth services to reach new patients across state lines. The Department anticipates that out-of-state registered health care providers will have an increase in revenue for expanding services to clients located in Arizona, due to the new rules. Telehealth services are expected to provide an overwhelmingly positive client benefit and increase productivity for many health care services. When the legislature enacted A.R.S. § 36-3606, the legislature determined the benefits from allowing registration of out-of-state health care providers to provide services via telehealth outweigh the costs to the state. The legislature established the paperwork cost when it specified the content of an application that must be submitted and established multiple compliance requirements at A.R.S. § 36-3606(A)(2) through (A)(9), (B), and (C). In establishing these paperwork and compliance requirements, the legislature determined the requirements imposed the least burden and costs on out-of-state providers practicing medicine by telehealth necessary to achieve the underlying regulatory objective. The Department expects that the rules may impose minimal costs on a registered health care provider but a significant benefit.

Clients (seeking healthcare) and the general public

Telehealth services have expanded access to health care that the average consumer would not typically utilize if they were required to have an in-person visit. The expanded use of telehealth services has demonstrated the critical role technology can play in improving health equity. No one should have to go without care when a video or phone conversation with a health care provider could mean quicker, safer medical attention. Telehealth potentially increases the availability of a registered health care provider to administer services regardless of whether there are stay at home orders, travel conflicts, or other unforeseen circumstances. Maintaining continuity of care to the extent possible can avoid additional negative consequences from delayed preventive, chronic, or routine care. Remote access to health care may increase participation for clients who are medically or socially vulnerable, or who do not have readily access to a health care provider. Remote access can also help preserve the client-provider relationship at times when an in-person visit is not practical or feasible.

Clients who may have a disability, financial challenges, and/or transportation difficulties are also individuals who can now utilize telehealth services that may have not been able to receive services before. Allowing out-of-state health care providers to service Arizonans gives clients more options for health care. For individuals who consider Arizona their secondary home state, they can still vacation and/or live in Arizona for an extended part of the year while still seeking care for their primary home state. In addition, telehealth can act as a gatekeeper for more expensive services. Before traveling to the nearest physician for services, a registered health care provider can recommend the best course of action, depending on the client's symptoms, via telehealth. The increased use of telehealth services has the potential to help clients save on health care costs.

On average, telehealth services cost less than in-person health care visits. The national median cost of a virtual telehealth visit for a minor health issue is an estimated $50.00. In contrast, the average cost of a visit to the doctor's office for a similar health issue is about $85.00. For a visit to urgent care for that same minor issue, the average cost is estimated $130.00, and further, a visit to the emergency room costs approximately $740.00<sup>1</sup>. Although there are indicators that telehealth services can save consumers money, it remains unclear whether such cost-savings will be significant in the long term. The savings can be significant for individuals who have to pay the full cost before reaching the insurance deductible. Many insurance payers and health care provider professional associations have supported the transition to telehealth services during the COVID-19 pandemic. The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services issued multiple waivers providing flexibility (e.g., geographic location, type of health site) during the COVID-19 pandemic and granting payment parity between telehealth and in-person clinical care for Medicare. Overall, clients may be able to save money by using telehealth services, a particularly important consideration for individuals who may not have access to health care due to financial circumstances.

As previously stated, telehealth services can lead to increased access to health care, especially for vulnerable populations and individuals who might have difficulty accessing care, such as people with limited mobility. Improved technology has made telehealth easier, even for clients who don't consider themselves computer savvy. Through technology such as remote monitoring, vital statistics of a client can be monitored by the health care provider and if necessary, have that data transferred to another provider in a timely manner. In addition, clients can use telehealth services to discuss advance care planning with their provider. For clients who primarily reside in a different state and are visiting Arizona for an extended period of time, clients will now have the ability to plan for long-term continuity of treatment with the same provider. If a client is a resident of a long-term care facility, the client may be able to utilize telehealth services to receive non-emergent care more conveniently. With telehealth, clients who are sick do not have to drive to the doctor's office or clinic, park, walk or sit in a waiting room. Instead, clients may see the health care provider from the comfort of the client's home. In addition, telemedicine can be easier to fit into a busy schedule, clients may not even need to take leave time from work or arrange for child care. The expansion of telehealth allows for clients who may not have the financial or physical means to leave their homes to be seen by a health care provider. The Department believes that clients and the general public will receive a significant benefit from having rules that support increasing the number of registered health care providers in Arizona and allowing more options for clients to receive health care. Clients and the general public are not expected to incur any costs associated with the new rules but perhaps save on costs when seeing a healthcare provider via telehealth.

<https://money.usnews.com/money/personal-finance/family-finance/articles/how-telemedicine-can-save-you-money>.

The Department does not expect the rules will have a negative impact on employment for private and public businesses, agencies, and political subdivisions. Rather, the Department is optimistic that employment and revenue will increase the demand for more registered health care providers, as more individuals may seek health care via telemedicine.

5. A statement of the probable impact of the rules on small business

a. Identification of the small businesses subject to the rules

Small businesses affected by the rulemaking may include service providers and licensed out-of-state audiologists, hearing aid dispensers, midwives, radiologic technologists, SLPs, or SLPAs who are self-employed and register with the Department as a registered health care provider to provide telehealth services to Arizonians.

b. The administrative and other costs required for compliance with the rules

A summary of the administrative effects of the rulemaking is given in the cost and benefit analysis in Paragraph 3. The administrative and other costs for a registered health care provider are expected to be minimal for having health care providers register with the Department for a fee.

c. A description of the methods that the agency may use to reduce the impact on small businesses

The Department knows of no other methods to further reduce the impact on small businesses.

d. The probable costs and benefits to private persons and consumers who are directly affected by the rules

A summary of the effects of the rulemaking on private persons and consumers is given in the cost and benefit analysis Paragraph 3.

6. A statement of the probable effect on state revenues

The funds generated through registered out-of-state telehealth provider fees are collected and deposited in the health services licensing fund. The Department expects the rules to contribute a minimal amount of funds to state revenues.

The financial data used to develop this document was obtained, as cited, from the Department's licensing database and financial records and projections, not from any outside data. Information about the costs related to health care appointments was obtained from published research and review articles. As such, the Department believes the data is acceptable.

The director or superintendent of the local health agency, environmental agency or public health services district is willing to accept the delegation and agrees to perform or exercise the functions, powers and duties conferred in accordance with the standards of performance established by the director of the department of health services.

2. Monies appropriated or otherwise made available to the department for distribution to or division among counties or public health services districts for local health work may be allocated or reallocated in a manner designed to ensure the accomplishment of recognized local public health activities and delegated functions, powers and duties in accordance with applicable standards of performance. If in the director's opinion there is cause, the director may terminate all or a part of any delegation and may reallocate all or a part of any funds that may have been conditioned on the further performance of the functions, powers or duties conferred.

F. The compensation of all personnel shall be as determined pursuant to section 38-611.

G. The director may make and amend rules necessary for the proper administration and enforcement of the laws relating to the public health.

H. Notwithstanding subsection I, paragraph 1 of this section, the director may define and prescribe emergency measures for detecting, reporting, preventing and controlling communicable or infectious diseases or conditions if the director has reasonable cause to believe that a serious threat to public health and welfare exists. Emergency measures are effective for not longer than eighteen months.

I. The director, by rule, shall:

1. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary measures for detecting, reporting, preventing and controlling communicable and preventable diseases. The rules shall declare certain diseases reportable. The rules shall prescribe measures, including isolation or quarantine, that are reasonably required to prevent the occurrence of, or to seek early detection and alleviation of, disability, insofar as possible, from communicable or preventable diseases. The rules shall include reasonably necessary measures to control animal diseases transmittable to humans.

2. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary measures, in addition to those prescribed by law, regarding the preparation, embalming, cremation, interment, disinterment and transportation of dead human bodies and the conduct of funerals, relating to and restricted to communicable diseases and regarding the removal, transportation, cremation, interment or disinterment of any dead human body.

3. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary procedures that are not inconsistent with law in regard to the use and accessibility of vital records, delayed birth registration and the completion, change and amendment of vital records.

4. Except as relating to the beneficial use of wildlife meat by public institutions and charitable organizations pursuant to title 17, prescribe reasonably necessary measures to ensure that all food or drink, including meat and meat products and milk and milk products sold at the retail level, provided for human consumption is free from unwholesome, poisonous or other foreign substances and filth, insects or disease-causing organisms. The rules shall prescribe reasonably necessary measures governing the production, processing, labeling, storing, handling, serving and transportation of these products. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for the sanitary facilities and conditions that shall be maintained in any warehouse, restaurant or other premises, except a meat packing plant, slaughterhouse, wholesale meat processing plant, dairy product manufacturing plant or trade product manufacturing plant. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for any truck or other vehicle in which food or drink is produced, processed, stored, handled, served or transported. The rules shall provide for the inspection and licensing of premises and vehicles so used, and for abatement as public nuisances of any premises or vehicles that do not comply with the rules and minimum standards. The rules shall provide an exemption relating to food or drink that is:

(a) Served at a noncommercial social event such as a potluck.

(b) Prepared at a cooking school that is conducted in an owner-occupied home.

(c) Not potentially hazardous and prepared in a kitchen of a private home for occasional sale or distribution for noncommercial purposes.

(d) Prepared or served at an employee-conducted function that lasts less than four hours and is not regularly scheduled, such as an employee recognition, an employee fundraising or an employee social event.

(e) Offered at a child care facility and limited to commercially prepackaged food that is not potentially hazardous and whole fruits and vegetables that are washed and cut on-site for immediate consumption.

(f) Offered at locations that sell only commercially prepackaged food or drink that is not potentially hazardous.

(g) A cottage food product that is not potentially hazardous or a time or temperature control for safety food and that is prepared in a kitchen of a private home for commercial purposes, including fruit jams and jellies, dry mixes made with ingredients from approved sources, honey, dry pasta and roasted nuts. Cottage food products must be packaged at home with an attached label that clearly states the name and registration number of the food preparer, lists all the ingredients in the product and the product's production date and includes the following statement: "This product was produced in a home kitchen that may process common food allergens and is not subject to public health inspection." If the product was made in a facility for individuals with developmental disabilities, the label must also disclose that fact. The person preparing the food or supervising the food preparation must complete a food handler training course from an accredited program and maintain active certification. The food preparer must register with an online registry established by the department pursuant to paragraph 13 of this subsection. The food preparer must display the preparer's certificate of registration when operating as a temporary food establishment. For the purposes of this subdivision, "not potentially hazardous" means cottage food products that meet the requirements of the food code published by the United States food and drug administration, as modified and incorporated by reference by the department by rule.

(h) A whole fruit or vegetable grown in a public school garden that is washed and cut on-site for immediate consumption.

(i) Produce in a packing or holding facility that is subject to the United States food and drug administration produce safety rule (21 Code of Federal Regulations part 112) as administered by the Arizona department of agriculture pursuant to title 3, chapter 3, article 4.1. For the purposes of this subdivision, "holding", "packing" and "produce" have the same meanings prescribed in section 3-525.

(j) Spirituous liquor produced on the premises licensed by the department of liquor licenses and control. This exemption includes both of the following:

(i) The area in which production and manufacturing of spirituous liquor occurs, as defined in an active basic permit on file with the United States alcohol and tobacco tax and trade bureau.

(ii) The area licensed by the department of liquor licenses and control as a microbrewery, farm winery or craft distiller that is open to the public and serves spirituous liquor and commercially prepackaged food, crackers or pretzels for consumption on the premises. A producer of spirituous liquor may not provide, allow or expose for common use any cup, glass or other receptacle used for drinking purposes. For the purposes of this item, "common use" means the use of a drinking receptacle for drinking purposes by or for more than one person without the receptacle being thoroughly cleansed and sanitized between consecutive uses by methods prescribed by or acceptable to the department.

5. Prescribe reasonably necessary measures to ensure that all meat and meat products for human consumption handled at the retail level are delivered in a manner and from sources approved by the Arizona department of agriculture and are free from unwholesome, poisonous or other foreign substances and filth, insects or disease-causing organisms. The rules shall prescribe standards for sanitary facilities to be used in identity, storage, handling and sale of all meat and meat products sold at the retail level.

6. Prescribe reasonably necessary measures regarding production, processing, labeling, handling, serving and transportation of bottled water to ensure that all bottled drinking water distributed for human consumption is free from unwholesome, poisonous, deleterious or other foreign substances and filth or disease-causing organisms. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for the sanitary facilities and conditions that shall be maintained at any source of water, bottling plant and truck or vehicle in which bottled water is produced, processed, stored or transported and shall provide for inspection and certification of bottled drinking water sources, plants, processes and transportation and for abatement as a public nuisance of any water supply, label, premises, equipment, process or vehicle that does not comply with the minimum standards. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for bacteriological, physical and chemical quality for bottled water and for the submission of samples at intervals prescribed in the standards.

7. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary measures governing ice production, handling, storing and distribution to ensure that all ice sold or distributed for human consumption or for preserving or storing food for human consumption is free from unwholesome, poisonous, deleterious or other foreign substances and filth or disease-causing organisms. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for the sanitary facilities and conditions and the quality of ice that shall be maintained at any ice plant, storage and truck or vehicle in which ice is produced, stored, handled or transported and shall provide for inspection and licensing of the premises and vehicles, and for abatement as public nuisances of ice, premises, equipment, processes or vehicles that do not comply with the minimum standards.

8. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary measures concerning sewage and excreta disposal, garbage and trash collection, storage and disposal, and water supply for recreational and summer camps, campgrounds, motels, tourist courts, trailer coach parks and hotels. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for preparing food in community kitchens, adequacy of excreta disposal, garbage and trash collection, storage and disposal and water supply for recreational and summer camps, campgrounds, motels, tourist courts, trailer coach parks and hotels and shall provide for inspection of these premises and for abatement as public nuisances of any premises or facilities that do not comply with the rules. Primitive camp and picnic grounds offered by this state or a political subdivision of this state are exempt from rules adopted pursuant to this paragraph but are subject to approval by a county health department under sanitary regulations adopted pursuant to section 36-183.02. Rules adopted pursuant to this paragraph do not apply to two or fewer recreational vehicles as defined in section 33-2102 that are not park models or park trailers, that are parked on owner-occupied residential property for less than sixty days and for which no rent or other compensation is paid. For the purposes of this paragraph, "primitive camp and picnic grounds" means camp and picnic grounds that are remote in nature and without accessibility to public infrastructure such as water, electricity and sewer.

9. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary measures concerning the sewage and excreta disposal, garbage and trash collection, storage and disposal, water supply and food preparation of all public schools. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for sanitary conditions that shall be maintained in any public school and shall provide for inspection of these premises and facilities and for abatement as public nuisances of any premises that do not comply with the minimum standards.

10. Prescribe reasonably necessary measures to prevent pollution of water used in public or semipublic swimming pools and bathing places and to prevent deleterious health conditions at these places. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for sanitary conditions that shall be maintained at any public or semipublic swimming pool or bathing place and shall provide for inspection of these premises and for abatement as public nuisances of any premises and facilities that do not comply with the minimum standards. The rules shall be developed in cooperation with the director of the department of environmental quality and shall be consistent with the rules adopted by the director of the department of environmental quality pursuant to section 49-104, subsection B, paragraph 12.

11. Prescribe reasonably necessary measures to keep confidential information relating to diagnostic findings and treatment of patients, as well as information relating to contacts, suspects and associates of communicable disease patients. In no event shall confidential information be made available for political or commercial purposes.

12. Prescribe reasonably necessary measures regarding human immunodeficiency virus testing as a means to control the transmission of that virus, including the designation of anonymous test sites as dictated by current epidemiologic and scientific evidence.

13. Establish an online registry of food preparers that are authorized to prepare cottage food products for commercial purposes pursuant to paragraph 4 of this subsection. A registered food preparer shall renew the registration every three years and shall provide to the department updated registration information within thirty days after any change.

14. Prescribe an exclusion for fetal demise cases from the standardized survey known as "the hospital consumer assessment of healthcare providers and systems".

J. The rules adopted under the authority conferred by this section shall be observed throughout the state and shall be enforced by each local board of health or public health services district, but this section does not limit the right of any local board of health or county board of supervisors to adopt ordinances and rules as authorized by law within its jurisdiction, provided that the ordinances and rules do not conflict with state law and are equal to or more restrictive than the rules of the director.

K. The powers and duties prescribed by this section do not apply in instances in which regulatory powers and duties relating to public health are vested by the legislature in any other state board, commission, agency or instrumentality, except that with regard to the regulation of meat and meat products, the department of health services and the Arizona department of agriculture within the area delegated to each shall adopt rules that are not in conflict.

L. The director, in establishing fees authorized by this section, shall comply with title 41, chapter 6. The department shall not set a fee at more than the department's cost of providing the service for which the fee is charged. State agencies are exempt from all fees imposed pursuant to this section.

M. After consultation with the state superintendent of public instruction, the director shall prescribe the criteria the department shall use in deciding whether or not to notify a local school district that a pupil in the district has tested positive for the human immunodeficiency virus antibody. The director shall prescribe the procedure by which the department shall notify a school district if, pursuant to these criteria, the department determines that notification is warranted in a particular situation. This procedure shall include a requirement that before notification the department shall determine to its satisfaction that the district has an appropriate policy relating to nondiscrimination of the infected pupil and confidentiality of test results and that proper educational counseling has been or will be provided to staff and pupils.

N. Until the department adopts exemptions by rule as required by subsection I, paragraph 4, subdivision (f) of this section, food and drink are exempt from the rules prescribed in subsection I of this section if offered at locations that sell only commercially prepackaged food or drink that is not potentially hazardous, without a limitation on its display area.

O. Until the department adopts exemptions by rule as required by subsection I, paragraph 4, subdivision (h) of this section, a whole fruit or vegetable grown in a public school garden that is washed and cut on-site for immediate consumption is exempt from the rules prescribed in subsection I of this section.

P. Until the department adopts an exclusion by rule as required by subsection I, paragraph 14 of this section, the standardized survey known as "the hospital consumer assessment of healthcare providers and systems" may not include patients who experience a fetal demise.

Q. Until the department adopts exemptions by rule as required by subsection I, paragraph 4, subdivision (j) of this section, spirituous liquor and commercially prepackaged food, crackers or pretzels that meet the requirements of subsection I, paragraph 4, subdivision (j) of this section are exempt from the rules prescribed in subsection I of this section.

R. For the purposes of this section:

1. "Cottage food product":

(a) Means a food that is not potentially hazardous or a time or temperature control for safety food as defined by the department in rule and that is prepared in a home kitchen by an individual who is registered with the department.

(b) Does not include foods that require refrigeration, perishable baked goods, salsas, sauces, fermented and pickled foods, meat, fish and shellfish products, beverages, acidified food products, nut butters or other reduced-oxygen packaged products.

2. "Fetal demise" means a fetal death that occurs or is confirmed in a licensed hospital. Fetal demise does not include an abortion as defined in section 36-2151.

Re: 29 A.A.R. 2348

Dear Ms. Gravito,

The American Society of Radiologic Technologists represents more than 156,000 medical imaging technologists and radiation therapists across the nation, including 2,808 medical imaging professionals in Arizona. Our main mission as an organization is to advocate for patient safety by ensuring that only technologists who have achieved nationally recognized standards in education and clinical competencies are performing medical imaging and radiation therapy procedures.

With that mission in mind, ASRT opposes the inclusion of radiologic technologists under the proposed out-of-state telehealth providers under R9-16-1001. Definitions. ASRT recommends striking licensed radiologic technologists from the listed out-of-state telehealth providers.

Radiologic technologists provide hands-on patient care. While scopes of practices evolve over time, the current proposed rule does not draw enough clear distinctions between what is within the scope of practice for medical imaging and radiation therapy professionals and what is not. By including them, Arizona will cause significant confusion regarding the rules surrounding out-of-state telehealth in the medical imaging and radiation therapy field while disregarding Arizona's patients' safety. Because it is unclear what kind of procedures the Arizona Department of Health envisions radiologic technologists would perform via telehealth, including the profession in this proposed telehealth regulation leaves the door open for inappropriate practice or remote supervision of unlicensed technologists.

ASRT appreciates Arizona's commitment to high quality care, and we must urge the Department of Health to uphold the spirit of the current licensing standards and exclude radiologic technologists from this proposed telehealth regulation.

ASRT appreciates Arizona's commitment to providing patients' access to health care services provided by appropriately educated and clinically trained technologists and; and looks forward to working with you in the future to achieve this goal. Please feel free to contact me at mcheck@asrt.org or 800-444-2778; Ext 1314 if you have any questions.

She makes some very valid points. I have not read the telehealth rulemaking. I believe that Lucinda is doing that rulemaking. I would suggest that something be added about scope of practice and that the Megans, Brian, and whoever is overseeing the Rad Tech folks be informed of the concerns and some discussion occurs. The NPR was just published and the close of record for the rulemaking is November 20. We could potentially make some changes to "clarify" that we are not requiring a telehealth provider to work outside their scope of practice.

Greetings!

My name is Meredith Check, and I'm from the American Society of Radiologic Technologists, represent over 156,000 medical imaging and radiation therapy professionals across the country including 2,796 radiologic technologists in Arizona.

As I was reviewing the proposed rules on telehealth, I have a few questions regarding the way this rule will impact radiologic technologists.

1. Does the Department envision a radiologic technologist being able to perform a medical imaging or radiation therapy procedure via telehealth (I.e. the Rad Tech is out of state but the patient and equipment is in-state)?
2. In the preliminary summary, it states that the radiologic technologist can provide notification and follow-up care, however it is the responsibility of the prescribing licensed practitioner and not the Rad Tech to provide that information to the patient. Could you please elaborate on the kind of follow up care the Department is expecting the Rad Tech to perform?
3. Additionally, the real-time consultation to specialists to expedite diagnosis and treatment plans, as mentioned in the preliminary summary, is typically licensed practitioner to licensed practitioner. Does the Department envision these specialists to prescribe and supervise the medical imaging and radiation therapy procedures via telehealth (I.e. the Rad Tech is in Arizona with the patient and the specialist is out of state)?

Thank you for your time to answer these questions so the ASRT can appropriately comment on the proposed rule by the November 20th deadline.

Kindly,

Meredith Check

Specifically, Article 1 relates to General Provisions; Article 9 relates to Ground Ambulance Certificate of Necessity; Article 10 relates to Ground Ambulance Vehicle Registration; Article 11 relates to Ground Ambulance Certificate Rates and Charges; and Article 12 relates to Time Frames for Department Approvals.

The Department is required to adopt standards and criteria pertaining to the quality of emergency care, rules necessary for the operation of emergency medical services, and rules related to the regulation of ground ambulance services.

Department is seeking an immediate effective date as allowed under A.R.S. § 41-1032(A)(1) and (3) in that they improve public health and safety and provide a benefit to the public, and are necessary to comply with deadlines in amendments to governing statutes changed by Laws 2022, Ch. 381.

This rulemaking partially relates to a five-year-review report approved by the Council on July 6, 2017. This rulemaking began in 2019 and has continued through the summer of 2023, including multiple drafts, extensive comments from stakeholders, and many stakeholder meetings to develop the new rules.

1. Are the rules legal, consistent with legislative intent, and within the agency's statutory authority?

The Department cites both general and specific statutory authority for these rules.

2. Do the rules establish a new fee or contain a fee increase?

The Department states the rules do not establish a new fee or contain a fee increase.

3. Does the preamble disclose a reference to any study relevant to the rules that the agency reviewed and either did or did not rely upon?

The Department reviewed the following studies during the course of this rulemaking:

- National Emergency Medical Services Information System (NEMESIS) reporting guidelines (<https://nemsis.org/v3-5-0-revision/v3-5-resources/>), which contain national standards for reporting quality assurance data, including standards for dispatch and patient care reports.
- National Association of State EMS Officials (NASEMSO) National Model EMS Clinical Guidelines (https://nasemso.org/wp-content/uploads/National-Model-EMS-Clinical-Guidelines\_2022-ver2.pdf), which contains guidelines related to quality assurance and/or continued performance improvement programs, which facilitate the identification of gaps and potential avenues of their resolution within an EMS system.
- Prehospital Emergency Care Recommended Essential Equipment for Basic Life Support and Advanced Life Support Ground Ambulances 2020: A Joint Position

Statement (<https://doi.org/10.1080/10903127.2021.1886382>), which identifies the equipment necessary to provide quality care according to the National EMS Model Guidelines with support from the National Association of EMS Physicians, American Academy of Pediatrics, American College of Surgeons Committee on Trauma, EMS for Children Innovation and Improvement Center, Emergency Nurses Association, and National Association of State EMS Officials, and National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians.

- Emergency Medical Services for Children (EMSC) Innovation and Improvement Center National Prehospital Pediatric Readiness Project guidelines (<https://emscimprovement.center/domains/prehospital-care/prehospital-pediatric-readiness/>), which provides guidelines, checklists, and toolkits for providing emergency care to children in a pre-hospital environment in accordance with national recommendations.

4. Summary of the agency’s economic impact analysis:

This rulemaking seeks to address several issues within the rules outlining requirements for ground ambulance certificates, for registration of ground ambulance vehicles, and for ground ambulance service rates and charges and contracts. This rulemaking restructures rules to improve clarity, remove duplication, and increase effectiveness. Because the changes are largely structural, there is little cost associated with the rulemaking.

5. Has the agency analyzed the costs and benefits of the rulemaking and determined that the rules impose the least burden and costs to those who are regulated?

The Department has determined that there are no less intrusive or less costly alternatives for achieving the purpose of the rule.

6. What are the economic impacts on stakeholders?

The Department anticipates that the rulemaking may affect the Department; applicants for and certificate holders of ground ambulance service certificates of necessity; health care institutions; emergency medical care technicians (EMCTs); patients and their families; and the general public. Additionally, it is possible that air ambulance services and fire services may be affected. Because most of the changes clarify existing rules, there are no new fees associated with this rulemaking and any increased costs are associated with safety and quality assurance.

7. Are the final rules a substantial change, considered as a whole, from the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

ARS §41-1057(D)(7) states the Council shall not approve the rule unless “[th]e rule is not a substantial change, considered as a whole, from the proposed rule and any supplemental notices.”

ARS § 41-1025(B) continues with “In determining whether a rule is substantially different from the published proposed rule on which it is required to be based, all of the following must be considered:

1. The extent to which all persons affected by the rule should have understood that the published proposed rule would affect their interests.
2. The extent to which the subject matter of the rule or the issues determined by that rule are different from the subject matter or issues involved in the published proposed rule.
3. The extent to which the effects of the rule differ from the effects of the published proposed rule if it had been made instead.”

The Department has indicated that the amendments made between the proposed and final rulemakings are not considered a substantial change as the interests of the persons affected by the rule have not changed, the subject matter of the rule has not changed, and the differences between the proposed and final rules are minimal.

8. Does the agency adequately address the comments on the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

The Department received ten sets of written comments and nine individuals provided comments during the Oral Proceeding, including two individuals who also provided written comments covering the same topics. Comments were made on some of the following issues: definitions, inter facility transport, ambulance staffing, dispatch contracting, waiver for GPS for providers in rural areas, rate requests and rate of return, back up agreements, timing of the rulemaking process, questions regarding HB 2609, certificates of necessity, and reporting methodology for Ambulance Revenue and Cost Report. The Department provided a summary of each comment and the Department’s response in their NFR.

9. Do the rules require a permit or license and, if so, does the agency comply with A.R.S. § 41-1037?

The Department indicates that a permit or license is not used as by statute, the Department issues certificates of necessity.

10. Are the rules more stringent than corresponding federal law and, if so, is there statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law?

The Department indicates that federal law does not apply to these rules.

11. Conclusion

This regular rulemaking from the Department of Health Services seeks to amend twenty-two rules and one table; repeal eight rules and two exhibits; add six new sections and two new tables; and renumber ten rules related to Emergency Medical Services. As indicated above, this rulemaking partially relates to a five-year-review report approved by the Council on July 6, 2017. The Department is seeking an immediate effective date pursuant to A.R.S. § 41-1032(A)(1) and (A)(3). Council staff recommends approval of this rulemaking.

6. An agency's justification and reason why a rule should be made, amended, repealed or renumbered, to include an explanation about the rulemaking:

Arizona Revised Statutes (A.R.S.) §§ 36-2202(A)(3) and (4) and 36-2209(A)(2) require the Arizona Department of Health Services (Department) to adopt standards and criteria pertaining to the quality of emergency care, rules necessary for the operation of emergency medical services, and rules for carrying out the purposes of A.R.S. Title 36, Chapter 21.1. A.R.S. Title 36, Chapter 21.1, Article 2, specifies requirements related to the regulation of ground ambulance services. The Department has adopted rules to implement these statutes in 9 A.A.C. 25. The rules in 9 A.A.C. 25, Articles 9, 10, and 11, establish requirements for ground ambulance certificates of necessity, for registration of ground ambulance vehicles, and for ground ambulance service rates and charges and contracts, respectively, to ensure the health and safety of patients being transported. In a five-year-review report approved by the Governor's Regulatory Review Council on July 6, 2017, the Department identified several issues with these rules and proposed a rulemaking to address these issues. These issues include non-compliance with A.R.S. § 41-1080, unclear requirements, requirements inconsistent with current standards of operation for ground ambulance services, and poor organization of the rules. All of these issues may affect the effectiveness of the rules and, thus, threaten the health and safety of patients being transported. The Department also requested input from stakeholders to identify additional issues. Laws 2022, Ch. 381, made statutory changes that required additional revisions of the rules. The rulemaking revises the rules in 9 A.A.C. 25, Articles 9 through 11, to address these issues and other issues identified by stakeholders as part of the rulemaking process and to restructure the rules to improve clarity, remove duplication, and increase effectiveness. Clarifying changes are also being made in Articles 1 and 12. This rulemaking, which was begun in 2019 and continued through the summer of 2023, included multiple drafts, extensive comments from stakeholders, and many stakeholder meetings to develop the new rules. These changes conform to rulemaking format and style requirements of the Governor's Regulatory Review Council and the Office of the Secretary of State.

7. A reference to any study relevant to the rule that the agency reviewed and proposes either to rely on or not to rely on in its evaluation of or justification for the rule, where the public may obtain or review each study, all data underlying each study, and any analysis of each study and other supporting material:

The Department reviewed the following for this rulemaking:

- National Emergency Medical Services Information System (NEMSIS) reporting guidelines (<https://nemsis.org/v3-5-0-revision/v3-5-resources/>), which contain national standards for reporting quality assurance data, including standards for dispatch and patient care reports.

- National Association of State EMS Officials (NASEMSO) National Model EMS Clinical Guidelines
(https://nasemso.org/wp-content/uploads/National-Model-EMS-Clinical-Guidelines\_2022-ver2.pdf), which contains guidelines related to quality assurance and/or continued performance improvement programs, which facilitate the identification of gaps and potential avenues of their resolution within an EMS system.
- Prehospital Emergency Care Recommended Essential Equipment for Basic Life Support and Advanced Life Support Ground Ambulances 2020: A Joint Position Statement
(<https://doi.org/10.1080/10903127.2021.1886382>), which identifies the equipment necessary to provide quality care according to the National EMS Model Guidelines with support from the National Association of EMS Physicians, American Academy of Pediatrics, American College of Surgeons Committee on Trauma, EMS for Children Innovation and Improvement Center, Emergency Nurses Association, and National Association of State EMS Officials, and National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians.
- Emergency Medical Services for Children (EMSC) Innovation and Improvement Center National Prehospital Pediatric Readiness Project guidelines
(<https://emscimprovement.center/domains/prehospital-care/prehospital-pediatric-readiness/>), which provides guidelines, checklists, and toolkits for providing emergency care to children in a pre-hospital environment in accordance with national recommendations.

Not applicable

9. The summary of the economic, small business, and consumer impact:

The Department anticipates that the rulemaking may affect the Department, applicants for and certificate holders of ground ambulance service certificates of necessity, health care institutions, emergency medical care technicians (EMCTs), patients and their families, and the general public. In addition, it is possible that air ambulance services and fire services could be affected. Annual costs/revenues changes are designated as minimal when more than $0 and $2,000 or less, moderate when between $2,000 and $20,000, and substantial when $20,000 or greater in additional costs or revenues. A cost is listed as significant when meaningful or important, but not readily subject to quantification.

The Department believes that making changes to clarify the rules may make the rules easier to understand and comply with, and may provide a significant benefit to all stakeholders, including the Department. The Department may also receive a significant benefit from changes to the requirements in applications, specifying requirements for inspections and investigations, clarifying information in Article 11, replacing Exhibits 9A and 9B, providing more specificity related to response-time determinations, requiring the submission of data related to patient care, and requiring performance improvement processes. With the improved clarity and specificity in the rules, the Department may receive a minimal-to-moderate reduction in costs for providing guidance and technical assistance on an ongoing basis to applicants and certificate holders regarding elements of the rules.

Applicants for ground ambulance service certificates of necessity may incur minimal increased costs from additional submission requirements now specified in the rules, but may also receive a significant benefit from knowing beforehand what information and documents should or could be provided, instead of being asked by the Department for these documents once an application has been submitted. A certificate holder could incur up to substantial costs or experience up to a substantial loss of revenue from requirements related to transfers, renewals, amendments, or determinations related to public necessity or response times, even though these changes mirror, for the most part, the current practice of the Department. Besides costs directly associated with Laws 2022, Ch. 381, certificate holders may incur up to substantial increased costs due to revising standards for ground ambulance vehicles and the categorization of major defects and minor defects, and requirements for additional supplies and equipment on ground ambulance vehicles, consistent with current industry standards. Certificate holders may also incur up to substantial costs due to requirements for dispatching and scheduling, as well as new requirements for interfacility transports. Depending on whether a ground ambulance service is currently performing these activities as a routine part of operating a ground ambulance service, conducting activities related to assessing performance, monitoring the performance of EMCTs under the certificate of necessity, and other quality assurance activities could cause a certificate holder to incur up to substantial costs. Requiring the submission of dispatch records could cause a ground ambulance service to incur up to moderate costs. For those few ground ambulance services that have not been submitting patient data to the Department for quality improvement purposes, doing so, to comply with new requirements, may cause the ground ambulance services to incur moderate increased costs. The Department anticipates that a certificate holder could incur up to minimal costs to become familiar with having the content of the Ambulance Revenue and Cost Report in rule, rather than having a form as an Exhibit in the rules, even though the online documents would be unchanged and still available. Clarifying requirements related to requested rates and other changes to requirements in Article 11 could cause a certificate holder to experience up to a substantial increase in costs or decrease in revenue.

Health care institutions have long informed the Department of issues they are experiencing with interfacility transports. However, because the Department does not have requirements specific to interfacility transports in the current rules, the Department was limited in what could be done to address these issues from a regulatory stand-point. The new rules include requirements directly related to interfacility transports, both those for patients with time-critical conditions, and those with no time-critical condition. The Department anticipates that the new requirements related to interfacility transports may provide a significant benefit to health care institutions. Health care institutions may also receive a significant benefit from the changes for assessing response times and from clarifications and updates to the rules, making them more understandable and easier to follow.

The Department expects that making these changes to the rules could increase the standard of care for patients. While fire services that are not certificate holders are not directly affected by these rules, if fire services choose to provide the same, higher standard of care as would be provided by the EMCTs of ground ambulance services under these rules, they could experience up to a substantial increase in costs. If hospitals that were having issues with the timely arrival of a ground ambulance vehicle for an interfacility transport, and were therefore using air ambulance services to transport patients with time-critical conditions to another facility providing an appropriate level of care, begin to see more timely, consistent, and reliable transport from ground ambulance services due to the changes in the rules, they may reduce their use of transports by air ambulance services. If so, an air ambulance service could experience a substantial reduction of income due to the changes in the rules.

EMCTs may receive a significant benefit from having rules to follow that are clearer and easier to understand, as well as having the use of the added supplies and equipment in providing quality patient care. Because a ground ambulance service may be monitoring EMCT performance more closely due to changes in the rules, it is possible that an EMCT who is believed to be acting in an unprofessional manner could experience up to a substantial loss of income/revenue if the EMCT undergoes disciplinary action or is fired based on actions revealed during monitoring.

The new requirements related to interfacility transports and critical care services may also provide a significant benefit to patients and their families. The quality improvement processes, now required in rule, may also result in a significant benefit to patients and their families by enabling ground ambulance services to identify potential problems and to address them, which may result in better patient care. Similarly, specifying requirements related to critical care services may result in a significant benefit to patients and their families. The Department anticipates that the general public may receive a significant benefit from the changes to the rules, which are expected to improve the quality of emergency care in the state.

Between the proposed rulemaking and final rulemaking, the Department made some clarifying changes to the rules. In R9-25-901(42), the Department corrected the definition of “standby waiting rate” consistent with the wording in other rate definitions. In R9-25-908(E)(1), the Department clarified that the written agreement could be internal policies and procedures if the ground ambulance service performs its own dispatching and added in subsection (E)(1)(d) “or other agreement,” consistent with the lead-in in subsection (E)(1). In R9-25-911(B)(4) and (C), the word “disciplinary” was replaced with “enforcement,” consistent with the title of the Section. In R9-25-1102(E), the Department clarified that a certificate holder with a uniform general public rate would only need to submit an application for a different general public rate if notified that the Department had made a decision to grant a different general public rate to a certificate holder under subsection (D) that had been under the uniform general public rate and wanted a different general public rate as well. In addition, the Department made the following changes based on the comments received, as described below in paragraph 11:

- In R9-25-901(39), the Department is clarifying the rule by reverting back to the current definitions of “urban area,” “suburban area,” “rural area,” and “wilderness area” since they are what current response times are based on and what certificate holder are familiar with.
- In R9-25-908(E)(3)(a), the Department is clarifying that, if the ground ambulance service receiving a request for an interfacility transport has already specified the estimated time of arrival in a Department-approved service agreement with the person requesting the interfacility transport, the requirement in R9-25-908(E)(3)(a) has already been satisfied and another estimated time of arrival does not need to be provided again unless it needs to be amended.
- In R9-25-1106(C), the Department is changing the rule to the original wording on the understanding that the change would not be substantive since rates both higher and lower than 7% can be approved with justification.
- In R9-25-901(17) and R9-25-1107(D), the Department is revising the definition of “critical care rate” to be similar to the definitions for other rates and moving the requirement that the rate be equivalent to at least the amount for specialty care transport, as used in federal Medicare guidelines, from the definition into R9-25-1107(D), as well as clarifying in R9-25-1107(D) that the critical care rate would be greater than an ALS base rate.
- In R9-25-1108(B), the Department is adding a citation to A.R.S. § 36-2232(A)(4) to further clarify statutory authority for the rule.

In addition, the Department is adding a delayed effective date for requirements in R9-25-908

(C)(5)(b) and R9-25-908(E)(3)(c) and (H) to address stakeholder concerns.

11. An agency’s summary of the public stakeholder comments made about the rulemaking and the agency response to the comments:

The Department received ten sets of written comments about the proposed rules. An Oral Proceeding was held on October 16, 2023, both in-person and virtually. Thirteen individuals attended in-person, and another six attended virtually. Nine individuals provided comments during the Oral Proceeding, including two individuals who also provided written comments covering the same topics. A summary of the comments and the Department’s responses are provided below. Statutory references are based on the statutes in effect as of January 1, 2024.

#	Comment	Department’s Response
The following written comments were received by the Department.
1	The following comments were received from Public Policy Partners on behalf of clients:
a	Concerns were expressed about the deletion of the definitions of subsections 37 (Rural area), 47 (Suburban area), and 52 (Urban area) and their replacement with a new definition in subsection 38, “Scenic locality.” The commenter stated that “[t]he current definitions more than adequately comply with the statutory requirements and are well-understood by the industry,” “[a]pplying singular dispatch thresholds statewide in a one size fits all manner fails to consider inconsistent population densities throughout the state,” and the changes “would result in rural areas such as Benson and Safford being defined as urban and, with the unreasonable statewide universal response time requirements in Article 9, would result in many rural towns having required response times that are the same as metropolitan Phoenix.	The definitions for “urban area,” “suburban area,” “rural area,” and “wilderness area” are not used in the body of the rules, only in the definition of the term “scene locality.” Therefore, the definitions/descriptions of these term are included in the definition of “scene locality.” While the definitions have not been changed in over 20 years, they are what current response times are based on and what stakeholders are familiar with. Since reporting response times is now being required by Laws 2022, Ch. 381, it would be a disservice to the EMS system in Arizona to change what a specific area is termed, based on the definitions in the current rules versus proposed rules. Therefore, the Department plans to revert back to the current definitions, and may further refine the definitions during a subsequent rulemaking to be more consistent with current GIS terminology. The Department does not believe this change to be substantive since the change would not be expected to affect existing certificate holders. Scene localities are closely associated with response times, because there may be different response times for different scene localities. The response times for specific scene localities are included on certificates of necessity and would not be changed unless and until a review of response times, required by A.R.S. 36-2232(A)(4), revealed that the response times were inappropriate, or if the certificate of necessity were amended. The Department does not plan to review existing response times until any outstanding issues are resolved.
b	Concerns were expressed about interfacility transports, both for patients with time-critical conditions	The Department believes the Department has statutory authority to regulate interfacility transports. A.R.S. § 36-2232(A)(3) requires the Department to “[r]egulate

and those with no time-critical condition, stating that the Department does not have statutory authority to regulate interfacility transports. New wording in R9-25-907(B)(8)(b) states that the Department may consider the anticipated volumes of both 9-1-1 calls and interfacility transfers in determining response times, if a certificate holder provides interfacility transports of patients with a time-critical condition. The commenter stated that this could force a certificate provider to choose whether to send an ambulance to respond to a 9-1-1 call or to a call for transporting a patient with a time-critical condition. The commenter stated a concern about interfacility transports of patients with no time-critical condition that R9-25-908(E)(3)(c) requires that an ambulance arrive within 60 minutes of the dispatch for 90% of these transports, which the commenter believed would put “unreasonable pressures on [a rural] ambulance provider.” The commenter also stated that they “work collaboratively to meet the needs of both the 9-1-1 system and interfacility transports” and that “[t]his process should remain unchanged to uphold the integrity of the emergency 9-1-1 calls.	operating and response times of ambulances to meet the needs of the public and to ensure adequate service.” A.R.S. § 36-2232(A)(9) requires the Department to “[r]egulate ambulance services in all matters affecting services to the public.” A.R.S. § 36-2202(J) now specifies requirements related to interfacility transports. The definition of “emergency ambulance services” in A.R.S. § 20-2801 includes “accessing an ambulance or emergency response by calling 911 or a designated telephone number to reach a public safety answering point and receiving time sensitive medical attention.” Based on stakeholder requests, the definition of “response time” now includes interfacility transports for patients with time-critical conditions. Under the current rules, the Department has very little ability to regulate interfacility transports for most certificate holders, despite receiving many calls and complaints expressing concerns about them. The Department has received information about estimated times of arrival being changed multiple times, or a ground ambulance vehicle showing up hours after it was expected. The new rules contain a benchmark for how much leeway a certificate holder has to get a ground ambulance vehicle to the patient’s location. They also require a certificate holder to review the factors that may have contributed to an interfacility transport not meeting the standards through the quality improvement process. Although they do not put a cap on the number of times an estimated time of arrival is amended, they do require a certificate holder to assess the performance of interfacility transports. They also allow the Department to collect information about how often an estimated time of arrival is amended and factors that may contribute to a ground ambulance service not meeting the standards in the rules. If an ambulance service is only equipping and staffing to meet anticipated 9-1-1 calls, then any interfacility transports may just be considered as providing extra revenue from an ambulance that is not otherwise occupied with a 9-1-1 transport. Many interfacility transports are just as, or even more, time-critical as many 9-1-1 calls. The Department must ensure that ground ambulance services can and do meet the needs of all transports in the certificated service area. Therefore, the anticipated number of interfacility transports, which also require ground ambulance service resources, are considered when gauging whether the current resources in a service area are sufficient for the population - for all types of transports.

		The rules do not require an arrival of an ambulance for an interfacility transport of a patient with no time-critical condition to be within 60 minutes of dispatch; the rules require arrival to be within 60 minutes of the time the ambulance service says they will be there to pick up the patient, unless the certificate holder has provided a justification as to why a different amount of leeway is needed. This allows a hospital to better plan the discharge and coordinate with the receiving facility. Currently, all certificates of necessity with an interfacility transport time on them list arrival within 60 minutes of the estimated time, which is what was put into the rules. However, an applicant may provide information as part of an application that justifies why a different time should be made part of the certificate of necessity, both for response times and interfacility transports of patients with no time-critical condition. The Department has made many changes, based on stakeholder input, in the drafts leading to the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, and does not plan to change the rules further based on the comment. However, the Department does plan to revise the rules to delay the implementation of R9-25-908(E)(3)(c) and (H) until January 1, 2025 and plans to work further with stakeholders during a subsequent rulemaking, for which the Department has already received approval under A.R.S. § 41-1039(A), to further refine the requirements. c	A concern was expressed about the definition of “critical care rate,” stating that the definition would result in the critical care rate being less than the ALS rate or BLS rate.	Rate-setting should not be done in a definition. In R9-25-1107, the new rules specify that, when evaluating a proposed critical care rate, the Department shall consider the factors considered in setting a BLS rate, additional factors considered in setting an ALS rate, as well as additional costs associated with providing critical care services. Therefore, a critical care rate would always be at least the same as, or higher than, the ALS rate. To address stakeholder concerns, the Department is revising the rules to make the definition of “critical care rate” similar to the definitions for other rates and moving the requirement that the rate be equivalent to at least the amount for specialty care transport, as used in federal Medicare guidelines, from the definition into R9-25-1107, as well as clarifying that the critical care rate would be greater than an ALS base rate.
d	A concern was expressed about ambulance staffing for providing critical care services in R9-25-908(C)(5)(b), stating that there is currently no endorsement in critical care services	The Department is currently drafting revisions to 9 A.A.C. 25, Article 3 and 4, to allow for an endorsement to be added to a Paramedic’s certification, along with updating the scope of practice for Paramedics. The current scope of practice does not include many of the skills that may be required during a

	available to a Paramedic in Arizona, so a register nurse must be on an ambulance providing a critical care transport.	critical care transport, so a nurse, not a Paramedic, should already be staffing such transports. The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment. However, the Department does plan to revise the rules to delay the implementation of R9-25-908(C)(5)(b) until January 1, 2025, by which time the revisions to Article 3 and 4 should be completed, and plans to work further with stakeholders during a subsequent rulemaking, for which the Department has already received approval under A.R.S. § 41-1039(A), to further refine the requirements.
e	A concern was expressed about having to contract for dispatching in R9-25-908(E)(1), rather than providing dispatching internally.	The rules do not require contracting for dispatching. As mentioned in paragraph 10 above, the Department had already identified the need to clarify that the written agreement for dispatching could be internal policies and procedures if the ground ambulance service performs its own dispatching and added in subsection (E)(1)(d) “or other agreement,” consistent with the lead-in in subsection (E)(1).
f	A concern was expressed about R9-25-1005(E)(5), stating that there are areas in the state where “GPS access is nonexistent.” The waiver to the requirement was stated as being put in place to allow rural providers to be exempt. A requirement to provide a future date by which a certificate holder will comply with the requirement was thought to be problematic and could lead to the loss of rural providers.	The Department has to implement the statute as written, regardless of the perceived intent. A rural provider with an ambulance deployed in an area with no connectivity would certainly qualify for a waiver for that ambulance. However, there are reasons other than GPS connectivity that may cause a certificate holder to request a waiver. The statute does not single out rural providers as the only ones who can request a waiver. Technology is changing all the time, and what is impossible or too costly today may not be so in the future. The Department had received feedback from several stakeholders that it would be easier and more efficient for them to request a waiver when an application for ambulance vehicle registration is submitted. The proposed rules better align requests for waiver with annual registrations, based on this feedback. Although the Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment, the Department is developing forms for requesting a waiver, as well as training that may provide guidance to a certificate holder, which will be available on the Bureau’s webpages. g	A concern was expressed about requirements in R9-25-1102 and that the proposed rules are silent about what happens if an ambulance service is granted authority to operate in an area with a uniform general public rate and applies for a different rate. Provisions in the rules for a certificate holder under a general public rate to	The Department does not have the authority to specify what general public rate an applicant for a certificate of necessity requests, only what is granted. If an applicant for a certificate of necessity, for a service area in which a uniform public rate is in existence, requests a different general public rate, concerns about what effect that will have on the certificate holders under the uniform public rate would be considered during the review and, if necessary, hearing process before a certificate of necessity/general public rate is granted and finalized. Nor do the statutes give the Department authority

	request a different rate undermines the uniform general public rates process.	to stop a certificate holder under a uniform general public rate from applying for a different general public rate. However, the Department would consider what affect the request would have on other certificate holders and on the EMS system in general when making a decision about the requested general public rate. Other certificate holders under the uniform general public rate would only have to establish their own general public rates if the different general public rate is granted and the “uniform general public rate” is void. As mentioned in paragraph 10 above, the Department had already identified the need to clarify that the notification that would require a certificate holder with a uniform general public rate to submit an application for a different general public rate is the notification that the Department had made a decision to grant a different general public rate to a certificate holder under subsection (D) that had been under the uniform general public rate.
h	Concerns were expressed about the change in R9-25-1106(C) about the rate of return and the addition of R9-25-1108(B), stating that the rule currently requires the Director to establish rates to provide for at least a 7% rate of return unless the applicant request a lower amount. The new rules switch that and cap the rate of return at 7% unless a higher rate of return is requested and justified. Under R9-25-1108(B) and A.R.S. § 36-2232(A)(1), the Department can unilaterally change a rate of return. These are problematic.	As mentioned in the comment, the commenter does not recall any request for a rate of return more than 7%; nor does the Department. As mentioned and discussed during a stakeholder meeting, the rule was originally intended to cap the rate of return at 7%, absent justification for a higher rate. The author of the requirement stated during the meeting that it was meant to be “guidance for the Department” that 7% was a reasonable rate of return, that it “wasn’t meant to be a minimum or a maximum and both required justification for the filing.” Hence a de facto cap of 7% has been existence ever since. This rule change was to reinstate the original intent of the rule. A certificate holder could still be granted a higher than 7% rate of return, but just had to have justification for the higher rate. Since it is unlikely that a rate of return other than of 7% would be requested or granted, given the more than 20-year history, the Department will change the rule to the original wording, on the understanding that the change would not be substantive. The Department does not believe the change to be substantive since rates both higher and lower than 7% can be approved with justification and, thus, the change would have no effect on stakeholders. The provision in R9-25-1108(B) clarifies the ability of the Department under statute to “[d]etermine, fix, alter and regulate just, reasonable and sufficient rates and charges.” To further clarify and add to the statutory authority, the Department plans to add a citation to A.R.S. § 36-2232(A)(4), since a review of response times may result in changes, which could have a financial impact (as anticipated in statute) and lead to a need to alter rates and charges.

2	The following comment was received from a Deputy Chief of a fire district:
	A concern was expressed about requirements in R9-25-901 in the definition of “standby waiting rate,” stating that the definition should be changed so a patient is not responsible for charges caused by the delay of a hospital.	All of the rate-related definitions use the same language “the monetary amount set by the Department for a certificate holder to bill a patient...” for consistency. While insurance or a third party may pay part or all of the amount billed, the amount billed is the responsibility of the patient/patient’s representative. The Department does not have the statutory authority to require a hospital to be billed (or pay for) a portion of the cost of a transport. The Department made several changes to the rate definitions during the course of the rulemaking, based on stakeholder input, and does not plan to change the rules further based on the comment.
3	The following comments were received from the Assistant Chief of a ground ambulance service:
a	A concern was expressed about “generic interfacility response times,” especially when a Department-approved service agreement with a hospital partner specifies “negotiated and agreed upon response times when requested to transport urgent or non-urgent patients.”	If a certificate holder has such a service agreement, then the Department would be including these times into the certificate of necessity. Since R9-25-908(E)(3)(c) exempts a certificate holder with a time specified on the certificate of necessity from the requirement in the subsection, the requirement would not apply to that certificate holder. The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment.
b	A concern was expressed about having to provide an estimated time of arrival for an interfacility transport when the time has already been specified in a Department-approved service agreement with the requesting hospital partner.	The Department understands the concern and plans to clarify the rule that, if the ground ambulance service receiving a request for an interfacility transport has already specified the estimated time of arrival in a Department-approved service agreement with the person requesting the interfacility transport, the requirement in R9-25-908(E)(3)(a) has already been satisfied and another estimated time of arrival does not need to be provided again unless it needs to be amended. c	A suggestion was made to include additional requirements and specifications for back-up agreements including “the process for developing back-up agreements, the definition of a back-up agreement, what is or is not allowed to be in a back-up agreement, who can enter into them, etc.”	During the four years in which requirements in this rulemaking were discussed with stakeholders, there were several discussions about back-up agreement, but the Department does not recall any requests to add such requirements into the rules. The Department is willing to discuss adding such requirements. The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment at this time. However, the Department does plan to work further with stakeholders during a subsequent rulemaking, for which the Department has already received approval under A.R.S. § 41-1039(A), to further refine the requirements in the rules and could include a discussion of this topic in that rulemaking.

d	A suggestion was made that the definition of “health care institution” be included in the rules.	The definitions of both “health care institution” and “interfacility transport” are included in R9-25-101, since the terms are used in more than one Article in the Chapter. The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment.
4	The following comment was received from the Prehospital Care Program Coordinator of a medical center:
	A concern was expressed about having to include the administrative medical director be on a committee reviewing data related to the provision of services to ensure quality patient care every quarter as part of a quality improvement committee.	The definition of an administrative medical director is included in A.R.S. § 36-2201, and the duties of an administrative medical director are specified in R9-25-201 and R9-25-502. These duties include developing policies and procedures that govern the activities of the EMCTs under the administrative medical director’s purview, providing administrative medical direction (by statutory definition, supervision of EMCTs), and ensuring competency of an EMCT in performing skills that the EMCT has been authorized by the administrative medical director to perform. As such, the administrative medical director must be part of the committee that identifies and discusses issues related to the quality of patient care provided by EMCTs, and implements activities to improve performance when deviations in patient care, transport, or documentation are identified.  The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment.
5	The following comments were originally directed to an Assistant Director of the Department by Public Policy Partners on behalf of clients and forwarded as formal comments about the rules:
a	A concern was expressed about the definition of “scene locality.”	See the response to comment (1)(a).
b	Concerns were expressed about interfacility transports.	See the response to comment (1)(b).
c	A concern was expressed about the definition of “critical care rate.”	See the response to comment (1)(c).
d	A concern was expressed about ambulance staffing for providing critical care services.	See the response to comment (1)(d).
e	A concern was expressed about dispatch and scheduling.	See the response to comment (1)(e).
f	A concern was expressed about requirements for uniform rates.	See the response to comment (1)(g).
g	A concern was expressed about the rate of return.	See the response to comment (1)(h).

h	A concern was expressed about periodic review by the Department of rates and charges.	See the response to comment (1)(h).
i	A concern was expressed about the “GPS waiver requirements in R9-25-1102.”	See the response to comment (1)(f).
j	Concerns were expressed about the timing of the rulemaking process, suggesting that the rulemaking “be bifurcated so that all rules that are specifically needed to implement HB 2609 can move forward to meet the effective date of the bill. Any other issues such as IFTs [interfacility transfers], staffing requirements, etc. should be handled in a regular rulemaking process that is not on an accelerated time frame so that all parties can come to a consensus on any new rules.”	This rulemaking has been ongoing for four years, with extensive stakeholder involvement. Most of the changes being made to address issues identified in the five-year-review reports approved by the Governor’s Regulatory Review Council of 2017 and 2022 are not in contention. Very few changes are required in the current rules to specifically address HB 2609, if the requirement for the Department to base decisions on quality patient care (A.R.S. § 36-2232(A)(2)) is ignored. Since most of the changes identified in the five-year-review reports could affect the quality of patient care, the decision was made to add the requirements specifically addressing HB 2609 to the ongoing rulemaking. If the rulemaking were bifurcated and only requirements specifically addressing HB 2609 were included in the rulemaking, the result would be a substantive change to the proposed rules, requiring the development, filing, publication, and 30-day formal comment period for supplemental rulemaking, delating the submission of a Notice of Final Rulemaking beyond the deadline imposed by HB 2609. As stated above, the Department recognizes that some additional discussion of some topics could help ensure consensus. Therefore, the Department has initiated a subsequent rulemaking to address these topics and is proposing to delay the implementation of R9-25-908(C)(5)(b) and R9-25-908(E)(3)(c) and (H) until January 1, 2025, to allow time for the subsequent rulemaking to be completed and any necessary changes made. The Department considers the delayed implementation of rule requirements to be a non-substantive change, which would not delay this rulemaking.
6	The following comments were received from Arizona Fire District Association, Arizona Fire Chiefs Association, and Arizona Ambulance Association:
a	A comment was made asking for clarification of what type of agencies would qualify for a waiver under HB 2609 and what types of situations would justify receiving a waiver, as well as the need for annual renewal.	The Department believes that there are reasons other than GPS connectivity that may cause a certificate holder to request a waiver, including financial hardship, so the rules do not list what those reasons would have to be. Because technology is changing all the time, and what is impossible or too costly today may not be so in the future, the waiver is not forever. The Department had received feedback from several stakeholders that it would be easier and more efficient to

		request a waiver when an application for ambulance vehicle registration is submitted. The proposed rules better align requests for waiver with annual registrations, based on this feedback. As stated in the response to comment (1)(f), the Department is developing forms for requesting a waiver, as well as training that may provide guidance to a certificate holder, which will be available on the Bureau’s webpages. The Department believes these actions will provide clarification and assist certificate holder to obtain a waiver, if appropriate. The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment. b	The comment was made that Section 11 of HB 2609 makes it so “HB 2609 is limited to initial and amended Certificates of Necessity.”	The Department believes that Section 11 of HB 2609 only pertains to A.R.S. § 36-2233 and to applications for initial or amended certificates of necessity filed with the Department, making them subject to the revisions made in A.R.S. § 36-2233 if filed on or after January 1, 2024. The Department believes that all other portions of HB 2609 have been correctly included in A.R.S. Title 36, Chapter 21.1, as codified, and pertain to all persons regulated under the Chapter as of January 1 2024. The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment. c	A question was asked as to what would cause an amended certificate of necessity to be issued.	The Department issues certificates of necessity under A.R.S. §§ 36-2202(A), 36-2232, 36-2233, 36-2236, and 36-2240 to a specific person for a specific service area, type of service and level of service. The changes that would result in the Department issuing an amended certificate of necessity are specified in R9-25-905. The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment.
d	A comment was made that “only part of the ground ambulance transport market is subject to increased reporting and other requirements of HB 2609,” stating that “[e]veryone should be subject to the statute and related regulations.”	As stated in the response to comment (6)(b), the statutes in A.R.S. Title 36, Chapter 21.1, are applicable to all ground ambulance service certificates of necessity, not just those resulting from an initial application or application for amendment. Therefore, the rules resulting from the statutes, included in this rulemaking, are applicable to all certificate holders. There is no “bifurcated regulatory scheme.” The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment.
e	A comment was made that the exempt rulemaking authority in HB 2609 is only for changes related to HB 2609. There are other issues that still need to be resolved, and that “[t]here is an effort to conflate the implementation of	The Department is aware that the exempt rulemaking authority given by HB 2609 is only to make changes related to HB 2609. That is why the Department has sought and received approval for conducting a subsequent rulemaking, during which any outstanding issues may be resolved.

	House Bill 2609 with rule modifications in Articles 9, 10, 11, and 12.”	The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment.
f	A concern was expressed about the definition of “scene locality” in R9-25-901(39).	See the response to comment (1)(a). The Department developed definitions that can use data available through the Census Bureau but that are unique to Arizona. However, the current definitions are what current response times are based on and what stakeholders are familiar with. With certificate holders having to report response times, those response times would have been recorded based on the current definitions. Scene localities may not be in the same category of geographic region under the proposed definitions versus the current definitions, which may create unintended inconsistencies in reported data. To ensure that the Department is complying with the intent of Laws 2022, Ch 381, The Department is planning to revert back to the current definitions, but included under the defined term of “scene locality.” As stated above, the Department does not believe this change to be substantive since the change would not be expected to affect existing certificate holders. Although there may be different response times for different scene localities, the response times for specific scene localities are on certificates of necessity and would not be changed unless and until a review of response times, required by A.R.S. 36-2232(A)(4), revealed that the response times were inappropriate, or if the certificate of necessity were amended.
g	A concern was expressed about transfers of certificates of necessity in R9-25-904.	Subsection (B), which specifies when there is a change in the controlling influence is based on the content of a substantive policy statement that has been in effect, without issues, since 2015. The change of a fire chief would not be considered a change in the controlling influence, but the purchase of a parent company by another entity would be. The prohibition of a service contract between one certificate holder and another certificate holder for one to provide services in a non-overlapping portion of the other’s service area does not prevent back-up agreements, which provide for temporary coverage, but is to prevent the de facto amendment/transfer of both certificate holders’ service areas without going through the amendment or transfer process. The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment.
h	Concerns were expressed about interfacility transports.	See the response to comment (1)(b). Interfacility transports have been discussed in meetings with stakeholders since December 2020, when the definition of “arrival time” was first discussed. The Department has made many changes to the rules since then, based on stakeholder input, related to interfacility transports, to ensure that requirements are not too burdensome on certificate holders while addressing the concerns of health care institutions, and is willing to continue the discussion to refine these rules during the subsequent rulemaking that the Department is beginning.

i	A concern was expressed about the definition of “critical care rate” in R9-25-901(17).	See the response to comment (1)(c).
j	A concern was expressed about response times in R9-25-907, stating that the Department has changed the requirements multiple times during the course of the rulemaking.	Throughout the rulemaking, the Department has expressed the intention of setting benchmark response times for different scene localities and has discussed several mechanisms for determining response times. Certificate holders have provided feedback that first one suggested mechanism to include them into the rules, then another, would not work, without suggesting an alternative that would work for them. During this time, the Department has done extensive research into historical response times, using actual data submitted to AZPIERS, the quality assurance database into which 90 of the 100 certificate holders have been reporting data for years. The Department has presented this data during numerous meetings with stakeholders and has developed the mechanism in rule based on the research and requirements in A.R.S. § 36-2232(A)(3). As specified in R9-25-907(B), the Department plans to set response times based on historical data, the population density and demographics in the service area or proposed service area, the geographic features and environmental conditions within the service area or proposed service area, and the geographic distribution of health care institutions within the service area or proposed service area.  The Department does not plan to change the rules further based on the comment.
k	A concern was expressed about ambulance staffing for providing critical care services in R9-25-908(C)(5)(b).	See the response to comment (1)(d).
l	A concern was expressed about requirements in R9-25-908(E)(1) for certificate holders that opt to contract for external dispatch services, stating that these requirements do not exist for those with internal dispatching.	As stated in the response to comment (1)(e), the rules do not require contracting for dispatching, nor do they pertain only to those who contract for dispatching. As mentioned in paragraph 10 above, the Department had already identified the need to clarify that the written agreement for dispatching could be internal policies and procedures if the ground ambulance service performs its own dispatching and added in subsection (E)(1)(d) “or other agreement,” consistent with the lead-in in subsection (E)(1). Thus, the rule applies equally, regardless of how dispatching is done.

		The Department does not plan to make any other change to the rules based on the comment.
m	A concern was expressed about the reporting methodology for the Ambulance Revenue and Cost Report (ARCR) in R9-25-909, especially related to governmental entities.	The content of R9-25-909 is unchanged from the Exhibits that have been in the rules for over 20 years. It was not the intention in this rulemaking to make changes to the ARCR, just to put the current content into text, rather than in Exhibits. The ARCRs are submitted annually, according to A.R.S. § 36-2232(A)(8), and are used to compare one certificate holder to another when setting rates, and for other purposes. Therefore, all information needs to be provided in a uniform format, regardless of how normal accounting is done for the ground ambulance service. The Department does not plan to make any other change to the rules based on the comment.
n	A concern was expressed about requirements for uniform rates.	See the response to comment (1)(g). Because the Department does not have the authority to prevent a certificate holder under a uniform public rate from requesting a different rate, just authority to approve or deny the request, the new rules do contain a mechanism for a certificate holder to opt out of a uniform public rate. The Department does not plan to make any other change to the rules based on the comment.
o	A concern was expressed about the rate of return in R9-25-1106.	See the response to comment (1)(h).
p	A concern was expressed about periodic review by the Department of rates and charges.	See the response to comment (1)(h).
q	A comment was made that these rules require more stakeholder involvement and input, and that only those requirements in HB 2609 should go forward.	This rulemaking was begun in 2019 and included multiple drafts, extensive comments from stakeholders, and many stakeholder meetings to develop the new rules. For Article 9, seven sets of draft rules have been posted for comment and discussed during 14 meetings. For Article 10, four drafts were posted and two meetings held. Only one draft each has been posted for Articles 11 and 12 and the ARCR. A consolidated draft containing all the Articles was also posted for comment. Throughout the rulemaking process, changes have been made to drafts based on stakeholder input. While the Department is willing to continue the discussion of some issues in a subsequent rulemaking, the Department believes that there has been more than adequate input so far and that most elements of the proposed rules are not of concern. The Department hopes that this rulemaking will be approved as shown in this Notice, with the understanding that additional changes may be made through a subsequent regular rulemaking to address any outstanding stakeholder concerns.

7	The following comments were received from the Arizona Hospital and Healthcare Association:
a	The commenter thanked the Department for the outreach during the rulemaking and for listening to member concerns.	The Department thanks the commenter.
b	A comment was made that the CON system “constitutes monopolies or near monopolies in all areas of the state,” and further stated that “[i]t is inexcusable that agencies granted this monopoly are permitted to “park” patients in an emergency department when those patients are in a medical crisis and require transportation to a higher level of care or specialty hospital.” Because the current rules do not contain a mechanism for the Department to address “non-compliance with appropriate, evidence-based, standards of care,” “[i]t is imperative that the CON process include accountability measures [for interfacility transports] in order to safeguard the public.”	The Department believes that the Department has the statutory authority to regulate the performance of interfacility transports, but has been unable to do so under the current rules, despite receiving multiple concerns and complaints over the years. The Department believes that the proposed rules provide a mechanism to protect patients with time-critical conditions, as well as to collect interfacility transport data for those patients without a time-critical condition, to better assess the extent and seriousness of the issue of the performance of interfacility transports. While acknowledging that the proposed rules do not go as far as some hospital stakeholders would like, the Department has tried to strike a balance between the benefit some stakeholders would receive without undue burden being put on other stakeholders.  The Department does not plan to change the rules based on the comment.
c	A comment was made that some members had originally had concerns about proposed revisions, but that the proposed rules “strikes a compromise for all parties.” The comment was made that “AzHHA strongly recommends that ADHS finalize the revisions to Article 9 as proposed in the NOPR.”	The Department thanks the commenter for the support.
8	The following comments were received from the Dignity Healthcare System:
a	The comment was made that “Dignity Health is pleased to offer this letter of support to the Ground Ambulance Rules proposed in Articles 9, 10, 11 and 12.”	The Department thanks the commenter for the support.
b	A comment was made that Dignity Health facilitates more than 20,000 interfacility transports per year, and that “the lack of transparency, performance expectations and	The Department understands these concerns and has included in the rules mechanisms to try to address them without imposing an undue burden on ground ambulance services.

	evidence-based data has seriously impacted patient care.”
c	A comment was made that including a definition of “time-critical condition” with related requirements will greatly improve the health of these critically ill patients who would be harmed by delays in receiving appropriate treatment.	The Department agrees.
d	A comment was made that a certificate holder’s contention that “if an ambulance provider received a dispatch for an IFT [interfacility transfer] with a time-critical condition and a 9-1-1 dispatch at the same time, the ambulance provider will be forced to choose” demonstrates “the lack of clinical understanding and gravity of “time-critical conditions” as the patient’s needs are immediate and life-threatening. Under this scenario, the ambulance provider should provide an ambulance in BOTH situations.’	The Department agrees.
e	A comment was made that Dignity Health supports the changes in R9-25-906 and R9-25-907 that make “the quality of patient care a priority that must be weighed” by the Department when making a decision and “establishes specific data elements to be collected and analyzed for the purpose of establishing response times and compliance.”	The Department thanks the commenter for the support.
f	A comment was made that Dignity Health supports the changes in R9-25-908(E)(3) and (K)(2), but urges the Department to audit dispatches periodically to ensure that “ambulance providers are providing accurate reported data.”	The Department thanks the commenter for the support.
g	A comment was made that Dignity Health supports the changes in R9-25-1005 related to the installation of global positioning devices in ambulances, as required by statute, and the requirements for requesting a	The Department thanks the commenter for the support. The Department believes that there are many reasons that may cause a certificate holder to request a waiver, and the rules do not list what those reasons would have to be. The Department had received feedback from several stakeholders that it would be easier and more efficient to request a waiver waiver that is not permanent. However, the commenter “recommends a more restrictive waiver such as a ‘one-time temporary waiver of not more than 30 days.”	when an application for ambulance vehicle registration is submitted. The proposed rules better align requests for waiver with annual registrations, based on this feedback, to reduce the financial burden on certificate holders.

The following were provided as oral comments during the Oral Proceeding held on October 16, 2023, then later as written comments.
9	The following comments were provided on behalf of Global Medical Response:
a	A comment was made that the rulemaking be bifurcated to include only those changes required by HB 2609 in one rulemaking and everything else in another. While acknowledging that the bifurcation would lead to a two-month delay in rules related to HB 2609, the commenter stated that this should not be a reason “to implement rules that have major opposition from the ambulance providers.”	The Department disagrees. The current rules have been in place for over 20 years and are badly in need of revision, as identified in two successive five-year-review reports. The Department has worked with stakeholders since 2019 on these rules and made many changes to better accommodate ground ambulance services. The Department believes that most of the changes unrelated to HB 2609 are not points of contention, and many reflect stakeholder suggestions. The few issues being brought up have been discussed, wording drafted, revisions made, and further discussed. The Department is willing to continue to discuss these few issues and refine the requirements, but believes that these few issues should not cause the rulemaking to be delayed.
b	The comment was made that only a few changes are required by HB 2609: - a definition of “response time” to mirror what is in statute; - the following content of the proposed R9-25-907: subsections (A)(1) through (3); subsection (B), with the revision of subsection (B)(9); and subsection (C), with the removal any mention of uniform standards; - the content of the proposed R9-25-908 (G)(1) and (3), specific to 9-1-1 calls; - the content of R9-25-1005(C)(2); and - the content of R9-25-1005(E), but as a permanent waiver.	The Department agrees that only a few changes are specifically required by HB 2609, if the statutory requirement for including quality patient care in decision-making is ignored. That is one reason for the Department’s decision to include them in the rulemaking that had been ongoing for three years at the time that HB 2609 was adopted, with only a few issues outstanding at the time. As discussed above, the interfacility transport of a patient with a time-critical condition meets the statutory definition of an “emergency ambulance transport” and may be requested through a designated telephone number to reach a public safety answering point. Therefore, the Department believes that ambulance stakeholders were correct in requesting that these transports be included under the dispatches for which a response time is applicable. They would also be subject to the other requirements related to response times, which were not included in the commenter’s proposed content. Nor are changes that reflect the emphasis on the provision of quality patient care, which are embedded throughout the proposed rules.
c	Regarding other changes, comments were made that: - the criteria for obtaining a waiver should be identified;	The Department deliberately left the requirement for providing a “reason and justification for the waiver” broad, because there could be many reasons besides connectivity issues or financial issues that could be applicable, and the Department did not want to prevent a waiver being granted on the basis of an unanticipated issue.

	- the definition of “response time” should not include interfacility transports, as it lacks statutory authority;	See the responses to comments (1)(b), (6)(h), (7)(b), (8)(b) and (d), and (9)(b).
	- the current definitions of “urban area,” “suburban area,” “rural area,” and “wilderness area” should be retained;	See the response to comment (1)(a). Under the proposed rules all areas of a city would be considered an “urban area” (except a small city/town of less than 10,000 people, which would be considered a “rural area”), so the neighbor on the other side of the street in a city or town would have the same response time.
	- in R9-25-907(C)(1), developing a set of uniform standards for response times lacks statutory authority;	The Department disagrees. The development of historical response time data, while aggregated on the basis of scene locality, reflects the realities of geography and medical considerations in the areas in which the transport occurred. In addition, as specified in R9-25-907(C)(3), establishing a response time would include consideration of not only the historical data, in the form of the uniform standard, but also other factors specified in subsection (B). These include population demographics, geographic features and environmental conditions, and the geographic distribution of health care institutions within and surrounding the service area or proposed service area. Thus, the factors the statute requires to be considered would be included.
	- all references to interfacility transport response times must be removed because they lack statutory authority;	The Department disagrees. See the responses to comments (1)(b), (6)(h), (7)(b), (8)(b) and (d), and (9)(b).
	- the critical care rate definition should not mention specialty care transports and state that it should be greater than the ALS base rate;	See the response to comment (1)(c).
	- there are concerns about including provisions for joining or leaving a uniform rate group; and	See the responses to comments (1)(g) and (6)(n).
	- there are concerns about the changes to R9-25-1106(C).	See the response to comment (1)(h).
10	The following comments were provided on behalf of Guardian Medical Transport:
a	A comment was made that HB 2609 can only be applied to initial and amended certificates of necessity.	See the responses to comments (6)(b) and (d).
b	A comment was made that “[r]esponse times, as written in the current proposed rules, is not clear and leads to	The Department disagrees that requirements related to response times are unclear. Criteria and factors to be considered are spelled out, as is the methodology the speculation as to what are uniform and fair response times,” recommending that they should continue being discussed under exempt rulemaking in 2024.	Department plans to use, which reflects current practice but is not in the current rules. If issues arise after the rules are implemented, the Department would certainly address them under the exempt rulemaking authority granted by HB 2609 for 12 months after January 1, 2024.

c	A comment was made that interfacility transports should not come under the response time requirements.	See the responses to comments (1)(b), (6)(h), (7)(b), (8)(b) and (d), and (9)(b).
d	A comment was made that the definition of “scene locality” is unclear.	See the responses to comments (1)(a) and (6)(f).
e	A comment was made that the definition of “critical care rate” needs to specify that it be greater than the ALS base rate.	See the response to comment (1)(c).
f	The comment was made that the requirements for dispatch records in R9-25-908(J)(2) should state that the information is only required “as available.”	Many of the elements in R9-25-908(J)(2) are required in the current rules in R9-25-910(B)(8) to be maintained by a certificate holder. Others are required so that response times can be calculated. All are fairly basic and necessary to assess performance. The Department will work with certificate holders to ensure that any information required can be collected and submitted as required to the Department.
The following oral comments were provided during the Oral Proceeding held on October 16, 2023.
11	The following comment was provided by a representative of ABC Ambulance:
	A comment was made that the commenter is looking for three things in a rule: is it in the public’s best interest, is it not arbitrary, and does it apply to all certificate holders. A concern was expressed about R9-25-1108(B), stating that it seems arbitrary and does not apply to everyone.	The Department disagrees that R9-25-1108 is arbitrary or that it does not apply to everyone. As stated above, R9-25-1108(B) clarifies the ability of the Department under statute to “[d]etermine, fix, alter and regulate just, reasonable and sufficient rates and charges.” As such, the review applies to all certificate holders, although not many rates and charges are likely to need adjustment, as indicated by the inclusion of “if appropriate.” To further clarify and add to the statutory authority, the Department plans to add a citation to A.R.S. § 36-2232(A)(4), since a review of response times may result in changes, which could have a financial impact (as anticipated in statute) and lead to a need to alter rates and charges.
12	The following comment was provided by a representative of the Arizona Ambulance Association and Golder Ranch Fire District:
	In addition to the comments submitted as written comment set (6), a comment was made that the Association supports the changes needing to be made to implement HB 2609, but that other changes in the rules “are being	The Department stated during the Oral Proceeding that removing anything that is not specific to HB 2609 would constitute a substantive change and cause at least a two-month delay in the submission of a Notice of Final Rulemaking to GRRC. This Notice would also be in conflict with the plan of action that the department gave to GRRC as

	pushed through. There is no time-line to implement them.” A request was made to only implement requirements associated with HB 2609 and continue working on other parts of the rule.	part of two five-year-review reports. If changes are needed to rules addressing changes made by HB 2609, the Department has stated repeatedly, that an exempt rulemaking would be initiated, with the Governor’s approval, to address them. Similarly, unresolved issues could be further discussed and tweaked as part of a subsequent regular rulemaking, given the Governor’s approval.
13	The following comments were provided by a representative of American Medical Response:
	Two handouts were distributed, the first containing suggested wording to address elements of HB 2609, and the second listing concerns about other parts of the rulemaking. These handouts were also submitted as written comments, included as comment set (9). The commenter asked that the rules be bifurcated because “some is arbitrary and capricious, some has no statutory authority, some is very expensive.” The commenter reviewed the content of the handouts. Concerns were expressed about the definition of “response time,” inclusion of interfacility transports in R9-25-907(A), development of uniform standards for response times in R9-25-907(C), and requiring an annual waiver. The concerns in comment set (9)(c) were also reviewed.	The Department disagrees. Not just 9-1-1 calls can go through a public safety answering point (PSAP), as seen in the statutory definition of “emergency ambulance services” in A.R.S. § 20-2801. See also the response to comment (1)(b) regarding the statutory authority to regulate interfacility transports. See also the responses to comment set (9).
14	The following comments were provided by a representative of Health Care Innovations, Inc. in Cochise County:
	A comment was made that “[i]nterfacility transport oversight reporting has no reason to be in rule and regulation.” The commenter was concerned about a doctor, nurse, other provider making a determination that a patient has a time-critical condition without knowing what else is going on in the CON “is outlandish.” Reporting will be expensive to small rural providers.	The Department believes that the individual actually providing services to a patient is in the best position to determine whether a patient has a time-critical condition. See also comment (8)(d). For the interfacility transport of a patient with no time-critical condition, the rules allow for a certificate holder to provide an amended estimated time of arrival if conditions, such as multiple 9-1-1 calls or other situations, occur that would prevent the timely arrival of an interfacility transport. The Department intends to make reporting as easy as possible to reduce the burden on all ground ambulance services.
15	The following comments were provided by a representative of Public Policy Partners, which also submitted comment set (1) on behalf of clients including American Medical Response: a	A comment was made that the Department has exempt rulemaking authority now to implement the requirements in HB 2609.	The Department disagrees. HB 2609 states that the Department is exempt from rulemaking requirements in Title 4, Chapter 6 “for one year after the effective date of this act.” The act “is effective from and after December 31, 2023.”

b	A question was asked about the purpose of the meeting if nothing will be done on the basis of comments received.	The Department is able to make clarifying changes to the proposed rules, as long as the changes are not substantive. As described above, the Department plans to make some clarifying changes on the basis of comments received. A great many changes have been made in drafts posted and discussed since 2019 on the basis of stakeholder comments. The Department disagrees with some comments made during the informal rulemaking process, has worked to make the requirements fair to all stakeholders, and has tried to make the rules something that everyone can live with. Ambulance services are not the only stakeholders. To address issues that some ambulance services have concerns about, the Department is willing to conduct subsequent rulemakings, exempt for HB 2609 issues and regular for other issues, to attempt to improve consensus.
c	The comment was made that the rulemaking should be bifurcated and everything not required by HB 2609 be taken out of the rulemaking going to GRRC.	As stated before, the Department cannot make a substantive change to the proposed rules without filing a Notice of Supplemental Proposed Rulemaking, which would delay the submission of a Notice of Final Rulemaking to GRRC by at least two months. The Notice of Final Rulemaking would also not satisfy the commitment the Department gave to GRRC to address the issues identified in the five-year-review reports.
d	A comment was made that the Department does not have the statutory authority to make some of the changes in the proposed rules. Recent changes in A.R.S. Title 41 were cited as requiring statutory authority for a rule requirement. A statement was also made that the Department does not have authority to regulate hospitals.	The Department disagrees and believes there is statutory authority for everything in the proposed rules, as discussed above. With respect to the statement that the Department does not have statutory authority to regulate hospitals, the Department again disagrees, since A.R.S. Title 36, Chapter 4, gives the Department statutory authority to regulate health care institutions, and hospitals represent a class of health care institution.
e	A comment was made that exempt rulemaking authority only applies to things covered under HB 2609.	The Department agrees, as stated above.
16	The following comments were provided by a representative of the Mesa Fire Department and the Arizona Ambulance Association:
a	A comment was made that most ambulance services do not think that the rules are being rushed, stating that it has been a very long process and	The Department thanks the commenter.

	expressing appreciation for engaging stakeholders early and often.
b	A comment was made that stakeholders are very diverse. Even among ambulance services, interests of one may be different from interests of another.	The Department agrees.
c	From the Mesa Fire Department standpoint, the commenter stated there were no concerns. From the Association's standpoint, the commenter stated that some have concerns about the GPS requirements and the waiver and want clarification.	The Department will work with and provide technical assistance to those who have questions about implementation of the GPS requirement. As stated in the responses to comments (1)(f) and (6)(a), the reasons for requesting a waiver may include other concerns besides connectivity or financial concerns, so the rules just require some reason and justification for the waiver. The annual timing for requesting the waiver was added at the suggestion of stakeholders who thought it would be better to request the waiver when submitting an application for registering the ambulance.
d	The statement was made that if interfacility transports are not working, it will impact the 9-1-1 side of operations. The commenter expressed appreciation for tying them into the rules.	The Department agrees and thanks the commenter.
17	The following comments were provided by a representative of the Arizona Hospital and Healthcare Association, which also submitted comment set (7):
a	A comment was made thanking the Department for the collaboration in developing these rules, stating that the rulemaking has been going on for a very long time and has not been rushed.	The Department agrees and thanks the commenter.
b	A comment was made that there have been consistent and increasing concerns expressed by members about the time delays for interfacility transports. There is no mechanism for collecting data, evaluating performance, or holding certificate holders responsible for providing a standard of care. The comment was made that it is very important to have these quality assurance methods to safeguard the public.	The Department agrees. The Department has also received complaints and concerns about the performance of interfacility transports. Under the current rules, however, there is very little the Department can do. See also the responses to comments (1)(b), (6)(h), and (8)(b).

c	A comment was made that, although the requirements for interfacility transports do not go as far as some members would like, they do strike a balance in minimizing the burden on certificate holders. They reflect the Department intention that the most medically fragile patients, whether held in an emergency department or in the field, receive appropriate treatment in a timely manner.	The Department agrees and thanks the commenter. The Department believes that, in establishing parameters for the performance of interfacility transports and in gathering information about them, the Department will be able to better target efforts to improve patient care and the safety of patients and the public.
18	The following comments were provided by a representative of Guardian Medical Transport:
a	A comment was made that this rulemaking has taken cliff notes and transformed them into a book. However, some things are still unclear.	The Department is happy to try to clarify anything that is unclear.
b	The comment was made that HB 2609 only applies to initial and amended certificates of necessity. Requirements based on HB 2609 would not be applicable to existing certificate holders.	See the responses to comments (6)(b) and (6)(d).
c	Concerns were expressed about response times, interfacility transports, scene locality, critical care rate, and dispatch records.	See the responses to the comments above.
19	The following comments were provided by a representative of Health Care Innovations, Inc.:
	A comment was made that there is “a lot of finger-pointing between hospitals and ambulance services. .... We need to start working together so you are not holding us up, and we are not holding you up.” The commenter also stated that they “have a great relationship with our two hospitals.”	The Department thanked the commenter for the comment.

1. An identification of the rulemaking

Arizona Revised Statutes (A.R.S.) §§ 36-2202(A)(3) and (4) and 36-2209(A)(2) require the Arizona Department of Health Services (Department) to adopt standards and criteria pertaining to the quality of emergency care, rules necessary for the operation of emergency medical services, and rules for carrying out the purposes of A.R.S. Title 36, Chapter 21.1. A.R.S. Title 36, Chapter 21.1, Article 2, specifies requirements related to the regulation of ground ambulance services. The Department has adopted rules to implement these statutes in 9 A.A.C. 25. The rules in 9 A.A.C. 25, Articles 9, 10, and 11, establish requirements for ground ambulance certificates of necessity, for registration of ground ambulance vehicle, and for ground ambulance service rates and charges and contracts, respectively, to ensure the health and safety of patients being transported. In a five-year-review report approved by the Governor's Regulatory Review Council on July 6, 2017, the Department identified several issues with these rules and proposed a rulemaking to address these issues. These issues include non-compliance with A.R.S. § 41-1080, unclear requirements, requirements inconsistent with current standards of operation for ground ambulance services, and poor organization of the rules. All of these issues may affect the effectiveness of the rules and, thus, threaten the health and safety of patients being transported. The Department also requested input from stakeholders to identify additional issues. Laws 2022, Ch. 381, made statutory changes that required additional revisions of the rules. The rulemaking revises the rules in 9 A.A.C. 25, Articles 9 through 11, to address these issues and other issues identified by stakeholders as part of the rulemaking process and to restructure the rules to improve clarity, remove duplication, and increase effectiveness. Clarifying changes are also being made in Articles 1 and 12. This rulemaking, which was begun in 2019 and continued through the fall of 2023, included multiple drafts, extensive comments from stakeholders, and many stakeholder meetings to develop the proposed rules.

2. Identification of the persons who will be directly affected by, bear the costs of, or directly benefit from the rules

- The Department
- Certificate holders (public and private ground ambulance services)
- Hospitals and other health care institutions
- Air ambulance services
- Fire services that are not certificate holders
- Emergency medical care technicians (EMCTs)
- Patients and their families
- General public

3. Cost/Benefit Analysis

This analysis covers costs and benefits associated with the rule changes and does not describe effects imposed by statutes. Although five new FTEs were allocated to the Department to implement Laws 2022, Ch. 381, no new FTEs will be requested due to this rulemaking as long as the Department continues to receive an appropriation to support the five new FTEs. Annual costs/revenues changes are designated as minimal when more than $0 and $2,000 or less, moderate when between $2,000 and $20,000, and substantial when $20,000 or greater in additional costs or revenues. A cost is listed as significant when meaningful or important, but not readily subject to quantification. In this analysis, as in the new rules, citations to statutes are to the versions of statutes that will be in effect as of January 1, 2024.

- The Department

The rules in Articles 9, 10, and 11 were adopted by final rulemaking, effective February 13, 2001, to establish rules related to initial and renewal certificates of necessity; ground ambulance registration; and ground ambulance service rates, contracts, subscription service, other charges, and invoicing. At the time of the 2001 rulemaking, there were 83 ground ambulance services operating in Arizona. Of these, 20 were private, for-profit businesses; 11 were private, non-profit businesses; and 52 were owned or operated by political subdivisions. As of October 1, 2023, there were 100 ground ambulance services operating in Arizona under Article 9. Of these, 23 are private, for-profit businesses; five are private, non-profit businesses; 21 are municipal ground ambulance services; 47 are fire districts established under A.R.S. Title 48, Chapter 5; one is operated under tribal authority; two are operated by hospitals; and one is operated by a county. Under Article 10, the Department has 984 registered ground ambulance vehicles as of September 26, 2023. All fees collected by the Department, which have been unchanged since at least 1993, are specified in A.R.S. §§ 36-2212 and 36-2240 and are paid into the state general fund.

All but seven of the rules in Articles 9, 10, and 11 have been unchanged since adoption in 2001. The current rules are out-of-date, unclear, and poorly structured. Besides changes required by Laws 2022, Ch. 381, the current rules are also inconsistent with A.R.S. § 41-1080 and with the requirements in A.R.S. § 36-2247, as added by Laws 2019, Ch. 100, related to amendments due to a name change. There are also changes needed to reflect current application requirements, including changes that would allow for electronic submission of applications, as well as other documents, as available, such as back-up agreements, deployment plans, or plans for use of traffic preemption equipment, that may help the Department when reviewing an application. Changes to requirements to comply with new statutory requirements or that more clearly specify information that the Department currently collects and needs to make a decision on an application are expected to provide a significant benefit to the Department, especially in view of the new requirements for the review of initial or amended applications for a certificate of necessity under A.R.S. § 36-2233, and may result in a minimal-to-moderate reduction in costs incurred by the Department to provide extensive technical assistance to applicants. However, the increased monitoring required of the Department could result in up to substantial costs to the Department. The new rules also clarify that the Department may approve an application with special limitations or conditions, based on the best interest of the public. This change may also provide a significant benefit to the Department.

In addition, the new rules clarify other requirements in the existing rules, including requirements for insurance, record retention, staffing, communications and advertising, transport, and submission of Ambulance Revenue and Cost Reports. They also include a reorganization of requirements, to improve understandability, for certificates of necessity, registration of ground ambulance vehicles, and rates and charges. The current rules rely heavily on applicants and certificate holders consulting statutes, in addition to the rules, to determine how to comply with requirements, and may leave much to interpretation. The new rules clarify requirements in statute to make it easier for regulated entities to comply with all requirements, and subsequently for the Department to regulate these entities. Additions to the rules to improve compliance with statutory requirements include clarifying that a certificate holder shall not discontinue service, except as provided in A.R.S. § 36-2238, if a transfer application is denied; specifying requirements for notification of a service area change under A.R.S. § 36-2233(I)(2); and clarifying that a certificate holder is required by A.R.S. § 36-2232(C)(4) to notify the Department of a change in the number or location of suboperation stations in the certificate holder's service area. Because certificate holders are in a better position to identify instances of a situation or circumstance specified according to A.R.S. § 36-2211(A) with an EMCT under the certificate holder's control, adding requirements for addressing such instances may lead to a problem being dealt with sooner, improving patient safety. The Department anticipates that these changes may provide a significant benefit to the Department.

Although the current rules include requirements in R9-25-1001(C) and R9-25-1005 for the inspection of a ground ambulance vehicle, the Department must rely on requirements specified in statutes for inspection of a ground ambulance service. To be more transparent about inspections and investigations and make requirements simpler and easier to understand, the new rules have added in the new R9-25-910 requirements for inspections and investigations of ground ambulance services and in the new R9-25-1004 requirements for ground ambulance vehicle inspections. The rules in R9-25-910 specify that the Department may conduct an inspection of a ground ambulance service, consistent with A.R.S. §§ 36-2204, 36-2212, 36-2232, and 36-2241, and an investigation of a ground ambulance service, consistent with A.R.S. § 36-2245. The rules in R9-25-1004 include requirements in the current R9-25-1005, but move the Table, currently embedded in R9-25-1005, into its own Section, Table 10.1, to improve ease of use. The Department believes that these changes may provide a significant benefit to the Department.

Another topic specified in statutes for which the Department currently has no specific rules is that of uniform general public rates under A.R.S. § 36-2232(E). The new rules add requirements for how certificate holders may apply for a uniform general public rate and for how applicants for an initial certificate of necessity may apply to join a group of certificate holders with a uniform general public rate under A.R.S. § 36-2232(E). Because a certificate holder with a uniform general public rate under A.R.S. § 36-2232(E) may find a need to apply for a different general public rate, the new rules add requirements for how that would be done, including what is required of other certificate holders under a uniform general public rate under A.R.S. § 36-2232(E) if a certificate holder currently under the uniform general public rate is approved for a different general public rate. By reducing confusion and the need for technical assistance, the Department estimates that these changes may provide a significant benefit to the Department.

In the past, the rules were vague about the mechanism by which the Department determined appropriate response times and included response times on certificates of necessity, leaving much to the current R9-25-906(5). The new rules clarify and specify the factors the Department will consider when establishing response times, priority for responses, and compliance with response times. In order to be compliant with statutory requirements that require the Department to develop response time standards for urban, suburban, rural and wilderness areas, the new rules specify that the Department may develop a set of uniform standards for response times based on historical response time data, compare the actual performance of a ground ambulance service to the applicable uniform standard, and establish response times based on the applicable uniform standard and other factors brought up by an applicant. The new rules also clarify that the Department may take enforcement action, if appropriate, against a certificate holder based on response-time performance. In addition, the new rules update the basis for determining public necessity for an initial or amended certificate of necessity based on the emphasis on quality patient care and the public's best interest in Laws 2022, Ch 381. The Department believes that these additions/clarifications may provide a significant benefit to the Department.

The current rules contain very little about interfacility transports, those transports between two health care institutions, so there is currently little the Department can do in response to calls or complaints from health care institutions or patients about problems experienced with these transports. These interfacility transports may be routine, such as taking a patient from a nursing care institution to a hospital for a medical procedure, then returning the patient to the nursing care institution. They could also include the transport of a trauma victim from a small hospital to a trauma center, at which the patient can receive appropriate medical care. Hospitals cannot dial 9-1-1 to request the emergency transport of a patient. Public safety answering points (PSAPs) provide most dispatches to ground ambulance services in Arizona. PSAPs are required to maintain a telephone number that hospitals can dial to request an immediate dispatch of a ground ambulance vehicle, but the method by which a hospital may contact a ground ambulance service for an interfacility transport can vary by location. The new rules contain requirements for both emergency ambulance interfacility transports and for other, non-emergency interfacility transports. Based on stakeholder requests, the definition of "response time" now includes interfacility transports for patients with time-critical conditions, including patients experiencing a stroke, ST Elevated Myocardial Infarction (STEMI), major trauma, or hemodynamically unstable condition. These are just as much of an emergency transport as one resulting from dialing 9-1-1, and the same times apply for a ground ambulance service to get to the scene after a call is received. For interfacility transports of patients with no time-critical condition, the new rules require certificate holders to ensure that a health care institution is provided with an estimated time of arrival and requirements for what a ground ambulance service must do if circumstances occur that prevent a ground ambulance vehicle from arriving within 60 minutes of the estimated time of arrival or as otherwise specified on the certificate holder's certificate of necessity. The Department anticipates that having requirements related to interfacility transports may provide the Department with a significant benefit.

- Applicants for and certificate holders of ground ambulance service certificates of necessity, both publicly owned and private entities

As mentioned above, there are approximately 100 certificate holders operating ground ambulance services in Arizona under Article 9. Over the past five years, the Department has received an average of approximately six new applications per year for certificates of necessity. As of September 26, 2023, the Department has 984 ground ambulance vehicles registered under Article 10. The number of registered ground ambulance vehicles varies due to older ground ambulance vehicles being taken out of service and new ones being added or because a ground ambulance vehicle's registration expires and an application for a new initial registration must be submitted. It is important to note that since Arizona's ground ambulance rules have not been substantially changed for over twenty years, the proposed costs outlined in this EIS will not be substantial for certificate holders who operate a ground ambulance service that has kept up to date with national industry standards.

The new rules provide clarity to applicants and certificate holders about requirements for initial and renewal applications for certificates of necessity, as well as for amendments to a certificate of necessity, the registration of ground ambulance vehicles, and initiating or adjusting rates and charges. Many of the additions reflect the current implementation of the 22-year-old rules. Although the proposed rules do not increase any application fees, which are specified in statutes, applicants for ground ambulance service certificates of necessity may incur minimal increased costs from additional submission requirements now specified in the rules, but may also receive a significant benefit from knowing beforehand what information and documents should or could be provided, instead of being asked by the Department for these documents once an application has been submitted, which can cause the application process to be longer overall. If all information and documentation is submitted up front during the initial submission of an application, then there might be fewer additional requests for information and, thus, decreased application processing time.

As mentioned above, the new rules also include a reorganization of requirements, which may improve understandability and reduce duplication, as well as allow for electronic submissions. To improve transparency, the new rules include better descriptions of the factors the Department may consider when making a decision, the bases for denying an application, and the appeal process. They also specify that the Department may approve an application with special limitations or conditions, based on the best interest of the public, which has been done for years without being mentioned in rule. The Department believes that these changes may provide applicants for and certificate holders of certificates of necessity with a significant benefit. While a product of requirements in Laws 2022, Ch. 381, rather than the rules themselves, the reduction in the time the Department has to make a decision on an application for an initial or amended certificate of necessity, which is included in this rulemaking, may also provide a significant benefit to an applicant or a certificate holder.

Currently, requirements for the transfer of a certificate of necessity are embedded in R9-25-902 and may be confusing as to what circumstances require a transfer, as well as the factors being considered when determining whether to approve a transfer application. This confusion has been addressed in the past by the adoption of two substantive policy statements: SP-052-PHS-EMS: Clarification for When a Transfer of a Certificate of Necessity Is Required Under A.R.S. § 36-2236 and 9 A.A.C. 25, Article 9, and SP-055-PHS-EMS: Clarification of Requirements for a Transfer of a Certificate of Necessity. The new rules clarify what circumstances require a transfer application to be submitted, what the certificate holder needs to do, what the person to whom the certificate of necessity may be transferred needs to do, and what the Department considers when making a decision about a transfer. The Department anticipates that the specification and clarification of requirements related to transfer applications may provide a significant benefit to a certificate holder wanting to transfer a certificate of necessity, as well as to the person to which the certificate may be transferred. A certificate holder wanting to transfer a certificate of necessity and the person to which the certificate holder plans to transfer the certificate of necessity may incur a substantial reduction in revenue only if the factors in the new rules cause the transfer application to be denied. However, if a transfer were not allowable for some reason under the new rule requirements, then an applicant may choose to apply for an initial certificate of necessity under the new rules instead.

Under the current rules in R9-25-904, an applicant for a renewal of a certificate of necessity must submit an application packet to the Department at least 60 days before the expiration date of the certificate of necessity. In the new, renumbered rules in R9-25-903, this deadline is reduced to 30 days, providing extra time for a certificate holder to apply and potentially a significant benefit, which should more than offset any extra time it may take to provide the additional information about the identity of the applicant being required, consistent with current implementation of the rules, or attestation of complying with requirements. The new rules also replace an affirmation that the certificate holder has and is continuing to meet the conditions of the certificate of necessity with a more realistic requirement for other documentation if an instance of noncompliance has been identified, as well as requiring a certificate holder to update the Department about back-up agreements. In addition, the new rules clarify what happens if a certificate holder fails to file a timely renewal application, and requires notification of the Department if the certificate holder does not plan to renew the certificate of necessity, so the Department can arrange for temporary coverage of the service area, under A.R.S. § 36-2242, to protect public health and safety. The Department believes that for most certificate holders, these changes may cause the certificate holder to incur at most a minimal increase in costs. For a certificate holder that is not in compliance with requirements in statutes and rules and not providing good patient care, the new rules may cause the certificate holder to incur up to substantial additional costs to meet the required standards and improve patient care before renewal or face enforcement actions.

In the new rules, R9-25-905 is changed to comply with A.R.S. § 36-2247, as added by Laws 2019, Ch. 100, with respect to name changes. The requirements for other types of amendments are also specified in a manner to improve understandability and ease of use. To clarify when a change in service area does not require an amendment, just notification of the Department, subsection (D) is added to account for certificates of necessity granted under A.R.S. § 36-2233(I)(2). The Department anticipates that these changes may cause at most a minimal increase in costs to a certificate holder and may provide a significant benefit through the improved clarity of the requirements.

In the renumbered R9-25-906, the new rules update the basis for determining public necessity for an initial or amended certificate of necessity based on the emphasis in Laws 2022, Ch. 381. Because the EMS system in Arizona has evolved to the point where there are many overlapping service areas in which multiple ground ambulance services may provide more than one type of service, subsection (C) is being struck and combined with subsection (B), which is being revised to include all types of service, not just convalescent and interfacility transports, and updated to include the information the Department needs to make a decision. In the renumbered R9-25-907, the Department is clarifying and specifying the factors the Department will consider when establishing response times, priority for responses, and compliance with response times. The new rule specifies that the Department may develop a set of uniform standards for response times based on historical response time data, compare the actual performance of a ground ambulance service to the applicable uniform standard, establish response times based on the applicable uniform standard and other factors, and take enforcement action, if appropriate, against a certificate holder based on response-time performance. The rule also specifies how the Department will determine compliance with the plan related to interfacility transports. The rules specify that the Department may periodically assess whether there have been changes in public necessity associated with a certificate of necessity and whether response times, the priority assigned by a certificate holder to a response, the plan for providing interfacility transports of patients with no time-critical condition, and overall compliance, as associated with a certificate of necessity, are appropriate to ensure quality patient care. The Department estimates that these changes may cause up to a substantial decrease in revenue or increase in costs, as applicable, to an applicant for an initial certificate of necessity or a certificate holder, especially for a certificate holder not currently providing quality patient care, and may provide a significant benefit through the improved clarity of the requirements. For an applicant proposing a business model focused on providing quality patient care or for a certificate holder already providing quality patient care, the financial impact would be expected to be much less.

With respect to interfacility transports, there are really no requirements in the current rules that specifically enable the Department to regulate them, although the Department has statutory authority to do so. Some certificates of necessity list them as a type of service, but many legacy ground ambulance services provide interfacility transports without specifically having them listed on their certificate of necessity. The new rules contain requirements that allow the Department to monitor interfacility transports and, potentially, require performance improvement. As mentioned above, the definition of “response time” includes interfacility transports of patients with a time-critical condition, at the recommendation of stakeholders. Therefore, all requirements related to response times would cover these transports. For an interfacility transport of a patient with no time-critical condition, the new rules contain: requirements for a certificate holder to have a plan for how to handle requests for these transports; performance requirements for the transports; and requirements for a certificate holder to analyze performance and report the results to the Department. The rules contain a delayed effective date for the latter requirement, regarding performance assessments of interfacility transports of patients with a non-time critical condition, in order to provide time for the Department and certificate holders to address concerns and develop procedures to comply with the new requirements. The new rules also require that instances of noncompliance with standards be reviewed through a quality improvement process. The Department anticipates that developing and implementing such a plan, and analyzing performance and how the plan is working, may cause a certificate holder that did not already have a plan for interfacility transports and was not already assessing performance to ensure quality patient care to incur up to substantial costs to comply with new requirements for interfacility transports, but may provide a significant benefit in ensuring the provision of quality patient care.

In the new R9-25-908, requirements related to operating a ground ambulance services are gathered into one place, rather than being scattered in several Sections. Requirements for insurance are moved from the current R9-25-909. Requirements for record retention are moved from the current R9-25-910, and records now required in rule are added to the list. Requirements for staffing are moved from the current R9-25-1004 and R9-25-1006, and references to requirements in R9-25-201 are added to improve clarity, understandability, and compliance. In addition, staffing requirements for the provision of critical care services have been added with a delayed implementation date to allow time to complete a rulemaking in Articles 3 and 4 of the Chapter related to the addition of requirements for Paramedics with a critical care endorsement. Requirements related to communications and advertising, currently in R9-25-911, are also moved into the new Section, as are requirements for transport, moved from the current R9-25-907 and R9-25-908. The Department believes that these additions/clarifications may impose at most a minimal cost to a certificate holder while also providing a significant benefit.

Several new requirements have been included in R9-25-908. Subsections (E)(1) and (2) of the new R9-25-908 specify requirements for dispatch and scheduling, including requirements for providing dispatch. These requirements were added to address issues the Department has identified related to patient health and safety, and the changes recognize the industry best practice of dispatching the closest, most appropriate ambulance unit to a scene to improve patient outcomes, especially for time-critical conditions. Requirements in subsection (E)(1) reflect how the dispatch system currently works in almost all service areas, while requirements in subsection (E)(2) serve more to clarify how things should be working than making a change. Therefore, they should have at most minimal economic effects on most certificate holders. For those certificate holders that do not have a process for dispatching a ground ambulance vehicle of another certificate holder to respond to a call to which a ground ambulance vehicle of the certificate holder cannot respond, or that, except as provided in subsection (E)(2), do not require the nearest ground ambulance vehicle to a patient's location in an overlapping service area to be dispatched in response to a 9-1-1 call may incur up to a substantial reduction in income or up to a substantial increase in costs due to the rule changes. These changes would not be expected to have any effect on a rural certificate holder that is the sole ground ambulance service in a service area.

The Department has received many calls expressing concerns with how long it takes for a ground ambulance service to arrive after a request is made for a routine interfacility transport. Other callers have expressed concern about the number of times an estimated time of arrival is amended. While the Department understands that circumstances may occur that would cause a ground ambulance service to prioritize a different transport over a routine interfacility transport, the Department also believes that some standards are needed for the performance of interfacility transports of patients with no time-critical condition. The requirements in R9-25-908(E)(3) are standards for providing an interfacility transport of a patient with no time-critical condition, as briefly described above. These requirements were added to address issues the Department has identified related to patient health and safety, as well as concerns expressed by health care institutions. They require the entity receiving the request for the interfacility transport, which could be a PSAP or a person within a ground ambulance service's business structure or under contract, to provide an estimated time of arrival to the requester; give a certificate holder options as to how to handle the request if the estimated time of arrival changes to a later time, taking into consideration the patient's condition and needs, as well as health and safety; provide a benchmark, with a delayed implementation date, of how much leeway a certificate holder has to get a ground ambulance vehicle to the patient's location to account for traffic conditions, the completion of another ambulance run, or other factors; and require any interfacility transports that fall outside the benchmark to be reviewed through the ground ambulance service's quality improvement process to identify factors that may have contributed to the failure so they can be addressed. The rules allow for the estimated time of arrival to be specified in a written agreement between the certificate holder and the person requesting an interfacility transport. The Department believes that a certificate holder that is not currently monitoring and addressing issues related to interfacility transports of patients with no time-critical condition could experience up to a substantial cost to comply with these requirements, but might receive a significant benefit from improved patient care coordination and communication between health care institutions and the ground ambulance provider service.

The Department believes that a ground ambulance service concerned about providing quality patient care would already be analyzing performance. Subsections (G) and (H) of the new R9-25-908 contain requirements for a certificate holder to assess response times internally at least every six months for compliance with requirements on the certificate holder's certificate of necessity and, by January 1, 2025, to assess performance of interfacility transports of patients with no time-critical condition at least every six months. Once occurring, the results of the performance assessments are required to be reported to the Department annually. If performance does not meet the requirements specified in the rules, a certificate holder is required to submit a corrective action plan to describe how the failure to comply with requirements will be addressed. The Department estimates that these changes may cause a certificate holder that is already assessing performance and providing quality patient care to incur at most moderate increased costs, mainly associated with reporting information to the Department, while a certificate holder that is not currently assessing performance or is not providing quality patient care may incur a substantial increase in costs to implement a corrective action plan to comply with these requirements. By enabling a certificate holder to provide better patient care, these requirements may also provide a significant benefit to a certificate holder.

The Department currently collects, through AZPIERS, patient level data about ambulance response and transport for quality assurance purposes under A.R.S. § 36-2402 from 90 of the 100 ground ambulance services with certificates of necessity issued under these rules. Ground ambulance services have been voluntarily reporting these data to the Department for over 10 years. To better enable the Department to assess the entire emergency medical system in Arizona, the new rules specify the content of a prehospital incident history report and require the submission of a prehospital incident history report for each patient, based on National EMS Information System (NEMSIS) standards that have been adopted by ambulance providers in every state. These data are only used for quality assurance purposes. The new requirements should cause at most a minimal additional cost to those ground ambulance services already submitting these data to the Department and provide a significant benefit in enabling better patient care. For those few certificate holders not currently submitting data, the Department will accept data from ground ambulance services using their own electronic Patient Care Reporting (ePCR) system, or they may receive free software from the Department to enable them to submit this data. The Department anticipates that a certificate holder not currently submitting data for quality assurance purposes may incur minimal-to-moderate additional costs due to this new requirement.

The content of dispatch records, required in R9-25-910(B)(8) of the current rules, is also clarified in the new rules in R9-25-908(J)(2) and includes the information necessary for the Department to assess compliance with requirements in the rules. When the current rules were adopted, most of this information was contained in paper records, copies of which a certificate holder would be required to submit to the Department upon request. Now the information is collected and stored electronically, and the new rules require a certificate holder to submit them to the Department electronically. These data include information required to calculate response times in compliance with A.R.S. § 36-2232(A)(3). The Department expects this submission to be through a mechanism that is currently in place and widely-used to reduce the potential for additional costs. The Department believes that the changes may cause a certificate holder to incur up to a moderate increase in costs to comply with the requirements.

With the emphasis placed on the provision of quality patient care by Laws 2022, Ch. 381, which made changes to multiple statutes within A.R.S. Title 9, Chapter 21.1, and national standards for the provision of emergency medical services, the new rules include requirements for assuring consistent, compliant performance. These new requirements include a certificate holder having policies and procedures for complaint resolution; assessing the ground ambulance's compliance with requirements in statute and rule; notifying the Department of identified instances of noncompliance; and establishing, documenting, and implementing a quality improvement process. The new R9-25-908 includes requirements for the quality improvement process and for submitting data to the Department. The Department expects that these requirements may cause a ground ambulance service that already performs quality improvement processes and is already ensuring quality patient care to incur up to a moderate increase in costs to comply with the requirements, while a certificate holder that is not assessing how the provision of services affects the quality of patient care could incur up to substantial increase in costs due to the requirements.

The new rules also contain requirements for a certificate holder to address instances of a situation or circumstance specified according to A.R.S. § 36-2211(A) with an EMCT under a certificate holder's control, since they are in the best position to identify such a situation. The Department believes that most certificate holders are already monitoring the actions of their EMCTs and dealing with situations as they arise. For them, this new requirement is just a clarification. For a certificate holder that is not monitoring the actions of EMCTs, this new requirement could result in up to a substantial cost to implement the new requirements, depending on the number of actions that would need to be taken. The new rules also clarify that a certificate holder is required by A.R.S. § 36-2232(C)(4) to notify the Department of a change in the number or location of suboperation stations in the certificate holder's service area. The Department believes that this change may cause a ground ambulance service to incur up to a minimal increase in costs. Both new requirements may provide a significant benefit to a certificate holder.

In the current rules, the two versions of Ambulance Revenue and Cost Report, required under A.R.S. §§ 36-2232(A)(8) and 36-2246, are forms that are incorporated as Exhibits. While a certificate holder can currently fill out the forms electronically, rather than on paper, they have to be printed out and submitted in hard copy or made into a pdf. In the new rules, the two Exhibits are being repealed and replaced with a description of the information currently on the forms. While a certificate holder is expected to continue to refer to online forms for data entry, taking the forms out of rule could facilitate making data entry easier and more understandable, as well as making the rules much more concise, and may facilitate the electronic submission of data. The Department anticipates that this change may cause a certificate holder to incur as much as a minimal increase in costs to become familiar with the narrative, and may provide a significant benefit to certificate holders if reporting can be streamlined and the information submitted electronically.

As mentioned above, there are currently no rules in Article 9 for the inspection of ground ambulance services, and the Department must rely on requirements specified in statutes for these inspections. The new rules are more transparent about inspections and investigations and make the process easier to understand. They also include provisions for the acceptance of a corrective action plan to address identified deficiencies, in lieu of the Department taking enforcement actions. The new rules also clarify actions the Department may take in enforcing the rules and statutes and include, not only actions against a ground ambulance service's certificate of necessity, but also actions against a certificate of registration of a ground ambulance vehicle operated by the ground ambulance service. The Department anticipates that the clarity and transparency of these changes may provide a significant benefit to a certificate holder.

The rules in 9 A.A.C. 25, Article 10, pertain to ground ambulance vehicles. Subsection (A) of R9-25-1001 is being added, consistent with what is currently in R9-25-801 for air ambulances, to clarify eligibility requirements. A new Section, R9-25-1002, is being added to clarify the term of a certificate of registration and that, according to A.R.S. § 36-2212(C), a certificate of registration is not transferable from one owner to another. At the suggestion of stakeholders, the requirements currently in R9-25-1003 are being included in the new Table 10.2 to improve clarity and understandability, and the current R9-25-1003 is being repealed, and a new Section, clarifying what changes affect the registration of a ground ambulance vehicle and the Department's actions upon notification of each type of change, is being renumbered into it. Rather than having requirements for inspections and an embedded Table describing major defects and minor defects in the same Section, the new rules split out the current requirements for inspections into the new R9-25-1004 and the new Table 10.1. The requirements in the current R9-25-1006 were also split out, with subsection (A) being moved to the new R9-25-1005(A) and subsection (B) being moved to R9-25-908(C)(1), and the Section repealed. The Department expects that these changes to clarify and restructure requirements may provide a significant benefit to a certificate holder and could impose at most minimal costs to become familiar with the new structure of the rules.

While most of the requirements in the new R9-25-1005 (current R9-25-1002) are unchanged, some revisions have been made to the list of minimum standards for a ground ambulance vehicle. The new rule includes requirements for stretchers and voice communication, moved from the current R9-25-1003, and specifies that the frame of a ground ambulance vehicle must support not only the gross vehicle weight, but also the anticipated weight of ambulance attendants, supplies and equipment, and patients. The new rules also update requirements related to steering systems, to accommodate ground ambulance vehicles with an electrical or other type of steering system that do not contain the components of a hydraulic power steering system; mirrors, to accommodate ground ambulance vehicles with optical devices other than mirrors that allow monitoring of the area surrounding the ground ambulance vehicle; and occupant restraint systems, rather than seat belts, and add them to Table 10.1. They also allow the use of a disposable fire extinguisher. The Department believes that these changes may provide a minimal-to-moderate benefit to a certificate holder with a ground ambulance vehicle equipped with one of these alternate devices and a significant benefit to a certificate holder considering the purchase of a ground ambulance vehicle in the future. Although it is unlikely that the frame of a ground ambulance vehicle would not be able to support the additional weight of ambulance attendants, supplies and equipment, and patients, a certificate holder with a ground ambulance vehicle that could not support the additional weight required for operations could incur up to a substantial cost to bring the ground ambulance vehicle into compliance. The inclusion of the requirement for a ground ambulance vehicle to be equipped with a global positioning monitoring device, as well as the ability to request a waiver of the requirement, is the result of a statutory change, rather than a cost being imposed by the rules, themselves, but could result in up to a substantial increase in cost to a certificate holder, depending on the number of ground ambulance vehicles that would require these devices.

Most of the content in Table 10.1 is the same as what is in the Table embedded in the current R9-25-1005. However, there are a few differences. In the new Table 10.1, having inadequate fluid in the reservoir of the engine cooling system is added as a minor defect, as is the muffler not being securely attached to the chassis and tailpipe. Also added as minor defects are padding that is deteriorated and upholstery, floor, walls, or ceiling not capable of being disinfected. It is considered a major defect, rather than a minor defect, if the air cooling system of a ground ambulance vehicle is not capable of achieving and maintaining a 20° F difference between the air intake and the cool air outlet. Having an inadequate air cooling system is considered a major defect because it could jeopardize not only patient health and safety, but the ability of ambulance attendants to function effectively. Although the current R9-25-1002(25), new R9-25-1005(B)(25), requires insulation in a ground ambulance vehicle, the requirement is missing as a major defect or minor defect in the current rules and is added in the Table 10.1. Requirements for communication equipment and the ability to store equipment are also further specified to ensure patient safety. A fire extinguisher that is present, but non-functional, is also considered as a major defect, as is not having two means of egress from the patient compartment of a ground ambulance vehicle. The latter is critical to patient health and safety in a circumstance in which a ground ambulance vehicle is in an accident and the back doors are damaged and inoperable. The Department estimates that these changes could impose up to a substantial cost on a certificate holder, depending on the age, status of current equipment, and number of ground ambulance vehicles registered to the certificate holder, but provide a significant benefit in enabling the certificate holder to provide quality patient care.

Similarly, most of the content in Table 10.2 is the same as what is in the list in the current R9-25-1003. However, some equipment has been added, consistent with national guidelines and industry standards. Most ground ambulance services providing quality patient care would already have the majority, if not all, of the equipment being added through the new rules. Differences include the addition of ventilation and airway equipment for ALS (endotracheal tube cuff pressure manometer [approximate cost of $16]; one type of supraglottic airway device [approximate cost of $40]; two long, large-bore needles for needle chest decompression [approximate cost of $11]; hand-held nebulizer(s) [approximate cost of $6]; aerosol masks [approximate cost of $5]; nasogastric tubes [approximate cost of $3]; a Non-Invasive Positive Pressure Ventilation (NIPPV) device with masks [approximate cost of $75]; and in-line viral/bacterial filter [approximate cost of $5]); stair chair or another mechanism for safely moving a patient in an upright sitting position [approximate cost of $150]; gauze rolls [approximate cost of $0.55]; a portable patient heat source or two heat packs for obstetrics [approximate cost of $3 for 2]; thermometer with low temperature capability [approximate cost of $19]; cold packs [approximate cost of $10]; water soluble lubricating jelly [approximate cost of $1]; automatic blood pressure monitor for ALS [approximate cost of $20]; trauma arterial tourniquet [approximate cost of $10]; triage tags [approximate cost of $50]; disinfectant hand wash [approximate cost of $2.50]; disinfectant solution for cleaning equipment [approximate cost of $18]; protective facemasks or cloth face coverings for patients [approximate cost of $18 for 100]; antiseptic solution [approximate cost of $2 for 100]; intravenous arm boards for ALS [approximate cost of $1.75]; and sterile saline for irrigation [approximate cost of $2]. The cost of any items that are single-use may be passed onto patients for whom the item was used as charges, which are reported to the Department under R9-25-1109. While a requirement for a transcutaneous cardiac pacemaker is being added as subsection (B)(3) of the Table, this is actually a clarification rather than an additional piece of equipment because it is a function built into the monitor/defibrillator currently required in R9-25-1003(C)(12). In addition, the new rules require a ground ambulance vehicle to have a method to electronically document patient information and treatment that is capable of being transferred. This requirement, which has been in the draft rules since 2019, has a delayed implementation date of April 2024. Depending on the number of ground ambulance vehicles registered to a certificate holder that is not already following national guidelines and industry best practices and does not already require the ground ambulance vehicles to be equipped with the equipment being added, the new rules could cause the certificate holder up to a substantial increase in costs.

The new rules clarify requirements in Article 11 related to rates and charges, as well as remove duplicative requirements. They also add and clarify requirements related to uniform general public rates, which are absent in the current rules. In addition, the new rules separate and better delineate the information required for a request under A.R.S. § 36-2234(I) and under A.R.S. § 36-2234(K); specify the content of a cover letter, consistent with current practice, to include identifying information for both parties to the contract, rather than just identifying the number of pages in the contract; and clarify that the contract needs to include the name of the other party to the ground ambulance service contract and the types of service to be provided. They also clarify that the Department will not approve a proposed ground ambulance service contract between two certificate holders, as that would be bypassing the certificate of necessity process, or enforce the provisions of a ground ambulance service contract, unless the executed ground ambulance service contract has been approved by the Department and contains language authorizing the Department to enforce the provisions of the ground ambulance service contract. With respect to subscription service, the new rules clarify that an applicant for an initial certificate of necessity may also apply to provide subscription service, establish a subscription service rate, or request approval of a subscription service contract, and specify that information identifying the applicant or certificate holder and a signature is required on an application and that documents to support estimates of the number of annual subscription service transports for the service area and proposed subscription service rate are required, as is current practice. Also consistent with current practice is the clarification that a certificate holder may not institute a new general public rate, new contract rate or range of rates, or subscription service rate before receiving approval from the Department. The Department anticipates that the clarifications may provide a significant benefit to an applicant or a certificate holder. It is possible that a certificate holder has a contract that does not meet requirements in the new rules. If so, the Department believes that the certificate holder could incur up to substantial costs to come into compliance.

Current requirements in R9-25-1106, R9-25-1107, R9-25-1108, R9-25-1109, and R9-25-1110 are also clarified in the new rules. Some of these clarifications may significantly benefit an applicant or a certificate holder. These include that the ALS base rate should include consideration of the costs of professional liability insurance for ALS personnel and how a critical care rate would be calculated, including that the critical care rate would be greater than the ALS base rate. In addition, the new rules add that a certificate holder may calculate the number of miles for a transport using software designed to calculate mileage, rather than having to use an odometer reading or regional map, which are the methods specified in the current rules. However, the new rules also specify that the Department may periodically review and, if appropriate, adjust rates and charges for a ground ambulance service to ensure that the rates and charges are just, reasonable, and sufficient, consistent with A.R.S. § 36-2232. Such a review could cause adjustments to be made to a certificate holder's rates and charges that could provide up to a substantial benefit to the certificate holder or result in up to a substantial loss of revenue.

- Health care institutions, both publicly owned hospitals and privately owned hospitals and other health care institutions

Health care institutions are a major stakeholder of these rules, as a health care institution relies on ground ambulance services to transport patients to the health care institution, from the health care institution, and between health care institutions. During 2022, there were 904,513 calls through the 9-1-1 system reported to AZPIERS by the 90 reporting certificate holders. Of these, 508,811 resulted in transports, 494,183 of which were to acute care hospitals. Certificate holders also reported 60,576 interfacility transports, of which 40,958 ended at an acute care hospital. The Department believes that clarifications in the new rules that enable ground ambulance services to provide better patient care may provide a significant benefit to a health care institution.

As mentioned above, hospitals cannot dial 9-1-1 to request the transport of a patient, even one with a time-critical condition requiring an emergency transport to a facility that can adequately treat the patient. In 2022, 19,511 of the 60,576 interfacility transports were for “emergent” patients, which would be the category under which patients with a time-critical condition would be reported. Interfacility transports for patients with time-critical conditions fit under the definition of “emergency ambulance services” in A.R.S. § 20-2801 and are now included in the definition of “response time” and, thus, the time it takes a ground ambulance service to respond to such a call will now be assessed by certificate holders and reported to the Department just as those transports resulting from a call to 9-1-1. The Department anticipates that hospitals may receive a significant benefit from this change.

Under the current rules, the Department has very little ability to regulate interfacility transports for most certificate holders, despite receiving many calls and complaints expressing concerns about them. The Department has received anecdotal information about estimated times of arrival being changed multiple times, or a ground ambulance vehicle showing up hours after it was expected. The new rules contain standards for the performance of interfacility transports of patients with no time-critical condition, including a benchmark for how much leeway a certificate holder has to get a ground ambulance vehicle to the patient’s location. They also require a certificate holder to review the factors that may have contributed to an interfacility transport not meeting the standards through the quality improvement process. Although they do not put a cap on the number of times an estimated time of arrival is amended, they do require a certificate holder to assess the performance of interfacility transports. They also allow the Department to collect information about how often an estimated time of arrival is amended and factors that may contribute to a ground ambulance service not meeting the standards in the rules. The Department anticipates that these changes may provide a significant benefit to a health care institution.

- Air ambulance services

These rules do not directly affect air ambulance services. However, air ambulance services most often provide transport to patients who need to get to an appropriate treatment facility quickly, regardless of whether they are at the scene of a crash or in a hospital that does not have the appropriate resources. The rules contain requirements for a certificate holder to assess and take steps to improve performance related to response times. If a certificate holder provides transport using a ground ambulance vehicle that is timely, consistent, and reliable, a hospital may possibly make fewer requests for air transport. If so, the new rules could potentially indirectly cause an air ambulance service to lose up to a substantial amount in revenue.

- Fire services that are not certificate holders

Municipal fire services that do not transport patients are not directly affected by these rules, which are specific to ground ambulance services. However, the new requirements do contain requirements that may improve the standard of care provided to patients. As such, they could be construed as raising the standard of care that would be provided to a patient by an EMCT. Since fire services employ EMCTs, it is possible that a fire service that is not already following national standards could, of its own accord, institute similar improvements in the services they provide and, thus, could incur up to substantial costs to provide the same, higher standard of care as would be provided by the EMCTs of ground ambulance services. In doing so, the fire service could receive a significant benefit by improving patient care.

- EMCTs

According to the 2022 EMS Annual Report, approximately 21,000 EMCTs had active certifications in 2021. Of these, approximately 13,000 are EMTs, who can provide only BLS services, and approximately 8,000 are AEMTs, EMT-I(99)s, or Paramedics, who can provide ALS services. Many requirements in the current rules are clarified in the new rules, which may enable an EMCT to better understand requirements and, therefore, more easily comply with them and provide better patient care. The Department anticipates that clarifying requirements may provide a significant benefit to an EMCT.

The new rules update the operational equipment and supplies required on a ground ambulance vehicle, based on the level of service of use, consistent with national guidelines and industry standards. Some added equipment would be applicable to all levels of EMCTs, while others would affect only those levels of EMCTs who can provide ALS services. The Department believes that having this equipment may improve the ability of an EMCT to provide quality patient care and, thus, provide a significant benefit to an EMCT.

Similarly, the new rules update requirements for ground ambulance vehicles, themselves, to help ensure the safety of ambulance attendants, patients, and the general public. These include updates to requirements related to steering systems, mirrors, and occupant restraint systems, as well as additions to what is considered a major defect or minor defect as described above. The Department anticipates that changing requirements to improve the safety of a ground ambulance vehicle may provide a significant benefit to an EMCT riding in it.

A.R.S. § 36-2211(A) specifies the grounds for an EMCT to be censured or put on probation or to have the EMCT's certification suspended or revoked. The new rules contain requirements for a ground ambulance service employing an EMCT to address instances of a situation or circumstance specified in the statute when identified, since they are more likely to identify such a situation. The Department believes that most EMCTs would not be affected by the new requirement. However, if an EMCT were suspected of an action specified in A.R.S. § 36-2211(A), the new requirement could result in up to a substantial loss of revenue to the EMCT if the EMCT's employer had not already been implementing this industry best practice before the new rules became effective.

- Patients and their families

As mentioned above, there were approximately one million calls reported to AZPIERS by certificate holders in 2022, with almost 570,000 transports. Since not every certificate holder currently reports to AZPIERS, the total number of ambulance responses and transports performed by a ground ambulance service under these rules is higher. The new rules clarify requirements in the existing rules, as well as add new requirements to improve patient health and safety, consistent with Laws 2022, Ch. 381, which places an emphasis on the provision of quality patient care. The Department believes that clarifying the current rules may make them easier to follow. The new rules establish requirements for a certificate holder to assess performance, both with respect to response times as well as for interfacility transports of patients with no time-critical condition. They also require the adoption of a quality improvement process to review services provided to patients to assure consistent, compliant performance and data submission to the Department. Updates to requirements for ground ambulance vehicles may make them safer to ride in, further improving patient safety. The addition of operational equipment and supplies required on a ground ambulance vehicle, based on the level of service of use, may improve the ability of EMCTs to provide quality services, protecting patient health. Changes/clarifications related to inspections and investigations by the Department may also protect the health of patients by helping the Department ensure quality patient care. The Department believes that the changes made in the new rules may increase the standard of patient care, providing a significant benefit to patients and their families.

- General public

Since any member of the public may become a patient, clarification of requirements in the existing rules and the other changes described for patients may also provide a significant benefit to the general public. These changes also enable the Department to improve the entire emergency medical system in the state, further benefiting the general public.

4. A general description of the probable impact on private and public employment in businesses, agencies, and political subdivisions of this state directly affected by the rulemaking

Public and private employment in the State of Arizona is not expected to be affected due to the changes required in the rule.

5. A statement of the probable impact of the rules on small business

a. Identification of the small businesses subject to the rules

Small businesses subject to the rules may include small ground ambulance services, small fire services, and small health care institutions.

Anticipated costs for complying with the rules are described under paragraph 3.

The new rules reduce the impact on small businesses by specifying conditions under which a waiver would be granted for the statutory requirement for a ground ambulance vehicle to be equipped with a global positioning monitoring device. The rules also include requirements for a simplified version of the Ambulance Revenue and Cost Report, in compliance with A.R.S. § 36-2246. Since many small ground ambulance services would be in rural or wilderness areas and have geographic barriers or environmental conditions not found in more urban areas, the rules, in compliance with statute, provide for an applicant or certificate holder to describe these challenges and have them taken into consideration when the Department makes a decision. The new rules related to interfacility transports may benefit small health care institutions more than larger health care systems since these smaller health care institutions may not have the medical resources that a larger health care institution has, which could lead to a greater percentage of patients being transported to a more appropriate location for treatment.

d. The probable costs and benefits to private persons and consumers who are directly affected by the rules

The costs to private persons and consumers from the rules changes are described in paragraph 3.

6. A statement of the probable effect on state revenues

Current fees are set in statute in A.R.S. § 36-2212 for registration of ground ambulance vehicles and A.R.S. § 36-2240 for applications for a certificate of necessity; applications to amend, transfer or renew a certificate of necessity; ambulances proposed to be operated by a ground ambulance service to which the certificate is granted, upon the issuance of an initial certificate of necessity; and annual regulatory activities for each ambulance issued a certificate of registration. The rulemaking does not include any new fees, so the Department does not expect the rules to affect state revenues.

7. A description of any less intrusive or less costly alternative methods of achieving the purpose of the proposed rulemaking

There are no less intrusive or less costly alternatives for achieving the purpose of the rule.

8. A description of any data on which the rule is based with a detailed explanation of how the data was obtained and why the data is acceptable data

Subject: Comments for Oral Proceedings re: Ground Ambulance Rules on October 16, 2023.

On behalf of Health Care Innovations, a CON holder who provides ambulance services to large parts of southern Arizona, we formally submit the following comments regarding ADHS' proposed ground ambulance rules.

We believe the rules cannot move forward as currently drafted for a myriad of reasons and should be split up to ensure ADHS can meet the January 1, 2024, deadline as required by Laws 2022, Chapter 381 (HB 2609). To date we have submitted detailed comments on the rules, but we would like to address several key points that cannot go unaddressed by the Department at this time.

The first item that needs to be addressed is the issue of clear statutory authority for some of the new proposed regulations in the rule set. As stated in previous comments, the Legislature has been very intentional in crafting laws that establish clear and precise guardrails that all state agencies must abide by when it comes to rules, substantive policy statements and a variety of other agency actions. During the 2022 legislative session, HB 2599 was signed into law. The bill made a variety of changes to Title 41 to ensure that state agency practices are necessary and the proper authority to act is outlined in statute. Specifically, HB 2599 amended A.R.S. § 41-1030 (A) to include provisions that invalidate a rule that is not "consistent with the statute, reasonably necessary to carry out the purpose of the statute and is made and approved in substantial compliance with state law." If this subsection of law is not clear enough, the same bill amended A.R.S. § 41-1030 (D) which prohibits an agency from "making a rule that is not specifically authorized by statute." It is our belief that certain provisions and mandates contained in the proposed rule set do not comport with the aforementioned statutes and should be tabled until proper legislative authority has been granted to proceed.

The next item that lacks proper statutory authority and needs further consideration by all stakeholders is the issue of interfacility transports (IFT). Current statute and Department rule are silent regarding the regulation of IFTs, and no such authority was granted in HB 2609, so any proposed regulations around the issue need to be given proper statutory authority and go through a robust stakeholder process to ensure sound policy is crafted. During the HB 2609 stakeholder process the issue of regulating IFTs was intentionally set aside by the Legislature which means that any new regulations around this issue would conflict with the will of the Legislature and state law.

Additionally, we wish to highlight the confusion around the exempt rulemaking authority given to the Department with the passage of HB 2609. As is standard practice with all exempt rulemaking authority, the Legislature will pass a bill and at times grant exempt rulemaking authority to the affected agency so that they can meet the deadlines outlined in state law. The exempt rulemaking authority granted to an agency only applies to rules that are necessary to implement the specific bill that was passed into law. In this case, exempt rulemaking was granted to the Department for the provisions of HB 2609. Any rules promulgated under the exemption must directly apply to the provisions of the bill in question. The session law granting the exemption states “for the purposes of this act, the department of health services is exempt from the rulemaking requirements of title 41, chapter 6, Arizona Revised Statutes, for one year after the effective date of this act.” This provision is very clear that any additional rule changes are not exempt and can only be changed by an additional rulemaking set or the passage of another bill at the Legislature. Moving forward at this time and pace with any rules not authorized by HB 2609 could have disastrous effects on the ambulance community. Any unintended consequences from rushed rulemaking will force the industry to abide by rules that were not properly vetted, and changes can only be made through new rulemaking or passing a bill at the Legislature, which are both slow processes.

In addition to the previously listed concerns, here is a list of major concerns that are still outstanding in the proposed rules:

- Waiver process for the GPS requirement – The waiver process needs more clarity regarding denials and the appeals process. It is our understanding from HB 2609 stakeholder meetings that a waiver must be granted if the applicant can demonstrate that the requirement is unable to be met.
- Applicability of the provisions of HB 2609 – Does the applicability clause of HB 2609 grandfather in existing CON holders. The language states that the bill’s changes apply to initial and amended CONs prospectively from January 1, 2024. Clarity is needed on what constitutes an amended CON.
  - Would this include simple administrative changes such as a change of address, change of station location, or change of statutory agent or individual responsible for managing the ground ambulance service within an organization due to retirement or promotion?
  - Would this include changing from charging for supplies to bundling the costs of supplies into the base rate or rate adjustments requested?
  - Would this include the renewal and/or annual rate increase adoption?
- Rulemaking Exemption – Since the exemption only applies to HB 2609 provisions, it is very problematic that any other changes that present unintended consequences will take a significant amount of time to change. The industry will be forced to comply with harmful rules until a fix can be made which will impact patients and providers.
- “Scene Locality” definition remains unchanged. No rationale for this definition change has been given by the Department. The new definition conflicts with Census Bureau since they do not reference suburban or wilderness. The existing definitions are currently used and understood by the industry, so any change is not necessary at this time.

- R9-25-904 Transfer of a CON – The breadth of this language exceeds the call of HB 2609 and given its vagaries, could subject CON holders to recurring regulatory processes (for example, the change in a fire chief could be grounds for the Bureau to suggest that the CON has been transferred and require that entity to proceed back through the CON licensure process). The addition of language that prohibits overlapping CON holders from executing back-up agreements that are not solely short-term arrangements is also problematic. In a health and safety environment, having back-up among existing CON holders serves the public good and should not result in more arduous and duplicative regulatory processes.
- R9-25-906 Determining Public Necessity – Since a public necessity determination will determine if a CON is issued it is crucial that this language be given more consideration, review and analysis.
- Interfacility Transfers (R9-25-902,905,906 and 908) – The rules still contain many new requirements regarding I.F.T.s, which must be thoroughly discussed with all stakeholders and authorized by the Legislature. Continuing with these new requirements at the current pace this rules set is moving could have many unanticipated consequences for providers. One salient example showing more discussion is needed is the proposed mandate in R9-25-908 (E)(3)(c), which requires ambulance provider I.F.T.s for patients without a time-critical condition to be within 60 minutes of the estimated time. The 60-minute timeframe has changed multiple times during the drafting process, which shows that thoughtful discussion should be had on the issue. The Hospital group that was at one of the last stakeholders' discussions admitted they had no data recorded to present reference to their complaints of long wait time for IFTS. R9-25-908 E-3-b-iii Considerations needs to include "consideration of the 911 emergency resources of a sole provider CON", because this assessment is always performed when considering an IFT. They commented that it was too cumbersome to document these instances. In an in-person meeting with AZDHS, a table was presented showing historical response times for IFTS now that data is being ignored and arbitrary response times and directives are being mandated.
- R9-25-901 (17) Definition of "critical care rate" needs to be rewritten as "greater than the ALS rate", and the proposed language referencing "equivalent to federal Medicare guidelines" needs to be removed. This limits the reimbursement for critical care transports that have a higher operational cost and higher liability providing critical care services. A charge for a critical care rate, also known as a specialty care transport, will never be at a rate less than the ALS rate set by ADHS BEMSTS.
- R9-25-907 Determining Response Times DHS has changed their position multiple times on what they intend to do with response times. Recently DHS has stated they plan to use their standard response times for quality assurance/data collection or something like that, but it is unclear what that means. They also have said they will make a report available for the annual reporting of response times requirement, but again what this will entail has not been made clear by DHS. Does the annual reporting of response times apply to all CON's or just new/amended? HB 2609 requires response times to be calculated from the time the Public Safety Answering Point ("PSAP") contacts an ambulance service for dispatch to the time the ambulance service arrives at the dispatched location. All the other factors involved such as Scene Locality, urban, suburban, rural and wilderness areas are confusing the issue and are not required by HB 2609.

- R9-25-908 (C)(5)(b) Staffing requirements for ambulances providing critical care services. Specifically, the endorsement requirement for providers when ADHS has yet to create such an endorsement is problematic and will create additional staffing issues for providers.
- R9-25-908 (E) is confusing. As written, it appears to require all CON Holders to contract for dispatch services, which lacks statutory authority. In an "IF" is inserted at the beginning of the subsection, then the amendments impose an unfair level of scrutiny on CON holders who opt to contract with external dispatch services. While these provisions outline detailed requirements for such contracts, there are no corresponding mandates for CON holders who manage their internal dispatch operations. This glaring inconsistency not only penalizes those seeking external partnerships but also creates an environment where internal operations remain unchecked.
- R9-25-1102 Requirements for Uniform Rates in the process outlined in this section will no longer create uniform rates and should contain an opt-out provision for providers. Uniform Rate Groups are not addressed in HB 2609 and should be dealt with separately. Currently the Director may establish a uniform rate if all the providers in the area agree. Allowing one of the CON holders to opt out, or awarding a CON, in the area of an existing uniform rate, with a rate different of the uniform rate means that not all the providers in the area agree to a uniform rate and it would cease to exist.
- R9-25-1106 (C) Rate of Return provisions remain primarily unchanged. The proposed rule caps a provider's rate of return at 7% unless the provider gives sufficient justification for a higher rate of return. ADHS BEMSTS does not have the statutory authority for this change, and it is not the state's role to interfere with the financial health of a CON holder. Lastly, asking for a "sufficient" justification is vague and will lead to unelected bureaucrats making financial decisions for a CON holder.
- R9-25-1108 (B) Provisions allow ADHS BEMSTS to review periodically and, if appropriate, adjust rates and charges for a ground ambulance service to ensure that the rates and charges are just, reasonable, and sufficient. This new provision lacks clear statutory authority to implement such a process. Although A.R.S. § 36-2232 (A)(1) grants ADHS the ability to "determine, fix, alter and regulate just, reasonable and sufficient rates for the provision of ambulances," any changes in rates are typically done through the amendment process, rather than through agency fiat. The statute does not say that ADHS can periodically review rates and adjust them accordingly. Additionally, although A.R.S. § 36-2232 (A)(4), as amended by HB 2609, requires ADHS BEMSTS to update response times based on a minimum population density and geographic and medical considerations and the financial impact on rates every six years with an additional review if requested by outlined partners, nowhere is authority granted to ADHS BEMSTS to initiate a review and adjustment of rates and charges independently. This is concerning because if you compare this language with R9-25-1106 (C), it will mean that ADHS BEMSTS could decide if you have a rate of return higher than 7% to reduce a provider's rates to below the 7% threshold.

Due to reasons outlined above we respectfully request that the Department only move the rules necessary to implement HB 2609 forward and all other rules continue to go through the stakeholder process. A splitting of the rule set will allow the Department to meet their January 1, 2024, deadline as required by HB 2609 and allow time for stakeholders to come to consensus on other matters and clear up the issue of statutory authority before implementing additional regulations. We believe under A.R.S. 41-1022 that you can request a supplemental rule making on the items not specifically in HB 2609, and then submit your package on HB2609 as provided in A.R.S. 41-1044.

August 15, 2023

Rachel Garcia
Arizona Department of Health Services, EMS Bureau Chief
150 North 18th Avenue
Phoenix, AZ 85007

Dear Ms. Garcia,

As you may know, the undersigned has been involved in the Department of Health Services (ADHS) rulemaking on ambulance rules for almost four years. While the agency has been taking input from the various stakeholders, very few significant changes have been incorporated into the current June 2023 draft.

Ambulance regulation is an integral part of the healthcare continuum in Arizona. Ambulance regulation requires cooperation between all affected stakeholders and the regulating entity. When ADHS began the rulemaking process at the end of 2019 and into 2020, we all took an active role to help ensure the new rules struck a balance between assisting the ambulance industry to ensure they provide the best service while protecting the health and safety of all Arizonans. With this common goal in mind, we offered comments and suggestions to ADHS to incorporate into the proposed rule set. Throughout the process, ADHS has accepted some of our proposed changes but has also ignored specific concerns raised by the industry and has forged ahead with the rules draft with no rationale given for many of the proposed changes. It is crucial that ADHS listens to concerns from providers who represent all the diverse areas of the state.

Last, we would like to express our concerns with how the rulemaking process has proceeded. We understand that a five-year review was conducted in 2017, and plans were made to update the ambulance rules. However, the current package is being pushed through under cover of a rulemaking exemption, which expires at year's end. This exemption was given to ADHS with the passage of HB 2609. The rulemaking exemption granted by HB 2609 only applies to the changes made by the bill. However, the current proposed ground ambulance rule set goes above and beyond what has been authorized by the legislature. In a Director's Blog dated July 13, 2023, ADHS states, "We are currently working on updating Arizona's ambulance rules to align with House Bill 2609 and new statutory requirements that go into effect on January 1, 2024." The blog explicitly states the rulemaking is in direct response to HB 2609, so If ADHS wishes to continue the ground ambulance rulemaking for changes that are not a result of HB 2609, they should do so by way of the standard rulemaking process to allow for proper thought and consideration by all parties involved instead of fast-tracking these extensive rule changes in the last few months of the year.

The undersigned stakeholders have concerns with the June 2023, Article 9, 10, and 11 draft Ground Ambulance Rules. We have continually expressed these concerns directly to ADHS, but the Department needs to have a meaningful conversation regarding justification and or statutory authority for the changes. We now have no option but to bring these concerns to your office and the State Legislature. Our most significant concerns are:

Article 9

R9-25-901. Definitions

The proposed Rule deletes the definitions in subsections 37 (Rural area), 47 (Suburban area), and 52 (Urban area) and replaces them with a new definition in subsection 38, "Scenic locality." For the following reasons, we request that the individual definitions be left as is or incorporated verbatim into the Scenic locality definition:

- There is no need to change the existing definitions other than agency convenience.
- The current definitions more than adequately comply with the statutory requirements and are well-understood by the industry.
- Applying singular dispatch thresholds statewide in a one size fits all manner fails to consider inconsistent population densities throughout the state. The proposed approach may work in metropolitan areas where population density is consistent, but for the aforementioned reasons, the proposed changes are not workable in areas that are less urban.
- The new subsection 40 would result in rural areas such as Benson and Safford being defined as urban and, with the unreasonable statewide universal response time requirements in Article 9, would result in many rural towns having required response times that are the same as metropolitan Phoenix. Such unreasonable standards will result in much higher rates and the likely loss of ambulance coverage in some rural areas. The lack of qualified personnel will mean that the ambulance services in those areas will not be able to comply with the response time requirements.

R9-25-902, R9-25-905, R9-25-906 and R9-25-908 Interfacility Transports (IFT)

Article 9 references IFTs for patients with time-critical conditions and without a time-sensitive condition. The Article, in multiple places, R9-25-907(B) states that the Director may consider numerous things in determining the response times assigned to a CON. This includes in subsection (B)(8)(b) the anticipated volume of 9-1-1 dispatches and of interfacility transports. It requires CON holders to report estimated amounts of IFTs to be completed as well as response times for said transfers. Then in R9-25-906(B)(3 & 4) it identifies compliance with the 90% and 100% response time requirements for 9-1-1 and interfacility transports for patients with time-critical condition as criteria for issuing a CON to more than one ground ambulance service for the same service area. Tying 9-1-1 transports and interfacility response times together will be extremely problematic for the system and patients. In many cases, awarding additional CONs to a service area will result in higher rates and the replacement of an historically reliable ambulance service with two unsustainable ambulance services. R9-25-908 (E)(3)(c) specifically requires IFT arrival times for a patient without a time-sensitive critical condition to be within 60 minutes of the dispatch for 90% of IFTs in what appears to be a very workable solution to the question of interfacility response times. However, in rural areas, due to limited resources, it creates unreasonable pressures on the ambulance provider. The IFT language throughout the rules draft needs to be revised for several essential reasons:

- First, establishing required response times for IFTs creates a potentially untenable situation for ground ambulance providers. For example, suppose an ambulance provider receives a dispatch for an IFT with a time-critical condition and a 9-1-1 dispatch for the same ambulance. In that case, the provider will be forced to choose between following the administrative code or responding to the most pressing call and risk ADHS action for not following the rules.
- Second, establishing the much more relaxed response time requirements for IFTs in the latest draft will likely result in rural ambulance providers being pressured to take long-distance transfers in unsafe conditions for both the patient and the ambulance crew.
- Third, and the more important reason is that the proposed rules exceed the Department's statutory authority to regulate IFTs. Although the Department has general statutory authority to regulate ambulance service providers, no such specific authority exists in the statute, allowing the Department to regulate IFTs to the extent outlined in the draft rules.

We work collaboratively to meet the needs of both the 9-1-1 system and interfacility transports. A collaboration in which all parties involved have a discussion and make appropriate arrangements for interfacility transport that work within the 9-1-1 system. This process should remain unchanged to uphold the integrity of emergency 9-1-1 calls.

R9-25-901 Critical Care Rate Definition

This proposed Rule defines "critical care rate" as a monetary amount that is set by ADHS for a CON holder to bill for an individual receiving "critical care services." The definition also specifies that the rate is equivalent to at least the amount for specialty care transport, as used in Medicare guidelines. The proposed change in definition would result in the critical care rate being less than the ALS and BLS Base rate. Having the critical care reimbursement rate lower than ALS or BLS makes no sense. The result would be weakening the entire EMS system by creating a negative fiscal impact on ground ambulance providers.

R9-25-908 (C)(5) Ambulance Staffing

This proposed Rule requires CON holders to staff ground ambulances providing critical care services with a paramedic (with an additional endorsement in critical care services) or a registered nurse (RN). To our knowledge, no such endorsement is available in critical care services, so all ground ambulances would be required to have an RN staffing them if they provide critical care services. Establishing such a requirement is unnecessary and exacerbates the nursing shortage currently facing Arizona and the nation.

R-25-908(E)(1) Dispatch and Scheduling

This subsection requires that a CON holder contract for dispatch services rather than provide their own dispatch. This would be an increased cost for those services that currently provide their own dispatch services and would decrease their control over this critical process, all with no added benefit to the patient.

Article 10

R9-25-1005 (E)(5) Minimum Standards for Ground Ambulance Vehicles

The proposed Rule seeks to conform the Rule to A.R.S. § 36-2232 (C)(5), which requires a ground ambulance to install a GPS monitoring device to be used for response time measurement. The statute exempts this mandate if an ambulance service can “reasonably demonstrate it is unable to meet the requirement.” This makes sense as there are parts of the state where GPS access is nonexistent. The plain reading of the authorizing statute does not require an ambulance service to install a GPS monitoring device at a future date if they have been granted an exemption by ADHS. It is with this understanding that we believe the requirements in R9-25-1005 (E)(5) to submit “the date by which the applicant or certificate holder will equip the vehicle in subsection (E)(3) with a global monitoring device” to be problematic and inconsistent with statute. The intent of Laws 2022, Chapter 381 (HB 2609) was to allow rural providers to be exempted from the GPS mandate, so seeking future information goes beyond what is explicitly authorized in statute and could lead to the loss of some rural providers who are unable to comply with the mandate.

This comment was deleted as the waiver language now states that it is an annual waiver.

R9-25-1102 Application for Adjustment of General Public Rates and R9-25-1102 Application for Adjustment of General Public Rates

The proposed Rule outlines the process for multiple ambulance services providing service in the same area or who have overlapping CONs to obtain uniform general public rates in accordance with A.R.S. § 36-2232 (E). It is concerning that the proposed rules are silent about what happens if ambulance service is granted authority to operate in an area with uniform general public rates. The new provider does not apply for said rates. This would mean that the rates are no longer uniform, and it is problematic to have ambulance providers servicing the same area under a different rate structure. Further exacerbating this issue is the proposed language of R9-25-1102 (D), which establishes a process for an ambulance service provider operating under uniform general public rates to obtain different general public rates. This pathway to changing rates undermines the entire uniform general public rate process by rendering established uniform general public rates no longer uniform.

If this Rule stands and there is no longer a “uniform rate,” than those providers who were once under the “uniform rate” should be able to opt out without applying to amend their rates once it is no longer uniform because a different rate was given to a provider in the same geographic area.

R9-25-1106 Rate of Return Setting Considerations and R9-25-1108 Implementation of Rates and Charges

R9-25-1106 (C) currently requires the ADHS Director to establish rates to provide for a rate of return that is at least 7% of gross revenue unless the applicant requests a lower rate. But the proposed rule change caps the rate of return at 7%, which is problematic and without statutory authority. The proposed change implies that a rate of return above 7% is not appropriate, and under R9-25-1108 and A.R.S. § 36-2232 (A)(1), the Department can unilaterally change a provider’s rate of return. Putting an artificial cap on rates of return is a troubling policy that can lead to provider rate cuts. Although we have never seen a provider request more than 7%, all parties should tread lightly regarding government intervention regarding private businesses’ financial health. If we learned anything from COVID and the aftermath it has had on the ability to find a workforce and the cost of equipment and supplies due to inflation, we need the flexibility to address issues that arise.

We, the undersigned providers, thank you for your consideration of our highlighted concerns and look forward to continuing to work with ADHS, the EMS Bureau, and the Office of Administrative Counsel to ensure that the current rules package is a sound policy that benefits the citizens of Arizona as well as the regulated community.

We would like to meet with you or your designated staffer to discuss these issues further. Please contact Meghaen Dell’Artino for more information or to coordinate a meeting between your office and the undersigned.

Subject: Chapter 9 Rule Changes

To: rachel.garcia@azdhs.gov <rachel.garcia@azdhs.gov>

Rachel,

I forwarded the following request to Taylor Pike and asked her to forward it to the rules committee, but I wanted to make sure you received it also. I have mentioned the following concern during the open comment period and in person with DHS staff during some of our meetings. Will you please consider changing the language of this particular part of the rules to ensure fairness and equity.

"Standby waiting rate" means the monetary amount assessed to set by the Department for a certificate holder to bill a patient by a certificate holder when aground ambulance vehicle is required to wait in excess of 15 minutes to load or unload the patient, unless the excess delay is caused by the ground ambulance vehicle or the ambulance attendants on the ground ambulance vehicle.

My concern is why should a patient be billed if the patient isn't at fault. In other words, if a hospital takes 2 hours to accept a patient, then the hospital should be charged the standby rate and not the patient. My proposed wording, I have offered in the past was "the party responsible for the delay".

Thank you for considering this change and please let me know if you have any questions or concerns.

Chief Garcia,

Thank you for this ongoing opportunity to provide input into the Article 9 Rulemaking. I present the comments below for your consideration of issues that we still see in the draft rules update on behalf of Daisy Mountain Fire & Medical (DMFM) CON 105.

- 1. Interfacility response times: As a CON holder who provides interfacility transports, DMFM entered into a service agreement with our hospital partner, which was ultimately reviewed and approved by DHS. Within this service agreement are negotiated and agreed upon response times when requested to transport urgent or non-urgent patients. Our agreement also defines what constitutes an urgent patient or a non-urgent patient, and has separate response times for either situation. These response times were developed in consideration of this specific Hospital's needs as well as the specific CON response area, travel distance and service capabilities of DMFM. Since both parties have negotiated these response times in good faith, come to an agreement in writing, and had the agreement reviewed and approved by DHS prior to implementation, it is the opinion of DMFM that separate generic interfacility response times in Article 9 are not necessary, or at the very least should identify and default to response times listed in a service agreement when such an agreement exists.
- 2. Interfacility response ETA: It is the opinion of DMFM that the requirement to inform the hospital of an ETA on every IF transport is overly burdensome and not necessary. DMFM utilizes a 3rd party for dispatch services, and facilitating an ETA at the time of the phone call requesting transport may be difficult for the dispatch center whose primary mission is 911. Additionally, DMFM's ETA may not immediately be known depending on resource availability, and it would be burdensome to request dispatch to call the facility back with an ETA for every "non-emergency transport" again when they are handling 911 traffic. Thus, the ETA notification would fall on the responding ambulance crew. In our situation, depending on the floor/unit that is requesting transport, the call to DMFM dispatch can come from multiple locations within the hospital, such as from the transfer center or directly from the ED etc. This could require multiple calls to locate the correct unit that requested transport by our crew that is responding, which takes away from preparation for the transport and is in general unnecessary communication. As an alternative, DMFM suggests that ETA notification could be a provision within Interfacility service agreements that is negotiated between both parties, where a notification to the hospital should be made if the ETA is beyond a certain time. For example, DMFM and our hospital partner may agree that if our ETA is going to be longer than 20 minutes, DMFM would notify the hospital of our extended ETA, however if our ETA is less than 20 minutes then no ETA notification is necessary. As with the comment made in item 1 above, the terms of a service agreement should take priority over generic article 9 rules since the interaction is between those specific hospital and ambulance providers only.

3. Back-Up Agreements: DMFM believes there should be more clarity in what is allowed in an Ambulance Back-Up Agreements. We would like to see the ability for regional back-up agreements, meaning if certain ambulance providers within an area all agree to be back-up providers to each other under the same terms, then one agreement could be entered into amongst those providers. DMFM believes that these agreements should allow for automatic dispatching when certain agreed upon conditions are met. For example, DMFM might agree to automatically send an ambulance to a neighboring CON area when requested for 911 if DMFM would still have at least one other ambulance available in DMFM's service area. Hypothetically, neighboring CON holders might agree to the same terms. By predetermining these conditions, this would allow for an automatic approval of an ambulance provider to send an ambulance when requested rather than having to be approved at that time. Ultimately, allowing the closest most appropriate resource to respond in the most efficient way possible is best for patient care. Perhaps the rules already allow for such agreements to be made, however it is DMFM's position that the process around developing backup agreements, the definition of a backup agreement, what is or is not allowed to be in a backup agreement, who can enter into them etc. is not clearly laid out in rule or in guidance at this time.

4. Healthcare Institution Definition: The proposed rules list definitions for "Interfacility Transport" and "Convalescent Transport" with the difference being one going to a "Healthcare Institution" and the other is not. DMFM believes the definitions section should include what constitutes a healthcare institution, even if that definition is intentionally broad or all encompassing. Being able to point to a definition of a healthcare institution in rule could potentially help an ambulance provider justify their decision to transport to a certain location or facility, whether it be a legal justification, a reimbursement justification, or a regulatory justification.

Again I appreciate the opportunity to submit comments and contribute to the rulemaking process, and I will continue to stay informed as things progress.

Regards,

Dan Jarrett

This comment is in regards to the proposed rule in R9-25-908(K)(2)(c) and the requirement that the administrative medical director be on a committee reviewing the data every quarter with a CON holder. There is potentially a significant amount of data that might be involved in this process required in (K)(2)(b) along with action planning, monitoring, and follow-up for cases that are not in compliance. ALS Base Hospitals provide a significant amount of the EMS administrative medical direction in Arizona. We currently have 17 contracts to provided medical direction for EMS agencies, of which 8 of those are CON holders. As an ALS Base Hospital, we are paying a significant amount of money for an administrative medical director, in order to meet the requirement of R9-25-201, along with part of those requirements also being delegated to 2 paramedics, as defined in R9-25-201(G).

In our case that means the administrative medical director will have to participate in 8 meetings a quarter. This is going to require a significant amount of time that we cannot cover in the current amount of hours that we contract for, to meet requirements in R9-25-201. Administrative medical directors are expensive and this is going to increase the cost to this ALS Base Hospital significantly to meet these requirements. There is nothing in the preliminary summary of the EIS, in the proposed rule, that identifies this impact on ALS Base Hospitals.

The administrative medical director should be removed as a requirement on this committee. The Department has required out of compliance reporting in other areas of the document and can require an action plan for which the Department can monitor. I do not believe the rule has adequately identified the economic impact on ALS Base Hospitals.

I have rearranged the rule to show the order that follow from the committee. There are already QI processes required in R9-25-201 that applies to all agencies we provide medical direction for. This allows us to monitor our whole system. The new requirement is overly restrictive.

(K)(2)(C) A committee of the administrative medical director, the individual managing the ground ambulance service or designee, and other employees as appropriate:

i. Review the data in subsection (K)(2)(a) and any issues identified in (K)(2)(b) on at least a quarterly basis, and:

(K)(2)(a) Data related to initial patient assessment, patient care, transport services provided and patient status upon arrival at the destination are:

(K)(2)(b) Continuous QI processes are developed and implemented to identify, document, and evaluate issues related to the provision of services to ensure quality patient care, including;

i. Care provided to patients with time-critical conditions, including deviations from national treatment standards for a patient with a time-critical condition;

ii. Transport, including an interfacility transport of a patient that does not have a time-critical condition;

iii. Documentation; and

iv. Patient status upon arrival at the destination

ii. Implement activities to improve performance when deviations in patient care, transport, or documentation are identified;

One CON holder I have consulted with has anticipated 2 hours for each meeting at approximately $250/hr. That agency has over 10,000 calls per year. After more thought I believe that is a very conservative estimate, for what is described above, but if true for the 8 CON holders based here, would create an extra $16,000 in expense each year to the base hospital. I believe the 2 hours may be conservative even for our smallest CON holder.

Thank you for taking the time to review my comments.

Eugene,

Thank you for meeting with us the other day to hear our concerns with the ground ambulance rules that are currently being worked on by your people. In the notice of proposed rulemaking, some of the rules we had issues with were amended, but some issues remain unresolved. As state, here are the areas of concern that remain outstanding:

- R9-25-901 – the definition of “scene locality” remains unchanged. Per our meeting you were going to look into this issue and see if this issue could be addressed. We are still unsure what the Department’s rationale is for changing this definition from what is currently used and understood by the industry.
- Interfacility Transports (IFTs) (R9-25-902,905,906 and 908) – In the latest draft the 90% and 100% response time requirements have been removed and that is much appreciated, but there are some significant outstanding issues. The rules still contain a multitude of new requirements regarding IFTs which need to be thoroughly discussed with all stakeholders as well as authorized by the Legislature. Continuing with these new requirements at the current pace this rules set is moving could have many unanticipated consequences for providers. One salient example showing more discussion is needed is the proposed mandate in R9-25-908 (E)(3)(c) which requires ambulance provider IFTs for patients without a time-critical condition to be within 60 minutes of the estimated time. The 60-minute timeframe has changed multiple times during the drafting process which shows that thoughtful discussion should be had on the issue.
- There have been no changes to the following:
  - Definition of “critical care rate” in R9-25-901.
  - Staffing requirements in R9-25-908 (C)(5) for ambulances providing critical care services. Specifically, the endorsement requirement for providers when ADHS has yet to create such an endorsement is very problematic and will create additional staffing issues for providers.
  - Dispatch and Scheduling requirements in R9-25-908 (E)(1) will be an additional financial burden to the industry with no tangible benefit to the state.
  - Requirements for Uniform Rates in R9-25-1102. The process outlined in this section will create rates that are no longer uniform and should contain an opt out provision for providers.
  - Rate of Return provisions in R9-25-1106 (C) remain mostly unchanged. The proposed rule caps a provider’s rate of return at 7% unless the provider gives sufficient justification for a higher rate of return. We continue to hold the view that ADHS does not have the statutory authority for this change and it is not the state’s role to interfere with the financial health of a private industry. Lastly, asking for a “sufficient” justification is very vague and will lead to unelected bureaucrats making financial decisions for a private business.
  - Provisions in R9-25-1108 (B) which allows ADHS to periodically review and, if appropriate, adjust rates and charges for a ground ambulance service to ensure that the rates and charges are just, reasonable and sufficient. This new provision lacks clear statutory authority to implement such a process. Although A.R.S. § 36-

2232 (A)(1) grants ADHS the ability to “determine, fix, alter and regulate just, reasonable and sufficient rates for the provision of ambulances”, any changes in rates are typically done through the amendment process, rather than through agency fiat. Nowhere in statute does it say that ADHS can periodically review rates and adjust them accordingly. Additionally, although A.R.S. § 36-2232 (A)(4), as amended by HB 2609, requires ADHS to update response times based on at a minimum population density and geographic and medical considerations and the financial impact on rates every six years with an additional review if requested by outlined partners, nowhere is authority granted to ADHS to independently initiate a review and adjustment of rates and charges. This is concerning because if you comport this language with R9-25-1106 (C) it would mean that ADHS could decide that if you have a rate of return higher than 7% to reduce a provider’s rates to below the 7% threshold.

- GPS waiver requirements in R9-25-1102 still lacks clarity around the process. In recent drafts, the Department has changed the waiver process into an annual process, but it still lacks detail around denials and appeals. We would like to suggest you mirror the opioid reporting waiver process that is found in the Board of Pharmacy rules. R4-23-502 (D) of the Pharmacy Board rules states “A dispenser who does not have an automated recordkeeping system capable of producing an electronic report in the Board established format may request a waiver from electronic reporting by submitting a written request to the Board or its designee. The Board or its designee shall grant the request if the dispenser agrees in writing to report the data by submitting a completed universal claim form supplied by the Board or its designee.” Mirroring this language will provide assurances to the providers that their exemption will be granted while still giving the Department the ability to require an attestation of compliance with the rules. This proposal will satisfy the requirements of HB 2609 and will be easily understood by the regulated community.

The last pressing issue that needs to be addressed is the timing of the rulemaking process. Stakeholders have been working on these rules for many years and we are committed to continue to do so. It is important to prioritize the multitude of issues that surround the ambulance industry. The first- and most-time sensitive issue that must be addressed are the rule changes that must occur to be ready for the January 1, 2024, effective date of HB 2609 from the 2022 legislative session. We respectfully request that the proposed rules be bifurcated so that all rules that are specifically needed to implement HB 2609 can move forward to meet the effective date of the bill. Any other issues such as IFTs, staffing requirements etc. should be handled in a regular rulemaking process that is not on an accelerated time frame so that all parties can come to a consensus on any new rules. Any rules being proposed that are not required by HB 2609 do not fall under the exempt rulemaking authority granted by the bill and cannot be quickly changed if problems arise with implementation. It has been stated in many meetings that the Department has exempt rulemaking for 12 months after the rules go into effect because of HB 2609 so changes can be quickly made if issues arise. The exempt rulemaking is for “the purposes of this act” and any changes outside of HB 2609 requirements would violate state law. It is for these reasons that we urge you to split the rule set and continue to work with stakeholders to come to an equitable solution.

Thanks,

Ruthann Smejkal &lt;ruthann.smejkal@azdhs.gov&gt;

Rachel,

Plz see below for the concerns of Golder Ranch Fire District, CON 56:

HB 2609 items that still need to be addressed are:

- The waiver process for G.P.S. We are asking for specific language on what type of agencies would qualify for this waiver and the duration of the waiver. Will it be based on limitations for connectivity or financial burdens for smaller agencies? Why the need for an annual renewal of the waiver? We are asking for precise definitions of the waiver and the process of granting and renewal.
- Clarification that HB 2609 is limited to initial and amended Certificate of Necessity' as written: Sec. 11. Applicability This act applies to initial and amended certificates of necessity filed with the Department of Health Services pursuant to section 36-2233, Arizona Revised Statutes, as amended by this act, from and after December 31, 2023.
- Clarification of what an amended Certificate of Necessity is.
  - Would this include simple administrative changes such as a change of address, change of station location, or change of statutory agent or individual responsible for managing the ground ambulance service within an organization due to retirement or promotion?

- Would this include changing from charging for supplies to bundling the costs of supplies into the base rate or rate adjustments requested?
  - Would this include the renewal and annual rate increase adoption?
- If the above are construed as an amended Certificate of Necessity, that would create a bifurcated regulatory scheme where only part of the ground ambulance transport market is subject to increased reporting and other requirements of HB 2609. Everyone should be subject to the statute and related regulations.
- The exempt rulemaking for a period of twelve months, starting January 01, 2024, is explicitly for changes in HB 2609. There is an effort to conflate the implementation of House Bill 2609 with rule modifications in Articles 9, 10, 11, and 12, which needs to be clarified and resolved. This was an arbitrary decision made by ADHS BEMSTS that does not align with Arizona Revised Statutes or the directives of the Arizona Legislature. While most of the issues this group has with the rulemaking are focused on Article 9, some fiscal matters contained in Articles 10 and 11 changes should also be scrutinized to ensure that they do not result in increased costs being unnecessarily passed on to consumers. Otherwise, Articles 10, 11, and 12 are much less controversial among the ground ambulance transport constituents.

Rule 9

- R9-25-901 (7) Definition of “Back-up-agreement” Needs to be less restrictive. These are voluntary agreements that CON holders agree to follow. It is not truly only based on “temporarily not able to provide needed services.” It’s about what is best for the patient and reducing longer response times. The language should incorporate what is in R9-25-908 (F) (1).
- R9-25-901 (17) Definition of “critical care rate” needs to be rewritten as “greater than the A.L.S. rate,” and the proposed language referencing “equivalent to federal Medicare guidelines” needs to be removed. This limits the reimbursement for critical care transport that has a higher operational cost and higher liability for providing critical care services. A charge for a critical care rate, also known as a specialty care transport, should never be at a rate less than the A.L.S. rate set by ADHS BEMSTS.
- R9-25-901 (23) General Public Rate. Needs to say, “bill a patient or responsible party”, this ties into the standby rate issue of billing a patient because a hospital or other healthcare facility is responsible for the standby time.
- R9-25-901 (24) General Accepted Accounting Principles. Add Governmental Accounting Standards Board as in R9-25-901 (21)
- R9-25-901 (39) The definition of “scene locality”: We are still unsure what the Department’s rationale is for changing this definition from what the industry currently uses and understands. The Census Bureau does not utilize suburban and wilderness, yet the Bureau's definitions refer to Census Bureau data for determining suburban and wilderness.

- R9-25-901 (42) Standby Waiting Rate. Add or responsible party after “to bill a patient” ties into R9-25-901 (23)
- R9-25-904—Transfer of a Certificate of Necessity. The breadth of this language exceeds the call of HB 2609 and given its vagaries, could subject CON holders to recurring regulatory processes (for example, the change in a fire chief could be grounds for the Bureau to suggest that the CON has been transferred and require that entity to proceed back through the CON licensure process). The addition of language that prohibits overlapping CON holders from executing backup agreements that are not solely short-term arrangements is also problematic. In a health and safety environment, having backup among existing CON holders serves the public good and should not result in more arduous and duplicative regulatory processes.
- R9-25-904 Transfer of a Certificate of Necessity (B) (1) is this provision concerning changes in who “manages day-to-day operations” only when there is a Transfer of Certificate of Necessity?
- R9-25-905 (6) (a) Application for Amendment of Certificate of Necessity. Does annexation of new are into a municipal entity require an application for an amended CON?
- R9-25-905 (10) (a) Application for Amendment of Certificate of Necessity. Does changing how supplies are billed for require and application for an amended CON?
- R9-25-906—Determining Public Necessity. This provision of the regulations changes the inquiry and determination about public necessity. Since that is the critical factor in determining whether a CON is granted, this language should be given significantly more review, analysis, and dialogue among the stakeholders.
- R9-25-906 (B) (11) what is 90 percent of?
- R9-25-902,905,906 and 908 Interfacility Transports (I.F.T.s) –The rules still contain many new requirements regarding I.F.T.s, which must be thoroughly discussed with all stakeholders and authorized by the Legislature. Continuing with these new requirements at the current pace, this rules set is moving could have many unanticipated consequences for providers. One salient example showing more discussion is needed is the proposed mandate in R9-25-908 (E)(3)(c), which requires ambulance provider I.F.T.s for patients without a time-critical condition to be within 60 minutes of the estimated time. The 60-minute timeframe has changed multiple times during the drafting process, which shows that thoughtful discussion should be had on the issue. At one of the last stakeholders' discussions, the Hospital group admitted they had no data recorded to present reference to their complaints of long wait times for IFTS. They commented that it was too cumbersome to document these instances. In an in-person meeting with AZDHS, a table was presented showing historical response times for IFTS now that data is being ignored and arbitrary response times and directives are being mandated.

- R9-25-908 (E)(3)(b)(iii) Considerations need to include “consideration of the 911 emergency resources of a sole provider CON” because this assessment is always performed when considering an I.F.T.

- R9-25-907 Determining Response Times D.H.S. has changed its position multiple times depending on what it intends to do with response times. Recently, D.H.S. has stated they plan to use their standard response times for quality assurance/data collection or something like that, but it is still being determined what that means. They also have said they will make a report available for the annual reporting of response times requirement, but again, what this will entail has yet to be clarified by D.H.S. Does the annual reporting of response times apply to all CONs or just new/amended?

- R9-25-908 (9) (b) “Considering the response time for 90 percent of the runs.” 90 percent of what?

- R9-25-908 (C)(5)(b) Staffing requirements for ambulances providing critical care services. Specifically, the endorsement requirement for providers when ADHS has yet to create such an endorsement is problematic and will create additional staffing issues for providers.

- R9-25-908 (E) The amendments impose unfair scrutiny on CON holders who opt to contract with external dispatch services. While these provisions outline detailed requirements for such contracts, no corresponding mandates exist for CON holders who manage their internal dispatch operations. This glaring inconsistency penalizes those seeking external partnerships and creates an environment where internal operations remain unchecked. Additionally, there should not be a limitation on only CONs that overlap. Not consistent with R9-25-908 (F) (1)

- R9-25-909 (A) (8)(a) and (iii) and (B) (2) and (b) The number 2080 is utilized as a divisor. Firefighters who work for a governmental entity under the Fair Labor Standards Act §207(k) exemption should have 2990 as the divisor. Keep 2080 for non-government agencies but follow the Fair Labor Standards Act law and utilize 2990 for the divisor for Agencies with Government Fire Fighters.

- R9-25-909 (C) (3) (a) (viii) Add Standby as a possible category for revenue.
- R9-25-909 (C) (22 and 24) the term equity is not utilized for governmental entities utilizing Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB), should say equity or fund balance.

Rule 11

- R9-25-1102 Requirements for Uniform Rates in the process outlined in this section will no longer create uniform rates and should contain an opt-out provision for providers.

R9-25-1106 (C). The proposed rule caps a provider's rate of return at 7% unless the provider gives sufficient justification for a higher rate of return. ADHS BEMSTS does not have the statutory authority for this change, and it is not the State's role to interfere with the financial health of a CON holder. Lastly, asking for a "sufficient" justification is vague and will lead to unelected bureaucrats making financial decisions for a CON holder.

- R9-25-1106 Rate of Return Considerations (A) (B) (C) (D) there are many instances where terms such as "losses, revenue, rate of return, etc.." that do not conform to GASB standards. As written, it is for profit entities. Sometime needs to be spent on modifying or adding language so that it aligns with both private and government accounting practices.
- R9-25-1108 (B) Provisions allow ADHS BEMSTS to review periodically and, if appropriate, adjust rates and charges for a ground ambulance service to ensure that the rates and charges are just, reasonable, and sufficient. This new provision lacks apparent statutory authority to implement such a process. Although A.R.S. § 36-2232 (A)(1) grants ADHS the ability to "determine, fix, alter and regulate just, reasonable and sufficient rates for the provision of ambulances," any changes in rates are typically done through the amendment process, rather than through agency fiat. The statute does not say that ADHS can periodically review rates and adjust them accordingly. Additionally, although A.R.S. § 36-2232 (A)(4), as amended by HB 2609, requires ADHS BEMSTS to update response times based on a minimum population density and geographic and medical considerations and the financial impact on rates every six years with an additional review if requested by outlined partners, nowhere is authority granted to ADHS BEMSTS to initiate a review and adjustment of rates and charges independently. This is concerning because if you compare this language with R9-25-1106 (C), it will mean that ADHS BEMSTS could decide if you have a rate of return higher than 7% to reduce a provider's rates to below the 7% threshold.

Article 9 requires significantly more stakeholder involvement and input. Article 9 is only ready to move forward for requirements called explicitly for by HB 2609.

Articles 9 and 11 Governmental agencies follow the GASB; there are multiple examples of financial language/definitions that Governmental entities don't utilize.

Thanks

Tom

Dear Rachel:

The Arizona Ambulance Association, Arizona Fire Districts Association, and the Arizona Fire Chiefs Association are preparing the following joint statement of some common points related to the rule process. We appreciate the collaboration and work put into implementing House Bill 2609 and the proposed rule changes to Article 9, 10, 11, 12, but we do have areas of concern that remain core issues with Certificate of Necessity holders throughout the State.

January 01, 2024, is the goal date for House Bill 2609, an act filed as Chapter 381. Concerning HB 2609, the items that still need to be addressed are:

- The waiver process for G.P.S. We are asking for specific language on what type of agencies would qualify for this waiver and the duration of the waiver. Will it be based on limitations for connectivity or financial burdens for smaller agencies? Why the need for an annual renewal of the waiver? We are asking for precise definitions of the waiver and the process of granting and renewal.
- Clarification that HB 2609 is limited to initial and amended Certificate of Necessity' as written: Sec. 11. Applicability This act applies to initial and amended certificates of necessity filed with the Department of Health Services pursuant to section 36-2233, Arizona Revised Statutes, as amended by this act, from and after December 31, 2023.
- Clarification of what an amended Certificate of Necessity is.
  - Would this include simple administrative changes such as a change of address, change of station location, or change of statutory agent or individual responsible for managing the ground ambulance service within an organization due to retirement or promotion?
  - Would this include changing from charging for supplies to bundling the costs of supplies into the base rate or rate adjustments requested?
  - Would this include the renewal and annual rate increase adoption?
- If the above are construed as an amended Certificate of Necessity, that would create a bifurcated regulatory scheme where only part of the ground ambulance transport market is subject to increased reporting and other requirements of HB 2609. Everyone should be subject to the statute and related regulations.
- The exempt rulemaking for a period of twelve months, starting January 01, 2024, is explicitly for changes in HB 2609. There is an effort to conflate the implementation of House Bill 2609 with rule modifications in Articles 9, 10, 11, and 12, which needs to be clarified and resolved. This was an arbitrary decision made by ADHS BEMSTS that does not align with Arizona Revised Statutes or the directives of the Arizona Legislature. While most of the issues this group has with the rulemaking are focused on Article 9, some fiscal matters contained in Articles 10 and 11 changes should also be scrutinized to ensure that they do not result in increased costs being unnecessarily passed on to consumers. Otherwise, Articles 10, 11, and 12 are much less controversial among the ground ambulance transport constituents.

Regarding Articles 9, 10, 11, and 12, there is no official timeline for the changes to take effect that are not requirements of HB 2609. Many of the changes in these articles are positive and move the regulatory process forward. However, there are specific areas that we want to remove from the current drafts for further discussion. This way, the mandatory changes directed by HB 2609 and parts of Articles 9, 10, 11, and 12 can move forward. The items below can be addressed and implemented as consensus is reached, not on an artificial deadline.

The items are specified below:

- R9-25-901 (39) The definition of “scene locality”: We are still unsure what the Department’s rationale is for changing this definition from what the industry currently uses and understands. The Census Bureau does not utilize suburban and wilderness, yet the Bureau’s definitions refer to Census Bureau data for determining suburban and wilderness.
- R9-25-904—Transfer of a Certificate of Necessity. The breadth of this language exceeds the call of HB 2609 and given its vagaries, could subject CON holders to recurring regulatory processes (for example, the change in a fire chief could be grounds for the Bureau to suggest that the CON has been transferred and require that entity to proceed back through the CON licensure process). The addition of language that prohibits overlapping CON holders from executing backup agreements that are not solely short-term arrangements is also problematic. In a health and safety environment, having backup among existing CON holders serves the public good and should not result in more arduous and duplicative regulatory processes.
- R9-25-906—Determining Public Necessity. This provision of the regulations changes the inquiry and determination about public necessity. Since that is the critical factor in determining whether a CON is granted, this language should be given significantly more review, analysis, and dialogue among the stakeholders.
- R9-25-902,905,906 and 908 Interfacility Transports (I.F.T.s) –The rules still contain many new requirements regarding I.F.T.s, which must be thoroughly discussed with all stakeholders and authorized by the Legislature. Continuing with these new requirements at the current pace, this rules set is moving could have many unanticipated consequences for providers. One salient example showing more discussion is needed is the proposed mandate in R9-25-908 (E)(3)(c), which requires ambulance provider I.F.T.s for patients without a time-critical condition to be within 60 minutes of the estimated time. The 60-minute timeframe has changed multiple times during the drafting process, which shows that thoughtful discussion should be had on the issue. At one of the last stakeholders’ discussions, the Hospital group admitted they had no data recorded to present reference to their complaints of long wait times for IFTS. They commented that it was too cumbersome to document these instances. In an in-person meeting with AZDHS, a table was presented showing historical response times for IFTS now that data is being ignored and arbitrary response times and directives are being mandated.

- R9-25-908 (E)(3)(b)(iii) Considerations need to include “consideration of the 911 emergency resources of a sole provider CON” because this assessment is always performed when considering an I.F.T.

- R9-25-901 (17) Definition of “critical care rate” needs to be rewritten as “greater than the A.L.S. rate,” and the proposed language referencing “equivalent to federal Medicare guidelines” needs to be removed. This limits the reimbursement for critical care transport that has a higher operational cost and higher liability for providing critical care services. A charge for a critical care rate, also known as a specialty care transport, should never be at a rate less than the A.L.S. rate set by ADHS BEMSTS.

- R9-25-907 Determining Response Times D.H.S. has changed its position multiple times depending on what it intends to do with response times. Recently, D.H.S. has stated they plan to use their standard response times for quality assurance/data collection or something like that, but it is still being determined what that means. They also have said they will make a report available for the annual reporting of response times requirement, but again, what this will entail has yet to be clarified by D.H.S. Does the annual reporting of response times apply to all CONs or just new/amended?

- R9-25-908 (C)(5)(b) Staffing requirements for ambulances providing critical care services. Specifically, the endorsement requirement for providers when ADHS has yet to create such an endorsement is problematic and will create additional staffing issues for providers.

- R9-25-908 (E) The amendments impose unfair scrutiny on CON holders who opt to contract with external dispatch services. While these provisions outline detailed requirements for such contracts, no corresponding mandates exist for CON holders who manage their internal dispatch operations. This glaring inconsistency penalizes those seeking external partnerships and creates an environment where internal operations remain unchecked.

- R9-25-909- (A) (8)(a) and (iii) and (B) (2) and (b) The number 2080 is utilized as a divisor. Firefighters who work for a governmental entity under the Fair Labor Standards Act §207(k) exemption should have 2990 as the divisor. Keep 2080 for non-government agencies but follow the Fair Labor Standards Act law and utilize 2990 for the divisor for Agencies with Government Fire Fighters.

- R9-25-1102 Requirements for Uniform Rates in the process outlined in this section will no longer create uniform rates and should contain an opt-out provision for providers.

- R9-25-1106 (C). The proposed rule caps a provider’s rate of return at 7% unless the provider gives sufficient justification for a higher rate of return. ADHS BEMSTS does not have the statutory authority for this change, and it is not the State’s role to interfere with the financial health of a CON holder. Lastly, asking for a “sufficient” justification is vague and will lead to unelected bureaucrats making financial decisions for a CON holder.

- R9-25-1108 (B) Provisions allow ADHS BEMSTS to review periodically and, if appropriate, adjust rates and charges for a ground ambulance service to ensure that the rates and charges are just, reasonable, and sufficient. This new provision lacks apparent statutory authority to implement such a process. Although A.R.S. § 36-2232 (A)(1) grants ADHS the ability to “determine, fix, alter and regulate just, reasonable and sufficient rates for the provision of ambulances,” any changes in rates are typically done through the amendment process, rather than through agency fiat. The statute does not say that ADHS can periodically review rates and adjust them accordingly. Additionally, although A.R.S. § 36-2232 (A)(4), as amended by HB 2609, requires ADHS BEMSTS to update response times based on a minimum population density and geographic and medical considerations and the financial impact on rates every six years with an additional review if requested by outlined partners, nowhere is authority granted to ADHS BEMSTS to initiate a review and adjustment of rates and charges independently. This is concerning because if you compare this language with R9-25-1106 (C), it will mean that ADHS BEMSTS could decide if you have a rate of return higher than 7% to reduce a provider’s rates to below the 7% threshold.

The preceding hits on the issues are the most immediate concern; however, Article 9 requires significantly more stakeholder involvement and input. Article 9 is only ready to move forward for requirements called explicitly for by HB 2609.

Articles 10 and 11 could be massaged and put into place if some scrutiny about fiscal impacts, and financial reporting standards that meet government agencies requirements are made. Governmental agencies follow the Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB); there are multiple examples of financial language/definitions that Governmental entities don’t utilize. Additionally, mandating specific equipment on each ambulance should be reviewed to ensure it is the best use of resources in the ground ambulance space.

Again, we appreciate the collaborative and communicative environment that you brought to the Bureau of Emergency Medical Services and Trauma Systems. We look forward to continuing to work with you and the designated staff to ensure the rules package benefits the citizens of Arizona and the Certificate of Necessity Holders.

Respectfully,

Dear Ms. Garcia,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NOPR) making changes to ground ambulance regulations. I am commenting on behalf of the Arizona Hospital and Healthcare Association (AzHHA). AzHHA is a statewide association of more than 80 hospital and affiliated health system members, representing short-term acute care, behavioral health, post-acute care, and critical access hospitals, as well as their affiliated clinics and staff. Our comments are focused on Article 9, relating to ground ambulance certificate of necessity (CON).

AzHHA greatly appreciates the outreach that the Arizona Department of Health Services (ADHS) has made to all stakeholders during the draft rulemaking process. We thank ADHS for taking the time to listen to our members' concerns, especially as they relate to extensive delays in interfacility arrival times. ADHS staff have taken extraordinary steps to weigh the perspectives of all parties, always with an eye to promoting patient-centered care.

As we have stated previously, the CON framework the State of Arizona uses to authorize ground ambulance service operations constitutes monopolies or near monopolies in all areas of the state. It is inexcusable that agencies granted this monopoly are permitted to "park" patients in an emergency department when those patients are in a medical crisis and require transportation to a higher level of care or specialty hospital. Several years ago, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services informed hospitals that "parking" a patient in an ambulance is a potential violation of EMTALA. Ambulance companies who are granted the privilege of a CON should not be allowed to engage in a similar practice.

We acknowledge that CON holders, at times, will need to prioritize responses based on the clinical conditions of patients and limited resources. However, the persistent delays in interfacility transport in many areas of the state are unacceptable. Hospitals have recently reported the shortest arrival times for behavioral health patients needing admission to a level I psychiatric hospital was 10-12 hours. Many wait times exceed 24 hours. In some areas of the state, actual transport routinely occurs more than 72 hours after the facility calls for it.

Unfortunately, under the existing ground ambulance rules, ADHS does not have a mechanism to capture interfacility transport data, evaluate CON holder performance, and hold CON holders accountable for non-compliance with appropriate, evidence-based, standards of care. It is imperative that the CON process include these accountability measures in order to safeguard the public.

We have had extensive conversations with our members about the proposed revisions to the rule. While a few members had previously expressed concern that some revisions might negatively impact current 911 service in their rural areas, the differentiation between urban, suburban, rural and wilderness scene locality addresses these concerns. Moreover, limiting the definition of “response time” for interfacility transports to just those conditions that are “time-critical,” which is narrowly defined under the rule, strikes a compromise for all parties.

AzHHA has previously advocated for more stringent oversight of interfacility transport during the draft rulemaking process. However, we are fully supportive of the framework ADHS has proposed in the revisions to Article 9 included in the NOPR. Without these changes, policymakers and the public will have no data on which to evaluate CON holder performance with respect to interfacility transport. As such, AzHHA strongly recommends that ADHS finalize the revisions to Article 9 as proposed in the NOPR.

Sincerely

Debbie Johnston

RE: Proposed Ground Ambulance Rules proposed in Articles 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Bureau Chief Garcia:

On behalf of the patients and communities we serve, Dignity Health is pleased to offer this letter of support to the Ground Ambulance Rules proposed in Articles 9, 10, 11 and 12.

Dignity Health is a respected leader in world-class medical care, cutting-edge research, superior education and compassionate patient care. Our rich history in Arizona began more than 125 years ago when the Sisters of Mercy opened a six bed hospital - St. Joseph's Hospital. Today, Dignity Health is the second largest health care system in Arizona with acute care hospitals that include: St Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center (which includes world-renowned Barrow Neurological Institute), Arizona General Hospital in Laveen, Arizona General Hospital in Mesa, Chandler Regional Medical Center, Mercy Gilbert Medical Center, St. Joseph's Westgate Medical Center and Yavapai Regional Medical Center. Dignity Health operates two Level I trauma centers, two Level four trauma centers, 14 free-standing emergency departments, a cancer institute, and multiple urgent care facilities, outpatient surgery centers, and imaging centers.

Dignity Health appreciates being part of the rule-making process that seeks to make patient care a priority in the delivery of emergency services. We are grateful for our longstanding partnerships with emergency medical services (EMS) providers throughout the state. They are an extension of what we do everyday - providing care to individuals in their most vulnerable state. Like our EMS partners, we agree that there is a need to modify the ground ambulance rules.

Dignity Health facilitates more than 20,000 interfacility transports (IFT) annually throughout the state. For the past 20 years, the lack of transparency, performance expectations and evidence-based data has seriously impacted patient care in the interfacility transport sector. Therefore, our comments focus on key rules that pertain to patient care and interfacility transports.

Dignity Health supports the proposed R9-25-901. Definitions 47. Time-critical Condition

Dignity Health supports the proposed R9-25-901. Definitions 38. Response Times

The addition of the definition of “time-critical condition” acknowledges the appropriate response to a patient during a life or death situation and the need for immediate and appropriate medical care regardless of where the patient is physically located such as a hospital without specialized health care services or on a city street.

Not all hospitals can or should provide the same level of acute care services, and there are highly specialized, time-critical services such as vascular intervention for certain strokes that are only offered at a few tertiary care hospitals. Minutes count for patients with such time-critical conditions, and they are demonstrably harmed by delays in moving them from the facility where they first present. These patients with a demonstrated, clear need for timely care deserve the highest possible priority for movement between facilities. Under the existing rules, stroke, trauma, myocardial infarction, and other critically ill patients in an emergency department requiring transfer to a higher level facility are lumped in the broad category of “interfacility transports”, which functions as a scheduled service. Under the proposed rules, the new definition “time-critical conditions” appropriately requires medical and EMS personnel to treat specific “time-critical conditions” as 9-1-1 level patients, as they should be.

Some ambulance providers argue that “if an ambulance provider received a dispatch for an IFT with a time-critical condition and a 9-1-1 dispatch at the same time, the ambulance provider will be forced to choose”. This demonstrates the lack of clinical understanding and gravity of “time-critical conditions” as the patient’s needs are immediate and life-threatening. Under this scenario, the ambulance provider should provide an ambulance in BOTH situations.

The new “time-critical condition” definition appropriately prioritizes the patient's care in dire emergency situations and requires EMS providers to meet those emergency community needs. Furthermore, clearly establishing continuity in “response times” for patients with “time-critical conditions” and 9-1-1 conditions within the interfacility transport system is an equitable policy and the best patient protocol.

Dignity Health supports R9-25-906. Determining Public Necessity (A)

For the first time since the Certificate of Need (CON) laws were enacted, the state legislature enacted HB2609 which requires the Director to ensure quality patient care when determining public necessity - a condition for granting a CON to operate ambulances in Arizona. Paragraph A codifies the law into rules making the quality of patient care a priority that must be weighed when issuing and or renewing a CON.

Dignity Health supports R9-25907, Determining Response Times, Priority for Responses, and Response-Time Tolerances for Certificates of Necessity and Provision of ALS Services Compliance with Specified Times

The detailed data collection required in this section provides more transparency in response times for the purpose of ensuring quality patient care. It appropriately establishes specific data elements to be collected and analyzed for the purpose of establishing response times and compliance. Without accurate data, appropriate response times can not be established. No data or poor data can lead to patient harm due to erroneous response times.

Dignity Health Supports R-9-25-908 Operations (E)(3) and (K)(2)

The rules clearly delineate the call-in dispatch process for an interfacility transport of a patient with no time-critical condition. The provisions provide a clear straightforward process to be followed by the facility requesting the transport and the CON holder providing the ambulance. We do recommend, however, that the agency collect the call in and dispatch data or to periodically audit the call to ensure ambulance providers are providing accurate reported data.

If the call data and GPS data is captured digitally and reported to the Department without interference, we believe this will greatly improve the accuracy of the interfacility transport data.

The proposed rules also, appropriately layout quality improvement processes for CON holders that are not able to meet the quality of care standards.

Dignity Health Supports R9-25-1005 Minimum Standards for Ground Ambulance Vehicles (C)

A.R.S. 36-2232 clearly mandates that an ambulance service shall install a global position in each vehicle to be used for response times. This rule appropriately operationalizes that mandate and clarifies voice and global positioning data, and such data will be used for response times.

Dignity Health recommends modification to R9-25-1005 Minimum Standards for Ground Ambulance Vehicles (E)

The rule implies that applicants could apply for and receive an annual waiver of the requirement to have GPS in their vehicles. While there may be a circumstance where an ambulance company may need a temporary reprieve from the requirement - the law does not allow for an exemption and certainly does not allow for a permanent waiver which, as currently written, could be allowed. Dignity Health recommends a more restrictive waiver such as a "one-time temporary waiver of not more than 30 days".

Summary

The proposed ground ambulance brings transparency and accountability to interfacility transports making quality patient care a priority. Consistent with the direction of state law, the rules require appropriate data collection and analysis to ensure that evidence-based quality patient care is adhered to. It is the duty of the Director to ensure the safety of patients who are transported in ambulances in the State of Arizona. For those reasons, we support the proposed rules.

As a practicing emergency physician in the Phoenix area for more than 25 years and now the Chief Physician Executive for Dignity Health Southwest division, I have seen first hand the negative impact of delayed interfacility transports on patients, hospitals and the acute care system as a whole. The proposed rules provide for more transparency, oversight and accountability on behalf of our patients. The recent state legislative actions and the proposed rules are moving the state in a much better position in ensuring quality of care for our citizens. We are grateful for the work of ADHS and our EMS partners in being part of that achievement.

Re: List of calls discuss in meeting on September 7th

Dear Ms. Garcia

Attached are copies of the two handouts I addressed during Oral Presentation today at the ADHS offices. We are asking that the rules be bifurcated into those rules that are required by HB 2609 and those that are not required by HB 2608. The two handouts were separated into these two categories.

While we understand and agree with the need to implement the rules pertaining to HB 2609, we do not agree that the whole package as presented. It was explained in oral presentations that this bifurcation would result in a two month delay in rules pertaining to HB 2609. While we would not like to see this delay, we have a problem with using this as an excuse to implement rules that have major opposition from the ambulance providers.

If I can be of any additional assistance with this matter, please do not hesitate to contact me at (602) 696-4489 or James.Roeder@gmr.net.

Sincerely

Jim Roeder

RULES REQUIRED BY HB 2609

A.R.S. 36-2232 (A)(3) Response times are calculated shall begin when the public safety answering point (PSAP) contacts an ambulance service for dispatch and conclude when the ambulance service arrives at the dispatched location. On-scene arrival times for response time measurement shall be documented by the ambulance service using dispatch or global positioning system data.... Response time data that is compliant with the health insurance portability and accountability act of 1996 shall be filed annually with the Department.

R9-25-901(38) "Response Time" means the difference between the time a certificate holder receives:
a. A 9-1-1 or similar system dispatch and the time the certificate holder's first ground ambulance arrives at the scene

A.R.S. 36-2232 (A)(4) Review response times established pursuant to paragraph 3 of this subsection with the ambulance service and update the response times based on, at a minimum, population density and geographic and medical considerations, and the financial impact on rates and charges, every 6 years. One additional review may be requested by a city, town, fire district, or fire authority whose jurisdictional boundaries are within the service area of a CON or an existing CON Holder within the service area of the CON.

R9-25-907 Determining Response Times, Priority for Responses, and Compliance with Specified Times

- A. The Department may periodically assess whether the following parameters, as associated with a certificate of necessity, are appropriate to ensure quality patient care;
1. Response times, consistent with A.R.S. 36-2232(A)(5) and 36-2236(E);
  2. The priority to be assigned by a certificate holder to a response;
  3. The percentage of time that the actual response time for a run is compliant with the response times for the certificate of necessity during a 12-month period;
  4. If applicable, the plan for complying with the requirements in R9-25-908(E)(3)(e)
  - 5-4. If applicable, the percentage of time that the certificate holder is compliant with the standards in the plan in subsection (A)(4) during a 12-month period.

In determining response times, the priority to be assigned by a certificate holder to a response, and the percentage of time the actual response time for a run is compliant with the proposed response times during a 12-month period for all or part of a service area or proposed service area, the Director may consider the following:

1. Differences in scene locality, if applicable
2. The response times and compliance percentages of other ground ambulance services in similar scene localities, as determined by historical response time data;
3. The population density and demographics in the service area or proposed service area;
4. The geographic features and environmental conditions within the service area or proposed service area;
5. The geographic distribution of health care institutions within and surrounding the service area or proposed service area to which and from which the ground ambulance service would be transporting patients;
6. Requirements of a 9-1-1 or similar dispatch system for all or part of the service area;

7. Requirements in a contract approved by the Department between a ground ambulance service and a political subdivision or health care institution;
8. Whether the certificate holder provides interfacility transports of patients with a time-critical condition and, if so:
  - a. The geographic distribution of health care institutions in the service area, and
  - b. The anticipated volumes of 9-1-1 dispatches of interfacility transports;
9. The basis for prioritizations for the dispatch of a ground ambulance vehicle ~~of an emergency medical services provider~~;
10. Information from a political subdivision, a health care institution, an elected official, or another interest party, as described in A.R.S. 36-2233(D), in the service area that was received by the Department about the request; and
11. Other information submitted according to R9-25-902(A)(2) and 14 or R9-25-905(B), as applicable; and
12. Other matters determined by the Director to be relevant to a determination of response times and compliance percentage, for each scene locality and priority that will be assigned by the applicant to a response.

C. The Department may:

1. Develop a set of ~~uniform standards for~~ response times based on historical response time data:
  - a. By using the scene locality of a service area or proposed service area, and
  - b. ~~Considering the response time for 90 percent of runs:~~
2. Compare the actual performance of a ground ambulance service to the applicable ~~uniform standard developed response times~~ according to subsection (C)(1);
3. Establish response times based on the applicable uniform standard ~~for the CON service area~~ and the factors specified in subsection (B); and
4. Take enforcement action, if appropriate, against a certificate holder based on response-time performance compared with the uniform standard, taking into consideration the factors in subsection (B)

R9-25-908(G) Response Time Performance: A certificate holder shall ensure that:

1. Response times resulting from a 9-11 system dispatch ~~or, if applicable, a request for the interfacility transport of a patient with a time-critical condition comply~~ with requirements of the certificate holder's certificate of necessity.
3. The following are reported to the Department annually, in a Department-provided format, concurrent with the submission of the information required in R9-25-909;

GPS MONITORING DEVICE WAIVER:

RESPONSE TIMES

R9-25-901(38) Response Time

- a. This language is fine
- b. Interfacility Transport of a patient with a time-critical condition is new language and lacks statutory authority

R9-25-901(39) - Scene Locality:

- Keep current Urban, Suburban, Rural and Wilderness definitions unless and until a workable solutions can be determined.
- The definition of Scene Locality is unworkable as it is extremely difficult to discern what calls are in which locality on an operational level.
- It will be burdensome to implement and impossible to explain to citizens why their neighbor on the other side of the street in a city or town has different response time requirements
- Relying on small census block population density create major problems that will result in significant increases in cost and therefore rates.

R9-907(C)(1) Develop a set of uniform standards for response times based on historical response time data:

- a. By using scene locality of a service area or proposed service area, and
- b. Considering the response time for 90 percent of runs.

Lacks statutory authority.

A.R.S. 36-2232(A)(3) states that “The rules adopted by the Director for certificated ambulance service response time shall include uniform standards for Urban, Suburban, Rural, and Wilderness geographic areas with the Certificate of Necessity BASED ON AT A MINIMUM POPULATION DENSITY, AND GEOGRAPHY AND MEDICAL CONSIDERATION.”

This rule appears to establish a statewide response time requirement. The result is a response time requirement base solely on population density. Therefore, a universal statewide response time requirement lacks statutory authority.

Additionally, establishing response times that ignore geographic and medical considerations creates an unreasonably burdensome expense to the CON Holder.

INTERFACILITY TRANSPORT RESPONSE TIMES:

The following rules require or reference Interfacility Response Times:

R9-25-901(38)(a) – Includes Interfacility Transport of a patient with a time -critical condition

R9-25-901(47) – “Time-critical condition”

R9-25-901(48) – “Time-sensitive condition”

R9-25-902(A)(2)(p) Requires Interfacility Transport (“IFT”) Response Times and compliance percentages

R9-25-905(B)(5)(a & b) Require Response times and compliance percentages for IFT

R9-25-905(B)(7) Requires IFT response times and compliance percentages

R9-25-906(B)(2 & 3) Requires response times for IFT patients with time-critical condition or Non-time-critical condition.

R9-25-907(B)(8) Requires information about IFT transports of patients with time-critical condition

R9-25-908(H) Performance of Interfacility transports of patients with no time critical condition including patients with time-sensitive condition.

All the references to Interfacility Transport Response Times need to be withdrawn because:

- They lack statutory authority.
- They create a situation where rural providers will be forced to pick which rule they will have to violate
- They will create significant increased costs to the ambulance providers
- Given the available certificated work force, it is likely that providers will be unable to recruit and hire sufficient qualified works to meet the requirements of IFT Transport response times.

RATES AND CHARGES

CRITICAL CARE RATE

R9-25-901(17) Critical Care Rate

- c. equivalent to at least the amount for specialty care transport, as used in federal Medicare guidelines.

This would mean that the reimbursement for Critical Care is less than that for either ALS or BLS Base Rate for the ambulance service.

The appropriate language should state that the amount “ shall be greater than the ALS Base Rate”.

UNIFIED RATE GROUP

R9-25-1102(C)(D) Joining and/or leaving a uniform rate group

A.R.S. 36-2232(E) If all ambulance services that have been granted authority to operate within the same service area or that have overlapping certificates of necessity apply for uniform rates and charges, the director may establish uniform rates and charges for the service area.

Therefore, if a CON is awarded has the same service area or overlapping service area, and is given rates different than the unified rate group, the unified rate group is no longer valid.

Likewise, if a member of the unified rate group is awarded rates different than the unified rate group, the unified rate group is no longer valid.

RATE OF RETURN

R9-25-1106(C) Changes the guidance for the Director setting rates from “at least 7%” to “no more than 7%” of gross revenue AND changes “unless the certificate holder requests a lower rate of return” to “unless the certificate holder provides sufficient justification for a higher rate of return.”

Rachel Garcia, Bureau Chief

Arizona Department of Health Services Bureau of Emergency Medical Services and Trauma System
150 N. 18th Ave., Suite 540 Phoenix, AZ 85007-3248

The following comments reflect the position of Guardian Medical Transport, CON 26, in reference to the needed changes to the current draft rules.

Item 1:

Chapter 381, an Act, also referred to as HB 2609, can only be applied to initial and amended certificates of necessity. It is clearly written under Sec. 11. Applicability: This act applies to initial and amended certificates of necessity filed with the Department of Health Services pursuant to section 36-2233, Arizona Revised Statutes, as amended by this act, from and after December 31, 2023. This was the intent of the legislative action that was passed into law. Chapter 381 includes response times, response time performance, response time reporting, GPS equipment, CON application time lines, etc., and these can only apply if there is an initial CON or an amended CON. Therefore, all of these topics must be put in the initial CON R9-25-902 section and the amended R9-25-905 section; or clearly state the applicability where these topics are written in the current draft rules. The act does not apply to a CON holder who does not have an initial CON or an amended CON and this is something that will have to be fixed by the legislature. I recommend taking this into exempt rule making for 2024 to have extra time to ensure legal compliance.

Response times, as written in the current proposed rules, is not clear and leads to speculation as to what are uniform and fair response times. Chapter 381, an Act, also referred to as HB 2609, has the basis for uniform and fair response times, and I would recommend taking this into exempt rule making for 2024 to have extra time to ensure legal compliance with a standardized and clear process for response times. The ambulance industry is moving away from emergency lights and siren response to all calls dispatched through a 911 system. The recent discussions about safe and effective response is an important opportunity that should be further explored in 2024.

A.R.S. 36-2232 (A)(3) Response times are calculated shall begin when the public safety answering point (PSAP) contacts an ambulance service for dispatch and conclude when the ambulance service arrives at the dispatched location. On-scene arrival times for response time measurement shall be documented by the ambulance service using dispatch or global positioning system data.... Response time data that is compliant with the health insurance portability and accountability act of 1996 shall be filed annually with the Department. R9-25-901(38) "Response Time" means the difference between the time a certificate holder receives: A 9-1-1 or similar system dispatch and the time the certificate holder's first ground ambulance arrives at the scene

Item 3:

The interfacility transport response times as written in current draft are not supportive of the ambulance industry, do not address any hospital responsibilities and place ambulance agencies as the only party to receive enforcement and corrective action plans. Chapter 381, an Act, also referred to as HB 2609, clearly defines what response times are, how to calculate response times and review these response times. The Director of ADHS must adopt rules based on those new parameters of response times and cannot apply them to a new definition of interfacility transports because that would be outside of the 911 PSAP definition of Chapter 381. To make the proposed rule language fair to ambulance providers, R9-25-908 E-3-b-iii Considerations could easily include “consideration of the 911 emergency resources of a sole provider CON” to balance out a real point of discussion between an ambulance and a hospital. There should also be a language for an agreement/contract between an ambulance and a hospital that work in a collaborative manner that may work outside of the proposed rule language. The proposed language should include “the facility requesting the interfacility must provide the documents stated in 42 CFR410.40 at the time of the scheduling request”. 42 CFR410.40 Physician certification statement means a statement signed and dated by the beneficiary's attending physician which certifies that the medical necessity provisions of the transport.

Item #4:

R9-25-901 (39) The definition of “scene locality” is not clear and leads to speculation of how to apply response times to map definitions of scene locality and population. The Census Bureau does not utilize suburban and wilderness, yet the Bureau’s definitions refer to Census Bureau data for determining suburban and wilderness. These map overlays need to be defined by the Bureau in a fair and uniform manner that takes into consideration the unique geography of each CON or let the CON develop a map that demonstrates accurate scene locality, population and unique geographic considerations that can be approved by the Bureau. As a CON holder, I would like clarity about how to portray my response area in terms of scene locality and population.

Item #5:

R9-25-901 Definition of Critical Care Rate Needs to be changed to “greater than the ALS rate”, and the proposed language referencing “equivalent to federal Medicare guidelines” needs to be removed. This limits the potential reimbursement for critical care transports that have a higher operational cost and higher liability by providing critical care services. There would never be a situation in which the critical care rate would be less than the ALS rate and the proposed rule needs to reflect this reality.

Item #6:

R9-25-908 Operations-J-Records 2:

Needs to include “As Available”. A certificate holder shall ensure that Dispatch records for each call or request for service, including all cancelled runs, contain the following information, in a department provided format. “As Available” addresses deficits in dispatching software in which there is no field available and where that deficit may possibly be recorded in electronic patient care report (ePCR). Dispatch software does not work in the manner in which the proposed rule is written. Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) will import some information into the ePCR but there are definite limitations with both software programs and the data bases do not equal each other, there are always variances. The Bureau economic impact statement does not address the cost to CON holders to come up with dispatching solutions for deficient fields which may not even be offered by the software vendors. The Bureau makes the “As Available” allowance on the ePCR side of R9-25-908 Operations-J-1 pre-hospital incident history report.

RE: Rule change for ground ambulance standards

Council Members,

I am writing this letter requesting a reasonable approach to a recent change in rule making affecting ground ambulance minimum standards as outlined in the August 2023 draft rules for Article 10 of the Department of Health Services statute and rule book.

R9-25-1005; Minimum Standards for Ground Ambulance Vehicles; Authorized by A.R.S 36-2202(A)(5), 36-2232(C)(5) outlines the minimum equipment and standards required for all ground ambulance vehicles operated in the State of Arizona.

Proposed changes to restraint systems defined in R9-25-1005(B)(36) may have a significant financial impact on many emergency services throughout the State of Arizona. As the new rules are being disseminated, it appears that agencies will be required to retrofit all existing ambulances that currently have lap belt systems, to a minimum of a three-point restraint system for each seat.

This process will require agencies to transport each unit requiring retrofit to the respective manufacturing plants to complete the conversion. The work will likely entail removal of all patient compartment components, including siding, to reveal the structural framework of each unit. Additional framework will likely need to be installed to convert to a three-point restraint system that will meet the safety standards of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The minimum cost associated with this retrofit per Braun Northwest, a prominent ambulance manufacturer, would run anywhere from $10,000 to $15,000 secondary to the scope of work as above.

In addition to the financial impact, most agencies are still experiencing challenges secondary to chassis shortages limiting the ability to update aging fleets. Agencies are being forced to hold on to older fleets to continue to meet emergency service delivery needs. Removing additional fleet for retrofit purposes will only exacerbate individual fleet shortages and threaten service delivery.

I am certain that most if not all agencies affected by this rule change support the implementation of improved restraint systems for their providers but would question the efficacy of changing existing ground ambulances that were built under an existing standard that has existed for 30 years.

In addition, when looking holistically at restraint requirements for various transportation methods in the State of Arizona, there is an evident disparity. For instance, ground ambulance services have been required to maintain safety restraint systems for the past 30 years and existing units built over that time frame meet that standard. Whereas many school buses in the State of Arizona lack any type of restraint system for passengers and are not currently required to install them. In comparison, it appears that our school children are placed at a much greater risk of injury or death without restraint requirements than ground ambulances that have existing restraints overall.

I would respectfully recommend that the State of Arizona, and the Governor's Regulatory Review Council consider a commonsense approach to implementing this regulation. For instance, if language was placed in rulemaking to include a start date for all ground ambulances manufactured on or after January 1st, 2025, to meet the minimum three-point restraint requirement, agencies would be able to adhere to this new standard moving forward. All existing units would ultimately drop off with attrition.

I believe this would minimize the financial impact to all emergency service organizations, keep fleet availability at maximum levels, minimize potential service disruptions, and transition all ground ambulances to a higher safety standard over time.

Thank you for your consideration,

Regards,

If in the director's opinion there is cause, the director may terminate all or a part of any delegation and may reallocate all or a part of any funds that may have been conditioned on the further performance of the functions, powers or duties conferred.

F. The compensation of all personnel shall be as determined pursuant to section 38-611.

G. The director may make and amend rules necessary for the proper administration and enforcement of the laws relating to the public health.

H. Notwithstanding subsection I, paragraph 1 of this section, the director may define and prescribe emergency measures for detecting, reporting, preventing and controlling communicable or infectious diseases or conditions if the director has reasonable cause to believe that a serious threat to public health and welfare exists. Emergency measures are effective for not longer than eighteen months.

I. The director, by rule, shall:

1. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary measures for detecting, reporting, preventing and controlling communicable and preventable diseases. The rules shall declare certain diseases reportable. The rules shall prescribe measures, including isolation or quarantine, that are reasonably required to prevent the occurrence of, or to seek early detection and alleviation of, disability, insofar as possible, from communicable or preventable diseases. The rules shall include reasonably necessary measures to control animal diseases transmittable to humans.

2. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary measures, in addition to those prescribed by law, regarding the preparation, embalming, cremation, interment, disinterment and transportation of dead human bodies and the conduct of funerals, relating to and restricted to communicable diseases and regarding the removal, transportation, cremation, interment or disinterment of any dead human body.

3. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary procedures that are not inconsistent with law in regard to the use and accessibility of vital records, delayed birth registration and the completion, change and amendment of vital records.

4. Except as relating to the beneficial use of wildlife meat by public institutions and charitable organizations pursuant to title 17, prescribe reasonably necessary measures to ensure that all food or drink, including meat and meat products and milk and milk products sold at the retail level, provided for human consumption is free from unwholesome, poisonous or other foreign substances and filth, insects or disease-causing organisms. The rules shall prescribe reasonably necessary measures governing the production, processing, labeling, storing, handling, serving and transportation of these products. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for the sanitary facilities and conditions that shall be maintained in any warehouse, restaurant or other premises, except a meat packing plant, slaughterhouse, wholesale meat processing plant, dairy product manufacturing plant or trade product manufacturing plant. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for any truck or other vehicle in which food or drink is produced, processed, stored, handled, served or transported. The rules shall provide for the inspection and licensing of premises and vehicles so used, and for abatement as public nuisances of any premises or vehicles that do not comply with the rules and minimum standards. The rules shall provide an exemption relating to food or drink that is:

- (a) Served at a noncommercial social event such as a potluck.
- (b) Prepared at a cooking school that is conducted in an owner-occupied home.
- (c) Not potentially hazardous and prepared in a kitchen of a private home for occasional sale or distribution for noncommercial purposes.
- (d) Prepared or served at an employee-conducted function that lasts less than four hours and is not regularly scheduled, such as an employee recognition, an employee fundraising or an employee social event.
- (e) Offered at a child care facility and limited to commercially prepackaged food that is not potentially hazardous and whole fruits and vegetables that are washed and cut on-site for immediate consumption.
- (f) Offered at locations that sell only commercially prepackaged food or drink that is not potentially hazardous.
- (g) A cottage food product that is not potentially hazardous or a time or temperature control for safety food and that is prepared in a kitchen of a private home for commercial purposes, including fruit jams and jellies, dry mixes made with ingredients from approved sources, honey, dry pasta and roasted nuts. Cottage food products must be packaged at home with an attached label that clearly states the name and registration number of the food preparer, lists all the ingredients in the product and the product's production date and includes the following statement: "This product was produced in a home kitchen that may process common food allergens and is not subject to public health inspection." If the product was made in a facility for individuals with developmental disabilities, the label must also disclose that fact. The person preparing the food or supervising the food preparation must complete a food handler training course from an accredited program and maintain active certification. The food preparer must register with an online registry established by the department pursuant to paragraph 13 of this subsection. The food preparer must display the preparer's certificate of registration when operating as a temporary food establishment. For the purposes of this subdivision, "not potentially hazardous" means cottage food products that meet the requirements of the food code published by the United States food and drug administration, as modified and incorporated by reference by the department by rule.
- (h) A whole fruit or vegetable grown in a public school garden that is washed and cut on-site for immediate consumption.
- (i) Produce in a packing or holding facility that is subject to the United States food and drug administration produce safety rule (21 Code of Federal Regulations part 112) as administered by the Arizona department of agriculture pursuant to title 3, chapter 3, article 4.1. For the purposes of this subdivision, "holding", "packing" and "produce" have the same meanings prescribed in section 3-525.
- (j) Spirituous liquor produced on the premises licensed by the department of liquor licenses and control. This exemption includes both of the following:
  - (i) The area in which production and manufacturing of spirituous liquor occurs, as defined in an active basic permit on file with the United States alcohol and tobacco tax and trade bureau.
  - (ii) The area licensed by the department of liquor licenses and control as a microbrewery, farm winery or craft distiller that is open to the public and serves spirituous liquor and commercially prepackaged food, crackers or pretzels for consumption on the premises. A producer of spirituous liquor may not provide, allow or expose for common use any cup, glass or other receptacle used for drinking purposes. For the purposes of this item, "common use" means the use of a drinking receptacle for drinking purposes by or for more than one person without the receptacle being thoroughly cleansed and sanitized between consecutive uses by methods prescribed by or acceptable to the department.

5. Prescribe reasonably necessary measures to ensure that all meat and meat products for human consumption handled at the retail level are delivered in a manner and from sources approved by the Arizona department of agriculture and are free from unwholesome, poisonous or other foreign substances and filth, insects or disease-causing organisms. The rules shall prescribe standards for sanitary facilities to be used in identity, storage, handling and sale of all meat and meat products sold at the retail level.

6. Prescribe reasonably necessary measures regarding production, processing, labeling, handling, serving and transportation of bottled water to ensure that all bottled drinking water distributed for human consumption is free from unwholesome, poisonous, deleterious or other foreign substances and filth or disease-causing organisms. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for the sanitary facilities and conditions that shall be maintained at any source of water, bottling plant and truck or vehicle in which bottled water is produced, processed, stored or transported and shall provide for inspection and certification of bottled drinking water sources, plants, processes and transportation and for abatement as a public nuisance of any water supply, label, premises, equipment, process or vehicle that does not comply with the minimum standards. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for bacteriological, physical and chemical quality for bottled water and for the submission of samples at intervals prescribed in the standards.

7. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary measures governing ice production, handling, storing and distribution to ensure that all ice sold or distributed for human consumption or for preserving or storing food for human consumption is free from unwholesome, poisonous, deleterious or other foreign substances and filth or disease-causing organisms. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for the sanitary facilities and conditions and the quality of ice that shall be maintained at any ice plant, storage and truck or vehicle in which ice is produced, stored, handled or transported and shall provide for inspection and licensing of the premises and vehicles, and for abatement as public nuisances of ice, premises, equipment, processes or vehicles that do not comply with the minimum standards.

8. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary measures concerning sewage and excreta disposal, garbage and trash collection, storage and disposal, and water supply for recreational and summer camps, campgrounds, motels, tourist courts, trailer coach parks and hotels. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for preparing food in community kitchens, adequacy of excreta disposal, garbage and trash collection, storage and disposal and water supply for recreational and summer camps, campgrounds, motels, tourist courts, trailer coach parks and hotels and shall provide for inspection of these premises and for abatement as public nuisances of any premises or facilities that do not comply with the rules. Primitive camp and picnic grounds offered by this state or a political subdivision of this state are exempt from rules adopted pursuant to this paragraph but are subject to approval by a county health department under sanitary regulations adopted pursuant to section 36-183.02. Rules adopted pursuant to this paragraph do not apply to two or fewer recreational vehicles as defined in section 33-2102 that are not park models or park trailers, that are parked on owner-occupied residential property for less than sixty days and for which no rent or other compensation is paid. For the purposes of this paragraph, "primitive camp and picnic grounds" means camp and picnic grounds that are remote in nature and without accessibility to public infrastructure such as water, electricity and sewer.

9. Define and prescribe reasonably necessary measures concerning the sewage and excreta disposal, garbage and trash collection, storage and disposal, water supply and food preparation of all public schools. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for sanitary conditions that shall be maintained in any public school and shall provide for inspection of these premises and facilities and for abatement as public nuisances of any premises that do not comply with the minimum standards.

10. Prescribe reasonably necessary measures to prevent pollution of water used in public or semipublic swimming pools and bathing places and to prevent deleterious health conditions at these places. The rules shall prescribe minimum standards for sanitary conditions that shall be maintained at any public or semipublic swimming pool or bathing place and shall provide for inspection of these premises and for abatement as public nuisances of any premises and facilities that do not comply with the minimum standards. The rules shall be developed in cooperation with the director of the department of environmental quality and shall be consistent with the rules adopted by the director of the department of environmental quality pursuant to section 49-104, subsection B, paragraph 12.

11. Prescribe reasonably necessary measures to keep confidential information relating to diagnostic findings and treatment of patients, as well as information relating to contacts, suspects and associates of communicable disease patients. In no event shall confidential information be made available for political or commercial purposes.

12. Prescribe reasonably necessary measures regarding human immunodeficiency virus testing as a means to control the transmission of that virus, including the designation of anonymous test sites as dictated by current epidemiologic and scientific evidence.

13. Establish an online registry of food preparers that are authorized to prepare cottage food products for commercial purposes pursuant to paragraph 4 of this subsection. A registered food preparer shall renew the registration every three years and shall provide to the department updated registration information within thirty days after any change.

14. Prescribe an exclusion for fetal demise cases from the standardized survey known as "the hospital consumer assessment of healthcare providers and systems".

J. The rules adopted under the authority conferred by this section shall be observed throughout the state and shall be enforced by each local board of health or public health services district, but this section does not limit the right of any local board of health or county board of supervisors to adopt ordinances and rules as authorized by law within its jurisdiction, provided that the ordinances and rules do not conflict with state law and are equal to or more restrictive than the rules of the director.

K. The powers and duties prescribed by this section do not apply in instances in which regulatory powers and duties relating to public health are vested by the legislature in any other state board, commission, agency or instrumentality, except that with regard to the regulation of meat and meat products, the department of health services and the Arizona department of agriculture within the area delegated to each shall adopt rules that are not in conflict.

L. The director, in establishing fees authorized by this section, shall comply with title 41, chapter 6. The department shall not set a fee at more than the department's cost of providing the service for which the fee is charged. State agencies are exempt from all fees imposed pursuant to this section.

M. After consultation with the state superintendent of public instruction, the director shall prescribe the criteria the department shall use in deciding whether or not to notify a local school district that a pupil in the district has tested positive for the human immunodeficiency virus antibody. The director shall prescribe the procedure by which the department shall notify a school district if, pursuant to these criteria, the department determines that notification is warranted in a particular situation. This procedure shall include a requirement that before notification the department shall determine to its satisfaction that the district has an appropriate policy relating to nondiscrimination of the infected pupil and confidentiality of test results and that proper educational counseling has been or will be provided to staff and pupils.

N. Until the department adopts exemptions by rule as required by subsection I, paragraph 4, subdivision (f) of this section, food and drink are exempt from the rules prescribed in subsection I of this section if offered at locations that sell only commercially prepackaged food or drink that is not potentially hazardous, without a limitation on its display area.

O. Until the department adopts exemptions by rule as required by subsection I, paragraph 4, subdivision (h) of this section, a whole fruit or vegetable grown in a public school garden that is washed and cut on-site for immediate consumption is exempt from the rules prescribed in subsection I of this section.

P. Until the department adopts an exclusion by rule as required by subsection I, paragraph 14 of this section, the standardized survey known as "the hospital consumer assessment of healthcare providers and systems" may not include patients who experience a fetal demise.

Q. Until the department adopts exemptions by rule as required by subsection I, paragraph 4, subdivision (j) of this section, spirituous liquor and commercially prepackaged food, crackers or pretzels that meet the requirements of subsection I, paragraph 4, subdivision (j) of this section are exempt from the rules prescribed in subsection I of this section.

1. Appoint a medical director of the emergency medical services and trauma system.

2. Adopt standards and criteria for the denial or granting of certification and recertification of emergency medical care technicians. These standards shall allow the department to certify qualified emergency medical care technicians who have completed statewide standardized training required under section 36-2204, paragraph 1 and a standardized certification test required under section 36-2204, paragraph 2, who hold valid certification with a national certification organization or who have completed training and testing by the United States armed forces at a level comparable to the national standards for emergency medical care technicians. Before the director may consider approving a statewide standardized training or a standardized certification test, or both, each of these must first be recommended by the medical direction commission and the emergency medical services council to ensure that the standardized training content is consistent with national education standards and that the standardized certification test examines comparable material to that examined in the tests of a national certification organization.

3. Adopt standards and criteria that pertain to the quality of emergency care pursuant to section 36-2204.

4. Adopt rules necessary to carry out this chapter. Each rule shall identify all sections and subsections of this chapter under which the rule was formulated.

5. Adopt reasonable medical equipment, supply, staffing and safety standards, criteria and procedures to issue a certificate of registration to operate an ambulance.

6. Maintain a state system for recertifying emergency medical care technicians, except as otherwise provided by section 36-2202.01, that is independent from any national certification organization recertification process. This system shall allow emergency medical care technicians to choose to be recertified under the state or the national certification organization recertification system subject to subsection H of this section.

B. Emergency medical technicians who choose the state recertification process shall recertify in one of the following ways:

1. Successfully completing an emergency medical technician refresher course approved by the department.

- C. After consultation with the emergency medical services council, the director may authorize pilot programs designed to improve the safety and efficiency of ambulance inspections for governmental or quasi-governmental entities that provide emergency medical services in this state.
- D. The rules, standards and criteria adopted by the director pursuant to subsection A, paragraphs 2, 3, 4 and 5 of this section shall be adopted in accordance with title 41, chapter 6, except that the director may adopt on an emergency basis pursuant to section 41-1026 rules relating to the regulation of ambulance services in this state necessary to protect the public peace, health and safety in advance of adopting rules, standards and criteria as otherwise provided by this subsection.
- E. The director may waive the requirement for compliance with a protocol adopted pursuant to section 36-2205 if the director determines that the techniques, drug formularies or training makes the protocol inconsistent with contemporary medical practices.
- F. The director may suspend a protocol adopted pursuant to section 36-2205 if the director does all of the following:
1. Determines that the rule is not in the public's best interest.
  2. Initiates procedures pursuant to title 41, chapter 6 to repeal the rule.
  3. Notifies all interested parties in writing of the director's action and the reasons for that action. Parties interested in receiving notification shall submit a written request to the director.
- G. To be eligible for appointment as the medical director of the emergency medical services and trauma system, the person shall be qualified in emergency medicine and shall be licensed as a physician in one of the states of the United States.
- H. Applicants for certification shall apply to the director for certification. Emergency medical care technicians shall apply for recertification to the director every two years. The director may extend the expiration date of an emergency medical care technician's certificate for thirty days. The department shall establish a fee for this extension by rule. Emergency medical care technicians shall pass an examination administered by the department as a condition for recertification only if required to do so by the advanced life support base hospital's medical director or the emergency medical care technician's medical director.
- I. The medical director of the emergency medical services and trauma system is exempt from title 41, chapter 4, articles 5 and 6 and is entitled to receive compensation pursuant to section 38-611, subsection A.

K. If the department determines there is not a qualified administrative medical director, the department shall ensure the provision of administrative medical direction for an emergency medical technician if the emergency medical technician meets all of the following criteria:

1. Is employed by a nonprofit or governmental provider employing less than twelve full-time emergency medical technicians.
2. Stipulates to the inability to secure a physician who is willing to provide administrative medical direction.
3. Stipulates that the provider agency does not provide administrative medical direction for its employees.

36-2204. Medical control

The medical director of the statewide emergency medical services and trauma system, the emergency medical services council and the medical direction commission shall recommend to the director the following standards and criteria that pertain to the quality of emergency patient care:

1. Statewide standardized training, certification and recertification standards for all classifications of emergency medical care technicians.
2. A standardized and validated testing procedure for all classifications of emergency medical care technicians.
3. Medical standards for certification and recertification of training programs for all classifications of emergency medical care technicians.
4. Standardized continuing education criteria for all classifications of emergency medical care technicians.

9. Standards for emergency medical dispatcher training, including prearrival instructions. For the purposes of this paragraph, "emergency medical dispatch" means the receipt of calls requesting emergency medical services and the response of appropriate resources to the appropriate location.
10. Standards for a quality assurance process for components of the statewide emergency medical services and trauma system, including standards for maintaining the confidentiality of the information considered in the course of quality assurance and the records of the quality assurance activities pursuant to section 36-2403.

11. Standards for ambulance service and medical transportation that give consideration to the differences between urban, rural and wilderness areas.
12. Standards to allow an ambulance to transport a patient to a health care institution that is licensed as a special hospital and that is physically connected to an emergency receiving facility.

36-2212. Certificate of registration to operate an ambulance; termination on change in ownership; fees; exemption

- A. A person shall not operate an ambulance in this state unless the ambulance has a certificate of registration and complies with this article and the rules, standards and criteria adopted pursuant to this article.
- B. A person may obtain a certificate of registration to operate an ambulance by submitting an application on a form prescribed by the director and by demonstrating to the director's satisfaction that the applicant is in compliance with this article and all rules, standards and criteria adopted by the director for the operation of an ambulance.
- C. A certificate of registration issued under this section terminates upon any change of ownership or control of the ambulance. Following any change of ownership, the new owner of an ambulance shall apply for and receive a new certificate of registration from the director before the ambulance may again be operated in this state. This subsection does not apply if an ambulance service borrows, leases, rents or otherwise obtains a registered ambulance from another ambulance service to temporarily replace an inoperable ambulance.
- D. The department shall issue a certificate of registration to a person who complies with the requirements of this article and who pays an initial registration fee. A certificate of registration is valid for one year. However, an ambulance service may request that the department issue an initial certificate of registration that expires before the end of one year in order for the department to conduct an annual inspection of all of the ambulance service's ambulances at one time. A person may renew a certificate of registration by complying with the requirements of this article and by paying a renewal fee prescribed by the director. The fee for initial registration and registration renewal shall not exceed fifty dollars for each ambulance. The department shall base these fees on an amount that approximates the per vehicle costs incurred by the department to administer this chapter. The director shall deposit, pursuant to sections 35-146 and 35-147, fees collected under this subsection in the state general fund. The department shall not charge a registration fee for an ambulance to an ambulance service that operates an ambulance or ambulances only as a volunteer not-for-profit service.

36-2232. Director; powers and duties; regulation of ambulance services; inspections; response time compliance; mileage rate calculation factors

- A. The director shall adopt rules to regulate the operation of ambulances and ambulance services in this state. Each rule shall identify all sections and subsections of this chapter under which the rule was formulated. The rules shall provide for the department to do the following:
  1. Consistent with the requirements of subsection H of this section, determine, fix, alter and regulate just, reasonable and sufficient rates and charges for the provision of ambulances, including rates and charges for advanced life support service, basic life support service, patient loaded mileage, standby waiting, subscription service contracts and other contracts for services related to the provision of ambulances. The director shall inform all ambulance services of the procedures and methodology used to determine ambulance rates or charges.
  2. Ensure evidence-based quality patient care is the priority for decision-making.
  3. Regulate operating and response times of ambulances to meet the needs of the public and to ensure adequate service. The rules adopted by the director for certificated ambulance service response times shall include uniform standards for urban, suburban, rural and wilderness geographic areas within the certificate of necessity based on, at a minimum, population density and geographic and medical considerations. The calculation of response times shall begin when the public safety answering point contacts an ambulance service for dispatch and conclude when the ambulance service arrives at the dispatched location. On-scene arrival times for response time measurement shall be documented by the ambulance service using dispatch or global positioning system data, or a combination of both, and kept on file. Response time data that is compliant with the health insurance portability and accountability act of 1996 shall be filed annually with the department. When dispatch or global positioning system connectivity is not available, the ambulance service shall manually document on-scene arrival times for response time measurement. The response time data shall be filed in a department-approved format, and the department shall make the response time data publicly available.

4. Review response times established pursuant to paragraph 3 of this subsection with the ambulance service and update the response times based on, at a minimum, population density and geographic and medical considerations, and the financial impact on rates and charges, every six years. One additional review each six-year period may be requested by a city, town, fire district or fire authority whose jurisdictional boundaries in whole or in part are within the service area of a certificate of necessity or an existing certificate of necessity holder within the service area of the certificate of necessity.

5. Determine, fix, alter and regulate bases of operation. The director may issue a certificate of necessity to more than one ambulance service within any base of operation. For the purposes of this paragraph, "base of operation" means a service area granted under a certificate of necessity.

6. Issue, amend, transfer, suspend or revoke certificates of necessity under terms consistent with this article.

7. Prescribe a uniform system of accounts to be used by ambulance services that conforms to standard accounting forms and principles for the ambulance industry and generally accepted accounting principles.

8. Require the filing of an annual financial report and other data. These rules shall require an ambulance service to file the report with the department not later than one hundred eighty days after the completion of its annual accounting period.

9. Regulate ambulance services in all matters affecting services to the public to the end that this article may be fully carried out.

10. Prescribe bonding requirements, if any, for ambulance services granted authority to provide any type of subscription service.

11. Offer technical assistance to ambulance services to ensure compliance with the rules.

12. Offer technical assistance to ambulance services in order to obtain or to amend a certificate of necessity.

13. Inspect, at a maximum of twelve-month intervals, each ambulance registered pursuant to section 36-2212 to ensure that the vehicle is operational and safe and that all required medical equipment is operational. At the request of the provider, the inspection may be performed by a facility approved by the director. If a provider requests that the inspection be performed by a facility approved by the director, the provider shall pay the cost of the inspection.

B. The director may require any ambulance service offering subscription service contracts to obtain a bond in an amount determined by the director that is based on the number of subscription service contract holders and to file the bond with the director to protect all subscription service contract holders in this state who are covered under that subscription contract.

C. An ambulance service shall:

1. Maintain, establish, add, move or delete suboperation stations within its base of operation to ensure that the ambulance service meets the established response times or those approved by the director in a political subdivision contract.

2. Determine the operating hours of its suboperation stations to provide for coverage of its base of operation.

3. Provide the department with a list of suboperation station locations.
4. Notify the department not later than thirty days after the ambulance service makes a change in the number or location of its suboperation stations.
5. Beginning January 1, 2024, install and maintain an electronic global positioning system monitoring device in each vehicle that is used for transport to record on-scene arrival times for response time measurement. The department shall provide a waiver on a department-approved form to an ambulance service that can reasonably demonstrate it is unable to meet the requirements of this paragraph.

D. At any time, the director or the director's agents may:

1. Inquire into the operation of an ambulance service, including a person operating an ambulance that has not been issued a certificate of registration or a person who does not have or is operating outside of a certificate of necessity.
2. Conduct on-site inspections of facilities, communications equipment, vehicles, procedures, materials and equipment.
3. Review the qualifications of ambulance attendants.

E. If all ambulance services that have been granted authority to operate within the same service area or that have overlapping certificates of necessity apply for uniform rates and charges, the director may establish uniform rates and charges for the service area.

F. In consultation with the medical director of the emergency medical services and trauma system, the emergency medical services council and the medical direction commission, the director of the department of health services shall establish protocols for ambulance services to refer and advise a patient or transport a patient by the most appropriate means to the most appropriate provider of medical services based on the patient's condition. The protocols shall include triage and treatment protocols that allow all classifications of emergency medical care technicians responding to a person who has accessed 911, or a similar public dispatch number, for a condition that does not pose an immediate threat to life or limb to refer and advise a patient or transport a patient to the most appropriate health care institution as defined in section 36-401 based on the patient's condition, taking into consideration factors including patient choice, the patient's health care provider, specialized health care facilities and local protocols.

G. The director, when reviewing an ambulance service's response time compliance with its certificate of necessity, shall consider in addition to other factors the effect of hospital diversion, delayed emergency department admission and the number of ambulances engaged in response or transport in the affected area.

H. The department shall incorporate all of the following factors when calculating the proposed mileage rate:

1. The cost of licensure and registration of each ground ambulance vehicle.
2. The cost of fuel.
3. The cost of ground ambulance vehicle maintenance.
4. The cost of ground ambulance vehicle repair.
5. The cost of tires.
6. The cost of ground ambulance vehicle insurance.
7. The cost of mechanic wages, benefits and payroll taxes.
8. The cost of loan interest related to the ground ambulance vehicles.
9. The cost of the weighted allocation of overhead.
10. The cost of ground ambulance vehicle depreciation.
11. The cost of reserves for replacement of ground ambulance vehicles and equipment.

36-2233. Certificate of necessity to operate an ambulance service; notification of interested parties; exceptions; service areas

A. Any person wishing to operate an ambulance service in this state shall apply to the department on a form prescribed by the director for a certificate of necessity.

B. Within one hundred eighty days after receiving an application for a certificate of necessity as prescribed in this section, the director shall make a determination based on whether necessity for the ambulance service is found to exist and the applicant meets the requirements of subsection F of this section. If the director requests additional information from the applicant after initial review, the applicant shall have thirty business days to respond. On request, the director may give the applicant one additional period of thirty business days to respond. If the applicant fails to respond to the director's request for additional information, the department shall deem the initial or amended application withdrawn. An application deemed withdrawn is not an appealable agency action pursuant to title 41, chapter 6, article 10. The applicant may appeal a denial only pursuant to section 36-2234. The one hundred eighty-day period for the director to make the determination of necessity does not include the time the applicant uses to respond to requests for additional information.

C. On receipt of an initial or amended application for a certificate of necessity, the department shall post a notice of the application on its website. Within thirty days after the department posts a notice pursuant to this subsection, any interested party may provide information to the director on a form in a department-approved format for consideration. If an interested party fails to respond to the notice within sixty days in a department-approved format, the information may not be considered during the review of the application.

D. For the purposes of this section, a city, town, fire district, fire authority or tribal government whose jurisdictional boundaries in whole or in part are within the service area of a certificate of necessity, an existing certificate of necessity holder within the service area of the certificate of necessity or a hospital that is licensed pursuant to chapter 4 of this title and that is located within the service area of a certificate of necessity is considered to be an interested party as a matter of law.

E. All interested parties shall be notified of any application for an initial or amended certificate of necessity within fifteen days after the application is filed, within fifteen days after the application is complete and within fifteen days after a decision by the director. The director's decision pursuant to subsection F of this section is final unless appealed pursuant to section 36-2234, subsection A.

F. The director shall issue a certificate of necessity if all of the following apply:

1. The director finds that public necessity requires the service or any part of the service proposed by the applicant.
2. The director finds that the applicant is fit and proper to provide the service.
3. The applicant has paid the appropriate fees pursuant to section 36-2240.
4. The applicant has filed a surety bond pursuant to section 36-2237.

G. A certificate of necessity issued pursuant to subsection F of this section shall be for all or part of the service proposed by the applicant as determined necessary by the director for public convenience and necessity.

H. This section does not require a certificate of necessity for:

1. Vehicles and persons that are exempt from a certificate of registration pursuant to section 36-2217.
2. Ambulance services operating under temporary authority pursuant to section 36-2242.

I. The director may grant a service area by one or any combination of the following descriptions:

1. Metes and bounds.
2. A city, town or political subdivision not limited to a specific date. The merger or consolidation of two or more fire districts pursuant to section 48-820 or 48-822 does not expand the service area boundaries of an existing certificate of necessity.

3. A city, town or political subdivision as of a specific date that does not include annexation.

36-2235. Terms of certificates of necessity; initial term; renewal

A. The initial certificate of necessity issued pursuant to section 36-2233 to each ambulance service shall be for a term of one year.

B. On the expiration of a certificate of necessity, if the holder of the certificate meets all requirements, applies for a renewal and pays the fees prescribed in section 36-2240, the director shall renew the certificate for a term of three years without public hearing or waiver unless cause is shown to set a hearing to consider denial or renewal for a shorter term.

C. If the director does not conclude a hearing to show cause within ninety days of the expiration date of the certificate, the certificate shall be renewed for a period of not less than one year. The term of the certificate shall be extended to three years if the director determines that cause is not established for denial or renewal for a shorter term. For the purposes of this subsection, "hearing to show cause" means a hearing ordered by the director pursuant to section 36-2245 to determine if any grounds exist to prevent an ambulance service from carrying out the provisions of subsection B of this section during the current term of the certificate.

36-2236. Nature of certificates of necessity; transfer; suspension; service area

A. A certificate of necessity issued pursuant to this article is not a franchise, may be revoked by the director and does not confer a property right on its holder.

B. A certificate of necessity shall not be assigned or otherwise transferred without the written approval of the director. When any certificate is assigned or transferred, the director shall issue to the assignee or transferee a new certificate that is valid only for the unexpired term of the transferred or assigned certificate.

C. In case of emergency, the director may suspend a certificate of necessity as provided in section 36-2234.

D. If a certificate of necessity issued pursuant to this article is issued to a city, town, fire district, fire authority or other political subdivision of this state, the service area shall be all the geographic area lying within the jurisdictional boundaries of the city, town, fire district, fire authority or political subdivision, unless the certificate issued by the director specifically excludes a portion of the city, town, fire district, fire authority or political subdivision or includes an additional service area outside the jurisdictional boundaries of the city, town, fire district, fire authority or other political subdivision. If the jurisdictional boundaries of a city, town, fire district, fire authority or other political subdivision expand, the service area in the certificate of necessity expands to reflect those jurisdictional boundaries, except as prescribed in section 36-2233, subsection I, paragraph 2. This subsection does not affect the validity of any previously granted certificate for an unincorporated area lying within the boundaries of a city.

E. If the population of a service area changes by ten percent or more based on the most recent decennial census or five-year census estimate, the department must conduct a review to determine whether adjustments must be made to the response times in the service area, taking into consideration the impact on rates and charges.

36-2237. Required insurance, financial responsibility or bond; revocation for failure to comply

A. The director shall not issue a certificate of necessity to an ambulance service unless the service has filed with the department a certificate of insurance or other evidence of financial responsibility in an amount the director deems necessary to adequately protect the interests of the public. The liability insurance shall bind the insurer to pay compensation for injuries to persons and for loss or damage to property resulting from the negligent operation of the ambulance service.

B. If an application for a certificate of necessity includes any type of subscription service contract and, in the director's discretion, a surety bond is necessary pursuant to section 36-2232, the director shall not issue a certificate of necessity until the applicant has filed a surety bond with the director in the form and amount determined by him on which bond the applicant is the principal obligor and this state is the obligee. The director shall approve the bond and the bond must be with a surety company authorized to transact business in this state as surety on the bond. The bond must be conditioned on the payment by the applicant to any subscribers that may be parties to any type of subscription service contract.

C. The director shall fix the total amount of the bond required and the director may increase or decrease the bond amount subject to criteria adopted by rule and regulation.

D. The director shall revoke the certificate of necessity of any ambulance service which fails to comply with this section.

36-2239. Ambulance services; rates; charges; adjustment; civil penalty

A. An ambulance service that applies to adjust its rates or charges shall automatically be granted a rate increase equal to the amount determined under section 36-2234, subsection G, if the ambulance service is so entitled. An automatic rate adjustment that is granted pursuant to this subsection and that is filed on or before April 1 is effective June 1 of that year. The department shall notify the applicant and each health care services organization as defined in section 20-1051 of the rate adjustment on or before May 1 of that year.

B. Notwithstanding subsection E of this section, if the department does not hold a hearing within ninety days after an ambulance service applies to the department to adjust its rates or charges, the ambulance service may adjust its rates or charges to an amount not to exceed the amount sought by the ambulance service in its application to the department. An ambulance service shall not apply to adjust its rates or charges more than once every six months.

C. At the time the department holds a hearing on the rates or charges of an ambulance service pursuant to section 36-2234, the department may adjust the rates or charges adjusted by the ambulance service pursuant to subsection B of this section, but the adjustment shall not be retroactive.

D. Except as provided in subsection H of this section, an ambulance service shall not charge, demand or collect any remuneration for any service greater or less than or different from the rate or charge determined and fixed by the department as the rate or charge for that service. An ambulance service may charge for disposable supplies, medical supplies and medication and oxygen related costs if the charges do not exceed the manufacturer's suggested retail price, are uniform throughout the ambulance service's certificated area and are filed with the director. An ambulance service shall not refund or limit in any manner or by any device any portion of the rates or charges for a service that the department has determined and fixed or ordered as the rate or charge for that service.

E. The department shall determine and render its decision regarding all rates or charges within ninety days after commencement of the applicant's hearing to adjust rates or charges. If the department does not render its decision as required by this subsection, the ambulance service may adjust its rates and charges to an amount that does not exceed the amounts sought by the ambulance service in its application to the department. If the department renders a decision to adjust the rates or charges to an amount less than that requested in the application and the ambulance service has adjusted its rates and charges higher than the adjustment approved by the department, within thirty days after the department's decision the ambulance service shall refund to the appropriate ratepayer the difference between the ambulance service's adjusted rates and charges and the rates and charges ordered by the department. The ambulance service shall provide evidence to the department that the refund has been made. If the ambulance service fails to comply with this subsection, the director may impose a civil penalty subject to the limits provided in section 36-2245.

F. An ambulance service shall charge the advanced life support base rate as prescribed by the director under any of the following circumstances:

1. A person requests an ambulance by dialing telephone number 911, or a similarly designated telephone number for emergency calls, and all of the following apply:

- (a) The ambulance is staffed with at least one ambulance attendant.
  - (b) The ambulance is equipped with all required advanced life support medical equipment and supplies for the advanced life support attendants in the ambulance.
  - (c) The patient receives advanced life support services or is transported by the advanced life support unit.
2. Advanced life support is requested by a medical authority or by the patient.
3. The ambulance attendants administer one or more specialized treatment activities or procedures as prescribed by the department by rule.
- G. An ambulance service shall charge the basic life support base rate as prescribed by the director under any of the following circumstances:
1. A person requests an ambulance by dialing telephone number 911, or a similarly designated telephone number for emergency calls, and all of the following apply:
- (a) The ambulance is staffed with two ambulance attendants certified by this state.
  - (b) The ambulance is equipped with all required basic life support medical equipment and supplies for the basic life support medical attendants in the ambulance.
  - (c) The patient receives basic life support services or is transported by the basic life support unit.
2. Basic life support transportation or service is requested by a medical authority or by the patient, unless any provision of subsection F of this section applies, in which case the advanced life support rate applies.
- H. For each contract year, the Arizona health care cost containment system administration and its contractors and subcontractors shall provide remuneration for ambulance services for persons who are enrolled in or covered by the Arizona health care cost containment system in an amount equal to 68.59 percent of the amounts as prescribed by the department as of July 1 of each year for services specified in subsections F and G of this section and 68.59 percent of the mileage charges as determined by the department as of July 1 of each year pursuant to section 36-2232. The Arizona health care cost containment system administration shall annually adjust the Arizona health care cost containment system fee schedule according to the department's approved ambulance service rate in effect as of July 1 of each year. The rate adjustments made pursuant to this subsection are effective beginning October 1 of each year.
- I. In establishing rates and charges, the director shall consider the following factors:
- 1. The transportation needs assessment of the medical response system in a political subdivision.
  - 2. The medical care consumer price index of the United States department of labor, bureau of labor statistics.
  - 3. Whether a review is made by a local emergency medical services coordinating system in regions where that system is designated as to the appropriateness of the proposed service level.
  - 4. The rate of return on gross revenue.
  - 5. Response times pursuant to section 36-2232, subsection A, paragraphs 3 and 4.
- J. Notwithstanding section 36-2234, an ambulance service may charge an amount for medical assessment, equipment or treatment that exceeds the requirements of section 36-2205 if requested or required by a medical provider or patient.
- K. Notwithstanding subsections D, F and G of this section, an ambulance service may provide gratuitous services if an ambulance is dispatched and the patient subsequently declines to be treated or transported.

36-2240. Fees

Fees not to exceed the following amounts shall be paid by the owner of an ambulance service to the department for deposit in the state general fund to be available for legislative appropriation in order to carry out the provisions of this chapter:

1. One hundred dollars upon filing an application for a certificate of necessity.
2. Fifty dollars upon filing an application to amend, transfer or renew a certificate of necessity.
3. For the issuance of an initial certificate of necessity, two hundred dollars for each ambulance proposed to be operated by the ambulance service to which the certificate is granted.
4. An annual regulatory fee of two hundred dollars for each ambulance issued a certificate of registration pursuant to section 36-2212, to be collected at the same time as the certificate of registration fee imposed by section 36-2212.

36-2241. Required records; inspection by the department

A. Pursuant to rules adopted by the director, an owner of an ambulance service shall maintain and keep within this state reasonable records, books and other data the director requires to enforce the provisions of this article. These records, books and other data shall not be destroyed for a period of three years after they are recorded. The records, books and other data shall be open to inspection by the department during reasonable office hours if the department is conducting an investigation into the operation of an ambulance service pursuant to section 36-2245.

B. If the director is holding a public rate increase hearing pursuant to section 36-2234, the department may inspect the records, books and other data to verify the truth and accuracy of these documents. The department shall conduct the inspection of these documents for a rate increase hearing only during reasonable office hours and only after giving the service at least one working day's notice.

C. If an audit is required, the department shall accept a certified audit that is performed by an independent auditor at the provider's expense in place of a department audit if the audit:

1. Is conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.
2. Includes findings regarding the ambulance service's compliance with the schedule of rates and charges approved by the director.
3. Is completed and forwarded to the department in a timely manner.

MEETING DATE: March 5, 2024

TO: Members of the Governor's Regulatory Review Council (Council)

FROM: Council Staff

DATE: February 13, 2024

SUBJECT: STATE RETIREMENT SYSTEM BOARD
Title 2, Chapter 8

Amend: R2-8-118

Summary:

This regular rulemaking from the Arizona State Retirement System Board (ASRS) seeks to amend one (1) rule in Title 2, Chapter 8, Article 1 related to Application of Interest Rates. Specifically, the ASRS seeks to amend its rules to clarify how the ASRS may deem an account abandoned and how a member may request to have an abandoned account reinstated.

The ASRS indicates, without this rulemaking, members will not have adequate notice about how an account may be deemed abandoned or how a member may have the account reinstated. The ASRS indicates notice of such information is necessary in order to ensure that abandoned accounts are accounted for properly. By promulgating these rules, the ASRS indicates members will have a better understanding of when their account may become abandoned and how to have the account reinstated. Increasing understanding of how the ASRS may reinstate an abandoned account will increase the member's understanding of how to request their account be reinstated and reduce confusion, which will reduce burden on the public.

1. Are the rules legal, consistent with legislative intent, and within the agency's statutory authority?

The ASRS cites both general and specific statutory authority for these rules.

2. Do the rules establish a new fee or contain a fee increase?

This rulemaking does not establish a new fee or contain a fee increase.

3. Does the preamble disclose a reference to any study relevant to the rules that the agency reviewed and either did or did not rely upon?

The ASRS indicates it did not review any study relevant to this rulemaking.

4. Summary of the agency's economic impact analysis:

The ASRS states it needs to amend its rules relating to how the ASRS may deem an account abandoned and how a member may request to have an abandoned account reinstated. The ASRS indicates that the rulemaking will clarify how ASRS reinstates abandoned accounts, thereby increasing understandability of how members' benefits may be affected, thereby increasing the efficiency of the administration. The ASRS states that the rule will have minimal economic impact, if any, because it merely clarifies when the ASRS deems an account as abandoned per statute and how a member may have the abandoned account reinstated. Stakeholders include the ASRS and all members of the ASRS, as well as their beneficiaries. The ASRS indicates it currently has a total membership of approximately 652,864 and 664 employers.

5. Has the agency analyzed the costs and benefits of the rulemaking and determined that the rules impose the least burden and costs to those who are regulated?

The ASRS believes this is the least costly and least intrusive method because it will clarify how the ASRS administers abandoned accounts.

6. What are the economic impacts on stakeholders?

The ASRS states that the rulemaking does not directly affect state agencies and does not provide any benefits or impose any costs on political subdivisions. They state no businesses, of any size, are directly affected by the rulemaking. The ASRS believes there is little to no economic, small business, or consumer impact, other than the minimal cost to the ASRS to prepare the rule package.

7. Are the final rules a substantial change, considered as a whole, from the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

The ASRS indicates there were no changes between the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking published in the Administrative Register and the Notice of Final Rulemaking now before the Council.

8. Does the agency adequately address the comments on the proposed rules and any supplemental proposals?

The ASRS indicates it received no public comments related to this rulemaking and no one attended the oral proceeding held on September 5, 2023.

9. Do the rules require a permit or license and, if so, does the agency comply with A.R.S. § 41-1037?

Not applicable. The ASRS indicates the proposed amended rules do not require issuance of a permit.

10. Are the rules more stringent than corresponding federal law and, if so, is there statutory authority to exceed the requirements of federal law?

Not applicable. The ASRS indicates there is no federal law applicable to these rules.

11. Conclusion

This regular rulemaking from the ASRS seeks to amend one (1) rule in Title 2, Chapter 8, Article 1 to clarify how the ASRS may deem an account abandoned and how a member may request to have an abandoned account reinstated.

The ASRS is seeking the standard 60-day delayed effective date pursuant to A.R.S. § 41-1032(A). Council staff recommends approval of this rulemaking.

9. A summary of the economic, small business, and consumer impact:

The ASRS promulgates rules that allow the agency to provide for the proper administration of the state retirement trust fund. ASRS rules affect ASRS members and ASRS employers regarding how they contribute to, and receive benefits from, the ASRS. The ASRS effectively administers how public-sector employers and employees participate in the ASRS. As such, the ASRS does not issue permits or licenses, or charge fees, and its rules have little to no economic impact on private-sector businesses, with the exception of some employer partner charter schools, which have voluntarily contracted to join the ASRS. Thus, there is little to no economic, small business, or consumer impact, other than the minimal cost to the ASRS to prepare the rule package. The rule will have minimal economic impact, if any, because it merely clarifies when the ASRS deems an account as abandoned per statute and how a member may have the abandoned account reinstated.

B. At the beginning of each fiscal year, interest is credited to the retirement account of each member on the June 30 that marks the end of the fiscal year based on the balance in the member's account as of the previous June 30. The balance on which interest is credited includes:

1. Employer and employee contributions;
  2. Voluntary additional contributions made by members pursuant to A.R.S. §§ 38-742, 38-743, 38-744, and 38-745, if applicable;
  3. Amounts credited by transfer under 2 A.A.C. 8, Article 11; and
  4. Interest credited in previous years.
- C. Notwithstanding subsection (B), the retirement account of each member stops accruing interest the last full month prior to the member's retirement date.
- D. A member's retirement account that the ASRS deems abandoned according to A.R.S. § 38-722 shall receive interest at the applicable interest rates according to subsection (A) upon reinstatement of the retirement account.
- E. For a member whose address and birthdate are on file with the ASRS, the ASRS shall deem a retirement account of a member who is not retired or deceased as abandoned if:
1. The ASRS has not received any contributions for at least 180 days;
  2. The member has reached the required minimum distribution age according to A.R.S. § 38-775; and
  3. The ASRS has sent the member at least three annual notices of the member's responsibility to submit an application for disbursement of benefits according to A.R.S. § 38-775 and the member has not responded to those notices.
- F. For a member whose address and birthdate are not on file with the ASRS, the ASRS shall deem a retirement account of a member who is not retired or deceased as abandoned if:
1. The ASRS has not received any contributions for at least 180 days; and
  2. The ASRS has posted the member's full name to the abandoned monies section of the ASRS website for at least three consecutive years.

G. The ASRS shall deem a retirement account of a deceased member as abandoned if:

and
2. The designated beneficiary has not responded to those notices.

H. The ASRS shall reinstate an abandoned retirement account if the apparent owner notifies the ASRS that the member would like the retirement account reinstated.

ECONOMIC, SMALL BUSINESS, AND CONSUMER IMPACT STATEMENT<sup>1</sup>

TITLE 2. ADMINISTRATION

CHAPTER 8. STATE RETIREMENT SYSTEM BOARD

1. Identification of the rulemaking:

The ASRS needs to amend its rules relating to how the ASRS may deem an account abandoned and how a member may request to have an abandoned account reinstated.

a. The conduct and its frequency of occurrence that the rule is designed to change:

The ASRS promulgates rules that allow the agency to provide for the proper administration of the state retirement trust fund. ASRS rules affect ASRS members and ASRS employers regarding how they contribute to, and receive benefits from, the ASRS. The ASRS effectively administrates how public-sector employers and employees participate in the ASRS. When the ASRS is unable to locate a member through various statutory methods, it deems an account as abandoned. However, the ASRS shall reinstate any abandoned account if a member upon request.

b. The harm resulting from the conduct the rule is designed to change and the likelihood it will continue to occur if the rule is not changed:

Without this rulemaking, members will not have adequate notice about how an account may be deemed abandoned or how a member may have the account reinstated. Notice of such information is necessary in order to ensure that abandoned accounts are accounted for properly. By promulgating these rules, members will have a better understanding of when their account may become abandoned and how to have the account reinstated. Increasing understanding of how the ASRS may reinstate an abandoned account will increase the member's understanding of how to request their account be reinstated and reduce confusion, which will reduce burden on the public.

<sup>1</sup> If adequate data are not reasonably available, the agency shall explain the limitations of the data, the methods used in an attempt to obtain the data, and characterize the probable impacts in qualitative terms. (A.R.S. § 41-1055(C)).

- c. The estimated change in frequency of the targeted conduct expected from the rule change:

This rulemaking will clarify how the ASRS reinstates abandoned accounts, thereby increasing understandability of how members' benefits may be affected, thereby increasing the efficiency of the administration. Clarifying how the ASRS deems an account abandoned and how a member may request reinstatement will ensure that payment efforts are processed more efficiently. As discussed above and below, these rules will increase the clarity and effectiveness of the applicable reinstatement requirements, which should result in reducing confusion, as well as any potential administrative delay caused by a misunderstanding of how accounts become abandoned and reinstated.

2. A brief summary of the information included in the economic, small business, and consumer impact statement:

The ASRS promulgates rules that allow the agency to provide for the proper administration of the state retirement trust fund. ASRS rules affect ASRS members and ASRS employers regarding how they contribute to, and receive benefits from, the ASRS. The ASRS effectively administrates how public-sector employers and employees participate in the ASRS. As such, the ASRS does not issue permits or licenses, or charge fees, and its rules have little to no economic impact on private-sector businesses, with the exception of some employer partner charter schools, which have voluntarily contracted to join the ASRS. Thus, there is little to no economic, small business, or consumer impact, other than the minimal cost to the ASRS to prepare the rule package. The rule will have minimal economic impact, if any, because it merely clarifies when the ASRS deems an account as abandoned per statute and how a member may have the abandoned account reinstated.

4. Persons who will be directly affected by, bear the costs of, or directly benefit from the rulemaking:

All members of the ASRS, as well as their beneficiaries, will be directly affected by, bear the costs of, and directly benefit from this rulemaking. The ASRS incurred the cost of the rulemaking. The ASRS currently has a total membership of approximately 652,864 and 664 employers.

5. Cost-benefit analysis:

- a. Costs and benefits to state agencies directly affected by the rulemaking including the number of new full-time employees at the implementing agency required to implement and enforce the proposed rule:

This rulemaking does not directly affect state agencies and the ASRS has determined that no new full-time employees will be required to implement and enforce the rules.

- b. Costs and benefits to political subdivisions directly affected by the rulemaking:

This rulemaking does not provide any benefits or impose any costs on political subdivisions.

- c. Costs and benefits to businesses directly affected by the rulemaking:

No businesses are directly affected by the rulemaking.

6. Impact on private and public employment:

The rulemaking will have no impact on private or public employment.

7. Impact on small businesses<sup>2</sup>:
  - a. Identification of the small business subject to the rulemaking:
No businesses, regardless of size, are subject to the rulemaking.
  - b. Administrative and other costs required for compliance with the rulemaking:
Not applicable.
  - c. Description of methods that may be used to reduce the impact on small businesses:
Not applicable.
8. Cost and benefit to private persons and consumers who are directly affected by the rulemaking:
All ASRS retired members and beneficiaries are directly affected by the rulemaking.
The effect has been previously described above.
9. Probable effects on state revenues:
There will be no effect on state revenues.
10. Less intrusive or less costly alternative methods considered:
The ASRS believes this is the least costly and least intrusive method because it will clarify how the ASRS administers abandoned accounts.

RULES

The definition for a rule is provided for under A.R.S. § 41-1001. “‘Rule’ means an agency statement of general applicability that implements, interprets, or prescribes law or policy, or describes the procedures or practice requirements of an agency.”

RULES

The definition for a rule is provided for under A.R.S. § 41-1001. “‘Rule’ means an agency statement of general applicability that implements, interprets, or prescribes law or policy, or describes the procedures or practice requirements of an agency.”

The Code is separated by subject into Titles. Titles are divided into Chapters. A Chapter includes state agency rules. Rules in Chapters are divided into Articles, then Sections. The “R” stands for “rule” with a sequential numbering and lettering outline separated into subsections.

Rules are codified quarterly in the Code. Supplement release dates are printed on the footers of each Chapter.

First Quarter: January 1 - March 31

Second Quarter: April 1 - June 30

Third Quarter: July 1 - September 30

Fourth Quarter: October 1 - December 31

For example, the first supplement for the first quarter of 2022 is cited as Supp. 22-1. Supplements are traditionally released three to four weeks after the end of the quarter because filings are accepted until the last day of the quarter.

Please note: The Office publishes by Chapter, not by individual rule Section. Therefore there might be only a few Sections codified in each Chapter released in a supplement. This is why the Office lists only updated codified Sections on the previous page.

RULE HISTORY

Refer to the HISTORICAL NOTE at the end of each Section for the effective date of a rule. The note also includes the Register volume and page number in which the notice was published (A.A.R.) and beginning in supplement 21-4, the date the notice was published in the Register.

AUTHENTICATION OF PDF CODE CHAPTERS

The Office began to authenticate Chapters of the Code in Supp. 18-1 to comply with A.R.S. §§ 41-1012(B) and A.R.S. § 41-5505.

A certification verifies the authenticity of each Code Chapter posted as it is released by the Office of the Secretary of State. The authenticated pdf of the Code includes an integrity mark with a certificate ID. Users should check the validity of the signature, especially if the pdf has been downloaded. If the digital signature is invalid it means the document’s content has been compromised.

HOW TO USE THE CODE

Rules may be in effect before a supplement is released by the Office. Therefore, the user should refer to issues of the Arizona Administrative Register for recent updates to rule Sections.

ARIZONA REVISED STATUTE REFERENCES

The Arizona Revised Statutes (A.R.S.) are available online at the Legislature’s website, www.azleg.gov. An agency’s authority note to make rules is often included at the beginning of a Chapter. Other Arizona statutes may be referenced in rule under the A.R.S. acronym.

RULES

The definition for a rule is provided for under A.R.S. § 41-1001. “‘Rule’ means an agency statement of general applicability that implements, interprets, or prescribes law or policy, or describes the procedures or practice requirements of an agency.”

RULES

The definition for a rule is provided for under A.R.S. § 41-1001. “‘Rule’ means an agency statement of general applicability that implements, interprets, or prescribes law or policy, or describes the procedures or practice requirements of an agency.”

An agency’s exemption is written in law by the Arizona State Legislature or under a referendum or initiative passed into law by Arizona voters.

When an agency files an exempt rulemaking package with our Office it specifies the law exemption in what is called the preamble of rulemaking. The preamble is published in the Register online at www.azsos.gov/rules, click on the Administrative Register link.

Editor’s notes at the beginning of a Chapter provide information about rulemaking Sections made by exempt rulemaking. Exempt rulemaking notes are also included in the historical note at the end of a rulemaking Section.

The Office makes a distinction to certain exemptions because some rules are made without receiving input from stakeholders or the public. Other exemptions may require an agency to propose exempt rules at a public hearing.

- H. If the ASRS determines that the increase in the member's salary was not the result of a Promotion pursuant to subsections (F) or (G), the ASRS shall calculate the unfunded liability amount pursuant to subsection (I).
- I. In consultation with the ASRS actuary, the ASRS shall use a determination under subsection (B) to calculate the unfunded liability resulting from the implementation of the Employer's Termination Incentive Program.
- J. Upon calculating an unfunded liability amount pursuant to subsection (I), the ASRS shall send a Termination Incentive Program Liability Invoice to the Employer through the Employer's secure ASRS account, in order to notify the Employer of the unfunded liability amount the Employer shall owe to the ASRS as a result of implementing the Termination Incentive Program identified under subsection (B).

If a debtor neglects or refuses to pay a debt owed to ASRS after ASRS has made at least two separate attempts to collect the debt and not fewer than thirty days after ASRS determines a debt is owed, ASRS may collect the debt and such other sums as are sufficient to cover the expenses of the levy, by levy on:

1. Cash and cash equivalent property at financial institutions.

2. The accrued salary or wages of the debtor, by serving notice of levy on the chief disbursing officer of the debtor's employer.

C. The financial institution or the chief disbursing officer of the debtor's employer shall notify the debtor of the levy within five business days of the levy. The debtor may appeal the levy to ASRS.

D. The effect of a levy on salary or wages payable to or received by a debtor is continuous from the date the levy is first made until the liability out of which the levy arose is satisfied or becomes unenforceable. ASRS shall promptly release the levy when the liability out of which the levy arose is satisfied or becomes unenforceable and shall promptly notify the debtor on whom the levy was made that the levy has been released.

E. If a levy has been made or is about to be made, any person having custody or control of any books or records containing evidence or statements relating to the property subject to levy, on request from ASRS, shall exhibit the books or records to ASRS.

F. Except as otherwise provided in subsection D of this section, a levy extends only to property possessed and obligations existing at the time of the levy or within thirty days after the date of the levy. In any case in which ASRS may levy on property, ASRS may seize the cash property and may seize and convert cash equivalent property to cash.

G. For the purposes of this section:

1. "Financial institutions" means state and federally chartered banks, trust companies, federal and state savings and loan associations, federal and state credit unions, consumer lenders, international banking facilities and financial institution holding companies, insurance companies, benefit associations, safe deposit companies, money market mutual funds and similar institutions authorized to do business in this state and any party affiliated with these financial institutions.

38-724. Surrender of property subject to levy; authority to release levy and return property; definitions

A. Any person in possession of, or obligated with respect to, property subject to levy on which a levy has been made, on request of ASRS, shall surrender the property or discharge the obligation to ASRS, except the part of the property that is, at the time of the request, subject to an attachment or execution under any judicial process.

B. A person who fails or refuses to surrender any property subject to levy, on request by ASRS, is liable in person and estate to this state in a sum equal to the value of the property not so surrendered, but not exceeding the amount of debt for the collection of which the levy has been made, with costs and interest on the sum at the interest rate determined by the board from the date of the levy or, in the case of a levy described in section 38-723, subsection E, from the date the person would otherwise have been obligated to pay the amounts to the debtor. Any amount, other than costs, recovered under this subsection shall be credited against the debt for the collection of which the levy was made.

C. A person in possession of or obligated with respect to property subject to levy on which a levy has been made who, on request by ASRS, surrenders the property or discharges the obligation to ASRS is discharged from any obligation or liability to the debtor with respect to the property arising from the surrender or payment.

D. ASRS may release a levy on all or part of property levied on. The release shall not operate to prevent any subsequent levy.

E. If ASRS determines that property has been wrongfully levied on, ASRS shall return the specific property levied on or an amount of money equal to the value of the property levied on.

F. For the purposes of this section:

1. "Levy" includes the power of distraint and seizure by any means.

2. "Person" includes an officer or employee of a corporation, an officer, employee or elected official of this state or its political subdivisions, or any agency or instrumentality of this state or its political subdivisions, or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, elected official or member is under a duty to surrender the property or rights to property or to discharge the obligation.

38-725. Financial institutions data match; prohibited disclosure; fee; definition

A. ASRS may enter into agreements with financial institutions that conduct business in this state to develop and operate a data match system to assist ASRS in the collection of monies owed. The data match system shall use automated data exchange procedures to the maximum extent possible.

B. The data exchanges shall include the name, address of record, social security number and any other identifying information for each person who maintains an account at the institution and who owes money as identified by ASRS by name and social security number.

C. ASRS or its agent may disclose a debtor's financial record under this section only in order to enforce the collection of the money the debtor owes to ASRS.

D. ASRS may pay a reasonable fee to a financial institution for conducting a data match. The fee shall not exceed the actual costs incurred by the financial institution.

E. For the purposes of this section "financial institutions" means state and federally chartered banks, trust companies, federal and state savings and loan associations, federal and state credit unions, consumer lenders, international banking facilities and financial institution holding companies, insurance companies, benefit associations, safe deposit companies, money market mutual funds and similar institutions authorized to do business in this state and any party affiliated with these financial institutions.

38-727. Eligibility; options

A. The following provisions apply to all employees hired on or after the effective date:

1. All employees and officers of this state and all officers and employees of political subdivisions establishing a retirement plan administered by the board pursuant to this article are subject to this article, except that membership is not mandatory:

(a) On the part of any employee who is eligible and who elects to participate in the optional retirement programs established by the Arizona board of regents pursuant to the authority conferred by section 15-1628 or by a community college district board pursuant to authority conferred by section 15-1451.

(b) For a state elected official who is subject to term limits, who is elected or appointed before January 1, 2014, who is eligible for participation in ASRS because the state elected official elected not to participate in the elected officials' retirement plan as provided in section 38-804, subsection A and who elects not to participate in ASRS as provided in paragraph 7 of this subsection.

(c) On the part of any employee or officer who is eligible to participate and who participates in the elected officials' retirement plan pursuant to article 3 of this chapter, the elected officials' defined contribution retirement system pursuant to article 3.1 of this chapter, the public safety personnel retirement system pursuant to article 4 of this chapter or the corrections officer retirement plan pursuant to article 6 of this chapter.

2. All employees and officers of political subdivisions whose compensation is provided wholly or in part from state monies and who are declared to be state employees and officers by the legislature for retirement purposes are subject, on legislative enactment, to this article and are members of ASRS.

3. Any member whose service terminates other than by death or withdrawal from membership is deemed to be a member of ASRS until the member's death benefit is paid.

4. Employees and officers shall not become members of ASRS and, if they are members immediately before becoming employed as provided by this section, shall have their membership status suspended while they are employed by state departments paying the salaries of their officers and employees wholly or in part from monies received from sources other than appropriations from the state general fund for the period or periods payment of the employer contributions is not made by or on behalf of the departments.

5. Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, a temporary employee of the legislature whose projected term of employment is for not more than six months is ineligible for membership in ASRS. If the employment continues beyond six successive months, the employee may elect to either:

(a) Receive credit for service for the first six months of employment and establish membership in ASRS as of the beginning of the current term of employment if, within forty-five days after the first six months of employment, both the employer and the employee contribute to ASRS the amount that would have been required to be contributed to ASRS during the first six months of employment as if the employee had been a member of ASRS during those six months.

(b) Establish membership in ASRS as of the day following the completion of six months of employment.

6. A person who is employed in postgraduate training in an approved medical residency training program of an employer or a postdoctoral scholar who is employed by a university under the jurisdiction of the Arizona board of regents is ineligible for membership in ASRS.

7. A state elected official who is subject to term limits, who is elected or appointed before January 1, 2014 and who is eligible for participation in ASRS because the state elected official elected not to participate in the elected officials' retirement plan as provided in section 38-804, subsection A may elect not to participate in ASRS. The election not to participate is specific for that term of office. The state elected official who is subject to term limits shall make the election in writing and file the election with ASRS within thirty days after the elected official's retirement plan mails the notice to the state elected official of the state elected official's eligibility to participate in ASRS. The election is effective on the first day of the state elected official's eligibility. If a state elected official who is subject to term limits fails to make an election as provided in this paragraph, the state elected official is deemed to have elected to participate in ASRS. The election not to participate in ASRS is irrevocable and constitutes a waiver of all benefits provided by ASRS for the state elected official's entire term, except for any benefits accrued by the state elected official in ASRS for periods of participation before being elected to an office subject to term limits or any benefits expressly provided by law.

8. A person may elect not to participate in ASRS if the person becomes employed by an employer after the person has attained at least sixty-five years of age, is not an active member, inactive member, retired member or receiving benefits pursuant to article 2.1 of this chapter and does not have any credited service or prior service in ASRS. The employee shall make the election not to participate in writing and file the election with ASRS within thirty days after employment. The election not to participate is irrevocable for the remainder of the person's employment for which the person made the election and constitutes a waiver of all benefits provided by the Arizona state retirement system. The period the person works is not eligible for purchase under section 38-743 or 38-744.

9. The following are ineligible for membership in ASRS:

(a) A person who performs services in a hospital, home or other institution as an inmate or patient at the hospital, home or other institution.

(b) A person who performs agricultural labor services, as defined in section 210 of the social security act.

(c) A person who is a nonresident alien temporarily residing in the United States and who holds an F-1, J-1, M-1 or Q-1 visa when services are performed.

(d) A person who performs services for a school, college or university in this state at which the person is enrolled as a student, as defined by the employing institution. The employing institution shall maintain an appeal process for a person who disagrees with the employing institution's determination that the person is a student and not eligible for membership in ASRS.

(e) A person who performs services under a program designed to relieve the person from unemployment.

B. The following elected officials are subject to this article if the member's employer is an employer under article 3 of this chapter:

1. A state elected official who is subject to term limits, who is elected or appointed on or before December 31, 2013 and who is an active, an inactive or a retired member of ASRS or a member of ASRS with a disability because the state elected official had previously elected not to participate in the elected officials' retirement plan as provided in section 38-804, subsection A.

2. An elected official, as defined in section 38-831, who is an active, an inactive or a retired member of ASRS or a member of ASRS with a disability, if the elected official's employer is a participating employer under this article and the elected official is eligible for ASRS service credit for the elected official's service.

38-729. Political subdivision plans

A. The governing body of any political subdivision may adopt, by appropriate legislation, a supplemental retirement plan for employees and officers of the political subdivision. The supplemental retirement plan shall provide the same retirement benefits and require the same obligations for entitlement as are provided for other members under this article, except that:

1. The supplemental retirement plan shall specify the date of commencement of the supplemental retirement plan as the first day of the month following board approval of the supplemental plan of the political subdivision as provided in this section.

2. Employer and employee obligations shall be paid to ASRS in accordance with that date.

B. The governing body of the political subdivision shall submit the supplemental retirement plan to the board in the form of an agreement. The agreement shall state the terms of the supplemental retirement plan as provided in this section. The board shall either approve or disapprove the supplemental retirement plan submitted by the governing body of the political subdivision.

C. On approval, the board shall administer the supplemental plan of the political subdivision.

D. The employer's share of contributions and payments in excess of those required of the employer under section 38-737 shall be paid from monies of the political subdivision.

E. On establishment of the supplemental retirement plan the governing body of the political subdivision shall deduct member contributions in the same amounts and in the same manner as provided in this article for state employees and shall pay those contributions, together with the employer contributions for the political subdivision, to ASRS for deposit in the ASRS depository. The governing body of the political subdivision shall reimburse ASRS in a similar manner for its pro rata share of administrative costs attributable to coverage of employees of the political subdivision.

F. In addition to the employer contributions required under section 38-737, on establishment of the supplemental retirement plan the governing body of the political subdivision shall pay to ASRS the amount equal to the present value required to fund additional costs of benefits attributable to service for the political subdivision before the effective date of the supplemental retirement plan using the actuarial assumptions that are approved by the board. The board may authorize payments to be made at such times as the board requires and in amounts that are less than the amount required for fully funding the additional costs.

G. If the supplemental retirement plan is authorized by a political subdivision, then on or after the effective date of the supplemental retirement plan the governing body of the political subdivision and the board may sign an agreement to waive the provisions of subsection F of this section and to authorize benefits under the supplemental retirement plan only for service with the political subdivision after the effective date of the supplemental retirement plan. In lieu of waiving benefits for all service before the effective date of the supplemental retirement plan, the governing body of the political subdivision may elect to waive benefits for a portion of that service. Amendments to the agreement may increase but shall not reduce the service for which a member is entitled to benefits. The governing body of the political subdivision shall certify for each member the years of service before the effective date of the supplemental retirement plan for which the member is entitled to benefits. In addition to the employer contributions required in section 38-737, the governing body of the political subdivision shall pay to ASRS the amount, as determined by the board, required to fund the cost of the benefits attributable to service before the effective date of the supplemental retirement plan for which members are entitled to benefits.

H. The new political subdivision shall designate the classification of employees that is eligible for membership in ASRS and shall make contributions each year as provided in this section.

I. The liability of the political subdivision providing a supplemental retirement plan within ASRS arises in consideration of the officer's or employee's retention in or entrance into service for the political subdivision.

J. Notwithstanding any other law, an employee of a political subdivision who was previously a member of another public employee retirement system and who receives or is eligible to receive retirement benefits from that public employee retirement system for any period of employment is ineligible to receive service credit from ASRS for the same period of employment.

38-730. Charter city or ASRS retirement service credits; transfers

A. On application the retirement service credits of an employee of a charter city that is not an employer under ASRS or an employee of an employer that is an employer under ASRS whose job functions are shifted by law from one employer jurisdiction to another shall be transferred to the retirement system of the new employer.

B. An employee of a charter city that is not an employer under ASRS or an employee of an employer that is an employer under ASRS who becomes employed by the other employer jurisdiction may apply to have the employee's retirement service credits transferred to the retirement system of the new employer. The retirement service credits of an employee of a charter city that is not an employer under ASRS shall not be transferred unless the governing body of that city approves the transfer. The retirement service credits of an employee of an employer that is an employer under ASRS shall not be transferred unless the board approves the transfer.

C. The transfer shall be made pursuant to section 38-922.

D. The accumulated retirement contributions of an employee whose retirement service credits are transferred that are paid to the retirement system of the new employer shall not be withdrawn by the employee unless the employee's employment terminates.

E. The retirement system to which the employee is transferring shall not apply service credits to the employee's account until such time as complete payment is made to the retirement system to which the employee is transferring. On completion of the transfer provided for in this section, the employee's rights in the retirement system from which the employee is transferring are extinguished.

38-735. Payment of contributions: recovery of delinquent payments

A. All amounts deducted from a member's compensation as provided in section 38-736 and employer contributions required pursuant to section 38-737 shall be paid to ASRS for deposit in the ASRS depository.

B. Each employer shall certify on each payroll the amount to be contributed and shall remit that amount to ASRS.

C. Payments made by employers pursuant to this article or article 2.1, 7 or 8 of this chapter become delinquent after the due date prescribed in the board's rules and thereafter shall be increased by interest from and after that date until payment is received by ASRS. ASRS shall charge interest on the delinquent payments at an annual rate equal to the interest rate assumption approved by the board from time to time for actuarial equivalency. Delinquent payments due under this article or article 2.1, 7 or 8 of this chapter, together with interest charges as provided in this subsection, may be recovered by action in a court of competent jurisdiction against an employer that is liable for payments or, at the request of the director, may be deducted from any other monies, including excise revenue taxes, payable to the employer by any department or agency of this state. The employer shall record delinquent payments that are recovered or deducted from other monies pursuant to this subsection pursuant to applicable accounting and financial reporting standards.

38-736. Member contributions

A. Member contributions are required as a condition of employment and shall be made by payroll deductions. Member contributions shall begin simultaneously with membership in ASRS. Beginning July 1, 2011, member contributions are a percentage of a member's compensation equal to the employer contribution required pursuant to section 38-737. Amounts so deducted by employers shall be deposited in the ASRS depository.

B. The employer shall pay the member contributions required of members on account of compensation earned. The paid contributions shall be treated as employer contributions for the purpose of determining tax treatment under the internal revenue code. The effective date of the employer payment shall not be before the date ASRS has received notification from the United States internal revenue service that pursuant to section 414(h) of the internal revenue code the member contributions paid will not be included in gross income for income tax purposes until the paid contributions are distributed by refund or retirement benefit payments. The employer shall pay the member contributions from monies that are established and available in the retirement deduction account and that would otherwise have been designated as member contributions and paid to ASRS. Member contributions paid pursuant to this subsection shall be treated for all other purposes, in the same manner and to the same extent, as member contributions made before the approval of the United States internal revenue service pursuant to this section.

38-737. Employer contributions; prepayment; definitions

A. Employer contributions shall be a percentage of compensation of all employees of the employers who meet the eligibility requirements contained in this article, excluding the compensation of those employees who are members of the defined contribution program administered by ASRS, as determined by the ASRS actuary pursuant to this section for June 30 of the fiscal year immediately preceding the preceding fiscal year, except that beginning with fiscal year 2001-2002 the contribution rate shall not be less than two percent of compensation of all employees of the employers.

Beginning July 1, 2011 through June 29, 2016, the total employer contribution shall be determined on the projected unit credit method. Beginning June 30, 2016, the board shall determine the actuarial cost method pursuant to section 38-714. The total employer contributions shall be equal to the employer normal cost plus the amount required to amortize the past service funding requirement over a period that is determined by the board and consistent with generally accepted actuarial standards.

B. All contributions made by the employer and allocated to the fund established by section 38-712 are irrevocable and shall be used as benefits under this article or to pay expenses of ASRS.

C. The required employer contributions shall be determined on an annual basis by an actuary who is selected by the board and who is a fellow of the society of actuaries. ASRS shall provide by December 1 of each fiscal year to the governor, the speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate the contribution rate for the ensuing fiscal year and the unfunded actuarial accrued liability, the funded status based on the actuarial value of assets and market value of assets and the annualized rate of return and the ten-year rate of return as of June 30 of the prior fiscal year.

D. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, an employer may prepay the employer's 401(a) pension contributions directly to ASRS according to a written agreement between the employer and ASRS as follows:

1. 401(a) pension contributions that the employer prepays according to this subsection may be deposited, as determined by the employer and managed by ASRS, directly in either the ASRS trust fund established by section 38-712 or a section 115 trust.

2. ASRS shall determine the following options available to the employer:

(a) The amortization time periods.

(b) The frequency and dates that prepayments can be made.

(c) The maximum and minimum amounts of 401(a) pension contributions that the employer can prepay.

(d) Any other options or obligations that the employer may have when entering into this written agreement.

3. The earnings accrual rate shall be the ASRS total 401(a) pension fund rate of return, or the actual rate of return of a short-term investment through ASRS, as requested by the employer and agreed to by ASRS.

4. The 401(a) pension contributions the employer prepays and the accrued earnings shall be managed at the discretion of ASRS subject to section 38-718.
  5. 401(a) pension contributions that the employer prepays and accrued earnings may be used solely to reduce the employer's future 401(a) pension contributions as required from the employer pursuant to this section and section 38-735.
  6. The employer shall determine when to use the 401(a) pension contributions the employer prepays and the accrued earnings from those 401(a) pension contributions.
  7. ASRS shall provide the employer an annual statement of 401(a) pension contributions the employer prepaid and the accrued earnings.
  8. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, an employer may not prepay 401(a) pension contributions according to this subsection either:
    - (a) In an amount greater than the employer's net pension liability as reflected by ASRS in its most recent applicable governmental accounting standards report.
    - (b) After the total of the unamortized prepaid 401(a) pension contributions and the accrued earnings is equal to or greater than the employer's net pension liability as reflected by ASRS in its most recent applicable governmental accounting standards report.
  9. After an employer elects amortization terms, ASRS shall provide the employer an amortization schedule annually that is current and based on the employer's election.
  10. If ASRS determines to no longer offer the option of prepaying the employer's 401(a) pension contributions directly to ASRS, any 401(a) pension contributions the employer prepays and the accrued earnings remaining on account shall be used for future obligations according to the written agreement between the employer and ASRS.
  11. Assets transferred in or out of or held in the ASRS trust fund established by section 38-712, or a section 115 trust, and the accrued earnings are exempt from state, county and municipal taxes.
  12. The legislature intends that the accrued earnings not be subject to federal income tax. ASRS may adopt additional rules, policies and procedures as ASRS deems necessary or appropriate to fulfill the legislature's intent that the accrued earnings not be subject to federal income tax.
  13. If ASRS receives notification from the United States internal revenue service that this subsection or any portion of this subsection will jeopardize the tax-exempt status of the 401(a) pension contributions the employer prepays according to this subsection and the accrued earnings, the portion of this subsection that will cause the disqualification does not apply.
- E. In addition to the requirements of subsection D of this section, any prepayment agreement made between ASRS and this state or any state agency is subject to the following requirements:
1. Any prepayment amounts deposited with ASRS must be from an appropriation specifically for that purpose that is passed by the legislature and signed by the governor.

2. Any prepayment amounts or accrued earnings used to reduce the employer's 401(a) pension contributions must be authorized for a specific fiscal year by legislation that is passed by the legislature and signed by the governor.

F. For the purposes of this section:

1. "401(a) pension contributions" means the portion of an employer's pension contribution that is specific to the retirement program established under this article and qualified under section 401(a) of the internal revenue code.

2. "Section 115 trust" means a trust whose income is exempt from gross income pursuant to section 115 of the internal revenue code for essential government functions integral to this state and its political subdivisions.

38-738. Adjustment and refund

A. If more than the correct amount of employer or member contributions is paid into ASRS by an employer through a mistake of fact, ASRS shall provide the employer with an employer credit against future contributions if the employer requests an employer credit or, if the request is made within one year after the date of overpayment, shall return the contributions to the employer. ASRS may not pay an employer earnings attributable to the excess contributions but shall reduce the amount returned to an employer pursuant to this subsection by the amount of losses attributable to the excess contributions. If more than the correct amount of employer or member contributions is paid into ASRS by an employer through a mistake of law, ASRS shall provide the employer with an employer credit against future contributions if the employer requests an employer credit. On receipt of an employer credit or return of contributions pursuant to this subsection, the employer shall return any member portion of the returned contributions to the member.

B. If less than the correct amount of employer or member contributions is paid into ASRS by an employer, the following apply:

1. The member shall pay an amount that is equal to the amount that would have been paid in member contributions for the period in question. For active members, payments shall be made as provided in section 38-747. For members who are inactive, retired or on long-term disability, payments shall be made using after-tax income and a personal check, cashier's check or money order. If the member does not make the payment within ninety days after being notified by ASRS that the employer has paid all amounts due from the employer, the unpaid amount accrues interest until the amount is paid in full. The member is responsible for payment of the unpaid amount and interest. The interest rate is the interest rate assumption that is approved by the board for actuarial equivalency for the period in question to the date payment is received.

2. If the member contributions to ASRS made pursuant to this subsection exceed the limits prescribed in section 38-747, subsection E when taking into account other annual additions of the member for the limitation year, the amount to be paid by the member shall be adjusted as provided in section 38-747. For the purposes of this paragraph, "limitation year" has the same meaning prescribed in section 38-769.

3. The employer shall pay to ASRS an amount equal to the amount that would have been paid in employer contributions for the period in question together with accumulated interest that would have accrued on both the employer and member contributions due. If the employer does not remit full payment of all employer contributions and all interest due within ninety days after being notified by ASRS of the amount due, the unpaid amount accrues interest until the amount is paid in full. The interest rate is the interest rate assumption that is approved by the board for actuarial equivalency for the period in question to the date payment is received.

4. On satisfaction of the requirements of this subsection, the member's salary history on the records of ASRS shall be adjusted and any additional service credits acquired by the member shall be reinstated.

5. If the member retires before all contributions are made pursuant to this subsection, the member's benefits shall be calculated only based on the contributions actually made.

6. Annual additions shall be determined as provided in section 38-747, subsection O.

7. The initiator of the request for correction of salary history and service credits on records of ASRS is responsible for providing credible evidence of past employment and compensation to ASRS in a form or forms that would lead a reasonable person to conclude that a period of employment occurred under circumstances that made the employee eligible for membership in ASRS during that period. A determination of eligibility by ASRS may be appealed to the ASRS board in a manner prescribed by the board.

8. A member who previously received a return of contributions pursuant to section 38-740 may receive an adjustment of employer contributions or service credits pursuant to this section only for qualifying employment and compensation that occurred after the member's most recent return of contributions pursuant to section 38-740.

C. Subsection B of this section applies to eligible verified service that occurred less than or equal to fifteen years before the date the initiator of the request for correction of salary history and service credits on the records of ASRS provides ASRS with credible evidence in writing that less than the correct amount of contributions was paid into ASRS or ASRS otherwise determines that less than the correct amount of contributions was made.

D. Eligible verified service that is more than fifteen years before the date the initiator of the request for correction of salary history and service credits on the records of ASRS provides ASRS with credible evidence in writing that less than the correct amount of contributions was paid into ASRS or ASRS otherwise determines that less than the correct amount of contributions was made is considered public service credit. The member may purchase this service pursuant to section 38-743.

E. Notwithstanding any other law, an employer may correct a contributions error pursuant to subsection B of this section by making payment adjustments through the employer's payroll reporting for the contributions that were not submitted if both of the following apply:

1. The adjustment is made within the same fiscal year that the contributions were due to ASRS.

2. The employer obtains written consent from the employee to make the adjustment to the employee's paycheck.

F. Notwithstanding any other law, if an employer pays less than the correct amount of employer or member contributions into ASRS, the correct amount of member contributions may not be paid to ASRS after the death of the member.

38-739. Credited service

- A. A member shall not earn more than one year of credited service in any fiscal year.
- B. A member shall earn proportionate credited service for each month for which the member performs service and is compensated equal to the ratio that the month bears to the number of months in the member's service year.
- C. If a member is compensated for less than a full service year, the member shall earn credited service equal to the ratio that the number of months actually compensated bears to the number of months in the full service year.
- D. If a member holds two or more concurrent contracts in any fiscal year, credited service shall be determined on the basis of the terms of the contract with the longest term.
- E. Members on sabbatical leave for which they are paid on a full or partial basis shall make appropriate contributions while on sabbatical leave and are considered to be employed full time.
- F. The following years of service are excluded from credited service under this article:
  - 1. Years of prior service. For the purposes of this paragraph, "prior service" has the same meaning prescribed in section 38-772.
  - 2. Years in which the member made contributions to the defined contribution program administered by ASRS or the Arizona teachers' retirement system before membership in the defined contribution program administered by ASRS and for which those contributions were subsequently withdrawn and paid to the member.

38-739.01. Credited service retention

Consistent with the compliance statement issued by the United States internal revenue service, an employee who is employed with an ASRS employer in a position that was exempt from ASRS membership because the position was not included in agreements providing for the employee's coverage under the federal old-age and survivors insurance system but on whose behalf the employer has remitted ASRS contributions shall retain credited service for the period of employment for which the employer remitted ASRS contributions on the employee's behalf.

38-740. Return of contributions

- A. A member whose membership commenced before July 1, 2011 and who leaves employment other than by retirement or death may elect to receive a return of the contributions as follows:
  - 1. If the member has less than five years of credited service, ASRS shall disburse all of the member's contributions.
  - 2. If a member has five or more years of credited service, ASRS shall disburse the member's contributions and an amount equal to a percentage of the employer contributions paid on behalf of the member. This amount excludes payments made by an employer pursuant to section 38-738, subsection B, paragraph 3, unless the member has made the payment required by section 38-738, subsection B, paragraph 1. The percentage of employer contributions paid on behalf of the member shall be as follows:

- (a) 5.0 to 5.9 years of credited service, twenty-five percent.
- (b) 6.0 to 6.9 years of credited service, forty percent.
- (c) 7.0 to 7.9 years of credited service, fifty-five percent.
- (d) 8.0 to 8.9 years of credited service, seventy percent.
- (e) 9.0 to 9.9 years of credited service, eighty-five percent.
- (f) 10.0 or more years of credited service, one hundred percent.

3. Interest on the returned contributions as determined by the board.

B. A member whose membership commenced on or after July 1, 2011 and who leaves employment other than by retirement or death may elect to receive a return of all of the member's contributions with interest as determined by the board.

C. Notwithstanding subsection B of this section, if a member has five or more years of credited service and the member is terminated solely because of an employer reduction in force by reason of a lack of monies or elimination of the member's position, the member is entitled to receive the amounts prescribed in subsection A of this section.

D. Withdrawal of contributions with interest constitutes a withdrawal from membership in ASRS and results in a forfeiture of all other benefits under ASRS.

E. If ASRS has disbursed an overpayment pursuant to section 38-765 or 38-797.08, ASRS shall withhold the overpayment amount plus any required income tax withholding from the return of contributions.

F. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, a member who has not received a return of contributions pursuant to this section may combine any two or more periods of service for purposes of determining the member's benefits.

G. If ASRS disburses more than the amount due to a member or an alternate payee pursuant to this section, the person who received the overpayment shall repay the amount of the overpayment together with interest at the interest rate earned on ASRS investments as reported on a quarterly basis, but not less than the valuation rate established by the board, from the time of overpayment to the settlement of the debt.

38-741. Reemployment of inactive member

A. ASRS shall return to active status an inactive member who terminates employment with an employer without terminating membership in ASRS and who later is reemployed by the same or another employer.

B. On retirement, ASRS shall disburse benefits derived from service for all employers that employed the member.

C. Retirement benefits attributable to service before membership in ASRS, if any, shall be paid only by the employer from which the retiring member obtained entitlement to the benefits as provided in section 38-729.

38-742. Reinstatement

A. If an active member who received a return of contributions on termination of employment and by receipt of those contributions forfeited credited service earned on that employment, as provided in section 38-740, subsection A or B, is subsequently reemployed by an employer, the member's service shall be credited only from the date the member's most recent reemployment period commenced.

B. Notwithstanding subsection A of this section, the member may redeposit the amount of the contributions the ASRS paid at the time of the member's separation from service, with interest on that amount to the date of redeposit at the interest rate assumption approved by the board for actuarial equivalency. On satisfaction of this obligation, the member's service credits acquired by the previous employment shall be reinstated. The member is subject to the benefits and duties in effect at the time of the member's most recent reemployment except as provided in section 38-711, paragraph 5, subdivision (a). If a member redeposits less than the amount required under this subsection, ASRS shall proportionately reduce the member's reinstated service credits.

C. A member who is receiving benefits pursuant to section 38-797.07 and who received a return of contributions on termination of employment and by receipt of those contributions forfeited credited service earned on that employment, as provided in section 38-740, subsection A or B, may redeposit the amount of the contributions the ASRS paid at the time of the member's previous separation from service, with interest on that amount to the date of redeposit at the interest rate assumption approved by the board for actuarial equivalency. On redeposit of the contributions and interest, the member's service credits acquired by the previous employment shall be reinstated. The member is subject to the benefits and duties in effect at the time of the member's most recent reemployment except as provided in section 38-711, paragraph 5, subdivision (a). If a member redeposits less than the amount required under this subsection, ASRS shall proportionately reduce the member's reinstated service credits.

38-743. Public service credit

A. If an active member of ASRS or a member who is receiving benefits pursuant to section 38-797.07 was previously employed by the United States government, a state, territory, commonwealth, overseas possession or insular area of the United States or a political subdivision of a state, territory, commonwealth, overseas possession or insular area of the United States, excluding any time worked for a prison while the member was incarcerated, the member may receive credited service for this prior employment if the member pays into ASRS the amount prescribed in subsection B of this section. For a member whose membership date is on or after July 20, 2011, the member may receive not more than sixty months of credited service.

B. A member who elects to receive credit for service with the United States government, a state, territory, commonwealth, overseas possession or insular area of the United States or a political subdivision of a state, territory, commonwealth, overseas possession or insular area of the United States shall pay to ASRS an amount equal to the present value of the additional benefit that is derived from the purchased credited service using the actuarial assumptions that are approved by the board.

C. A member who previously was a member of another public employee retirement system and who receives or is eligible to receive retirement benefits from that system for any period of employment is ineligible to receive retirement benefits from ASRS for the same period.

D. If a member's membership date is on or after July 1, 2010, the member shall have at least five years of credited service in ASRS before electing to receive credit for service pursuant to this section.

38-744. Leave of absence: credit for leave without pay

A. A member may elect to be credited with service for retirement purposes for an officially granted leave of absence from employment without pay if all of the following apply:

1. At the time the absence was granted the member was an active member of ASRS or a member who was receiving benefits pursuant to section 38-797.07.

2. At the time the credit is requested the member is an active member of ASRS, receiving benefits pursuant to section 38-797.07 or a former active member of ASRS who has not withdrawn contributions from ASRS pursuant to section 38-740 and who was unable to resume employment because a position is not available.

3. The member returns to employment with the same employer, unless employment could not be resumed because of disability or a position was not available.

4. The member elects not more than one year of the leave and, for a member whose membership date is on or after July 20, 2011, not more than sixty months of credited service pursuant to this section.

5. The member pays the amount provided in subsection B of this section.

6. The member's employer has certified that the leave of absence benefits or is in the best interests of the employer.

B. A member who elects to be credited with a leave period as provided in subsection A of this section shall pay to ASRS an amount equal to the present value of the additional benefit that is derived from the purchased credited service using the actuarial assumptions that are approved by the board.

C. A member who previously was a member of another public employee retirement system and who receives or is eligible to receive a retirement benefit from that system for any period of employment is ineligible to receive retirement benefits from ASRS for the same period.

D. If a member's membership date is on or after July 1, 2010, the member shall have at least five years of credited service in ASRS before electing to receive credit for service pursuant to this section.

E. For the purposes of subsection A of this section, each employer shall adopt rules establishing guidelines for a leave of absence that benefits or is in the best interests of the employer.

38-745. Credit for military service

A. An active member of ASRS or a member who is receiving benefits pursuant to section 38-797.07 may purchase credited service in ASRS for active military service if all of the following apply:

1. The member was honorably separated from the military service.
2. The member submits a copy of the member's military service record (DD-214) or its equivalent with the member's application for military service credit.
3. If a member's membership date is on or after July 1, 2010, the member must have at least five years of credited service in ASRS.
4. Except as provided by 10 United States Code section 12736, the member is not yet eligible for a military retirement benefit.

B. For a member whose membership date is on or after July 20, 2011, the member may purchase not more than sixty months of credited service pursuant to subsection A of this section.

C. The cost to purchase military service credit is an amount equal to the present value of the additional benefit that is derived from the purchased credited service using the actuarial assumptions that are approved by the board.

D. An active member of ASRS who is called to active military service may receive credited service for not more than sixty months of active military service, except as provided by the uniformed services employment and reemployment rights act (38 United States Code section 4312(c)). The member's employer shall make employer contributions and member contributions for the member if the member meets the following requirements:

1. Was an active member of ASRS on the day before the member began active military service.
2. Is a member of the Arizona national guard or is a member of the reserves of any military establishment of the United States.
3. Volunteers or is ordered into active military service of the United States as part of a military call-up.
4. One of the following occurs:
  - (a) Is honorably separated from active military service and returns to employment for the same employer from which the member left for active military service within ninety days after the date active military service is terminated.
  - (b) Is hospitalized as a result of military service and returns to employment for the same employer from which the member left for active military service within ninety days after release from service related hospitalization.

(c) Develops a disability as a result of or during the military service and is unable to return to the same employer.

(d) Dies as a result of or during the military service.

E. Contributions made pursuant to subsection D of this section shall be for the period of time beginning on the date the member began active military service and ending on the later of one of the following dates:

1. The date the member returns to employment or the date the member should have returned to employment pursuant to 20 Code of Federal Regulations section 1002.115, whichever date is earlier.

2. The date the member is released from service related hospitalization or two years after initiation of service related hospitalization, whichever date is earlier.

3. One year after the date of disability.

4. The date the member dies as a result of or during active military service.

F. Notwithstanding any other law, on payment of the contributions made pursuant to subsection D of this section, the member shall be credited with service for retirement purposes for the period of time of active military service of not more than sixty months.

G. The employer shall make contributions pursuant to subsection D of this section as follows:

1. Contributions shall be based on the compensation that a member would have received but for the period that the member was ordered into active military service.

2. If the employer cannot reasonably determine a member's rate of compensation for the period that the member was ordered into active military service, the employer shall make contributions based on the member's average rate of compensation during the twelve-month period immediately preceding the period of active military service.

3. If a member has been employed less than twelve months before being ordered into active military service, the employer shall make contributions based on the employment period immediately preceding the period of active military service.

4. Employer contributions shall be made in a lump sum and without penalty when the member returns to employment, when it is determined that the member is unable to return to employment because of a disability as a result of or that occurred during military service or on receipt of the member's death certificate. If a member suffers a service related death, the employer shall make the employer and member contributions up to and including the date of the member's death. Death benefits shall be calculated as prescribed by law.

H. In computing the length of total credited service of a member for the purpose of determining retirement benefits or eligibility, the period of military service, as prescribed by this section, shall be included.

I. Notwithstanding any other law, the member is not required to reimburse the member's employer or ASRS for any contribution made pursuant to subsection D of this section.

J. In addition to, but not in duplication of, the provisions of subsection D of this section, contributions, benefits and credited service provided pursuant to this section shall be provided in accordance with section 414(u) of the internal revenue code.

K. A member who does not currently perform services for an employer by reason of qualified military service, as that term is defined in section 414(u) of the internal revenue code, and who is receiving differential wage payments, as that term is defined in section 3401(h)(2) of the internal revenue code, shall not be considered as having a severance from employment for all purposes under ASRS during the period the differential wages are being paid by the employer to the employee.

38-746. Compensation limitation: adjustments

A. Except as provided in subsection E, beginning on July 1, 2002, the annual compensation of each employee taken into account under ASRS for any fiscal year or for any other specified twelve consecutive month period shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars. In determining benefit accruals under ASRS for fiscal years beginning after December 31, 2001 and except as provided for in subsection E, the annual compensation limit under this subsection for fiscal years beginning before January 1, 2002 is two hundred thousand dollars.

B. If compensation under ASRS is determined on a period of time that contains fewer than twelve calendar months, the compensation limit for that period of time is equal to the dollar limit for the calendar year during which the period of time begins, multiplied by the fraction in which the numerator is the number of full months in that period of time and the denominator is twelve.

C. For fiscal years beginning before July 1, 1997, the annual compensation limit prescribed in this section also applies to the combined compensation of a member who is a member of the group of ten highly compensated employees, as defined in section 414(q) of the internal revenue code, and who is paid the highest compensation during the fiscal year and any family member of the member who is either the member's spouse or the member's lineal descendant and who has not attained the age of nineteen before the close of the fiscal year. If the maximum compensation is adjusted pursuant to subsection D, the adjusted limitation shall be prorated among the affected members' compensation determined pursuant to this section before application of the adjusted limitation to the other provisions of this article.

D. The board shall adjust the maximum compensation under subsection A at the same time and in the same manner as adjusted by the United States secretary of the treasury under section 401(a)(17)(B) of the internal revenue code. The adjustment under this subsection for a calendar year applies to annual compensation for the fiscal year of ASRS that begins with or within the calendar year.

E. The dollar limitation prescribed in subsection A does not apply to an eligible member to the extent that the annual compensation of an eligible member taken into account by ASRS for any fiscal year or for any other specified twelve consecutive month period would be reduced below two hundred thirty-five thousand eight hundred forty dollars. This was the amount of compensation taken into account by ASRS as of July 1, 1993. The board shall adjust this amount as of the effective date of the increase prescribed by the United States secretary of the treasury. For the purposes of this subsection, "eligible member" means a person who first became a member of ASRS before July 1, 1996.

38-747. Purchase of credited service; payment; limitations; definitions

A. A member who purchases credited service pursuant to section 38-738, 38-742, 38-743, 38-744, 38-745 or 38-922 shall either:

1. Make payments directly to ASRS as provided in subsection H of this section.
2. Elect to have the member's employer make payments as provided in subsection B of this section.

B. A member may elect to have the member's employer make payments for all or any portion of the amounts payable for the member's purchase of credited service pursuant to the sections prescribed in subsection A of this section through a salary reduction program in accordance with the following:

1. The amounts paid pursuant to a salary reduction program are in lieu of contributions by the electing member. The electing member's salary or other compensation shall be reduced by the amount paid by the employer pursuant to this subsection. For the purposes of this paragraph, "other compensation" includes a member's termination pay.

2. The member shall make an election pursuant to this subsection at any time on or after the date the member elects to purchase credited service pursuant to the sections prescribed in subsection A of this section and before the member's termination of employment. The election shall specify the number of payroll periods that deductions will be made from the member's compensation and the dollar amount of deductions for each payroll period during the specified number of payroll periods. In the case of an election to utilize all or any part of the member's termination pay to purchase credited service, the member's election shall be made at least three full calendar months before the date of the member's termination of employment and entitlement to receive the termination pay. After an election is made pursuant to this subsection, the election is binding on and irrevocable for the member and the member's employer during the member's remaining period of current employment. After a member makes an irrevocable election pursuant to this subsection, the member does not have the option of choosing to receive the contributed amounts directly. For the purposes of this paragraph, "termination pay" means any lump sum that is paid at the member's termination of employment for accrued vacation, sick leave or overtime pay.

3. A member who makes an irrevocable election pursuant to this subsection to have the member's employer make payments for less than all of the amounts payable for the member's purchase of credited service may irrevocably elect to have the member's employer make payments for all or any portion of the remaining amounts payable for the member's purchase of credited service. A member who makes one or more irrevocable elections pursuant to this subsection may also make other contributions to ASRS pursuant to subsection H of this section to the extent of any remaining amounts payable for which the member has not made an election pursuant to this subsection. An additional election or contribution with respect to a portion of the amounts payable for the member's purchase of credited service does not alter, amend or revoke an irrevocable election already made pursuant to this subsection for any other portion of the amounts payable for the member's purchase of credited service.

4. If on termination of the member's employment with an ASRS employer all amounts have not been paid to ASRS pursuant to the member's irrevocable election pursuant to this subsection, the member may pay ASRS, within thirty days after the member's termination of employment and subject to other limitations prescribed in this section, all or any portion of the unpaid amounts as provided in subsection H of this section. These payments do not alter, amend or revoke any irrevocable election already made pursuant to this subsection with respect to any amount to be paid by the member's employer while the member is employed by the member's employer.

5. Amounts paid by an employer pursuant to this subsection shall be treated as employer contributions for the purpose of determining tax treatment under the internal revenue code. The effective date of employer payments pursuant to this subsection shall not be before the date ASRS receives notification from the United States internal revenue service that pursuant to section 414(h)(2) of the internal revenue code the amounts paid by an employer pursuant to this subsection will not be included in the member's gross income for income tax purposes until those amounts are distributed by refund or retirement benefit payments.

6. Unless otherwise provided, member contributions paid by an employer pursuant to this subsection are treated for all other purposes under ASRS in the same manner and to the same extent as member contributions that are not paid by an employer pursuant to this subsection. ASRS shall not grant credited service for contributions made pursuant to this subsection until those contributions are received by ASRS. ASRS may assess interest or administrative charges attributable to any salary reduction election made pursuant to this subsection. The interest or administrative charges shall be added to the amount of contributions that is made to ASRS by the member each payroll period and that is paid by the member's employer. The interest or administrative charges shall not be treated as member contributions for any purposes under this article and a member or a member's beneficiary does not have a right to the return of the interest or administrative charges pursuant to any other provision of this article. Interest assessed pursuant to this subsection shall be at the rate specified by the board pursuant to section 38-711, paragraph 2.

7. If a member transfers employment from one participating employer with which the member has made an irrevocable election pursuant to this subsection to another participating employer, the member and the successor participating employer shall complete the terms of the irrevocable election that the member made with the original participating employer.

C. A member who elects before July 1, 1999 to receive retirement benefits based on section 38-771, subsection C, paragraph 2 or a member who elects to make contributions to ASRS pursuant to section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 4 shall either make the member's additional contributions required pursuant to section 38-771, subsection E or allowed pursuant to section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 4 directly to ASRS as provided in subsection H of this section or shall elect to have the member's employer make payments for those additional contributions as provided in subsection D of this section. A member who elected to be covered or who was deemed to be covered by section 38-771 on or before December 31, 1995 or who elects to make member contributions pursuant to section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 3 is deemed to have made an irrevocable election pursuant to subsection D of this section to make the member's contributions to ASRS that are required by section 38-771, subsection D or allowed by section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 3.

D. Any member contributions that are required by section 38-771, subsection D or that are allowed pursuant to section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 3 are deemed to be made by the member to ASRS through a salary reduction program in accordance with the following:

1. A member may make member contributions pursuant to section 38-771, subsection E or section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 4 through a salary reduction program elected pursuant to this subsection. If a member makes an irrevocable election pursuant to this subsection before July 1, 1999 to have the member's employer make payments for additional contributions pursuant to section 38-771, subsection E, the election continues in effect from and after June 30, 1999 and shall not be revoked, amended or altered by any election made pursuant to section 38-771.01 or otherwise. The amounts paid pursuant to a salary reduction program are in lieu of contributions by the electing member. The member's salary or other compensation shall be reduced by the amount paid by the employer pursuant to this subsection.

2. Before a member's termination of employment, the member may make an election pursuant to this subsection at any time after the date the member elects to receive retirement benefits based on section 38-771, subsection C, paragraph 2 but before July 1, 1999 or at any time after the member elects to make member contributions pursuant to section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 4. The election shall specify the number of payroll periods that deductions will be made from the member's compensation and the dollar amount of deductions for each payroll period during the specified number of payroll periods. After an election is made pursuant to this subsection, the election is binding on and irrevocable for the member and the member's employer during the member's remaining period of employment.

3. After a member makes or is deemed to have made an irrevocable election pursuant to this subsection, the member does not have the option of choosing to receive the contributed amounts directly. A member who makes an irrevocable election pursuant to this subsection to have the member's employer make payments for less than all of the amounts payable for the member's additional contributions allowed by section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 4 may irrevocably elect to have the member's employer make payments for all or any portion of the remaining amounts payable for the member's additional contributions. A member who makes one or more irrevocable elections pursuant to this subsection may also make other contributions to ASRS pursuant to section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 4 or pursuant to subsection H of this section to the extent of any remaining amounts payable for which the member has not made an election pursuant to this subsection. An additional election or contribution with respect to a portion of the amounts payable for the member's additional contributions pursuant to section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 4 does not alter, amend or revoke an irrevocable election already made pursuant to this subsection for any other portion of the amounts payable for the member's additional contributions allowed by section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 4.

4. If on termination of the member's employment all amounts have not been paid to ASRS pursuant to the member's irrevocable election pursuant to this subsection, the member may pay ASRS, within thirty days after the member's termination of employment and subject to other limitations prescribed in this section, all or any portion of the unpaid amounts as provided in subsection H of this section. These payments do not alter, amend or revoke any irrevocable election already made pursuant to this subsection with respect to any amount to be paid by the member's employer while the member is employed by the member's employer.

5. Amounts paid by an employer pursuant to this subsection shall be treated as employer contributions for the purpose of determining tax treatment under the internal revenue code. The effective date of employer payments pursuant to this subsection shall not be before the date ASRS receives notification from the United States internal revenue service that pursuant to section 414(h)(2) of the internal revenue code the amounts paid by an employer pursuant to this subsection will not be included in the member's gross income for income tax purposes until those amounts are distributed by refund or retirement benefit payments.

6. Unless otherwise provided, member contributions paid by an employer pursuant to this subsection are treated for all other purposes under ASRS in the same manner and to the same extent as member contributions that are not paid by an employer pursuant to this subsection.

7. If a member transfers employment from one participating employer with which the member has made an irrevocable election pursuant to this subsection to another participating employer, the member and the successor participating employer shall complete the terms of the irrevocable election that the member made with the original participating employer.

E. The following limits apply to contributions to ASRS:

1. Except to the extent paragraphs 2 and 3 of this subsection apply to certain contributions made by a member to ASRS and to the extent permitted under section 414(v) of the internal revenue code, if applicable, in any one limitation year, the annual additions contributed or allocated to ASRS for or on behalf of a member shall not exceed the lesser of either:

(a) $40,000 or a larger amount that is prescribed by the board and that is due to any cost of living adjustment announced by the United States secretary of the treasury pursuant to section 415(d) of the internal revenue code. The board shall increase the amount prescribed by this subdivision as of the effective date of the increase announced by the United States secretary of the treasury.

(b) One hundred percent of the member's compensation for the limitation year. The compensation limit prescribed in this subdivision does not apply to any contribution to ASRS for medical benefits after a member's separation from service, within the meaning prescribed in section 401(h) or 419A(f)(2) of the internal revenue code, that is otherwise treated as an annual addition.

2. Unless paragraph 4 of this subsection applies, for plan years beginning on or after July 1, 1998, in any one limitation year, the annual additions credited to ASRS for or on behalf of a member who makes contributions to ASRS to purchase credited service pursuant to section 38-743, 38-744, 38-745 or 38-922 and with respect to which an irrevocable election has not been made pursuant to subsection B of this section shall not exceed the greater of either:

(a) The requirements of section 38-769. For the purposes of applying the limits prescribed in section 38-769 under this subdivision, the accrued benefit derived from the contributions shall be treated as an annual benefit and the reduced limit for certain early retirement in section 38-769, subsection C, paragraph 2 does not apply.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph 3 of this subsection, the requirements of paragraph 1 of this subsection. The contributions shall be treated as annual additions and any of the member's other annual additions for the limitation year shall be taken into account. For the purposes of applying the requirements of paragraph 1 of this subsection under this subdivision, the percentage of compensation limit in paragraph 1, subdivision (b) of this paragraph does not apply.

3. For plan years beginning on or after July 1, 1998, the requirements of paragraph 1 of this subsection shall not be applied to reduce the amount of credited service that may be purchased by an eligible member pursuant to section 38-743, 38-744, 38-745 or 38-922 to an amount that is less than the amount of credited service allowed to be purchased pursuant to those sections on August 5, 1997 without the application of any of the limits prescribed in this section or section 415 of the internal revenue code. For the purposes of this paragraph, "eligible member" means a person who first becomes a member of ASRS before July 1, 1999.

4. Member contributions to ASRS to purchase credited service pursuant to section 38-743, 38-744 or 38-922 shall not be made by a member if recognition of that service would cause a member to receive a retirement benefit for the same service from ASRS and one or more other retirement plans. This paragraph does not apply to either of the following:

(a) Contributions made by an eligible member as defined in paragraph 3 of this subsection, except that any service purchase by an eligible member is subject to any other limitations, including limitations on duplicative service purchase, otherwise provided in this article.

(b) Any member contributions with respect to which an irrevocable election has been made by a member pursuant to subsection B of this section, except that the service purchase is subject to any other limitations, including limitations on duplicative service purchase, otherwise provided in this article.

F. If a member's contributions are subject to the limitations of subsection E of this section, the contributions shall be treated as being made to a separate defined contribution plan. If the member's contributions exceed the limits prescribed in subsection E of this section when taking into account other member and employer contributions to ASRS on behalf of the member for the limitation year, the amount to be paid by the member shall be reduced to not exceed the limits prescribed in subsection E of this section and the remaining amount shall be carried forward to the next limitation year, unless the limits are exceeded in the next limitation year. If the limits are exceeded in the next limitation year, the procedure prescribed by this subsection shall be repeated until all payments have been made.

G. If, after the application of subsection F of this section, the annual additions on behalf of a member exceed the limitations prescribed in subsection E of this section, ASRS shall dispose of excess amounts by either of the following:

1. Returning to the member any contributions that are made by the member and that are nondeductible under the internal revenue code.

2. Holding the amounts in a suspense account established pursuant to subsection L of this section and allocating the amounts as either member or employer contributions for the benefit of the member in the next limitation year and before any further member or employer contributions are made that would constitute annual additions made to a defined contribution plan pursuant to section 415 of the internal revenue code. ASRS shall allocate contributions as prescribed in this section, and the amount allocated shall reduce the amount of the member or employer contributions for the limitation year in which the allocation is made.

H. To the extent that a payment under this subsection does not alter, amend or revoke any one or more currently effective irrevocable elections made by the member pursuant to subsection B or D of this section, the board may accept contributions made pursuant to section 38-771 or member contributions for the payment for credited service purchases pursuant to section 38-738, 38-742, 38-743, 38-744, 38-745 or 38-922 or contributions made pursuant to section 38-771.01, subsection F, paragraph 4, in whole or in part, by any one or a combination of the following methods:

1. In lump sum payments.

2. Subject to the limitations prescribed in sections 401(a)(31) and 402(c) of the internal revenue code and subsection J of this section, accepting a direct transfer of any eligible rollover distribution from one or more:

- (a) Retirement programs that are qualified under section 401(a) or 403(a) of the internal revenue code.

- (b) Annuity contracts described in section 403(b) of the internal revenue code.

- (c) Eligible deferred compensation plans described in section 457(b) of the internal revenue code that are maintained by a state, a political subdivision of a state or any agency or instrumentality of a state or a political subdivision of a state.

3. Accepting from a member a direct transfer from an individual retirement account or individual retirement annuity described in section 408(a) or 408(b) of the internal revenue code of an amount that would otherwise be eligible to be rolled over to ASRS under the provisions of section 408(d)(3)(A)(ii) of the internal revenue code if the amount had been received by the member and would have otherwise been includible in the member's gross income but for the direct transfer.

4. Providing by rule that the contributions may be made in installment payments over a period of time.

I. To the extent that a payment under this subsection does not alter, amend or revoke any one or more currently effective irrevocable elections made by a member pursuant to subsection B or D of this section, the board may accept a direct trustee-to-trustee transfer from retirement programs that are qualified under section 401(a) or 403(a) of the internal revenue code, an annuity contract described in section 403(b) of the internal revenue code or an eligible deferred compensation plan described in section 457(b) of the internal revenue code for the payment for credited service purchases pursuant to section 38-742, 38-743, 38-744, 38-745 or 38-922. If a direct trustee-to-trustee transfer is from a retirement program that is qualified under section 401(a) of the internal revenue code and that includes a cash or deferred arrangement described in section 401(k) of the internal revenue code, the member on whose behalf the transfer was made is not eligible to retire under section 38-764, subsection I before the date the member attains fifty-nine and one-half years of age.

J. ASRS shall separately account for all amounts rolled over or directly transferred to ASRS. Subject to the limitations contained in the internal revenue code applicable to the type of plan from which an eligible rollover distribution is transferred, to the extent any eligible rollover distribution that is directly transferred to ASRS consists wholly or partially of amounts that would otherwise not be included in the member's gross income if not so transferred, ASRS shall separately account for the amounts so transferred, and earnings on those amounts, including separately accounting for the portion of the amount that is includable in gross income and the portion of the amount that is not includable in gross income.

K. ASRS shall not grant credited service under section 38-738, 38-742, 38-743, 38-744 or 38-922 for contributions made pursuant to subsection H of this section until the contributions are received by ASRS. ASRS may assess interest or administrative charges attributable to any installment payment made pursuant to subsection H, paragraph 4 of this section to purchase credited service pursuant to section 38-738, 38-742, 38-743, 38-744 or 38-922. The interest or administrative charges shall be added to the amount of contributions made to ASRS by the member. The interest or administrative charges shall not be treated as member contributions for any purposes under this article, and a member or a member's beneficiary does not have a right to the return of the interest or administrative charges pursuant to any other provision of this article. Interest assessed pursuant to this subsection shall be at the rate specified by the board pursuant to section 38-711, paragraph 2.

L. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, if the annual additions credited on behalf of an ASRS member during any limitation year exceed the limits of section 415(c) of the internal revenue code and subsection E of this section, ASRS may only correct the excess pursuant to the employee plans compliance resolution system prescribed in internal revenue service revenue procedure 2008-50 or any future guidance issued by the internal revenue service, including the preamble of the final treasury regulations issued under section 415 of the internal revenue code.

M. If the member retires before all payments are made pursuant to this section, ASRS shall calculate the member's benefits based only on the payments actually made.

N. On satisfaction of the requirements of this section, ASRS shall adjust the member's credited service history and add any additional service credits acquired.

O. Annual additions on behalf of a member in any limitation year shall be the sum of:

1. The amount of the member contributions made to ASRS to purchase credited service pursuant to section 38-738, 38-743, 38-744, 38-745 or 38-922 and with respect to which an irrevocable election made pursuant to subsection B of this section is not in effect.

2. The amount of member and employer contributions made to ASRS on behalf of a member who elected or was deemed to have elected to receive retirement benefits pursuant to section 38-771 or who is entitled to benefits pursuant to section 38-771.01, except that, other than as provided in subsection P of this section, corrective contributions shall be considered annual additions for the limitation years to which the contributions relate and interest and gains shall not be considered as annual additions for the purpose of any limitation prescribed in this article or in section 415 of the internal revenue code. If the corrective contributions exceed the limit on annual additions for a limitation year prior to the limitation year in which the corrective contributions are contributed by the employer to ASRS, the retirement benefit attributable to the excess corrective contributions shall be treated as an excess benefit and shall be payable to the member as any other excess benefit is payable pursuant to section 38-774, and the employer shall pay the excess corrective contributions to the separate unfunded governmental excess benefit arrangement administered by the board pursuant to section 38-774.

3. Any member or employer contributions made to ASRS or any other plan that are treated as being made to a defined contribution plan maintained by an employer of the member.

4. Any forfeitures, including any income attributable to forfeitures, allocated for or on behalf of a member of ASRS or any other plan that are treated as being allocated under a defined contribution plan maintained by an employer of the member.

P. To the extent any portion of the subject benefits, if treated as subject to the benefit limitations of section 415(b) of the internal revenue code, exceed the applicable limitation on benefits pursuant to section 38-769 for the form of distribution, a percentage of corrective contributions and interest and gains shall be treated as annual additions for the limitation year in which contributed by the employer to ASRS. This percentage of corrective contributions and interest and gains shall be equal to the percentage determined by dividing the subject benefits that exceed the limitation on benefits pursuant to section 38-769 by the subject benefits. If the corrective contributions and interest and gains that are treated as annual additions for the limitation year in which the corrective contributions and interest and gains are contributed by the employer to ASRS exceed the limit on annual additions for the limitation year, the retirement benefit attributable to the excess shall be treated as an excess benefit and shall be payable to the member as any other excess benefit is payable pursuant to section 38-774, and the employer shall pay the excess to the separate unfunded governmental excess benefit arrangement administered by the board pursuant to section 38-774.

Q. Subsection O of this section shall be construed and interpreted in accordance with section 415 of the internal revenue code and the final treasury regulations issued under that section.

4. "Eligible rollover distribution" has the same meaning prescribed in section 38-770.
5. "Interest and gains" means employer contributions to ASRS pursuant to section 38-771.01, subsection C, paragraphs 3, 5 and 6 that are attributable to earnings and supplemental credits that would have been earned or added to a member's annuity payment.

38-748. Employer payments for ineligible contributions; definitions

A. If an employer pays contributions on behalf of any person who is not eligible by statute or rule for ASRS membership or pays contributions on compensation that is not eligible by statute or rule for ASRS contributions and either ASRS or a court determines that ASRS shall provide a person with any benefit or credit under this article or article 2.1 of this chapter based on such contributions, the employer shall pay to ASRS any unfunded liability resulting from the provision of benefits or credit to the person.

B. If the employer does not remit full payment of the unfunded liability pursuant to subsection A of this section within ninety days after being notified by ASRS of the amount due, the unpaid amount accrues interest until the amount is paid in full.

C. Credited service ceases to accrue as of the date that ASRS or a court first determines that ASRS shall provide any benefit or credit to the person.

D. If the amount in the person's ASRS account is greater than the present value of the benefit or credit, ASRS shall retain the entire account and is not required to refund, credit or offset any excess against future contributions.

E. This section applies to an employer that employs, either directly or indirectly, a person who performs services for a third-party organization and that does not have a written representation by ASRS of the person's eligibility.

F. For the purposes of this section:

1. "Amount in the person's ASRS account" means two times the person's retirement contributions made pursuant to section 38-736:

(a) Plus:

(i) Interest on the person's retirement contributions made pursuant to section 38-736.

(ii) Any contributions made for the purchase of service credits pursuant to section 38-742, 38-743, 38-744 or 38-745.

(iii) Interest on the amount contributed for the purchase of service credits pursuant to section 38-742, 38-743, 38-744 or 38-745.

(b) Minus any amounts paid by ASRS pursuant to this article or article 2.1 of this chapter.

2. "Interest" means the interest rate assumption that is approved by ASRS for actuarial equivalency.

3. "Unfunded liability" means:

(a) For a person who is not eligible by statute or rule for ASRS membership, the amount, if any, that the present value of the person's benefit or credit, using the actuarial assumptions approved by ASRS, exceeds the amount in the person's ASRS account calculated as of the date that ASRS or a court first determines that ASRS shall provide any benefit or credit to the person.

(b) For contributions on compensation that is not eligible by statute or rule for ASRS contributions, the difference, if any, of the amount that the present value of a person's benefit or credit, using the actuarial assumptions approved by ASRS, exceeds the amount of the present value of the benefit or credit the person would receive if the ineligible contributions, and the compensation and credit associated with those ineligible contributions, had not been reported to ASRS and the amount in the person's ASRS account that is associated with the ineligible contributions on compensation.

38-749. Employer termination incentive program; employer payment of actuarial cost; definition

A. If a termination incentive program that is offered by an employer results in an actuarial unfunded liability to ASRS, the employer shall pay to ASRS the amount of the unfunded liability. ASRS shall determine the amount of the unfunded liability in consultation with its actuary.

B. An employer shall notify ASRS if the employer plans to implement a termination incentive program that may affect ASRS funding.

C. If ASRS determines that an employer has implemented a termination incentive program that results in an actuarial unfunded liability to ASRS, ASRS shall assess the cost of the unfunded liability to that employer. If the employer does not remit full payment of all monies due within ninety days after being notified by ASRS of the amount due, the unpaid amount accrues interest until the amount is paid in full. The interest rate is the interest rate assumption that is approved by the board for actuarial equivalency for the period in question to the date payment is received.

D. For the purposes of this section, "termination incentive program":

1. Means a total increase in compensation of thirty per cent or more that is given to a member in any one or more years before termination that are used to calculate the member's average monthly compensation if that increase in compensation is used to calculate the member's retirement benefit and that increase in compensation is not attributed to a promotion.

2. Means anything of value, including any monies, credited service or points that the employer provides to or on behalf of a member that is conditioned on the member's termination except for payments to an employee for accrued vacation, sick leave or compensatory time unless the payment is enhanced beyond the employer's customary payment.

38-750. Transfers out of the system

A. If an employee has made an irrevocable election pursuant to section 38-747, subsection B or D and transfers participation to another defined benefit retirement system or plan of this state without a termination of employment, within ninety days after the date of the transfer, ASRS shall transfer to the subsequent defined benefit retirement system or plan the amount the employee paid for the purchase of the credited service plus interest as determined by ASRS.

B. If the assets transferred from ASRS are less than the cost of the benefits accrued relative to the credited service as calculated pursuant to section 38-922, subsection B, paragraph 2, and unless a law otherwise provides, the employee shall elect either to pay the difference to the subsequent defined benefit retirement system or plan or accept a reduced amount of service credits. If the employee elects to pay the difference, the amount paid shall be added to the employee's accumulated contribution account balance. If the employee elects to accept a reduced amount of service credits, the amount of service credits granted shall be equal to the amount of service credits purchased multiplied by the ratio of the amount of assets transferred to the amount calculated pursuant to section 38-922, subsection B, paragraph 2.

C. The transferred employee and the employer shall complete the terms of the irrevocable election by making payments to ASRS.

D. If the employee is given an election to transfer to another defined benefit retirement system or plan of this state or to remain with the employee's current retirement system, on termination of employment the employee shall elect to have ASRS:

1. Promptly transfer to the subsequent defined benefit retirement system or plan the principal amount paid by the employee for the purchase of credited service plus interest as determined by ASRS. If an unfunded liability is created, subsection B of this section applies. If the employee fails to elect to have the assets transferred within thirty days after termination of employment, the employee is deemed to have made an election as prescribed in paragraph 2.

2. On written request by the employee, promptly return to the employee the principal amount paid by the employee for the purchase of credited service plus interest as determined by ASRS. If no application is received by ASRS within sixty days after termination of employment, ASRS shall issue the payment directly to the employee.

E. If the employee is not given an election to transfer to another defined benefit retirement system or plan of this state or to remain with the employee's current retirement system, after termination of employment the employee may elect within thirty days of termination of employment to have ASRS promptly transfer to the subsequent defined benefit retirement system or plan the principal amount paid by the employee for the purchase of credited service plus interest as determined by ASRS. If an unfunded liability is created, subsection B of this section applies. If the employee fails to make the election under this subsection, ASRS shall deem the employee as an inactive member of ASRS.

F. If an employee is given an election to transfer to another defined benefit retirement system or plan of this state or to remain with the employee's current retirement system and the employee is receiving a benefit pursuant to this article based on the employee's own service or article 2.1 of this chapter, the employee is eligible to transfer to the retirement system or plan, but the election to transfer terminates the benefit from ASRS on the effective date of the transfer.

G. If an employee is not given an election to transfer to another defined benefit retirement system or plan of this state or to remain with the employee's current retirement system and the employee is receiving a benefit pursuant to this article based on the employee's own service or article 2.1 of this chapter, the employee is not eligible to transfer to another retirement system or plan.

38-751. Nonparticipatory employer liability allocation; exemption; definitions

A. ASRS shall establish a separate fund for an employer, other than a charter school, that is no longer participating in ASRS as a result of any of the following:

1. The character of the employer changes from a public entity to a private entity.
2. An employer, other than this state, dissolves.
3. Through legislative action, the employer is no longer enrolling new employees in ASRS or no longer contributing to ASRS on behalf of current employees or groups of employees who otherwise would be eligible for ASRS membership.

B. For a nonparticipating employer described in subsection A of this section, ASRS shall allocate an actuarial accrued liability and a designated asset amount to the nonparticipating employer's separate fund as of the nonparticipation date, which shall be calculated as follows:

1. The actuarial accrued liability shall equal the sum of the plan employer actuarial accrued liability and the LTD program employer actuarial accrued liability. Actuarial accrued liability shall be calculated based on the same actuarial assumptions and methods as the actuarial valuation performed immediately preceding the nonparticipating employer's nonparticipation date.

2. The designated asset amount shall equal the sum of the following:

- (a) The plan employer actuarial accrued liability multiplied by the plan funded percentage.
- (b) The LTD program employer actuarial accrued liability multiplied by the LTD program funded percentage.

C. All monies and securities transferred to the nonparticipating employer's separate fund shall be credited to that fund. A record of the market value and the cost value of such transferred contributions shall be maintained for actuarial and investment purposes. ASRS shall make all decisions regarding the nonparticipating employer's separate fund.

D. After establishing the nonparticipating employer's separate fund, the fund shall be adjusted for all of the following:

1. All contributions made by employees of the nonparticipating employer.
2. All contributions made by the nonparticipating employer.

3. All plan, all LTD program and any other benefits paid to the nonparticipating employer's members who are active, inactive, retired or on long-term disability.

4. All plan, all LTD program and any other benefits paid to the survivors of the nonparticipating employer's members.

5. The applicable share of the investment gains and losses.

6. Expenses associated with the administration of the nonparticipating employer's separate fund, including any administrative, development, actuarial, legal, custodial and investment management costs associated with the fund. These expenses shall be paid directly by the nonparticipating employer or included in the employer's liability for the purposes of determining the employer's contribution rate.

E. After establishing the nonparticipating employer's separate fund, the nonparticipating employer and any employees of that employer who are enrolled in ASRS shall continue to have contribution requirements to the nonparticipating employer's separate fund. The contribution requirements shall be calculated as follows:

1. All employees of the nonparticipating employer who are enrolled in ASRS shall continue to make contributions through payroll deductions based on the contribution rate determined for the employees of participating employers of ASRS pursuant to section 38-736.

2. The nonparticipating employer shall continue to make contributions through lump sum payments in accordance with section 38-735, equal to the sum of:

(a) Contributions owed through payroll deductions based on the contribution rate determined for participating employers pursuant to section 38-737.

(b) The amount required to amortize the past service funding requirement in the nonparticipating employer's separate fund over a period that is determined by the board and that is consistent with generally accepted actuarial standards. In determining the past service funding period, the board shall seek to improve the funded status whenever the nonparticipating employer's separate fund is less than one hundred percent funded.

F. The ASRS actuary shall determine the actuarial assumptions used to determine the contribution requirements for the nonparticipating employer under subsection E of this section. Notwithstanding section 38-737, the contribution for the nonparticipating employer may not be determined as a percentage of compensation due to the anticipated decline of compensation for employees of the nonparticipating employer participating in ASRS. The nonparticipating employer shall certify on each payroll the amount to be contributed and shall remit that amount to ASRS at a rate that is consistent with the rate paid by the participating employers. Each fiscal year, amounts that are not remitted through payroll contributions pursuant to this section shall be invoiced to the employer and shall be paid within the same fiscal year the nonparticipating employer is invoiced.

G. This section does not permit an employer to alter the irrevocable agreement approved by the board under section 38-729.

H. For the purposes of calculating an employer's liability under this section, members who are active, inactive, retired or on long-term disability are considered employees of the nonparticipating employer if the member's most recent employer was the nonparticipating employer as of the nonparticipation date.

I. This section does not apply to an employer whose existence was terminated by legislative action or otherwise became a nonparticipating employer as described in subsection A of this section on or before January 1, 2013.

1. "LTD program" means the program established by article 2.1 of this chapter.

2. "LTD program employer actuarial accrued liability" means the actuarial accrued liability for the employer's active and inactive members and the open LTD program claims for the employees of the employer as of the nonparticipation date.

3. "LTD program funded percentage" means the total market value of LTD program assets divided by the total LTD program actuarial accrued liabilities, as of the actuarial valuation performed immediately preceding the nonparticipation date. If the percentage is greater than one hundred percent, the LTD program funded percentage is one hundred percent.

4. "Nonparticipation date" means the date on which the employer is no longer participating in ASRS.

5. "Plan" means the retirement plan established by this article.

7. "Plan funded percentage" means the plan's total market value of assets divided by the plan's actuarial accrued liability for all benefits provided under this article, including benefits established in section 38-783, for all active, inactive or retired members as of the actuarial valuation performed immediately preceding the nonparticipation date. If the percentage is greater than one hundred percent, the plan funded percentage is one hundred percent.

38-755. Member's account information: beneficiary designation: spousal consent: confidentiality

A. ASRS shall make information concerning a member's account accessible to the member in written or electronic form. This information shall include the member's current account balance, contact information, beneficiary election, estimated retirement date and estimated benefit amount.

B. The member may change the member's beneficiary at any time in a manner established by ASRS.

C. A member who is married shall name and maintain the member's current spouse as a beneficiary to receive at least fifty percent of the member's account, unless naming or maintaining the current spouse as a beneficiary violates another law, an existing contract or a court order. The member's current spouse may consent to a waiver of this requirement pursuant to section 38-776.

D. In order to protect a member's identity from fraud, abuse, theft or civil or criminal activity, information about a member is not subject to inspection pursuant to title 39, chapter 1, article 2, except that the following information about a member is subject to inspection:

11. The amount of credited service purchased pursuant to section 38-743, 38-744 or 38-745.

E. ASRS shall not permit any unredacted record to be inspected that contains a member's social security number, bank account information, address, telephone number, e-mail address, medical records, health insurance information, beneficiary or survivor information or disability information or any information that is protected by any federal or state law.

B. Except as provided in section 38-768, a member who meets the requirements for retirement benefits at normal retirement shall receive a straight life annuity that equals the result of paragraph 1 of this subsection multiplied by paragraph 2 of this subsection when those paragraphs are defined as follows:

38-758. Early retirement

A. A member who has attained age fifty, who has terminated employment with all employers and who has five years of total credited service is eligible to elect, in a form and manner prescribed by the board, to receive a reduced retirement income.

B. For a member whose membership in ASRS commenced before July 1, 2011, the benefit payable to a member electing early retirement shall be determined by reducing the normal retirement benefit computed in accordance with section 38-757 either:

1. At the rate of three percent per year from age sixty to age sixty-five and five percent per year from age fifty to age sixty. The reduction in normal retirement benefits pursuant to this paragraph for an eligible member electing early retirement shall be based on the period from the date of commencement of early retirement benefits to the member's sixtieth birthday if the member has at least twenty years of total credited service, sixty-second birthday if the member has at least ten but less than twenty years of total credited service or sixty-fifth birthday if the member has at least five but less than ten years of total credited service.

C. For a member whose membership in ASRS commenced on or after July 1, 2011, the benefit payable to a member electing early retirement shall be determined by reducing the normal retirement benefit computed in accordance with section 38-757 at the rate of three percent per year from age sixty to age sixty-five and five percent per year from age fifty to age sixty. The reduction in normal retirement benefits pursuant to this subsection for an eligible member electing early retirement shall be based on the period from the date of commencement of early retirement benefits to the member's sixty-second birthday if the member has at least ten years of total credited service or sixty-fifth birthday if the member has at least five but less than ten years of total credited service.

A. On retirement, members may elect an optional form of retirement benefit as provided in this section.

B. The optional retirement benefits available under this section include the following:

The amount of retirement income shall be the actuarial equivalent of the retirement income to which the member would be entitled under normal or early retirement. The election in a manner prescribed by the board shall name the contingent annuitant. The election may be revoked at any time before the member's effective date of retirement. At any time after benefits have commenced, the member may name a different contingent annuitant or rescind the election by written notice to the board as follows:

(a) If a different contingent annuitant is named, the life annuity of the member under the same joint and survivor life annuity option previously elected shall be adjusted to the actuarial equivalent of the original annuity, based on the age of the new contingent annuitant. The adjustment shall include all postretirement increases in retirement income that are authorized by law after the member's date of retirement. Payment of this adjusted life annuity shall continue under the provisions of the option previously elected by the member.

(b) If the member rescinds the election, the member shall thereafter receive a straight life annuity equal to what the member would otherwise be entitled to receive if the member had not elected the joint and survivor life annuity option, including all postretirement increases in retirement income that are authorized by law after the date of retirement. The increased payment shall continue during the remainder of the member's lifetime.

(c) If a member whose original date of retirement is before July 1, 2008 rescinds the joint and survivor life annuity option previously elected and receives the straight life annuity pursuant to subdivision (b) of this paragraph, the member may again elect the same joint and survivor life annuity option previously elected subject to the same restrictions prescribed in subdivision (a) of this paragraph.

38-762. Survivor benefits before retirement; definition

A. On the death of any active or inactive member before retirement, the designated beneficiary of the member shall be paid a survivor benefit equal to the sum of both of the following:

1. The member's contribution and interest and the employer's contribution and interest to the defined benefit plan established by this article for credited service that a member earned by working for an employer, plus all contributions and interest made for the purchase of military service, leave without pay or other public service credit. This amount excludes payments made by an employer pursuant to section 38-738, subsection B, paragraph 3, unless the member has made the payment required by section 38-738, subsection B, paragraph 1.

2. The amount of the member's employee account and the member's employer account together with supplemental credits, if any, transferred from the defined contribution program administered by ASRS to the defined benefit program established by this article.

B. Subsection A, paragraphs 1 and 2 of this section shall be accumulated at compound interest at a rate determined by the board through the day of the payment of the benefit.

C. In lieu of a single payment, a designated beneficiary who is eligible for a survivor benefit pursuant to subsection A of this section may elect to receive the actuarial equivalent of the survivor benefit as monthly income for life, if the resulting monthly amount is greater than or equal to the amount determined by the board under section 38-764, subsection E.

D. If a member dies before distribution of the member's benefits commences, the member's entire benefits shall be distributed within the required distribution provisions of section 401(a)(9) of the internal revenue code and the regulations that are issued under that section by the United States secretary of the treasury as prescribed in section 38-775.

E. If a deceased member did not designate a beneficiary or the beneficiary named by a member predeceases the member, ASRS shall pay the member's survivor benefit to the following persons in the following order of priority:

1. The member's surviving spouse.
2. The member's surviving natural or adopted children in equal shares.
3. The member's surviving parents in equal shares.
4. The member's estate.

F. Any payment pursuant to this section is payment for the account of the member or the member's beneficiary and all persons entitled to payment and, to the extent of the payment, is a full and complete discharge of all liability of the board or ASRS, or both, under or in connection with ASRS.

G. For the purposes of this section, "designated beneficiary" means any individual designated by the member as the member's beneficiary.

38-763. Survivor benefits after retirement

A. Except as provided in subsection B of this section, if a member dies after distribution of retirement benefits commences, ASRS shall continue to distribute the remaining portion of retirement benefits within the required distribution provisions of section 401(a)(9) of the internal revenue code and the regulations that are issued under that section by the United States secretary of the treasury as prescribed in section 38-775.

B. On the death of a retired member who is receiving benefits, the estate or beneficiary of the member is entitled to receive at least the amount of the member's contribution to ASRS plus interest, as determined by the director, less the benefits distributed by ASRS. This amount is payable either as a lump sum or at the same periodic rate in effect at the time of the member's death, as determined by the estate or beneficiary.

38-764. Commencement of retirement; payment of retirement benefits; lump sum payments

A. Retirement is deemed to commence on a date elected by the member. That date shall not be earlier than the day following the date of termination of employment, the date ASRS receives the member's completed retirement application or the date specified by the member pursuant to subsection I of this section.

B. All retirement benefits:

1. Are normally payable in monthly installments beginning on the commencement of retirement as prescribed in subsection A of this section.
2. Continue to and include the first day of the month in which death occurs or continue until the date of their cessation in accordance with any optional method of payment that may have been elected.

C. Except as provided in subsection D of this section, at the request of a retired member, a retired member's guardian or a court appointed conservator, the board may pay any increase in retirement benefits or the entire retirement benefit in a lump sum payment based on the actuarial present value of the benefit or the increase in the benefit if the payment of the benefits would result in ineligibility, reduction or elimination of social service programs provided to the member by this state, its political subdivisions or the federal government.

D. The board may pay the entire retirement benefit in a lump sum pursuant to subsection C of this section only if continued membership in ASRS will result in additional requests for lump sum payments based on cost of living adjustments or the establishment of minimum benefit awards.

E. If any benefit that is payable as a series of periodic payments amounts to less than a threshold amount determined by the board, the board, in its sole discretion and based on uniform rules it establishes, may order the amount to be paid in a lump sum. A member who receives a lump sum payment pursuant to this subsection remains a member of ASRS and is eligible for the coverage provided pursuant to section 38-782 and the payment pursuant to section 38-783 but is not eligible for a benefit increase pursuant to section 38-767.

F. All distributions of retirement benefits to a member shall be distributed within the required distribution provisions of section 401(a)(9) of the internal revenue code and the regulations that are issued under that section by the United States secretary of the treasury as prescribed in section 38-775.

G. Notwithstanding subsection H of this section, a member may elect to cancel the effective date of retirement within thirty days of retirement or before the member's receipt of retirement benefits, whichever is later.

H. A member may elect to make changes to a retirement application before the member's retirement date. A member may exercise a onetime election to make changes to the retirement application within sixty days after the member's retirement date. The member may not change the member's retirement date, and any changes made to the retirement application are retroactive to the member's retirement date.

I. A member who attains a normal retirement date may retire at any time without terminating employment if the member is employed for less than the hours required for active membership pursuant to section 38-711, paragraph 23, subdivision (b).

38-765. Errors; benefit recomputation

If any change or error in the records results in any member or beneficiary receiving from ASRS more or less than the member or beneficiary would have been entitled to receive if the records had been correct, ASRS shall correct the error and as far as practicable shall adjust the payments in a manner so that the actuarial equivalent of the benefit to which the member or beneficiary was correctly entitled is paid. ASRS shall correct any change or error and shall pay the appropriate monies to a member or beneficiary or shall recover monies from the member or beneficiary if the member or beneficiary is overpaid. ASRS shall recover monies by reducing any benefit otherwise payable by ASRS or the LTD program established by article 2.1 of this chapter to an active, inactive, person with a disability or retired member, survivor, contingent annuitant, beneficiary or alternate payee.

38-766. Retired members; return to work; suspension of benefits; exceptions; maximum benefit

A. A retired member who is engaged to work by an employer for at least twenty weeks in each fiscal year and at least twenty hours per week resumes active membership in ASRS. ASRS shall suspend payment of the member's retirement benefits until the member either:

1. Terminates employment and files an application for reretirement on a form that is approved by the director.
2. Attains a normal retirement date, no longer meets the requirements for active membership pursuant to this subsection and files an application for reretirement on a form that is approved by the director.

B. A retired member whose retirement benefits have been suspended pursuant to subsection A of this section shall repay ASRS any retirement benefits received by the member from the date ASRS notifies the member in writing that the member's employment resulted in active membership in ASRS pursuant to subsection A of this section, from the date ASRS determines that the member knew or should have known that the member's employment resulted in membership in ASRS pursuant to subsection A of this section or for any other period that approximates the duration of the violation, as determined by ASRS.

C. A member who satisfies subsection A, paragraph 1 or 2 of this section is entitled to receive an annuity recomputed to include the additional compensation and credited service. However, the recomputed annuity shall be in the original optional form chosen pursuant to section 38-760, with the same beneficiary, if applicable, as when the member first retired, unless the member has resumed active membership for at least sixty consecutive months. A member who retired under a provision of law allowing increased benefits if the retirement occurred during a specific period of time and who subsequently becomes an employee under ASRS shall not retain the increased benefits under the prior law when benefits are computed for the member's most recent retirement.

D. Notwithstanding subsection A of this section, ASRS shall not suspend the payment of retirement benefits if a retired member begins or returns to employment with an employer in a position that satisfies all of the following:

1. Results in a true change in position, job duties and job title from the position occupied by the member before ASRS retirement.

2. Either:

- (a) Requires participation in another state retirement system, plan or program and the retired member makes contributions or waives participation pursuant to section 38-804, subsection A.

- (b) Allows a member to elect to participate in another state retirement system, plan or program and the member makes such an election.

3. Does not require membership in the defined benefit plan established by this article.

E. A retired member who returns to work pursuant to subsection D of this section does not accrue credited service, member service as provided in section 15-1628, subsection B, paragraph 4, additional account balances, retirement benefits or long-term disability program benefits pursuant to article 2.1 of this chapter for the period the retired member returns to work. The period the retired member returns to work is not eligible for purchase under section 38-743 or 38-744.

F. Section 38-769, subsection L applies when determining the maximum benefit that may be paid to a retired member who resumes active membership and subsequently retires.

G. An employer that engaged the retired member to work pursuant to this section shall pay to ASRS an amount equal to the rate established by the actuary pursuant to section 38-766.02, subsection B for the period starting with the first day the retired member began working after retirement through the earlier of:

1. The date the member terminates employment.
2. The date the member resumes active membership pursuant to subsection A of this section and the member and employer are required to make contributions pursuant to section 38-736, 38-737 or 38-738.

38-766.01. Retired members; return to work

A. Notwithstanding section 38-766, at a retired member's election, a retired member may return to work and still be eligible to receive retirement benefits if all of the following requirements are satisfied:

1. The retired member has attained the member's normal retirement age.
2. The retired member terminated direct employment with an employer at least three hundred sixty-five consecutive days before returning to work.
3. If the retired member returns to work as a teacher, the retired member's employment is not subject to the requirements prescribed in sections 15-536, 15-538, 15-538.01 and 15-539 through 15-543.

B. Notwithstanding section 38-766 and subsection A of this section, at a retired member's election, a retired member may return to work as a state elected official who is subject to term limits and still be eligible to receive retirement benefits.

C. A retired member's election to return to work under this section is irrevocable for the remainder of the retired member's employment for which the retiree made the election.

D. The retired member shall acknowledge this section in writing and file the acknowledgement with the employer within thirty days after returning to work.

E. An employer of a retired member who returns to work pursuant to this section shall not pay contributions on behalf of the retired member pursuant to section 38-736, 38-737 or 38-797.05.

F. A retired member who returns to work pursuant to this section does not accrue credited service, member service as provided in section 15-1628, subsection B, paragraph 4, additional account balances, retirement benefits or long-term disability program benefits pursuant to article 2.1 of this chapter for the period the retired member returns to work. The period the retired member returns to work is not eligible for purchase under section 38-743 or 38-744.

38-766.02. Retired members; return to work; employer contribution payments; exception; definitions

A. Notwithstanding section 38-766.01, subsection E, beginning July 1, 2012, an employer shall pay contributions at an alternate contribution rate on behalf of a retired member who returns to work with an ASRS employer in any capacity in a position ordinarily filled by an employee of the employer or in a position that is similar in duties and responsibilities to that of a position ordinarily filled by an employee of the employer. This subsection applies to a retired member who has reached a normal retirement age or a retired member who retired under section 38-758 if the retired member's retirement benefit has not been suspended pursuant to section 38-766.

B. The ASRS actuary shall determine the alternate contribution rate in an annual valuation performed as of June 30. For the fiscal year beginning on July 1 of the following calendar year, the valuation shall determine the percentage to be applied to the compensation, gross salary or contract fee of a retired member who meets the requirements of this section.

C. The alternate contribution rate shall not be less than two percent in any fiscal year. The alternate contribution rate is equal to the lesser of:

1. The employer contribution rate established by the ASRS actuary pursuant to section 38-737 plus the employer contribution rate established by the ASRS actuary pursuant to section 38-797.06.

2. The total past service funding requirement rate established by the ASRS actuary pursuant to section 38-737 plus the total past service funding requirement rate established by the ASRS actuary pursuant to section 38-797.06.

D. ASRS shall determine the schedule and method of payment of the alternate contribution rate. Subject to section 38-738, subsection A, all contributions made by the employer and allocated to the fund established by section 38-712 are irrevocable and shall be used as benefits under this article or to pay the expenses of ASRS. Payments made pursuant to this section by employers become delinquent after the due date prescribed in the board's rules and thereafter shall be increased by interest from and after that date until payment is received by ASRS. ASRS shall charge interest on the delinquent payments as prescribed in section 38-711. ASRS may recover delinquent payments due under this section, together with interest charges as provided in this section, by action in a court of competent jurisdiction against an employer liable for payments or, at the request of the director, ASRS may deduct the delinquent payments and interest charges from any other monies, including excise revenue taxes, payable to the employer by any department or agency of this state.

E. An employer of a retired member shall submit any reports, data, paperwork or materials that are requested by ASRS and that are necessary to determine the compensation, gross salary or contract fee associated with a retired member who returns to work or to determine the function, utilization, efficacy or operation of the return to work program.

F. An employer is not required to pay contributions at an alternate contribution rate on behalf of a retired member under subsection A of this section if the retired member returns to work with the employer in a position that is currently filled by an employee of the employer who is an active member and for which the employer is currently required to pay and is paying contributions on behalf of the active member in that same position pursuant to sections 38-736 and 38-737. An employer may pay contributions at an alternate contribution rate for a retired member who meets the requirements for an exemption under this subsection.

G. For contributions made pursuant to subsection F of this section beginning July 1, 2019, if ASRS and the employer determine that the alternate contribution rate does not apply to a retired member who returns to work for whom the employer has paid contributions at the alternate contribution rate, the employer may request an employer credit, not including interest, for those contributions within ninety days after the end of the fiscal year in which the contributions were paid. If ASRS determines that an employer credit is not feasible, ASRS shall issue a refund to an employer in a form determined by ASRS.

H. For the purposes of this section:

1. "Contract fee" means the gross amount paid to a retired member as an independent contractor minus an amount, not to exceed ten percent, for an administrative fee.
2. "Gross salary" means the gross amount paid to a retired member by a leasing company as salary or wages, including amounts that are subject to deferred compensation or tax shelter agreements, for services rendered or that would have been paid to the retired member except for the member's election or a legal requirement that all or part of the gross amount be used for other purposes.

38-767. Benefit increases: applicability

A. For a member whose membership commenced before the effective date of this amendment to this section, effective July 1 of each year, each retired member or beneficiary of a retired member is entitled to receive a permanent benefit increase in the base benefit equal to the amount determined in subsection D of this section if the retired member or beneficiary of a retired member was receiving benefits on or before July 31 of the previous calendar year. The annual permanent benefit increases shall be paid on a monthly basis. The benefit increase shall commence on July 1.

B. The total amount of the percentage increase provided in subsection A of this section shall not exceed four per cent in aggregate for all persons eligible for an increase. The percentage payable from excess investment earnings shall be determined as follows:

1. Determine any excess investment earnings account balance available.
2. Determine the total excess investment earnings as provided in subsection C of this section.
3. Add the amount determined in paragraph 1 of this subsection to the amount determined in paragraph 2 of this subsection.
4. Determine one per cent of the actuarial present value of benefits for retired members and beneficiaries as of June 30 of the year prior to the year for which an increase is being granted.
5. Divide the amount determined in paragraph 3 of this subsection by the amount determined in paragraph 4 of this subsection. If the quotient is equal to or more than four, the percentage increase payable from excess investment earnings on accounts associated with those persons eligible for an annual benefit increase pursuant to subsection A of this section is four per cent. If the quotient is one or more but less than four, the percentage increase payable from excess investment earnings on accounts associated with those persons eligible for an annual benefit increase pursuant to subsection A of this section is that per cent rounded to the nearest tenth of a per cent. If the quotient is less than one, no benefit increases shall be granted.

C. The excess investment earnings on accounts associated with those persons eligible for an annual benefit increase pursuant to subsection A of this section are equal to the actuarial present value of benefits for all retired members and beneficiaries as of June 30 of the year prior to the year for which an increase is being granted multiplied by the positive difference, if any, between the yield rate on the actuarial value of ASRS assets for the fiscal year that ended June 30 of the year prior to the year for which an increase is being granted and eight per cent. The excess investment earnings on accounts associated with those persons eligible for an annual benefit increase pursuant to subsection A of this section are zero if the yield rate on ASRS assets is less than or equal to eight per cent.

D. The permanent benefit increase for each person entitled to receive an increase pursuant to subsection A of this section shall be determined based on years of credited service as follows:

1. Multiply the percentage determined in subsection B, paragraph 5 of this section by the actuarial present value of benefits for retired members and beneficiaries as of June 30 of the year prior to the year for which an increase is being granted.
2. Determine the actuarial present value of a one dollar per year of credited service annual increase in the base benefit amounts as of June 30 of the year prior to the year for which an increase is being granted, received by all persons entitled to receive an increase pursuant to subsection A of this section.
3. Divide the amount determined in paragraph 1 of this subsection by the amount determined in paragraph 2 of this subsection.
4. Multiply the amount determined in paragraph 3 of this subsection by the number of years of credited service for each retired member and the number of years of credited service earned by a retired member for each beneficiary entitled to receive an increase pursuant to subsection A of this section.

E. Any excess investment earnings on accounts associated with those persons eligible for an annual benefit increase pursuant to subsection A of this section from any year that are not used for benefit adjustments for that year are available for future benefit increases in the following years.

F. Monies available for future benefit increases shall earn interest at a rate of eight per cent per year. This interest shall be used to pay the additional benefit increases provided for in subsection G of this section.

G. In addition to a benefit increase pursuant to subsection A of this section, if a retired member who was eligible for an annual benefit increase pursuant to subsection A of this section had more than ten years of credited service, the retired member or beneficiary of the retired member is entitled to receive a benefit increase based on the number of years following retirement as follows:

1. At least five years but less than ten years, a monthly benefit increase equal to the amount determined in subsection H of this section.
2. At least ten years but less than fifteen years, a monthly benefit increase equal to two times the amount determined in subsection H of this section.
3. At least fifteen years but less than twenty years, a monthly benefit increase equal to three times the amount determined in subsection H of this section.

4. At least twenty years but less than twenty-five years, a monthly benefit increase equal to four times the amount determined in subsection H of this section.

5. At least twenty-five years but less than thirty years, a monthly benefit increase equal to five times the amount determined in subsection H of this section.

6. At least thirty years, a monthly benefit increase equal to six times the amount determined in subsection H of this section.

H. The amount of the monthly benefit increase under subsection G of this section for a retired member or beneficiary of a retired member who is entitled to the increase when at least five years but less than ten years have elapsed since the retired member's retirement date is equal to the amount obtained by dividing the amount of interest credited pursuant to subsection F of this section by the amount that equals the sum of:

1. The actuarial present value, as of June 30 of the year prior to the year for which the increase is granted, of a benefit increase of one dollar per month for the retired members and beneficiaries of retired members who are eligible for an increase under subsection G of this section and for whom at least five years but less than ten years have elapsed since the retired members' retirement dates.

2. The actuarial present value, as of June 30 of the year prior to the year for which the increase is granted, of a benefit increase of two dollars per month for the retired members and beneficiaries of retired members who are eligible for an increase under subsection G of this section and for whom at least ten years but less than fifteen years have elapsed since the retired members' retirement dates.

3. The actuarial present value, as of June 30 of the year prior to the year for which the increase is granted, of a benefit increase of three dollars per month for the retired members and beneficiaries of retired members who are eligible for an increase under subsection G of this section and for whom at least fifteen years but less than twenty years have elapsed since the retired members' retirement dates.

4. The actuarial present value, as of June 30 of the year prior to the year for which the increase is granted, of a benefit increase of four dollars per month for the retired members and beneficiaries of retired members who are eligible for an increase under subsection G of this section and for whom at least twenty years but less than twenty-five years have elapsed since the retired members' retirement dates.

5. The actuarial present value, as of June 30 of the year prior to the year for which the increase is granted, of a benefit increase of five dollars per month for the retired members and beneficiaries of retired members who are eligible for an increase under subsection G of this section and for whom at least twenty-five years but less than thirty years have elapsed since the retired members' retirement dates.

6. The actuarial present value, as of June 30 of the year prior to the year for which the increase is granted, of a benefit increase of six dollars per month for the retired members and beneficiaries of retired members who are eligible for an increase under subsection G of this section and for whom at least thirty years have elapsed since the retired members' retirement dates.

I. A member of the defined contribution program administered by ASRS is only eligible for the benefit increases pursuant to this section if the member elects to transfer irrevocably from the defined contribution program administered by ASRS to the defined benefit program established by this article.

J. The cost of the benefit increases granted pursuant to this section shall be added to the existing liabilities of ASRS.

K. As used in this section, the actuarial present value of benefits for retired members and beneficiaries does not include the value of benefits provided pursuant to section 38-783.

38-768. Minimum retirement benefit

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, a retired member or beneficiary who is entitled to a benefit under this article shall receive at least a minimum monthly benefit that is computed pursuant to subsection B of this section if the retired member or beneficiary is at least seventy-five years of age and if the retired member or beneficiary is any of the following:

1. Retired from ASRS with at least twenty years of credited service.
2. A beneficiary of ASRS who is receiving benefits derived from a retired member who had at least twenty years of credited service.
3. A member with at least twenty years of service who irrevocably revokes the receipt of benefits determined on the basis of membership in the defined contribution program administered by ASRS and who elects to receive benefits under this article.
4. A beneficiary who is receiving benefits derived from a retired member who had at least twenty years of service, who irrevocably revoked the receipt of benefits determined on the basis of membership in the defined contribution program administered by ASRS and who elected to receive benefits under this article.

B. The minimum monthly benefit provided by subsection A of this section:

1. For retired members, is $600.
2. For beneficiaries, is the amount determined by paragraph 1 of this subsection and reduced in accordance with the option chosen by multiplying the amount determined by paragraph 1 of this subsection by the actuarial figure for the option chosen and by the percentage of the option chosen.

C. If the minimum monthly benefit pursuant to subsections A and B of this section is more than the retired member's or beneficiary's current monthly benefit, the retired member or beneficiary is eligible to receive a monthly benefit equal to the minimum benefit. If the retired member's or beneficiary's current monthly benefit is more than the minimum benefit, the retired member's or beneficiary's benefit remains the same.

D. A member who receives a lump sum payment pursuant to section 38-764, subsection C is not eligible for a minimum benefit as provided by this section.

38-769. Maximum retirement benefits; termination; definitions

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, except as provided in subsection C of this section, the employer provided portion of a member's annual benefit payable in the form of a straight life annuity, at any time within a limitation year, shall not exceed one hundred sixty thousand dollars or a larger amount that is effective as of January 1 of each calendar year, is prescribed by the board and is due to any cost of living adjustment announced by the United States secretary of the treasury pursuant to section 415(d) of the internal revenue code. The board shall increase the amount pursuant to this subsection as of the effective date of the increase as prescribed by the United States secretary of the treasury. Benefit increases provided in this section resulting from the increase in the limitations of section 415(b) of the internal revenue code as amended by the economic growth and tax relief reconciliation act of 2001 shall be provided to all current and former members who have benefits that are limited by section 415(b) of the internal revenue code and who have an accrued benefit under ASRS immediately before July 1, 2001, other than an accrued benefit resulting from a benefit increase solely as a result of the increases provided by this section resulting from the increase in the limitations of section 415(b) of the internal revenue code as amended by the economic growth and tax relief reconciliation act of 2001.

B. Notwithstanding the limitations of subsection A of this section, the benefits payable to a member are deemed not to exceed the limitations determined under subsection A of this section if the retirement benefits payable to the member under this article do not exceed ten thousand dollars for the limitation year and if an employer has not at any time maintained a defined contribution plan in which the member has participated.

C. The limitations determined under subsection A of this section are subject to the following adjustments:

1. If a member has less than ten years of membership in ASRS, the maximum dollar limitation determined under subsection A of this section shall be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of years, or partial years, of membership in ASRS and the denominator of which is ten. The reduction provided in this paragraph also applies to the ten thousand dollar floor limitation provided in subsection B of this section, except that the reduction applies to years of service with an employer rather than to years of membership in ASRS. The reduction in this paragraph does not reduce the limitations determined under subsection A of this section to an amount less than one-tenth of the limitations as determined without regard to this paragraph.

2. If the member's benefit under ASRS commences before the member reaches sixty-two years of age, the benefit will be limited to:

(a) If the annuity starting date is in a limitation year beginning before July 1, 2007, the annual amount of a benefit payable in the form of a straight life annuity commencing at the member's annuity starting date that is the actuarial equivalent of the dollar limitation under section 415(b)(1)(A) of the internal revenue code as adjusted in subsection A of this section, with actuarial equivalence computed using whichever of the following produces the smaller annual amount:

(i) The interest rate and mortality table or other tabular factor specified by the board for determining actuarial equivalence for early retirement purposes.

(ii) A five per cent interest rate assumption and the applicable mortality table.

(b) If the annuity starting date is in a limitation year beginning on or after July 1, 2007 and ASRS does not have an immediately commencing straight life annuity payable at both age sixty-two and the age of benefit commencement, the annual amount of a benefit payable in the form of a straight life annuity commencing at the member's annuity starting date that is the actuarial equivalent of the dollar limitation under section 415(b)(1)(A) of the internal revenue code as adjusted in subsection A of this section, with actuarial equivalence computed using a five per cent interest rate assumption and the applicable mortality table and expressing the member's age based on completed calendar months as of the annuity start date.

(c) If the annuity starting date is in a limitation year beginning on or after July 1, 2007 and ASRS has an immediately commencing straight life annuity payable at both age sixty-two and the age of benefit commencement, the lesser of:

(i) The adjusted dollar limitation determined in accordance with subdivision (b) of this paragraph, determined without applying the limitations of section 415 of the internal revenue code.

(ii) The product of the dollar limitation under section 415(b)(1)(A) of the internal revenue code as adjusted in subsection A of this section, multiplied by the ratio of the annual amount of the immediately commencing straight life annuity under ASRS at the member's annuity starting date to the annual amount of the immediately commencing straight life annuity under ASRS at age sixty-two, determined without applying the limitations of section 415 of the internal revenue code.

3. If the retirement benefit under ASRS commences after the member reaches sixty-five years of age, the dollar limitation under section 415(b)(1)(A) of the internal revenue code as adjusted in subsection A of this section on that benefit is increased to:

(a) If the annuity starting date is in a limitation year beginning before July 1, 2007, the annual amount of a benefit payable in the form of a straight life annuity commencing at the member's annuity starting date that is the actuarial equivalent of the dollar limitation under section 415(b)(1)(A) as adjusted under section 415(d) of the internal revenue code, with actuarial equivalence computed using whichever of the following produces the smaller annual amount:

(i) The interest rate and mortality table or other tabular factor specified by the board for determining actuarial equivalence for delayed retirement purposes.

(ii) A five per cent interest rate assumption and the applicable mortality table.

(b) If the annuity starting date is in a limitation year beginning on or after July 1, 2007 and ASRS does not have an immediately commencing straight life annuity payable at both age sixty-five and the age of benefit commencement, the annual amount of a benefit payable in the form of a straight life annuity commencing at the member's annuity starting date that is the actuarial equivalent of the dollar limitation under section 415(b)(1)(A) of the internal revenue code as adjusted in subsection A of this section, with actuarial equivalence computed using a five per cent interest rate assumption and the applicable mortality table and expressing the member's age based on completed calendar months as of the annuity starting date.

(c) If the annuity starting date is in a limitation year beginning on or after July 1, 2007 and ASRS has an immediately commencing straight life annuity payable at both age sixty-five and the age of benefit commencement, the lesser of:

(i) The adjusted dollar limitation determined in accordance with subdivision (b) of this paragraph, determined without applying the limitations of section 415 of the internal revenue code.

(ii) The product of the dollar limitation under section 415(b)(1)(A) of the internal revenue code as adjusted in subsection A of this section, multiplied by the ratio of the annual amount of the immediately commencing straight life annuity under ASRS at the member's annuity starting date to the annual amount of the immediately commencing straight life annuity under ASRS at age sixty-five, determined without applying the limitations of section 415 of the internal revenue code.

4. For purposes of applying the limits of section 415 of the internal revenue code, a retirement benefit that is payable in any form other than a straight life annuity and that is not subject to section 417(e)(3) of the internal revenue code must be adjusted to an actuarially equivalent straight life annuity that equals either:

(a) For limitation years beginning on or after July 1, 2007, the greater of the annual amount of the straight life annuity, if any, payable under ASRS at the same annuity starting date, and the annual amount of a straight life annuity commencing at the same annuity starting date that has the same actuarial present value as the member's form of benefit computed using an interest rate of five per cent and the applicable mortality table under section 417(e)(3) of the internal revenue code.

(b) For limitation years beginning before July 1, 2007, the annual amount of a straight life annuity commencing at the same annuity starting date that has the same actuarial present value as the member's form of benefit computed using whichever of the following produces the greater annual amount:

(i) The interest rate and mortality table or other tabular factor specified by the board for adjusting benefits in the same form.

(ii) A five per cent interest rate assumption and the applicable mortality table.

5. For the purpose of applying the limits of section 415 of the internal revenue code, a retirement benefit that is payable in any form other than a straight life annuity to which section 417(e)(3) of the internal revenue code would apply if that section of the internal revenue code were applicable to ASRS must be adjusted to an actuarially equivalent straight life annuity that equals:

(a) If the annuity starting date is in a plan year beginning on or after July 1, 2006, the annual amount of the straight life annuity commencing at the same annuity starting date that has the same actuarial present value as the member's form of benefit, using whichever of the following produces the greater annual amount:

(i) The interest rate and mortality table or other tabular factor specified by the board for adjusting benefits in the same form.

(ii) A five and one-half per cent interest rate assumption and the applicable mortality table.

(iii) The applicable interest rate under section 417(e)(3) of the internal revenue code and the applicable mortality table, divided by 1.05. The stability period during which the applicable interest rate remains constant is the plan year. The look-back month that is used to determine the applicable interest rate during the stability period is the third full calendar month preceding the first day of the stability period. For the purposes of this item, "applicable interest rate" means the annual interest rate on thirty-year treasury securities as specified by the commissioner of the United States internal revenue service for a month in revenue rulings or notices or another guidance published by the commissioner in the internal revenue bulletin.

(b) If the annuity starting date is in a plan year beginning in July 1, 2004 or July 1, 2005, the annual amount of the straight life annuity commencing at the same annuity starting date that has the same actuarial present value as the member's form of benefit payable, using whichever of the following produces the greater annual amount:

(i) The interest rate and mortality table or other tabular factor specified by the board for adjusting benefits in the same form.

(ii) A five and one-half per cent interest assumption and the applicable mortality table.

(c) If the annuity starting date is on or after July 1, 2004 and before December 31, 2004, and ASRS applies the transition rule in section 101(d)(3) of the pension funding equity act of 2005 in lieu of the rule in subdivision (b) of this paragraph, the annual amount of the straight life annuity commencing at the same annuity starting date that has the same actuarial present value as the member's form of benefit, determined in accordance with internal revenue service notice 2004-78.

6. When calculating the limitations of paragraph 4 or 5 of this subsection, the portion of any joint or survivor annuity that constitutes a qualified joint and survivor annuity as defined in section 417 of the internal revenue code shall be disregarded.

D. Subsection C, paragraphs 1 and 2 of this section do not apply to income received from ASRS as a pension, annuity or similar allowance as a result of the recipient developing a disability by personal injury or sickness or to amounts received from ASRS by beneficiaries, survivors or the estate of a member as a result of the death of the member.

E. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the annual benefit payable under this article may be reduced to the extent necessary, as determined by the board, to prevent disqualification of ASRS under section 415 of the internal revenue code that imposes additional limitations on the annual benefits payable to members who also may be participating in another tax qualified pension or savings plan of this state. An employer shall not provide employee retirement or deferred benefits if the benefits authorized by this section and as required by federal law result in the failure of ASRS to meet federal qualification standards as applied to public pension plans. The board shall advise affected members of any additional information concerning their annual benefits required by this subsection. All benefits payable pursuant to this subsection shall comply with the limitations of benefits contained in section 415 of the internal revenue code and the final treasury regulations issued under that section. Notwithstanding any provision of this article to the contrary, if the annual benefits within the meaning of section 415 of the internal revenue code for any member exceed the limits of section 415(b) of the internal revenue code and this section, ASRS may only correct the excess pursuant to the employee plans compliance resolution system prescribed in internal revenue service revenue procedure 2008-50 or any future guidance by the internal revenue service, including the preamble of the final treasury regulations issued under section 415 of the internal revenue code.

F. If the maximum amount of benefit allowed under section 415 of the internal revenue code is increased after the commencement date of a member's benefit due to any cost of living adjustment announced by the United States secretary of the treasury pursuant to the provisions of section 415(d) of the internal revenue code, the amount of the monthly benefit payable under ASRS to a member whose benefit is restricted due to the provisions of section 415(d) of the internal revenue code shall be increased by the board as of the date prescribed by the United States secretary of the treasury on which the increase shall become effective. The increase shall reflect the increase in the amount of retirement income that may be payable under this article as a result of the cost of living adjustment.

G. In determining the adjustments to the defined benefit dollar limitation authorized by subsection A of this section, the board shall prescribe a larger defined benefit dollar limitation if prescribed by the United States secretary of the treasury pursuant to section 415(d) of the internal revenue code. An adjustment to the defined benefit dollar limitation prescribed in subsection A of this section is not effective before the first calendar year for which the United States secretary of the treasury publishes the adjustment. After it is prescribed by the board, the new defined benefit dollar limitation applies to the limitation year ending with or within the calendar year for which the secretary of the treasury makes the adjustment.

H. For the purposes of the limitations prescribed by this section, all member and employer contributions made to ASRS to provide a member benefits pursuant to section 38-771 or 38-771.01 and all member contributions that are not treated as picked up by the employer under section 414(h)(2) of the internal revenue code shall be treated as made to a separate defined contribution plan.

I. On termination or partial termination of ASRS, the accrued benefit of each member is, as of the date of termination or partial termination, fully vested and nonforfeitable to the extent then funded.

J. If ASRS terminates, the benefit of any highly compensated employee as defined in section 414(q) of the internal revenue code and any highly compensated former employee is limited to a benefit that is nondiscriminatory under section 401(a)(4) of the internal revenue code and as follows:

1. Benefits distributed to any of the twenty-five active and former highly compensated employees with the greatest compensation in the current or any prior fiscal year are restricted so that the annual payments are no greater than an amount equal to the payment that would be made on behalf of the member under a straight life annuity that is the actuarial equivalent of the sum of the member's accrued benefit, the member's other benefits under ASRS, excluding a social security supplement as defined in 26 Code of Federal Regulations section 1.411(a)-7(C)(4)(ii), and the amount the member is entitled to receive under a social security supplement.

2. Paragraph 1 of this subsection does not apply if either:

(a) After payment of the benefit to a member described in paragraph 1 of this subsection, the value of ASRS assets equals or exceeds one hundred ten per cent of the value of the current liabilities, as defined in section 412(l)(7) of the internal revenue code, of ASRS.

(b) The value of the benefits for a member described in paragraph 1 of this subsection is less than one per cent of the value of the current liabilities, as defined in section 412(l)(7) of the internal revenue code, of ASRS before distribution.

(c) The value of the benefits payable by ASRS to a member described in paragraph 1 of this subsection does not exceed three thousand five hundred dollars.

K. For the purposes of subsection J of this section, "benefit" includes loans in excess of the amount prescribed in section 72(p)(2)(A) of the internal revenue code, any periodic income, any withdrawal values payable to a living member and any death benefits not provided for by insurance on the member's life.

L. On retirement of a member who was a retired member, who resumed active membership and who subsequently retires, the limitations of this section in effect on the member's subsequent retirement apply to the member's retirement benefit payable as recomputed pursuant to section 38-766. In addition, the sum of the present value of the member's recomputed retirement benefits plus the present value of the benefits the member received during the member's prior retirement shall not exceed the present value of the limitations in effect on the member's subsequent retirement. The limitations prescribed in this subsection shall not reduce a member's retirement benefit below the retirement benefit the member was receiving before the member resumed active membership. For the purposes of determining present value under this subsection, the board shall use the actuarial equivalent assumptions provided in section 38-711, paragraph 2.

M. For the purposes of this section:

1. The following adjustments shall be made to the definition of compensation prescribed in subsection O of this section:

(a) Compensation shall be adjusted for the types of compensation that are prescribed in this paragraph and that are paid after a member's severance from employment with an employer. Amounts described in subdivisions (b), (c) and (d) of this paragraph may be included only as compensation to the extent the amounts are paid by the later of two and one-half months after severance from employment or by the end of the limitation year that includes the date of the severance from employment. Any other payment of compensation paid after severance of employment that is not described in the types of compensation prescribed in this paragraph is not considered compensation for purposes of this section, even if payment is made within the time period prescribed in this subdivision.

(b) Compensation shall include regular pay after severance of employment if the payment is regular compensation for services performed during the member's regular working hours or compensation for services performed outside the member's regular working hours, such as overtime or shift differential, commission, bonus or other similar payments, and the payment would have been paid to the member before a severance from employment if the member had continued in employment with the employer.

(c) Leave cash-outs shall be included in compensation if those amounts would have been included in compensation if they were paid before the member's severance from employment and the amounts are payment for unused accrued bona fide sick, vacation or other leave, but only if the member would have been able to use the leave if employment had continued.

(d) Deferred compensation shall be included in compensation if the compensation would have been included in compensation if it had been paid before the member's severance from employment and the compensation is received pursuant to a nonqualified unfunded deferred compensation plan, but only if the payment would have been paid at the same time if the member had continued in employment with the employer and only to the extent that the payment is includable in the member's gross income.

(e) Compensation does include payments to an individual who does not currently perform services for an employer by reason of qualified military service as defined in section 414(u)(5) of the internal revenue code to the extent those payments do not exceed the amounts the individual would have received if the individual had continued to perform services for the employer rather than entering qualified military service.

(f) Compensation does not include compensation paid to a member who is a person with a permanent and total disability as defined in section 22(e)(3) of the internal revenue code.

(g) Compensation shall include amounts that are includable in the gross income of a member as required by section 409A or section 457(f)(1)(A) of the internal revenue code or because the amounts are constructively received by the member.

2. Compensation for a limitation year shall not include amounts earned but not paid during the limitation year solely because of the timing of pay periods and pay dates.

3. Payments awarded by an administrative agency or court or pursuant to a bona fide agreement by an employer to compensate a member for lost wages are compensation for the limitation year to which the back pay relates, but only to the extent the payments represent wages and compensation that would otherwise be included in compensation under this section.

N. The definition of limitation year prescribed in subsection O of this section may only be changed by an amendment to subsection O, except that if ASRS is terminated effective as of a date other than the last day of the limitation year, the termination shall be treated as if this section has been amended to change the definition of limitation year.

O. For the purposes of this section:

1. Annual additions shall be determined as provided in section 38-747, subsection O.

2. "Annual benefit" means a benefit, including any portion of a member's retirement benefit payable to an alternate payee under a qualified domestic relations order that satisfies the requirements prescribed in section 414(p)(1)(A)(i) of the internal revenue code and section 38-773, payable annually in the form of a straight life annuity, disregarding the portion of a joint and survivor annuity that constitutes a qualified joint and survivor annuity as defined in section 417 of the internal revenue code, with no ancillary or incidental benefits or rollover contributions and excluding any portion of the benefit derived from member contributions or other contributions that are treated as a separate defined contribution plan under section 415 of the internal revenue code but including any of those contributions that are picked up by the employer under section 414(h) of the internal revenue code, or that otherwise are not treated as a separate defined contribution plan. If the benefit is payable in another form, the determination as to whether the limitation described in subsection A of this section has been satisfied shall be made by the board by adjusting the benefit so that it is actuarially equivalent to the annual benefit described in this paragraph in accordance with the regulations promulgated by the United States secretary of the treasury. In addition, for determining the annual benefit attributable to member contributions, the factors described in section 411(c)(2)(B) of the internal revenue code and the regulations promulgated under the internal revenue code shall be used by the board regardless of whether section 411 of the internal revenue code applies to ASRS. The factors described in section 411(c)(2)(B) of the internal revenue code shall be those factors described under section 417(e)(3) of the internal revenue code and determined on the basis of the 417(e) mortality table and an interest rate as prescribed in subsection C, paragraph 5 of this section.

3. "Applicable mortality table" means the mortality table described in internal revenue service revenue ruling 2001-62.

4. "Compensation" means the member's earned income, wages, salaries, fees for professional service and other amounts received for personal services actually rendered in the course of employment with the employer and includes amounts described in sections 104(a)(3) and 105(a) of the internal revenue code, but only to the extent that these amounts are includable in the gross income of the member. Compensation also includes any elective deferral as defined in section 402(g)(3) of the internal revenue code and any amount that is contributed or deferred by an employer at the election of a member and that is not includable in the gross income of the member by reason of section 125, 132(f)(4) or 457 of the internal revenue code. Compensation does not mean:

(a) Employer contributions to a plan of deferred compensation to the extent the contributions are not included in the gross income of the employee for the taxable year in which contributed and any distributions from a plan of deferred compensation, regardless of whether the amounts are includable in gross income of the employee when distributed, except that any amount received by a member pursuant to an unfunded nonqualified plan may be considered as compensation for the purposes of this section in the year the amounts are includable in the gross income of the member under the internal revenue code.

(b) Other amounts that receive special tax benefits, such as premiums for group term life insurance, but only to the extent that the premiums are not includable in the gross income of the employee, qualified transportation fringe benefits as defined in section 132 of the internal revenue code and, effective for plan years beginning from and after December 31, 1987, any amounts under section 125 of the internal revenue code that are not available to a member in cash in lieu of group health coverage because the member is unable to certify that the member has other health coverage.

5. "Defined benefit dollar limitation" means the dollar limitation determined under subsection A of this section.

6. "Defined benefit plan" has the same meaning prescribed in section 414(j) of the internal revenue code.

7. "Defined contribution plan" has the same meaning prescribed in section 414(i) of the internal revenue code.

8. "Limitation year" and "years of service" mean the fiscal year.

38-770. Eligible rollover distribution: definitions

A. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article that would limit a distributee's election under this section, a distributee may elect, at any time and in the manner prescribed by the board, to have any portion of an eligible rollover distribution paid directly to an eligible retirement plan specified by the distributee in a direct rollover.

B. An eligible rollover distribution may commence less than thirty days after the notice required under section 402(f) of the internal revenue code is given to the distributee, provided that both:

1. ASRS clearly informs the distributee that the distributee has a right to a period of at least thirty days after receiving the notice to consider the decision of whether or not to elect a direct rollover.

2. The distributee, after receiving the notice, affirmatively elects a distribution.

C. In addition to the other elections allowed in this section, effective for distributions made from and after December 31, 2006, a designated beneficiary of a member who is not the member's surviving spouse may elect, at any time and in the manner prescribed by ASRS, to have any portion of an eligible rollover distribution paid directly to an eligible retirement plan described in subsection D, paragraph 3, subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section. For the purposes of this subsection, "designated beneficiary" has the same meaning prescribed in section 38-775.

D. For the purposes of this section:

1. "Direct rollover" means a payment by ASRS to the eligible retirement plan specified by the distributee.

2. "Distributee" means a member, a member's surviving spouse or a member's spouse or former spouse who is the alternate payee under an acceptable domestic relations order as defined in section 38-773.

3. "Eligible retirement plan" means any of the following that accepts a distributee's eligible rollover distribution:

(a) An individual retirement account described in section 408(a) of the internal revenue code.

(b) An individual retirement annuity described in section 408(b) of the internal revenue code.

(c) An annuity plan described in section 403(a) of the internal revenue code.

(d) A qualified trust described in section 401(a) of the internal revenue code.

(e) An annuity contract described in section 403(b) of the internal revenue code.

(f) An eligible deferred compensation plan described in section 457(b) of the internal revenue code that is maintained by a state, a political subdivision of a state or any agency or instrumentality of a state or a political subdivision of a state and that agrees to separately account for amounts transferred into the eligible deferred compensation plan from ASRS.

(g) Beginning January 1, 2008, a Roth individual retirement account described in section 408A of the internal revenue code.

(h) For distributions made after December 18, 2015, a simple retirement account that satisfies the requirements of section 408(p) of the internal revenue code.

4. "Eligible rollover distribution" means distribution of all or any portion of the balance to the credit of the distributee but does not include any of the following:

(a) Any distribution that is one of a series of substantially equal periodic payments made not less frequently than annually for the life or life expectancy of the member or the joint lives or joint life expectancies of the member and the member's designated beneficiary or for a specified period of ten years or more.

(b) Any distribution to the extent the distribution is required under section 401(a)(9) of the internal revenue code.

(c) Except as provided in this paragraph, the portion of any distribution that is not includable in gross income. A distribution does not fail to be an eligible rollover distribution merely because the portion consists of after-tax employee contributions that are not includable in gross income if the portion is paid only to an individual retirement account or annuity described in section 408(a) or 408(b) of the internal revenue code, to a qualified plan described in section 401(a) of the internal revenue code or an annuity contract described in section 403(b) of the internal revenue code that agrees to separately account for amounts so transferred, and earnings on those amounts, including separately accounting for the portion of the distribution that is includable in gross income and the portion of the distribution that is not includable in gross income.

(d) Any distribution that is made due to hardship of the member.

38-771. Benefit options for transferred defined contribution program members: definitions

A. On or before December 31, 1995 a nonretired ASRS member who was a member of the defined contribution program administered by ASRS and who was transferred to the defined benefit program established by this article on July 1, 1981 shall elect to receive either retirement benefits provided under this section or retirement benefits as otherwise provided by this article. An election under this subsection is irrevocable. A member who fails to make an election under this subsection is deemed to have elected to receive retirement benefits provided under this section.

B. A member who elects to receive retirement benefits provided under this section is eligible only for those benefits.

C. If a member elects to receive retirement benefits provided under this section, the member shall elect to receive retirement benefits based on either of the following:

1. The contributions paid by the member and member's employer, plus all earnings attributed to the member's retirement account, through the member's retirement date.
2. Except as provided in subsections E and F of this section, contributions paid by the member and member's employer at the contribution rate in effect before July 1, 1975 and an employee and employer contribution rate of seven per cent calculated from July 1, 1975, plus all earnings attributed to the member's retirement account, through the member's retirement date.

D. Notwithstanding sections 38-736 and 38-737, members who elect to receive retirement benefits provided under this section and their employers shall each make contributions at a rate of seven per cent of the member's compensation and, beginning on July 1, 1998, employers shall make contributions to ASRS on behalf of their respective members who have elected to receive retirement benefits provided under this section to pay the actuarially determined amount necessary to provide the group health and accident insurance benefits for those retired members and their dependents as provided under section 38-783. Member contributions pursuant to this subsection shall be salary reduction contributions pursuant to section 38-747, subsections C and D.

E. Subject to subsection F of this section, if a member desires to receive retirement benefits based on subsection C, paragraph 2 of this section, the member shall make the election on or before June 30, 1999 and during the member's active employment. The election shall be made in accordance with section 38-747, subsections C, D and H. If a member elects to receive retirement benefits based on subsection C, paragraph 2 of this section, both the member and the member's employer shall pay to ASRS the difference between the contributions made and seven per cent of the member's gross compensation from July 1, 1984 through December 31, 1995. If a member elects to have the member's employer make payments for all or a portion of the contributions pursuant to section 38-747, subsection D, the member's employer shall make the contributions as required by section 38-747, subsection D. If a member elects to make contributions pursuant to section 38-747, subsection H, both the member and the member's employer shall pay to ASRS the portion of the difference between the total required contributions and that portion of the required contributions that the member has elected to have the member's employer pay pursuant to section 38-747, subsection D. The member's employer shall make the employer's contributions attributable to a member's period of employment before July 1, 1999 in a single lump sum payment at the time and computed in the manner prescribed in section 38-771.01, subsections G and H. If a member elects pursuant to subsection C, paragraph 2 of this section to have contributions made or to make contributions pursuant to section 38-747, subsection D or H for less than the full amount permitted by this subsection the member's benefits shall be computed only with reference to the contributions actually made. A member shall make an election pursuant to this section with respect to contributions to be made by the member before July 1, 1999. This election shall remain in full force and effect on and after July 1, 1999 and may be modified or revoked by the member only if the modification or revocation is specifically authorized in section 38-747. Section 38-771.01 governs any elections made by a member with respect to contributions to be made by the member to ASRS on or after July 1, 1999.

F. Contributions made to ASRS by a member and the member's employer pursuant to subsections D and E of this section shall not exceed, in any one limitation year, the limits of section 38-747, subsection E. If for any reason, the member and employer contributions to ASRS made pursuant to subsections D and E of this section would, at the time such contributions are due, taking into account other employer and member contributions due to ASRS for the limitation year, exceed the limits of section 38-747, the amount to be paid by the member and the member's employer under subsection E of this section shall be proportionately reduced and such reduction shall be carried into the succeeding limitation year and paid by the member and the member's employer within thirty days of the beginning of such limitation year, unless the limits of section 38-747 would again be exceeded, in which event this procedure will be repeated until all such contributions have been made. If more than one employer is contributing on behalf of a member, the reduction and contributions in succeeding years shall be proportionately allocated among the employers. If a member retires prior to making all contributions under subsections D and E of this section because of the limitations of section 38-747, the member's benefits under this section shall be calculated only with reference to the contributions actually made. For purposes of this subsection, "limitation year" has the same meaning prescribed in section 38-769.

G. A member who elects to receive retirement benefits provided under this section is subject to the provisions of section 38-771.01, subsection K that are equivalent to those imposed before the member's transfer from the defined contribution program administered by ASRS to the defined benefit program established by this article.

H. ASRS shall handle all retirement accounts of members who elect retirement benefits provided under this section and all member and employer contributions attributable to those members in the same manner as retirement accounts and contributions that are part of the defined contribution program administered by ASRS. Retirement accounts of members who elect to receive retirement benefits provided under this section are eligible for interest and supplemental credits on the same basis as members who retired under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

I. The election of retirement benefits by a member pursuant to this section is a waiver of all claims and demands by the member that the retirement benefits are less than the amount of retirement benefits payable to the member under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS if the member had remained a member of the defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

J. For purposes of this section:

1. "Member's employer" means an employer who compensated the member during a period when the member's contributions were less than seven per cent.

2. "Retirement account" means the combined member and employer contributions with interest or earnings on the contributions including any allocations credited as employer contributions.

38-771.01. Alternative benefits for transferred defined contribution program members; definitions

A retired or nonretired ASRS member qualifies or is excluded under this section based on the following criteria:

1. A member is entitled to receive benefits under this section only if the member satisfies at least one of the following requirements:

(a) Is not retired as of July 1, 1999 even though the member may have previously elected to receive benefits under the defined benefit program established by this article, may have transferred employment between or among employers on or after July 1, 1981 or may have terminated employment on or after July 1, 1981 and after that termination date returned to employment with an employer.

(b) Retired on or after July 1, 1984 and elected to receive benefits under the defined benefit program established by this article.

(c) Retired on or after July 1, 1984 and is receiving benefits under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

2. Even if the member otherwise qualifies under paragraph 1 of this subsection, a member is not entitled to receive benefits under this section if any of the following applies to the member:

(a) The member retired before July 1, 1984.

(b) The member is entitled to receive benefits pursuant to section 38-771 and has paid to ASRS pursuant to section 38-771 before July 1, 1999 the entire amount that is attributable to service performed on or after July 1, 1984 and that is equal to the contribution rate of seven per cent of compensation, the contribution has been matched by an equal contribution to ASRS by the member's employers and all applicable earnings and supplemental credits have been credited for the member's account.

(c) The member withdrew the member's contributions from the defined contribution program administered by ASRS and, as of July 1, 1999, is not entitled to any benefit under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

(d) The member transferred the member's benefits under either the defined benefit program established by this article or the defined contribution program administered by ASRS to any other retirement system.

B. A beneficiary is entitled to receive benefits pursuant to this section only if the beneficiary satisfies the requirements of paragraph 1 of this subsection and is not excluded under paragraph 2 of this subsection based on the following criteria:

1. The beneficiary is a beneficiary of a retired or nonretired member who qualifies for benefits under subsection A, paragraph 1 of this section, is not excluded under subsection A, paragraph 2 of this section and as of July 1, 1999 either:

(a) Is receiving a monthly benefit from the defined benefit program established by this article or the defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

(b) Is living, is a survivor of a deceased retired or nonretired member and elected to receive a lump sum distribution of the survivor benefit that was payable on the death of the member.

2. Even if the beneficiary satisfies the requirements of paragraph 1 of this subsection, a beneficiary is not entitled to receive benefits under this section if the beneficiary is a beneficiary of a deceased retired member who elected a form of benefit under either the defined benefit program established by this article or the defined contribution program administered by ASRS that did not provide for survivor benefits after the death of the retired member.

C. A member or a deceased member's beneficiary who receives benefits pursuant to this section shall receive benefits based on the sum of the following:

1. Contributions paid by the member and the member's employer at the contribution rates in effect before July 1, 1984, together with all applicable earnings and supplemental credits on those contributions.

2. Contributions paid by the member's employer at the contribution rates in effect beginning on July 1, 1984 through the earlier of June 30, 1999 or the member's retirement or death, together with all applicable earnings and supplemental credits on those contributions computed through the earlier of June 30, 1999 or the member's retirement or death.

3. The excess of employer contributions computed at the rate of seven per cent of compensation beginning on July 1, 1984 through June 30, 1999 over the actual contributions paid by the member's employer as described in paragraph 2 of this subsection, together with all earnings and supplemental credits that would have been earned on those excess contributions computed from the date the contributions would have been paid to ASRS.

4. Contributions paid by the member at the contribution rate in effect on and after July 1, 1984, together with all earnings on those contributions.

5. With respect to member contributions that were not paid to ASRS before July 1, 1999 pursuant to section 38-771, subsection C, paragraph 2, forty per cent of the earnings that would have been credited on those contributions through the earlier of June 30, 1999 or the member's retirement or death as if those member contributions had been paid.

6. Contributions paid by the member to ASRS before July 1, 1999 pursuant to an election under section 38-771, subsection C, paragraph 2 and subsection E, together with all earnings on those contributions.

7. Contributions paid by the member to ASRS on or after July 1, 1999 pursuant to an election under section 38-771, subsection C, paragraph 2 and subsection E, together with earnings on those contributions.

8. Contributions paid by the member to ASRS on or after July 1, 1999 pursuant to this section, together with earnings on those contributions.

9. Contributions paid by the member's employer to ASRS on or after July 1, 1999 pursuant to this section, together with all applicable earnings and supplemental credits on those contributions.

D. Effective on July 1, 1999, ASRS shall adjust the retirement account reserves under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS for retired members and the beneficiaries of deceased retired members entitled to benefits pursuant to this section to give effect to additional contributions, earnings and supplemental credits for those retired members prescribed in subsection C, paragraphs 1 through 6 of this section for the periods of the members' employment before July 1, 1999 and to give effect to the recomputation, adjustment and payment of benefits pursuant to subsection G of this section. After this recomputation, adjustment and payment, ASRS shall credit and charge these retirement account reserves with the amounts prescribed under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS based on the adjustments prescribed in this section.

E. Effective on July 1, 1999, ASRS shall adjust each nonretired member's accounts under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS to equal the sum of the contribution amounts prescribed in subsection C, paragraphs 1 through 6 of this section with respect to periods of a member's employment before July 1, 1999. After the adjustment, these accounts shall accrue applicable interest and supplemental credits based on the entire amounts credited to the accounts.

F. For periods of a nonretired member's employment on or after July 1, 1999, a nonretired member who is entitled to receive benefits pursuant to this section and the nonretired member's employer shall each make contributions to ASRS at the rates established pursuant to sections 38-736 and 38-737, except as follows:

1. If a nonretired member made an election pursuant to section 38-771, subsection C, paragraph 2 and section 38-747, subsections C and D before July 1, 1999, the member's employer shall continue to make pickup contributions to ASRS on behalf of the member pursuant to the member's election, except that with respect to employer contributions that are required pursuant to section 38-771, subsection E for periods of a member's employment before July 1, 1999, the employer shall make a lump sum payment to ASRS as computed pursuant to subsection G of this section and required to be paid to ASRS pursuant to subsection H of this section.

2. If a nonretired member elected or was deemed to have elected benefits pursuant to section 38-771 before December 31, 1995, for periods of a member's employment from and after the election or deemed election the nonretired member's employer and the member shall each continue to pay to ASRS an amount equal to seven per cent of the member's compensation in lieu of the rates established pursuant to sections 38-736 and 38-737.

3. A nonretired member who is entitled to receive benefits pursuant to this section and who never elected to receive benefits pursuant to section 38-771 may elect pursuant to section 38-747, subsections C and D to make contributions at the rate of seven per cent of the member's compensation for periods of a member's employment on or after July 1, 1999. If a member makes an election pursuant to this paragraph, the election is irrevocable as provided in section 38-747, subsection D and the member and the member's employer shall each make contributions at a rate of seven per cent of the member's compensation beginning on the effective date of the election.

4. A nonretired member who is entitled to receive benefits pursuant to this section may elect pursuant to section 38-747, subsections C, D and H to make contributions with respect to member contributions that were not made to ASRS but that could have been made pursuant to section 38-771, subsection C, paragraph 2 for periods of employment before July 1, 1999 other than member contributions for which an irrevocable election pursuant to section 38-747, subsections C and D was in effect before July 1, 1999.

5. In addition to any other employer contributions required pursuant to this section, a nonretired member's employer shall make contributions to ASRS on behalf of the nonretired member who will receive retirement benefits pursuant to this section to pay the actuarially determined amount necessary to provide the group health and accident insurance benefits for the nonretired member and the nonretired member's dependents as provided under section 38-783.

6. Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, an election permitted pursuant to this section shall not revoke, amend or alter any irrevocable election made by a member before July 1, 1999 pursuant to sections 38-747 and 38-771.

G. Effective on July 1, 1999, ASRS shall recompute the monthly and annual benefits for retired members entitled to receive benefits pursuant to this section and the monthly or lump sum survivor's benefits payable to beneficiaries entitled to receive benefits pursuant to this section. The recomputation of benefits shall be as if the member's retirement account or retirement reserve account on the date of retirement or death had been computed based on the amounts that would have been credited to the account as of that date based on the contribution amounts prescribed in subsection C, paragraphs 1 through 6 of this section. In addition and after recomputing benefits described in this subsection, with respect to members who retired on or after July 1, 1984, ASRS shall recompute the annual payments that would have been made to the member or beneficiary of a deceased member entitled to receive benefits under this section in excess of the annual payments actually made. The recomputation shall be calculated and paid as follows:

1. The recomputation shall be calculated and paid based on the member's and, if applicable, the member's beneficiary's age, the benefit option selected at the date of the initial benefit payments and the actuarial assumptions used by ASRS at the time the initial benefit payments were computed.

2. Before July 1, 2000, ASRS shall pay to the retired member or beneficiary in a lump sum the difference between the recomputed amount and the actual distributions paid to the member or beneficiary through July 1, 1999, together with interest at the rate of eight per cent a year, compounded monthly, computed from the date each excess payment should have been paid through the date of payment to the retired member or beneficiary.

3. If the retired member is living, ASRS shall pay the lump sum payment to the member. If the member is deceased and is survived by a beneficiary who is then living and receiving a monthly benefit on account of the deceased member, ASRS shall pay the lump sum payment to the beneficiary. The payment to the beneficiary shall include the recomputed amount that is payable pursuant to this section and that would have been paid to the member through the date of the member's death plus the recomputed amount that is payable pursuant to this section and that would have been payable to the beneficiary from the member's date of death. Section 38-770 applies to a payment to a member or the member's beneficiary who is the surviving spouse of the member, if the payment is substantially larger or smaller than the monthly benefit payable by ASRS to the member.

4. With respect to a beneficiary who is a survivor of a deceased nonretired member who would have been entitled to benefits under this section and who elected a lump sum distribution of the survivor benefit that was payable on the death of the nonretired member, ASRS shall pay the recomputed amount in a lump sum to the beneficiary. If the beneficiary is the surviving spouse of the member, section 38-770 applies to the payment.

5. Effective on July 1, 1999, ASRS shall increase the member's or beneficiary's monthly and annual benefit to the recomputed amount. After that adjustment, ASRS shall adjust the member's or beneficiary's annual benefit as otherwise provided under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

H. Before July 1, 2002, the employer of each nonretired or retired member or deceased member who has a beneficiary entitled to adjustments and payments pursuant to subsections E and G of this section for periods of a member's employment before July 1, 1999 shall pay to ASRS in one or more installments those amounts required by ASRS to make the recomputations and adjustments pursuant to this section. ASRS shall determine the amount to be paid by the employer to ASRS as of July 1, 1999, plus interest at the rate of eight per cent a year, compounded monthly, from July 1, 1999 through the date the payment is made by the employer to ASRS. Any payments by the employer shall first be applied to accrued and unpaid interest and then to the amount to be paid by the employer to ASRS. ASRS shall allocate the payment to the assets maintained under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS. When determining the amounts required to be paid by employers for the recomputations and adjustments pursuant to this section, ASRS first shall transfer on July 1, 1999 from the assets maintained by ASRS under the defined benefit program established by this article to the assets maintained by ASRS under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS an amount equal to the sum of the defined benefit program equity balances of the retired and nonretired members or their beneficiaries whose benefits are transferred from the defined benefit program to the defined contribution program pursuant to this section, except that the amount transferred for any member or beneficiary shall not be more than the amount required to fund the recomputations and adjustments required by this section for the member or beneficiary. The defined benefit program equity balance for a member or beneficiary of a deceased member shall equal the sum of the member's employee and employer account balances on the earlier of June 30, 1999 or the member's retirement or death, less the monthly annuity payments to a retired member or beneficiary, plus the earnings on the average balance of that amount for a plan year.

I. If a member retired before July 1, 1999, elected to receive benefits pursuant to section 38-771, subsection C, paragraph 2 and did not make all contributions pursuant to section 38-771, subsection E because of the limitations prescribed in section 38-747, subsection E, the member has the option of receiving the employer contributions prescribed in subsection C, paragraphs 3 and 5 of this section in a lump sum payment. If the retired member elects to receive a lump sum payment, ASRS shall pay the amount on or before July 1, 2000 and the amount shall be deducted from the member's account when computing the annuity benefits to which the member is otherwise entitled pursuant to this section. In no case shall the payment under this subsection duplicate the payment under subsection G of this section. Section 38-770 applies to a payment to a member under this subsection if the payment is substantially larger or smaller than the monthly benefit payable by ASRS to the member.

J. Contributions made to ASRS by a member and the member's employer pursuant to subsection F of this section, other than employer contributions required pursuant to subsections G and H of this section, shall not exceed, in any one limitation year, the limits prescribed in section 38-747, subsection E. If for any reason the member and applicable employer contributions made pursuant to subsection F of this section would at the time the contributions are due, taking into account other annual additions due to ASRS for the limitation year, exceed the limits prescribed in section 38-747, subsection E, the amount to be paid by the member and the member's employer pursuant to subsection F of this section, other than employer contributions required pursuant to subsections G and H of this section, shall be proportionately reduced and the reduction shall be carried into the succeeding limitation year and paid by the member and the member's employer within thirty days after the beginning of that limitation year, unless the limits prescribed in section 38-747, subsection E would again be exceeded. If the limits are exceeded again, the procedure prescribed in this subsection shall be repeated until all of the contributions are made. If more than one employer is contributing on behalf of a member, the reduction and contributions in succeeding years shall be proportionately allocated among the employers. If a member retires before making all contributions pursuant to this section because of the limitations prescribed in section 38-747, subsection E, the member's benefits pursuant to this section shall be computed only with reference to the contributions actually made. For the purposes of this subsection, "limitation year" has the same meaning prescribed in section 38-769.

K. Unless otherwise provided in this section, a member who receives retirement benefits pursuant to this section and section 38-771 is subject to conditions that are equivalent to those imposed before the member's transfer from the defined contribution program administered by ASRS to the defined benefit program established by this article. Those conditions include the following:

1. A member who attains sixty-five years of age may retire and, on application, shall receive a life annuity derived from the member's prior service credit, if any, together with a life annuity derived from the member's retirement account. The annuity is payable in equal monthly installments. The amount of the installments is based on the age of the member at the date of commencement of retirement and is determined by the interest and life expectancy tables applicable at the date of the commencement of retirement.
2. If a retired member who is receiving retirement benefits pursuant to this section dies before receipt of annuity payments in an amount equal to the member's retirement account balance immediately before retirement, ASRS shall pay the member's designated beneficiary or estate in a lump sum the difference between the retirement account balance and the total amount of annuity payments received.
3. A member who attains sixty-five years of age with at least five years of creditable service may retire and, on application, may elect to receive in lieu of the annuity payments from the member's prior service, if any, together with a life annuity derived from the member's retirement account as provided in paragraph 1 of this subsection, the actuarial equivalent of those retirement benefits under one of the options established by the board.
4. A member who attains sixty years of age with at least five years of creditable service may retire and, on application, may receive a life annuity derived from the actuarial equivalent of the member's prior service credit, if any, together with a life annuity derived from the member's retirement account. The annuity shall be determined and paid in the manner set forth in paragraph 1 of this subsection.
5. In lieu of the retirement benefits pursuant to paragraph 4 of this subsection, on application, a member may elect to receive the actuarial equivalent of those retirement benefits under one of the options established by the board.
6. If a retired member who is receiving retirement benefits pursuant to this section is engaged to work by an employer for twenty or more weeks in a fiscal year and twenty hours or more a week, the member's retirement benefit payments pursuant to this section are suspended until the member terminates employment. On return to employment, the member shall accrue benefits pursuant to this section, unless the member elects to be covered by the defined benefit program established by this article. If a formerly retired member elects to be covered by the defined benefit program established by this article, the formerly retired member shall be an active member in the defined benefit program with respect to all service performed after the member's return to work and shall not accrue additional benefits pursuant to this section. Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph, if a retired member begins or returns to employment as an elected official or to any other type of service or employment that does not require the retired member to begin active membership in the defined contribution program administered by ASRS or the defined benefit program established by this article, the payment of retirement benefits pursuant to this section shall not be terminated, withheld or interrupted because of beginning or returning to the service or employment or holding the elected office, unless the formerly retired member actually elects to recommence active participation in the defined benefit program established by this article or pursuant to this section.

7. On termination of employment of a retired member previously receiving retirement benefits pursuant to this section, ASRS shall reinstate the member's retirement benefits pursuant to this section and, on reinstatement of retirement benefits, the benefit shall be recomputed on the basis of the member's attained age and shall be adjusted for retirement benefits previously received and additional contributions, interest and supplemental credits accrued during the period of employment. On this reinstatement of retirement benefits, if the member elected to be covered by the defined benefit program established by this article on the member's return to employment, the member is also entitled to receive retirement benefits pursuant to the defined benefit program established by this article for the credited service earned by the member after the member's active membership in the defined benefit program established by this article began.

L. ASRS shall handle all retirement accounts of members who elect retirement benefits provided pursuant to this section and all member and employer contributions attributable to those members in the same manner as retirement accounts and contributions that are part of the defined contribution program administered by ASRS. Retirement accounts of members who elect to receive retirement benefits pursuant to this section are eligible for interest and supplemental credits on the same basis as members who retired under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

M. The receipt of retirement benefits by a member pursuant to this section is a waiver of all claims and demands by the member that the retirement benefits are less than the amount of retirement benefits payable to the member under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS if the member had remained a member of the defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

N. The board may administer and interpret this section in order to prevent any duplication of benefits provided by ASRS and the defined contribution program administered by ASRS and to provide all eligible members and beneficiaries with the benefits they are entitled to under the laws of this state.

O. For purposes of this section:

1. "Beneficiary" means the individual designated by the member in writing on forms approved by ASRS to receive benefits pursuant to this article after the death of the member.

2. "Creditable service" means service after April 8, 1953 in a position not subject to the defined contribution program administered by ASRS, prior service and membership service.

3. "Member's employer" means an employer who compensated the member during a period when the member's contributions were less than seven per cent.

4. "Pension" means equal monthly installments that are derived from a member's prior service credits and that are payable during the member's lifetime after retirement.

5. "Prior service" means service for this state or a political subdivision before membership in the defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

6. "Prior service credits" means the amount that is allowed for services before membership in the defined contribution program administered by ASRS and that is payable as a pension on retirement.

7. "Retirement account" means the combined member and employer contributions with applicable interest and supplemental credits on the contributions as computed pursuant to subsection C of this section.

8. "Service" means any compensated employment by the state or a political subdivision and includes periods of nonpaid leave, including military leave, provided employment has not been terminated at the commencement of the leave period and employment is state service for retirement purposes or service for any political subdivision establishing a defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

38-772. Prior service under defined contribution program administered by ASRS; definitions

A. Amounts required of employers as provided in section 38-737, subsections A and B are in addition to any payments required of employers on behalf of prior service credits under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS arising from members of ASRS. Payments made to ASRS on behalf of members with those prior service credits shall reduce by that amount the payments required to be paid to the defined contribution program administered by ASRS for those prior service credits.

B. Notwithstanding section 38-757, subsection B, any prior service credits to which the member was entitled under the defined contribution program administered by ASRS shall be added to the product of section 38-757, subsection B, paragraphs 1 and 2.

C. For the purposes of this section:

1. "Prior service" means service for this state or a political subdivision of this state before membership in the defined contribution program administered by ASRS.

2. "Prior service credits" means the amount that is allowed for services before membership in the defined contribution program administered by ASRS and that is payable as a retirement benefit.

38-773. Benefit payments to alternate payee under acceptable domestic relations order; termination of marriage; revocation of beneficiary designation; definitions

A. The board shall review any domestic relations order to which a member is a party and that is submitted to the board to determine if the domestic relations order is acceptable under this section. After a determination that a domestic relations order is acceptable under this section, the board shall notify the member and the named alternate payee of the board's acceptance of the domestic relations order, and ASRS shall pay benefits in accordance with the applicable requirements of the order.

B. An acceptable domestic relations order shall:

1. Not require the board to provide any type, form or time of payment of severance, survivor or retirement benefits or any severance, survivor or retirement benefit option that is not provided under this article.
2. Value the member's benefit on the earliest date of service of the petition for annulment, dissolution of marriage or legal separation.

C. An acceptable domestic relations order shall specify all of the following:

1. The name and last known mailing address of the member.
2. The name and last known mailing address of each alternate payee who is covered by the order.
3. The method of determining the amount of the member's severance, survivor or retirement benefits to be paid by ASRS to each alternate payee covered by the order.
4. The number of payments or period to which the order applies.

D. Except as provided by the express terms of a domestic relations order, the divorce or annulment of a member's marriage revokes any revocable:

1. Disposition or appointment of benefits made by a divorced member to that member's former spouse or to a relative of the divorced member's former spouse in an instrument executed by the member before the divorce or annulment of the member's marriage to the former spouse.
2. Provision in an instrument executed by the member before the divorce or annulment of the member's marriage to the former spouse conferring any power or right on the divorced member's former spouse or on a relative of the divorced member's former spouse.

E. ASRS shall give effect to provisions of an instrument executed by a member before the divorce or annulment of the member's marriage to a former spouse as follows:

1. In the case of disposition or appointment of benefits, as if the former spouse and relatives of the former spouse disclaimed all provisions revoked by this section.
2. In the case of a revoked power or right, as if the former spouse and relatives of the former spouse died immediately before the divorce or annulment.

F. Provisions of an instrument revoked solely as provided by this section are revived by the divorced member's remarriage to the former spouse or by a nullification of the member's divorce or annulment.

G. If an alternate payee predeceases the member, amounts payable to the alternate payee cease on the death of the alternate payee. ASRS shall cause the amount formerly payable to the alternate payee to revert to the member.

H. For the purposes of this section:

1. "Domestic relations order" means any judgment, decree, order or approval of a property settlement agreement entered in a court of competent jurisdiction that:

(a) Relates to marital property rights of a spouse or former spouse.

(b) Creates or recognizes in the spouse or former spouse the existence of an alternate payee's right to severance, survivor or retirement benefits.

(c) Assigns the spouse or former spouse as alternate payee the right to receive all or part of the severance, survivor or retirement benefits payable to the member.

2. "Relative of the divorced member's former spouse" means a person who is related to the divorced member's former spouse by blood, adoption or affinity and who, after the divorce or annulment, is not related to the divorced member by blood, adoption or affinity.

38-774. Excess benefit arrangement

A. A separate unfunded governmental excess benefit arrangement is established outside of and apart from the trust fund established by section 38-712 to pay members benefits that are otherwise payable by ASRS and that exceed the limitations on benefits imposed by section 415 of the internal revenue code. The board shall administer this excess benefit arrangement as a qualified governmental excess benefit arrangement pursuant to section 415(m) of the internal revenue code.

B. The board may adopt rules to implement this section subject to the following:

1. Benefits under this section are subject to section 38-773 and section 38-791, subsections D and F and are exempt from execution to the same extent as provided in section 38-792.

2. Contributions to this arrangement are not held in trust and shall not be commingled with other monies of ASRS.

C. A member is entitled to a monthly benefit under this section in an amount equal to the amount that the member's benefit that is payable by ASRS has been reduced by the limitation on benefits imposed by section 38-769 and section 415 of the internal revenue code. The benefit that is payable by this arrangement shall be paid at such time or times and in such form as the benefit under ASRS would be paid.

D. The benefit that is payable under this section shall be paid with employer contributions that would otherwise be made to ASRS under section 38-737. In lieu of the employer contributions being paid to the trust fund established by section 38-712, an amount determined by ASRS as necessary to pay benefits under this section shall be paid on a monthly basis to a separate account established by the board for this arrangement and may include amounts needed to pay reasonable and necessary expenses of this arrangement. The director may invest the monies in this account in suitable short-term investments between receipt of the monies and disbursement of the monies. The amount shall be paid to the account at least fifteen days before a disbursement is to be made under this section.

E. A member shall not directly or indirectly elect to defer compensation to purchase benefits provided under this section.

F. This section shall not be construed as requiring an employer or ASRS to purchase any investment or any contract to secure any obligations under this section. If an employer or ASRS purchases an investment or contract that the employer or ASRS earmarks to pay benefits under this section, title to and beneficial ownership of the investment or contract remain at all times in the employer or ASRS, and the member and the member's beneficiaries, if any, do not have any proprietary interest in any specific assets of the employer or ASRS. Any rights of the member and the member's beneficiaries, if any, to payment of any amounts under this section shall be those of general unsecured creditors of the employer or ASRS. This section and any action taken pursuant to this section by the employer or ASRS do not create and shall not be construed to create an irrevocable trust of any kind.

38-775. Required distributions: definitions

A. This section applies for purposes of determining required minimum distributions for calendar years beginning on and after January 1, 2006. In applying the requirements of this section, the following operational provisions govern:

1. Except as provided in the following sentence, the requirements of this section take precedence over any inconsistent provisions of this article and article 2.1 of this chapter. The rules of this section shall not restrict any form, calculation, adjustment or payment of benefit provided under this article in effect on April 17, 2002, if the form, calculation, adjustment or payment of benefit satisfied section 401(a)(9) of the internal revenue code based on a reasonable and good faith interpretation of that section.

2. All distributions required under this section shall be determined and made pursuant to section 401(a)(9) of the internal revenue code and the regulations that are issued under that section by the United States secretary of the treasury.

3. Notwithstanding this section, other than paragraph 2 of this subsection, distributions may be made under a designation made before January 1, 1984, pursuant to section 242(b)(2) of the tax equity and fiscal responsibility act of 1982 (P.L. 97-248) and the provisions of this article that relate to that section.

B. The member's entire interest shall be distributed, or begin to be distributed, to the member not later than the member's required beginning date.

C. If the member dies before distributions begin, the member's entire interest shall be distributed, or begin to be distributed, not later than as follows:

1. If the member's surviving spouse is the member's sole designated beneficiary, except as provided in paragraph 4 of this subsection, distributions to the surviving spouse shall begin by December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the member died, or by December 31 of the calendar year in which the member would have attained seventy-two years of age, if later.

2. If the member's surviving spouse is not the member's sole designated beneficiary, except as provided in paragraph 4 of this subsection, distributions to the designated beneficiary shall begin by December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the member died.

3. For purposes of this subsection and subsection G of this section, distributions are considered to begin on the member's required beginning date or the date distributions are required to begin to the surviving spouse under paragraph 1 of this subsection. If annuity payments irrevocably commence to the member before the member's required beginning date, or to the member's surviving spouse before the date distributions are required to begin to the surviving spouse under paragraph 1 of this subsection, the date distributions are considered to begin is the date distributions actually commence.

4. If the member dies before distributions begin and there is a designated beneficiary, distribution to the designated beneficiary is not required to begin by the date prescribed in paragraph 1 or 2 of this subsection as long as the member's entire interest will be distributed to the designated beneficiary by December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the member's death. If the member's surviving spouse is the member's sole designated beneficiary and the surviving spouse dies after the member but before distributions to either the member or the surviving spouse begin, this paragraph applies as if the surviving spouse were the member.

D. Unless the member's interest is distributed in the form of an annuity purchased from an insurance company or in a single sum on or before the required beginning date, as of the first distribution, calendar year distributions shall be made pursuant to subsections E, F and G of this section. If the member's interest is distributed in the form of an annuity purchased from an insurance company, distributions shall be made pursuant to the requirements of section 401(a)(9) of the internal revenue code and the regulations that are issued under that section by the United States secretary of the treasury. Any part of the member's interest that is in the form of an individual account described in section 414(k) of the internal revenue code shall be distributed in a manner satisfying the requirements of section 401(a)(9) of the internal revenue code and the regulations that are issued under that section by the United States secretary of the treasury that apply to individual accounts.

E. The following provisions govern the determination of the amount to be distributed each calendar year:

1. If the member's interest is paid in the form of annuity distributions, payments under the annuity shall satisfy the following requirements:

(a) The annuity distributions shall be paid in periodic payments made at intervals not longer than one year.

(b) The distribution period shall be over a life or lives or over a period certain not longer than the period described in subsection F or G of this section.

(c) Once payments have begun over a period certain, the period certain shall not be changed even if the period certain is shorter than the maximum allowed.

(d) Payments shall either be nonincreasing or increase only as follows:

(i) By an annual percentage increase that does not exceed the annual percentage increase in a cost-of-living index that is based on prices of all items and issued by the bureau of labor statistics.

(ii) To the extent of the reduction in the amount of the member's payments to provide for a survivor benefit on death, but only if the beneficiary whose life was being used to determine the distribution period described in subsection F of this section dies or is no longer the member's beneficiary pursuant to a qualified domestic relations order within the meaning of section 414(p) of the internal revenue code.

(iii) To provide cash refunds of employee contributions on the member's death.

(iv) To pay increased benefits that result from a plan amendment.

2. The amount that must be distributed on or before the member's required beginning date or, if the member dies before distributions begin, the date distributions are required to begin under subsection C, paragraph 1 or 2 of this section, is the payment that is required for one payment interval. The second payment need not be made until the end of the next payment interval even if that payment interval ends in the next calendar year. Payment intervals are the periods for which payments are received, such as bimonthly, monthly, semiannually or annually. All of the member's benefit accruals as of the last day of the first distribution calendar year shall be included in the calculation of the amount of the annuity payments for payment intervals ending on or after the member's required beginning date.

3. Any additional benefits accruing to the member in a calendar year after the first distribution calendar year shall be distributed beginning with the first payment interval ending in the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the amount accrues.

F. The following provisions govern annuity distributions that commence during a member's lifetime:

1. If the member's interest is being distributed in the form of a joint and survivor annuity for the joint lives of the member and a nonspouse beneficiary, annuity payments to be made on or after the member's required beginning date to the designated beneficiary after the member's death must not at any time exceed the applicable percentage of the annuity payment for the period that would have been payable to the member using the table set forth in question and answer number 2 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the regulations issued by the United States secretary of the treasury. If the form of distribution combines a joint and survivor annuity for the joint lives of the member and a nonspouse beneficiary and a period certain annuity, the requirement in the preceding sentence applies to annuity payments to be made to the designated beneficiary after the expiration of the period certain.

2. Unless the member's spouse is the sole designated beneficiary and the form of distribution is a period certain and no life annuity, the period certain for an annuity distribution commencing during the member's lifetime may not exceed the applicable distribution period for the member under the uniform lifetime table prescribed in section 1.401(a)(9)-9 of the regulations issued by the United States secretary of the treasury for the calendar year that contains the annuity starting date. If the annuity starting date precedes the year in which the member reaches seventy years of age, the applicable distribution period for the member is the distribution period for seventy years of age under the uniform lifetime table set forth in section 1.401(a)(9)-9 of the regulations issued by the United States secretary of the treasury plus the excess of seventy over the age of the member as of the member's birthday in the year that contains the annuity starting date. If the member's spouse is the member's sole designated beneficiary and the form of distribution is a period certain and no life annuity, the period certain may not exceed the longer of the member's applicable distribution period, as determined under this paragraph, or the joint life and last survivor expectancy of the member and the member's spouse as determined under the joint and last survivor table prescribed in section 1.401(a)(9)-9 of the regulations issued by the United States secretary of the treasury, using the member's and spouse's attained ages as of the member's and spouse's birthdays in the calendar year that contains the annuity starting date.

G. The following provisions govern minimum distributions if a member dies before the date distributions begin:

1. Except as provided in subsection C, paragraph 4 of this section, if the member dies before the date distribution of the member's interest begins and there is a designated beneficiary, the member's entire interest shall be distributed, beginning not later than the time prescribed in subsection C, paragraph 1 or 2 of this section, over the life of the designated beneficiary or over a period certain not exceeding either of the following:

(a) Unless the annuity starting date is before the first distribution calendar year, the life expectancy of the designated beneficiary determined using the beneficiary's age as of the beneficiary's birthday in the calendar year immediately following the calendar year of the member's death.

(b) If the annuity starting date is before the first distribution calendar year, the life expectancy of the designated beneficiary determined using the beneficiary's age as of the beneficiary's birthday in the calendar year that contains the annuity starting date.

2. If the member dies before the date distributions begin and there is no designated beneficiary as of September 30 of the year following the year of the member's death, distribution of the member's entire interest shall be completed by December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the member's death.

3. If the member dies before the date distribution of the member's interest begins, the member's surviving spouse is the member's sole designated beneficiary and the surviving spouse dies before distributions to the surviving spouse begin, this subsection applies as if the surviving spouse were the member, except that the time by which distributions must begin shall be determined without regard to subsection C, paragraph 1 of this section.

H. If a member dies after the member's required beginning date and the member had not commenced distribution of retirement benefits, ASRS shall treat the member as having commenced distribution of retirement benefits on the member's required beginning date. Notwithstanding section 38-776, ASRS shall determine the member's retirement benefit as a straight annuity as of the date of the member's required beginning date. The member's estate is entitled to the member's benefit payments and any remaining member contributions on account shall be disbursed pursuant to section 38-763.

I. For the purposes of this section:

1. "Designated beneficiary" means the individual who is designated as the member's beneficiary to receive benefits under this article and is the designated beneficiary under section 401(a)(9) of the internal revenue code and question and answer number 1 of section 1.401(a)(9)-4 of the regulations issued by the United States secretary of the treasury.

2. "Distribution calendar year" means a calendar year for which a minimum distribution is required. For distributions beginning before the member's death, the first distribution calendar year is the calendar year immediately preceding the calendar year that contains the member's required beginning date. For distributions beginning after the member's death, the first distribution calendar year is the calendar year in which distributions are required to begin pursuant to subsection C of this section.

3. "Life expectancy" means life expectancy as computed by use of the single life table in section 1.401(a)(9)-9 of the regulations issued by the United States secretary of the treasury.

2. The member's retirement application that does not name the member's current spouse as a contingent annuitant of a joint and survivor annuity.

3. A change or rescission of the member's current spouse's contingent annuitant status.

B. If the member's current spouse is not capable of executing the acknowledgement because of an incapacitating mental or physical condition, a power of attorney or guardian may execute the acknowledgment on the current spouse's behalf.

C. The member may affirm in writing under penalty of perjury in a manner determined by ASRS that spousal consent is not required because of one of the following reasons:

1. The member is not married.

2. The member's current spouse has no identifiable community property interest in the member's benefits.

3. The member does not know, and has taken all reasonable steps to determine, the location of the member's current spouse.

4. The member has received notification from the board that a domestic relations order is acceptable pursuant to section 38-773 and that domestic relations order requires ASRS to pay benefits to an alternate payee that is contrary to the requirements of section 38-760.

5. Obtaining consent violates another law, an existing contract or a court order.

D. This section does not abrogate any community property laws of this state.

E. Payments or distributions made by ASRS in good faith reliance on the consent or waiver of a member's current spouse, the affirmations of a member contained in documents submitted to ASRS pursuant to this section or the member's indication to ASRS that the member is not married constitute a full and complete discharge and release of all liability of the board or ASRS, or both, respecting these payments or distributions.

F. If questions arise as to the distribution of a particular member's account, ASRS shall use reasonable judgment to distribute the account in a manner that is consistent with Arizona community property laws and interpretations of those laws.

G. Employee participation in a supplemental employee deferral plan requires the participant's employer to make salary reductions from the participant's compensation at no cost to the employee, ASRS or any vendor retained by ASRS and contribute such salary reductions to the plan. An employer may make employer contributions to the supplemental employee deferral plan if the plan allows. The employer shall submit any reports required by the plan. If the participant is an active member, any compensation deferred by an employee under a plan shall be included as regular compensation or compensation for the purpose of computing the retirement and pension benefits provided in this article earned by any employee participating in the plan.

H. Employee contributions and earnings on employee contributions are immediately vested. Employer contributions, if any, and the earnings on employer contributions shall vest according to the schedule established by the employer, if the employer completes and submits a schedule to ASRS. If the employer does not complete and submit a schedule to ASRS, employer contributions, if any, and the earnings on employer contributions shall vest according to the default schedule established by ASRS.

I.
